- If you fail the exam: Theory exam: 4600 Ft, driving exam 11 000 Ft. Exam fee is accepted only by cash! Minimum 6 driving lessons must be taken, before retaking the driving exam. If your instructor recommends to take extra lessons and the difference between the number of recommended lessons and the lessons you accept to take is 20% or more, you must declare in a signed declaration that you are aware of reducing your chances to pass the exam.
- To get the first driving license, must have an educational certificate, proving, that you passed at least 8 primary school class. University diploma, high school diploma, or present school attending certificate is also accepted. You cannot retake any exam without showing it once at the examination center! The best to bring it to the first theoretical exam.

1. Those, who do not take the driving part with us with the minimal 30 lessons, have to pay HUF +20000.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

It is compulsory to take at least 30 driving lessons. 30 driving lessons might be enough for you but you might need more. As a European average, 60-70% of beginners need 35-50 driving lessons to pass the driving exam, to meet the minimum requirements of the European driving license. 30 lessons are the minimum requirement, but it might not work for everyone! You are allowed to try the final exam after 29 lessons, but listen to your instructor, and take into consideration his advice about taking extra lessons before you go to the final exam. If you fail the driving exam, and you take less, than 50% of extra lessons your instructor recommend you to have until the next exam, he is allowed to refuse your education. If you do not take any exam at least 9 months after starting the course, or do not take successful theoretical exam after starting the course within 12 months, must repeat the theoretical course. These time limits you are responsible to take into consideration. After passing the theoretical exam, if you do not take successful driving exam within two years, the whole course must be repeated. Minimum required driven distance before the driving exam is 580km.

To pick up your driving license you need to have: 1. Hungarian residence permit, which has been valid for at least 6 months 2. Passed first aid exam card or previous driving license. 4. the original medical certificate, you got from your medic at the beginning of the course. With the above documents go to an "Kormányablak" (see google), which is the nearest to your place.
