

Department of Political Science

Faculty of Social Sciences , IGU Meerpur

VISION

To train students to Political Science envisions a society where a deep understanding of the past and present politics , old and modern thoughts enriches the present and guides a sustainable and enlightened future. Through rigorous and analytical views of research, critical analysis, and dissemination of knowledge of Political Science literature, the department strives to foster an inclusive and informed global community that values diversity, respects humanity, human rights, and embraces the lessons of Political Science and its literature.

MISSION

The mission of the Department of Political Science is to advance the scholarly exploration and appreciation of Political Science and its concepts, thoughts, principles and working of government systems. This mission is achieved through the following objectives: : Conducting innovative and interdisciplinary research that uncovers new insights into political thoughts and theories, working of political systems. It contributes to the body of knowledge in the field of Political Science. : Providing comprehensive and high-quality education that equips students with the analytical skills, critical thinking abilities, and constitutional awareness necessary to navigate complex issues in the modern world. Engaging with local and global communities to foster political and constitutional awareness, promote political understanding, and encourage dialogue on significant political concepts and their implications. Addressing ancient and modern political issues with modern political concerns and problems and respect for diverse perspectives, acknowledging the complexities and sensitivities of political narratives. Collaborating with other academic departments, institutions, and organizations to promote interdisciplinary approaches to Political Science research and problems. Actively engaging with the broader public through publications, lectures, exhibitions, and other forms of dissemination to make knowledge of Political Science accessible and relevant to society as well as to mankind. Nurturing and supporting faculty, staff, and students in their professional growth and continuous learning to maintain excellence in teaching, research, and service.