

Tomasc from Marpa Institute Poland informed the AHS about efforts to bring more people over the Polish border and find places for them to stay and later longer term prospects for them.

There is not so much in a practical way we who are not that close can do to help but we could give money to Tomasc, Jacek and Lukasz who are organizing things from the Buddhist Polish Initiative. At the moment they go from the Marpa Institute with small buses to the border or to Warsaw station to collect people and give them places in the Buddhist Centre or hotels etc. - but they need money to provide for more people.

There are about 1 million more people in Lwiv close to the Polish border who might need to leave for Poland in the near future, so they are thinking how to expand their help. Here's how we can contribute financially to join the mandala of their efforts! And here's a link to the summary of their team meeting that Lama read from on Saturday.
