

Cosmic Connection

My search for connection had not started off exactly how I would have wanted it to start out. I mean I do appreciate Holly's attempt to play matchmaker for me. Her choice potential suitor wasn't exactly what I needed. I mean sure each of the people I met in the speed dating was a faintly familiar to the type of person that people have perceived me to be in my past. And sure maybe I could have helped them see the way. I could have awakened from their obsession whether it be galactic cats trying to take over Earth, drugs to get to a Wonderland, or government overreach. I could have problem led them to nirvana and showed them that inner peace and nirvana was a way to lead a more happier and productive life. But that is the thing, I don't want to fix my significant other. I don't want them to be another project. If that was the case then I might as well try to get involved with Samuel open relationship and stay a journey with him. But that would be a bad idea cause once again we aren't on a level spiritual playing field. I mean he is an inspirational story and I am proud of the work he has done. I couldn't be in a cosmic connected relationship with him. Plus the mentor mentee dynamic would be all messed up. The same goes for Calliope, Chlymedia, 🍑 or whatever Holly thinks an inspirational and life altering name should be. I couldn't try to connect with her cause well it would effect Samuel progress too much. I feel that he would get the wrong impression why I suggested the open relationship for them.

Even though it seems to be paying dividends for Samuel. I mean excluding the Selena Frost setback of crushing the poor guy's confidence cause of she felt he wasn't genuine about improving his life. Who is wanting to play God or her case Odin now? Anyway 🍑 like Samuel is a project, a project that I don't want to deal with in my journey in reaching a higher nirvana. Again I want someone to be by my side that will challenge me, that will lift me up. Samuel and Calliope aren't that far along in their walk with nirvana to do such a thing. Plus adding me to the open relationship just seems wrong. But I feel looking at people around or connected to the brand may be the step in the right direction because these people are wanting to find nirvana. They are open spiritually to finding favor in the cosmic universe. These thoughts consumed my mind as I had a busy schedule leading up to my match with Selena Frost. And probably I should clear my mind and focus on the match but I guess you could say I had been hit with Cupid arrow but apparently he had missed the other target. But my search was consuming my mind as not only did I have my chance at changing the kingdom for the better, I still had the TED talk the day before. Which I was still on the fence about telling Holly. I felt it would just be another elbow in the gut to her after what the guy standing in front of me did. Yes I was here in Beard's apartment trying to rehabilitate him so he could find his path to nirvana and away from the negativity that racism, homophobia, transphobia, and xenophobia. The poor guy's Che was ravaged cause of all this hatred that manifested in him. His shakras are a skewed cause of the prejudice thinking being trapped in his brain. Beard though seemingly was still mostly in denial that he had these horrible things attached to his spiritual being. He was in denial that it was a slip and accident. He was convinced it wasn't that bad cause it was a soft a. Yet however you spin it, it is him putting negative energy out in the universe. We needed to repair him, starting with he Che as it was the starting block for your spiritually. Yoga was a good way to open up your Che and be able to repair it. Again naked yoga would be more effective but again Beard is vehemently against it. Hopefully we can make a breakthrough with that soon. So right now we are doing regular yoga.

GiGi Aries: Okay let's stand up and do the Warrior II pose....let's fight off our negativity. Let's fend off the homophobic tendencies, let's defend ourselves from the rampant racism, let fight against the xenophobic and transphobic thoughts.

Beard: Dude it was one slip of a word.

GiGi Aries: Warrior pose, you need to strengthen your Che to cleanse your spirit of these negative infections.

Beard takes a deep sigh as he takes the Warriors pose. I don't know why I want to help him so badly. I mean yeah it would help the Brand. Hopefully the negativity of the whole situation would maybe finally move away from. Holly but then again Beard has a special place in my heart. He has been by my side through thick and thin. He has believed in me when the rest wrote me off as a raving mad man. And I feel that I owe it to him to be here to help him rise above this bad juju that has a death grip on him. I mean we have a connection that seems so hard to break. We have a relationship that has gone both ways. I have helped him and he has helped me in my fight with the Lizard Kingdom. So maybe there could be more to this relationship than just being platonic. Maybe we are destined to intertwine our che and strengthen our shakras with each other. I mean he has had my back since I arrived in the kingdom. That has to count for something in life. Maybe there is more to this.

GiGi Aries: Alright back down on your stomach....downward dog.

Beard looked at me.

Beard: Really?

GiGi Aries: See this is the homophobic negative energy not allowing you to continue to heal your Che

Beard: Yeah that and you want to stare at my ass.

I mean I couldn't deny that I was physically attracted to him whether it be muscular ass, his rock hard abs, his dough eyes and goofy smile. Add his loyalty of always being there. Add his generosity of allowing me to stay with him while I cough the Lizard King. Add his kindness well before this bigot ball of negativity consumed him. He was the total package. I was a little sad that he was closed off to my advances. He was too wrapped up in Imogen who let's face it didn't appreciate him like I did. She came off negative and controlling. Beard deserved better. Then again maybe her negative rubbed off on him. Maybe she is the root cause of this. And the thing is he could never escape it for their child would always keep him connected to her. So even if I am able to rehab him, Imogen could still always poison his spirituality again. And thus I think I could cross him off the list of potential significant others. Plus till his homophobic feelings are erase, we have no future together. Plus he falls in the same boat as Samuel as being a project for me. And really I want to not constantly work on people. I do need a break in the day to relax and recharge my own energy, my own Che. Beard did the downward dog for a few minutes and finally stood up.

Beard: Dude I'm done today.

GiGi Aries: But we really just started.

Beard: I am tired of this, you are telling me that my imiganry bigotry can be fixed with yoga also you had me doing reflection all night before Breakdown that cost me my TV title cause I could barely stay awake. I am done with this.

GiGi Aries: I get your frustration. You are angry that these horrible feelings aren't going away. You feel like it is just punishing you m like losing your trinket last week. But you have to keep doing it to repair your Che. After all Rome wasn't built in a day.

Beard let out a frustrated sigh. He obviously wanted to be back to his old self. I did also it would be better for everyone. But Beard could be another success story like Samuel. He could be one more example why nirvana and Haüs of Nirvana are so important.

Beard: Please just leave.

GiGi Aries: Okay, we will pick this back up next week.

I said picking up my yoga mat and exiting his hotel room before he could respond. I was going to be able to fix him. It was just going to take some time. The negative energy was just leading him to be combative to my ways of helping him. But I wasn't going to give up on him cause Beard has never given up on me.

Later That Day...

After my healing session with Beard, I had returned back to my hotel room and worked on my TED talk speech. It was very important cause so had an opportunity to make an impact in the world. This TED Talk could give influence around the world. It could also help elevate the Hilly Adams Brand as a whole. It could help rise us above the Beard scandal. It could help this world see what positivity could do in the world. I was just happy being given this opportunity. I know a year ago I would have never been given this chance. Then again the Wonderland was never seen for what it was. It was often believed to be a fantasy, the creative imagination of a mad man. People scoffed at it. And really what I know now, I don't blame them. It was a flawed place as well. I was comparing apples to oranges. People were blinded by the Lizard kingdom, like I was blinded by the Wonderland. And maybe things could have gone different if I had just used what I know now. Maybe if I had put out positive vibes, maybe people would have given it a chance. After all you catch more flies with honey than vinegar. Maybe if I had just been positive people would have came around. But the negative energy I had deep down about greed and ego manifested in kidnapping, blindside attacks, and mind games. I am so glad I am not the same man anymore. I know that my past will always be a hindrance to my message and teachings, but hopefully at the TED talk that won't be a problem.

Hopefully the many kingdoms will hear my message and implement it. For this is the way to make change happen. But before the TED talk, I had come to the conclusion that I needed to tell Holly about. I mean I remember how hurt she was when Cidney and Candi hid their engagement. This is just as big of deal. I am sure she would be furious. And really Holly doesn't need to attract anymore bad vibes. She can barely handle the ones she has now. So as I finished preparing my speech, I decided I needed to walk over to Holly's hotel room and tell her. I am sure it will sting a bit too as her show was cancelled before the end of season one and the same people that cancelled it, turned around and got me booked on the TED talk. I could see how she could feel like a pariah cause of it. And really I don't blame her. The Bravo network seemed a bit cut throat and insensitive to what had just happened. Holly was blindsided by a racist rhetoric in the middle of her masterpiece of a wedding she had planned. I knew I had to be easy about this and throw on top her failed speed dating event, Holly may be in a fragile spiritual state that could need serious sage and hours of meditation. But I couldn't stall any longer, the Ted Talk was tomorrow.

So I stood up, put out the incense that I had lit to unlock my mind with what I was going to talk about at the TED talk and started toward Holly's room. Hopefully she would take the nexts well as really it was a win for the entire brand cause that is who I am representing when I talk about the Haus of Nirvana. Cause at the end of the day we are all working for the same outcome. Changing lives for the better. I started down the hallway as I ran into Jason Singer who I haven't talked to much since Cidnay's bachelor party in the desert. I mean there was the one time in Holly's cancelled show where he took charge but other than that so hadn't got to talk to him much. Actually besides the first few informal we haven't spoken a lot. And maybe that is a shame cause maybe he could be my spiritual connection. Maybe he could be the ying to my yang in strengthening my Che. I don't know this was just getting out of control. Then again if I am to gain the kingdom's greatest position of power, I wanted to be at my very best. I mean Jason Singer seemed to have it together, he seemed to be fine going in the Wonderland. While poor Cidnay was losing it and freaking out. Jason seemed unusually calm about the whole ordeal. I mean he was a bit wait and see but he took control when needed. He wouldn't be a project in the relationship but I could have sworn I saw 🍑 and him sneak off somewhere before Cidnay and Candi's wedding. So maybe he is involved in their open relationship. I don't know and really I might need to steer clear of it. I mean Samuel is already barely okay with the open relationship. I don't know how he would react to Jason, Calliope, and myself in some sort of three way relationship. Might be best to just not try to chase after that possibility.

Jason Singer: Hello daddio.

GiGi Aries: Namaste and hello Jason, have you seen Holly today?

Jason Singer: Yes I just saw that cool cat.

GiGi Aries: Was she in a positive mood?

I kind of wanted to get a reading on how Holly's Che was doing today before I gave her my news. I was hoping it was a good day before her. Then again she had just returned from a Housewives get together and I know how that reptilian she beats can get under Holly's skin. Hopefully she was able to get through the get together without being harassed and unfairly targeted. Holly didn't deserve any of the blowback that was coming her way.

Jason Singer: Good I believe, I don't know, I mean Brittany wasn't crying so I guess that means Holly is in a good mood.

I smiled as you could often tell Holly's mood based on how "truthful" Holly was being toward her Brittany Lohan that day.

GiGi Aries: Good to hear that. Is she in her hotel room, I need to speak to her for a minute.

Jason Singer: She is chilling her sweet suite.

Yeah I think Jason Singer and Clammy may be better off together. I mean nothing against Jason but I don't think we would have a strong connection. I just have a feeling in that. I don't think he is big in the growing of nirvana either. He seems to just go with the flow. Clammy is the same way. She is willing to do whatever no questions asked. I mean at least Samuel ask questions and wants to understand his path to nirvana.

GiGi Aries: Alright thanks, and you have a positive and cosmic rewarding day.

Jason Singer: You too daddio.

Jason went his own way as I made my way to Holly Adams's hotel room. I tried to figure out how I was going to tell Holly Adams about my opportunity. Was I going to treat it like a bandaid and rip it off? Or was I going to ease into it. I mean on one hand I am sure Holly would appreciate the blunt honesty she exhibits on a daily basis. Then again easing her into it might fit our current situation. I just didn't want to add to Holly recent struggles. She gave me the platform to achieve all this and after this weekend maybe achieving the most influential spot in the kingdom. So I definitely didn't want to do anything to seem ungrateful toward her. It would be Inconsiderate as well invite bad vibes. This wasn't the time to have bad vibes latch on m. Basically this whole weekend was my opportunity for the era of Nirvana to truly begin in the kingdom. I just want everyone in the brand to be in the right head space to enjoy what we were fixing to embark on. The Brand's future in the kingdom was about to become even important and successful. The Brand was about to be very in demand once this weekend was over. And how Holly received my good news would be a big indicator how much enjoyment we would get from this weekend. And I guess I was too caught up in my head that I had zoned out walking down the hall that I didn't notice Cookie Dreams walking out of her hotel room with the room service cart as I ran all over the cart and fell in the hallway. Cookie ran over to me frantically and as she leaned over me I looked up and saw her big soft eyes looking at me.

Cookie: Oh no Mr. GiGi are you okay?

Cookie looked at me with concern. The young lady had just a big heart. And as I looked at her it dawned on me that she could be my Candi. I mean like Candi, Cookie is pure and innocent. She has almost a child like view of the world. And she isn't a project. I think Cidnay had done a wonderful job restoring the confidence that the evil Alaskan witch took from her. I was starting to see Selena's go to. I mean both Cookie and now Samuel have listened to her biting and egotistical words, and took it to heart. But Cookie she had regained most if not all her confidence. All there left was to do was allow her to go back out in the kingdom. Anyway I think we could be something special together. I feel we could each boost each other in our walk with nirvana. I could continue to encourage her and continue to build her confidence in herself and she could keep me center with positivity cause Cookie is always positive. She is always looking on the bright side of things. And even in my state of nirvana, I need that characteristic. Often I get in my head too much. Heck I am doing it now even after Cookie asked me if I am okay.

GiGi Aries: Yeah I'm fine.

Cookie: Thank God I would hate to be the reason you lost to Selena Frost.

GiGi Aries: No no my child everything is good. It was actually my fault I was caught up in my thoughts and wasn't paying attention.

Cookie: Yeah I do that too sometimes. And next thing you not I am in the middle of the compound a yard not knowing how I got there.

GiGi Aries: Wouldn't it be nice to have someone to talk about your thoughts too?

I was being sincere, I could be her wall to bounce her thoughts off of and she could be mine. She could be the support that Candi is for Cidnay. But I didn't know if she was interested. I mean we really haven't talked a lot even with her being in the brand. I mean I could see potential but actually forming a relationship is still an unknown. But again Cookie is the first one in our little circle that I could see having a meaningful and beneficial relationship where both sides are lifting each other up.

Cookie: Yeah I use to have someone I could do that with. I just well miss Jordan. I miss just being able to tell her everything I was feeling. While Cid is awesome and great, he isn't her. He doesn't truly listen to me. I get the feeling sometimes he is flying by the seat of his pants.

I had forgot about Jordan. I had forgot how close they were and then who lost Cookie felt when she left the kingdom. Shot I don't think I could try and start a relationship with Cookie as I don't think we would every truly be connected. And for being able to achieve a higher state of nirvana both people need to give their entire Che and shakras. I think Jordan will always have part of Cookie's Che She would still be connected with Jordan Majors.

GiGi Aries: Cidnay has a plan. He knows what he is doing. I mean I figure it is hard to seem like you have it together with an intergalactic being residing in you.

Cookie: Yeah I bet that is confusing having to listen two voices telling you what to do.

GiGi Aries: Just keep listening to Cidnay. Keep putting out positive vibes. We need all the good karma we could get. Now I really need to talk to Holly.

I stood to my feet as I patted Cookie on the shoulder as it seemed that I had run out of potential relationships in the close circle that was the Brand. Then again maybe so am pushing it. I am trying to influence the cosmic universe when I should know better. I should know that the cosmic universe kneels for no man. I guess I wanted to start my next journey. I wanted to reach that higher state as the current state I find myself in seems to reaching a Crescendo. This weekend, my eight months of positive vibes, my eight months of putting positive energy in, my eight months of inner peace had led me to a chance to take my message to the highest position. I just know that once I reach the most influential position in the kingdom, I will have to be stronger. I will have to be more centered. I know I will need my Che strengthen cause bad juju will come for me tenfold. The negative energy will be cast my way cause great power and influence garner the most negative attention. I just was hoping before my chance, I could at least attempt to be prepared. But again the cosmic forces work at their own speed. I now must make my way to Holly to let her know about the TED Talk that the Bravo executives set up for me. I still hadn't decided how to tell her cause I didn't know how much negativity she was holding onto. I even think she lost her Holly Adams studio. But maybe after this weekend everything will work out and the Brand will be even stronger. I guess that was what I was telling myself as I reached the door to Holly Adams hotel room. I mean maybe she will see the TED Talk as a positive thing. Maybe I was worrying about nothing. But Beard's racist rampage had seemingly made that almost impossible. It was as if his negativity attached to Holly at the hip. I took a deep breath and knocked on the door. A few moments the door opened as I was greeted by Holly with what I hoped was faux champagne.

Holly Adams: GiGi how are you doing.

GiGi Aries: We need to talk.

Holly Adams: You cured Beard of his bigotry?

GiGi Aries: Unfortunately not yet.

Holly Adams: Why does he enjoy being cancelled so much? Also does he know that he is affecting my life with his klan mentality.

GiGi Aries: Don't worry, we are making some serious strides, he even did some hot yoga. Still working on him with naked yoga to be comfortable with all sexuality.

Holly Adams: Uh good? Anyway what did you want to talk about?

GiGi Aries: Well at Cidnay and Candi's wedding...

Holly Adams: Do we have to bring up that horrible day. It was such a tragedy. It was the day I became unfairly targeted for Beard's rampant racist diatribe. And also Candi's dad died too.

This wasn't starting out well as I had already triggered a bad vibe by just bringing up the wedding. Don't get me wrong I probably wouldn't want to think about that day either if I was suffering he wrath of bad juju from it like Holly apparently is right now.

GiGi Aries: Yeah I apologize for bringing up negative energy, unfortunately what I need to tell you happened that day too.

Holly Adams: What now? Did Beard also make fun of the mentality handicap too?

GiGi Aries: Oh no, it had nothing to do with Beard. Rather it happened to be that the Bravo executives called me and wanted me to be a guest speaker for the TED talks happening this weekend.

I chose a more direct and blunt approach. I figured it would be the most fitting with the way Holly choose to communicate the majority of the time. So I just now wait for her response.

Holly Adams: That is great. Really it is a great opportunity for the Haüs of Nirvana.

GiGi Aries: You are okay with it?

Holly Adams: Of course why would I not be happy for you. I mean just cause I have zero people applying for my life coaching. The only sponsors I can get now for the Brand make Beard look like a coexist type of guy. And not to mention that I have no studio to hold my Holly Adams Hour at any longer. You know how hard it is to find a department store with favorable lighting to hold the Holly Adams Hour? Very hard.

Okay that was what I was more expecting and really I can't blame her for having that reaction. She was seemingly the only person in the Brand seeing the repercussions of Beards actions. I mean Cidnay had to bury his father in law but death is just part of the cycle of life. And it isn't like he actually knew the guy.

GiGi Aries: I get it. You are unfairly being picked on by bad juju. You are being ostracized by negative energy. And I felt bad telling you this but I didn't want to hide it from you.

Holly downed her faux champagne, again I hoped it was that as she paced around the hotel room around a bit.

Holly Adams: You know what, I apologize. This can only be a good thing for the Brsnd. You can sell the Brand with your positive energy and hopefully it can lead to this shit storm I am experiencing thanks to the beard goodball to finally ending. I can get actual sponsors that SPLC doesn't have to clear.

I mean that is all we can do, just continue to put positive energy out in the name of the brand. We can just keep plugging away till Holly is back to being in the cosmic forces good graces.

GiGi Aries: I mean positive energy is the only thing we can do right now. We just have to keep our Che centered and shakras aligned. Your cosmic balance will eventually change in your favor.

Holly Adams: I can't wait, I am tired of having to deny my connection to that hairy raging racist.

"You know he is right"

I thought Holly and myself were alone in her hotel room. The thing is I didn't recognize the voice but atleast the voice agreed with me. I mean I know it is hard but Holly had to just continue to put herself in a positive position. She had to keep traveling the path to nirvana even if it seems hard right now. But who was this voice. I looked at Holly a bit thrown off at having another person here.

GiGi Aries: I'm sorry, I didn't know you had company.

Holly Adams: Oh yeah, one of my fellow housewives stopped by. I don't know if you officially met her but she was a bridesmaid at the "event". That's Essence Brown.

I turned as she exited the bedroom as I saw a big beautiful African Queen barely fitting in the doorway. And in that moment I felt something. It was almost like a spark in my stomach. It was as if my Che was being pulled toward her. I couldn't keep my eyes of this ebony goddess. I felt her aura as she walked into the room. It was intriguing, enticing, and alluring. I wanted to be wrapped up in it. You know people talk about love at first sight all the time. But right her in Holly's room I was having a cosmic connection. The cosmic universe had given me what I had been looking forward. I just hope this beautiful ebony skin goddess felt the same connection.

GiGi Aries: Namaste.

Essence Brown: Hello.

Holly Adams: Essence, this is GiGi my spiritual consigliere.

GiGi Aries: I'm sorry to be so forward. But do you feel the cosmic forces pulling us together. It is as if we connected already. My Che already yearns for you. It wants to get mixed up in your Che.

Holly Adams: What the hell?

Essence Brown: You know I have been into spiritual health for the past few years and know how important it is in our lives. And I feel that connection too.

Holly Adams: What!?

GiGi Aries: You want to go meditate and chill? See what our Che's can get tangled up in?

Holly Adams: Okay first off we and second what is going on.

Essence Brown: A spiritual connection, Holly dear.

I feel like I was floating on air. It was almost as if I was literally being lifted to a higher nirvana. This felt so right even after two minutes of meeting this ebony beauty. I felt good about her being the one. She was the one to take me on my next journey in nirvana. I could feel the cosmic universe telling me this. I smiled at Essence as finally it felt like this weekend was falling into place. I was about to embark on changing the kingdom forever. First I was going to reach other kingdoms with my TED Talk then Sunday I am going to save what I tried to once kill. And after Sunday the kingdom would be greeted to the era of nirvana....with a Queen next to me to make sure it would be an successful era. I took Essence by the hand and lead her back to my room as tomorrow my life, the brand's life changed forever....
