

Education Professional Standards Board and the Kentucky High School Athletics Association Video Transcript.

[Upbeat music begins playing as aerial footage shows football players running across the football field.]

[Anderson County head football coach David Buchanan begins talking in front of camera. A brief non audio video clip of Buchanan and two student athletes talking appears over Buchanan's audio.]

Buchanan: As we welcome the 2026–2027 school year, the Education Professional Standards Board and the Kentucky High School Athletics Association thank every Kentucky coach who goes the extra mile by serving as a coach.

[Buchanan takes a football and tosses it off to the right side of the screen.]

[Anderson County assistant girls basketball coach CJ Penny catches a basketball from the left side of the screen. A brief clip with no audio overlays Penny's audio showing him in a locker room giving play-by-play instructions.]

Penny: Coaching means long hours, hot gyms and countless opportunities to help student-athletes become the best versions of themselves.

[Penny passes a basketball off to the right side of the screen.]

[Anderson County assistant girls basketball coach and elementary school teacher Charlotte Holtzclaw is shown in a classroom with two students. Student on left side of the screen walks a world globe into the camera view and hands to Holtzclaw to place on desk.]

Holtzclaw: Remember, the example you set in the locker room is just as important as the one you set in the classroom. Kentucky's Professional Code of Ethics applies wherever you lead.

[A brief non-audio clip of Holtzclaw overlays her audio showing her teaching a lesson at a whiteboard.]

[Holtzclaw appears back on camera.]

Holtzclaw: That includes the classroom, on the playing field or in the gym.

[Holtzclaw hands globe to second student and carries off the right side of screen.]

[Anderson County golf coach Kaitlyn Riley appears on screen with a student golfer. She catches a golf ball that appears from the left side of the screen.]

Riley: Welcome back, coaches. Have a great school year and best of luck to all of our student-athletes this season!

[Short video clip shows student golfer driving a golf ball off the tee box.]

[Video fades to EPSB and KHSAA logo to end video.]
