Gimmick: Obnoxious, sarcastic and irritable. Ralph is the powerhouse of The Losers Club who loves nothing more than to give Ronnie Ward a hard time.
Music: "Loser" by Beck
Personality: Ralph Adler is...a lot. He's obnoxious, overconfident and deluded. He's every friend you've ever had to apologise for when meeting new people but multiplied by ten. Ralph doesn't care about wrestling in quite the same way Ronnie or Kasey do. He just wants to wrestle and make money doing it. He's not arsed about the camaraderie, but it's the position he finds himself in. Besides, Ronnie wouldn't survive on his own without Ralph- the real hero. Ralph frequently finds himself at odds with the other members of The Losers Club, more often than not with KC, and is frequently the catalyst for any bickering within the group. However, when the going gets tough, he will rein it in and help the group because at the end of the day, Ronnie and KC are still his friends and no matter what they'd do the same for him.

ABRIDGED BIO

Ralph Adler is the greatest wrestler who has ever lived, the best member of the Losers Club and loved by every single person who has ever laid eyes upon him.

That's what he'd have you believe.

The loudest, brashest member of The Losers Club, Ralph grew up in a rough neighbourhood in Torrance, California. He was never athletic, he wasn't even a huge wrestling fan growing up, he just had a big mouth and an inflated opinion of himself. A casual viewer of wrestling, he'd tune in every so often but otherwise, he was more interested in trying to convince everyone he was awesome and failing to get girls. It wasn't until a few years ago that his opinion had changed. Finding himself in a dead-end job he hated, Ralph decided that enough was enough and he should be rich and famous, like he deserved to be. He joined Emeryville Pro, where he befriended Ronnie Ward and Kasey Connery, the three forming The Losers Club.

Ever since then, Ralph has been a bit of a task to deal with, be that from his fellow teammates and their periodic falling outs or opponents after he's said something insane to them, but as far as Ralph Adler is concerned he is right where he needs to be, and deserves to be. As color commentator for Emeryville Pro Wrestling Academy's EVP shows and the fiancé of one Tarah Nova, everything's coming up Ralph!

WRESTLING

Wrestling Style: Ralph is a big guy who loves a chaotic match where he can run rampant and destroy people. Deceptively agile, but no less powerful. Think early Brock Lesnar, Bam Bam Bigelow or early 90's Big Boss Man.

- Primary Finisher: Jackknife Powerbomb
- Secondary Finisher: The Pounce (period).

STRENGTHS

- Power: Ralph packs a fucking punch. Like a battering ram, if you're small and he catches you? He's ragdolling you.
- Speed: Surprisingly fast and can keep up with almost anyone. Think Big Boss Man in the early 90s or early Brock Lesnar.
- Secret Heart of Gold: Yes, Ralph is obnoxious in general but in very rare cases, he can show how surprisingly loyal he is to his friends. He'll take the piss out of Ronnie and argue with KC till the cows come home, but if you try to harm them? He won't be on your side.

WEAKNESSES

- Emotional: Ralph is so incredibly easy to rile up that it can be detrimental to the team, whether that be getting DQd because he went too far or losing focus because he lost his cool or otherwise.
- Intelligence: Ralph is, well, not the smartest guy in the world. But he thinks he is, like all idiots.
- He's a Jerk, sometimes: This, basically. Ralph so believes his own hype that he can be incredibly mean and dismissive of other people, including those he teams with.
