

Kingston Kerfuffle 16 Post-Mortem

Well, I'm in Kingston for a few weeks, so of course I'd stop by the local Smash Tournament! I almost thought I wouldn't make it in time!

That being said, I don't think I did very well on my goals. In fact, I think I just started playing mindlessly later on. Oh well, I just need to take a moment to breathe, and remember my goals in tournament. Seriously, I seem to have trouble remembering my goals in the middle of a tournament, and I feel it's not helping me grow as much as I could have.

I'll be there next week!
