

Reflection Statement

I think the experience of the MUN conference was informative and interesting. I felt a sense of pride and belonging in being a representative of a country that takes part in the United Nations Conferences. I relished the intensity of the debate between all representatives. Heated moments of strong opinions kept me on the edge of my seat and I felt power and importance. I also really enjoyed the 10 minutes of when we got to negotiate and talk with other delegates about what was spoken and further actions.

I believe that my team and I worked very well together throughout this whole unit. We all contributed to all discussions to a very high level. Each of us had very strong opinions on each topic discussed, which caused some intense arguments but we always mutually came to an agreement in the end. In conclusion, the MUN conference was a great experience and my team were all strong minded, intelligent and inclusive people who made it both a delightful and purposeful experience.
