

The Truth About CottonBuzzKill/StormCloudsArt

This callout doc will cover the following triggering topics:

- Mentions of CP
- Rape/Non-Con
- Racist Art
- Hate Art
- Overall NSFW

This document will revolve around CottonBuzzKill, formerly known as CloudChuArts/CloudeeToonz. I'm writing this to call him out for a variety of reasons, some of which stem from the triggering topics above. The doc will cover the many times he's drawn CP and rape art not just of his own, but made for others as well, along with his toxic behavior behind closed doors. I will be covering everything from start to finish. Cloud has run away from his problems one too many times and needs to be held accountable for what he's done up to this point.

Since some people didn't read this part the first time, let me make this even more clear than it already was for you. Please note that everyone involved in writing this doc does NOT, repeat NOT, condone ANY form of harassment towards Cloud. This was simply made to make everyone who knows or follows him know what he's drawn and done to many affected users. Whether you choose to unfollow or stand with him is your choice. Just be aware of the heinous things he has and still is doing to this day. Don't come to my DMs telling me I allowed it, I've issued the warning not to.

To fully cut him off, you can find him on the following websites:

Overall Toxic Behavior

While Cloud might seem like a decent person on the surface, he's a lot more behind closed doors. Cloud is a short-fused, petty person who tends to hold grudges and react unusually to any criticism. Something to note as well is that Cloud has made himself very aware that he is not a decent person, but doesn't put much effort into turning this around while he still could.

His response to any criticism regarding his content and work is questionable at best. It's not something you see very often, but regardless of how he puts it, he deflects any criticism.

Posted October 20th, 2021

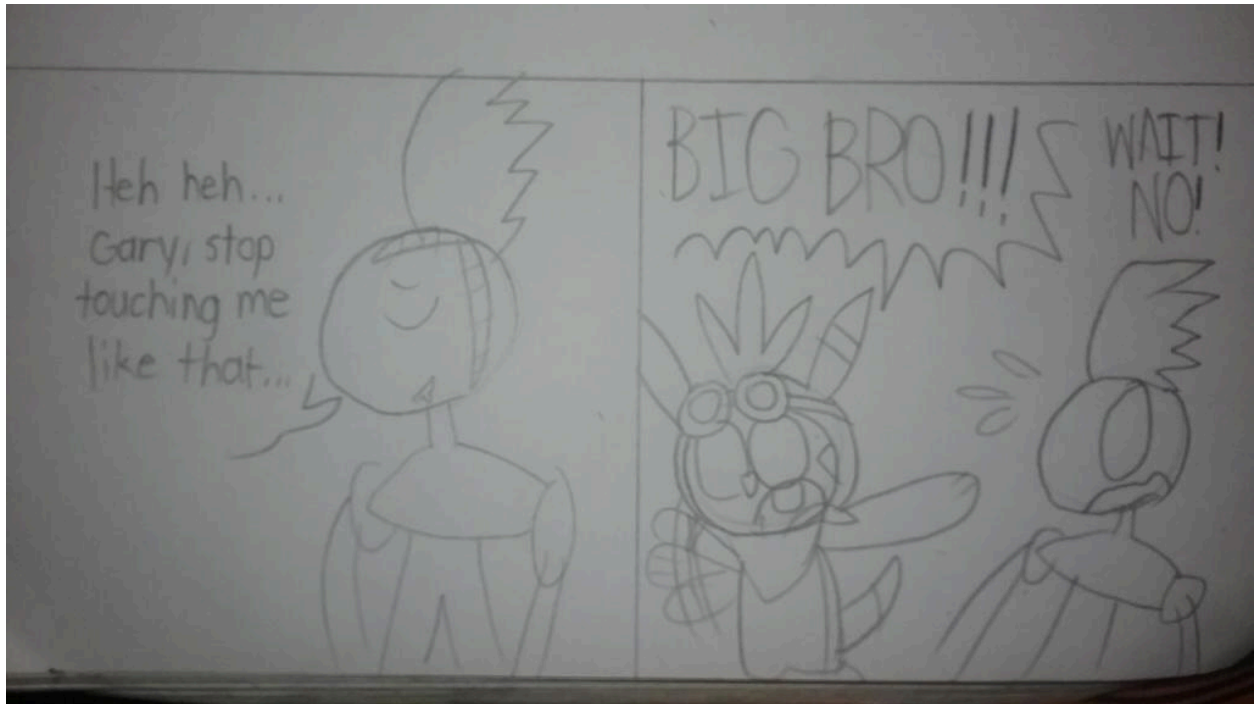

If this is how you respond to criticism of your art, your behavior, or you in general, there might be something wrong with you. The last thing you would want to do is to threaten people when you get criticized for anything. When you get feedback like this, it's a sign that improvement is to be made.

Cloud has also held a grudge against someone for up to 5 years. This story begins with an ex-friend of Cloud. This friendship dates back to 2017 when it started with them and Cloud drawing fanart for each other and the occasional roleplay. As time went by, the ex-friend noticed that Cloud was drawing his and their characters in strangely sexual scenarios.

Posted on November 13th, 2017

Another red flag in this was when Cloud shipped one of the ex-friend's characters (who was a child) with his own. However, the age of this character is unknown, but it was believed that they were an adult. He has also drawn this character pregnant not once, not twice, but three times.

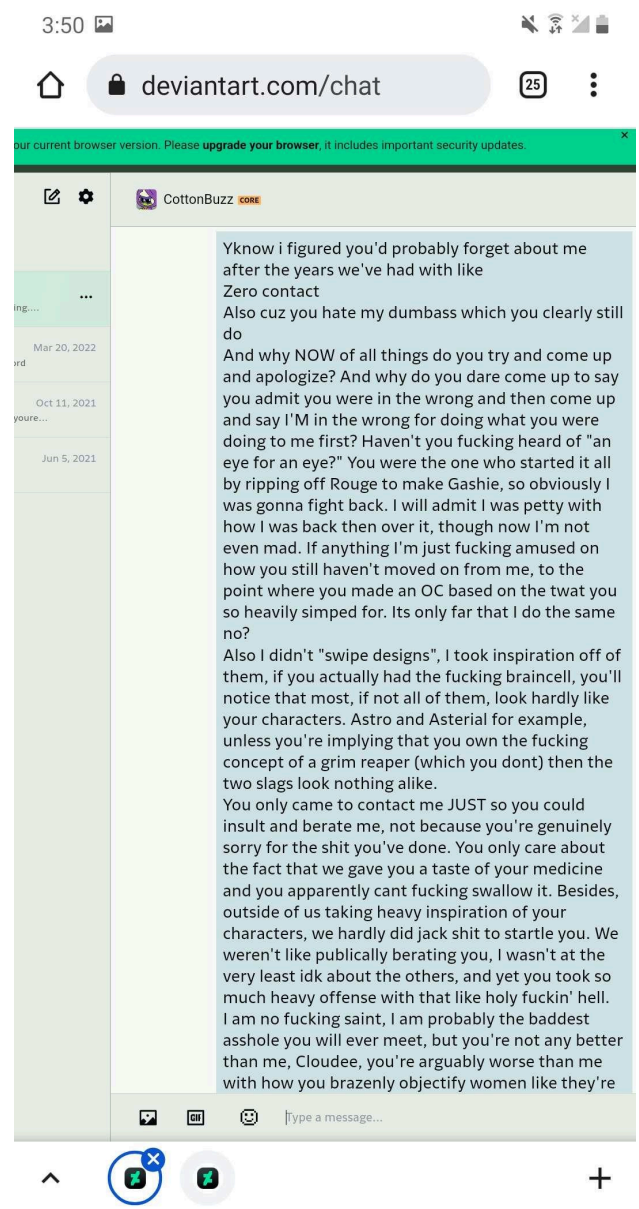

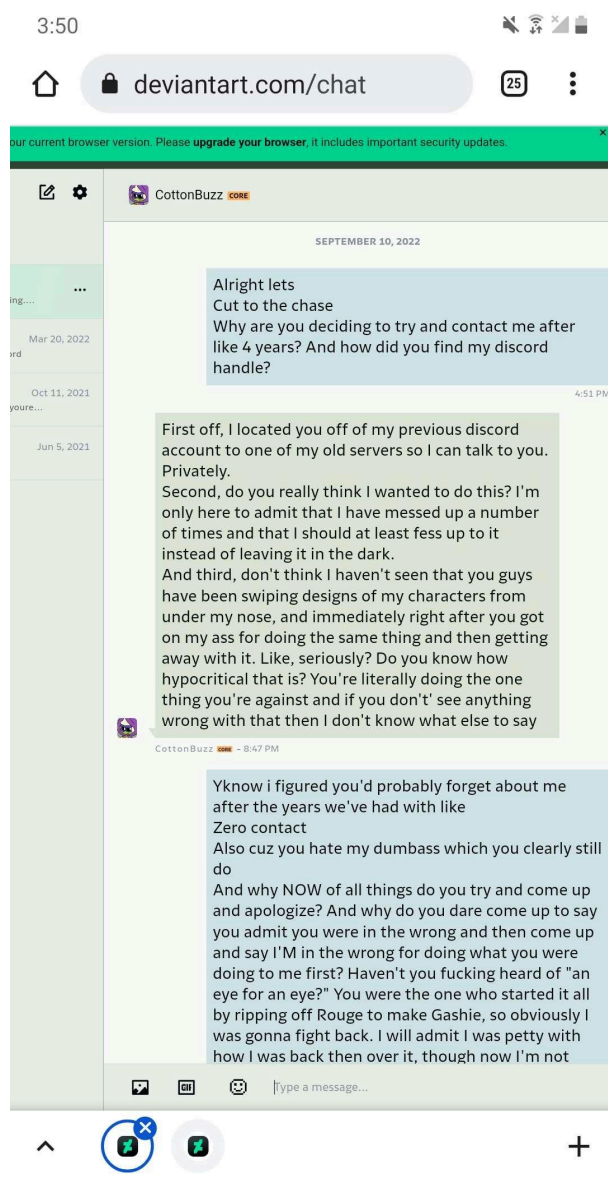

Posted on April 8th, 9th, and 12th, 2021 respectively

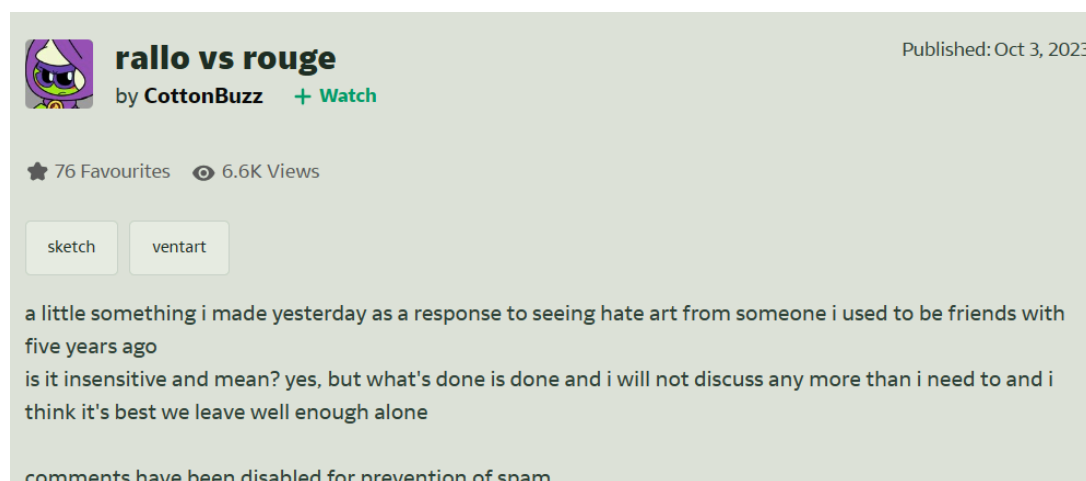

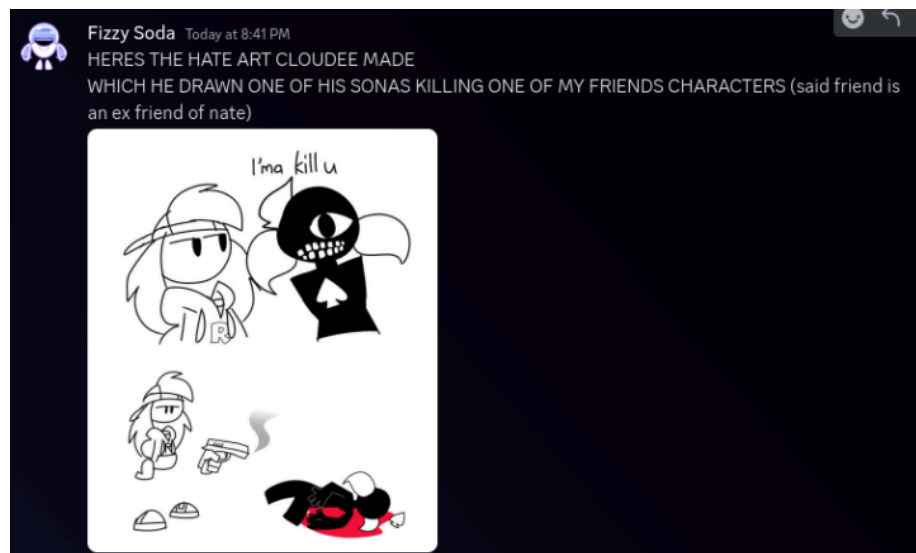

Despite this, however, the age of this character was not listed despite being 14, which indicates that there is a chance that Cloud was not or was never aware of the character's age when he made these.

By the time this came to a close, Cloud had guilted them into staying by his side, until said ex-friend finally cut ties with him for good. Later, Cloud proceeded to make a knockoff of one of their characters.

Fast forward to 2022, and Cloud sends a friend request to this person. The following screenshots below are the entire conversation.

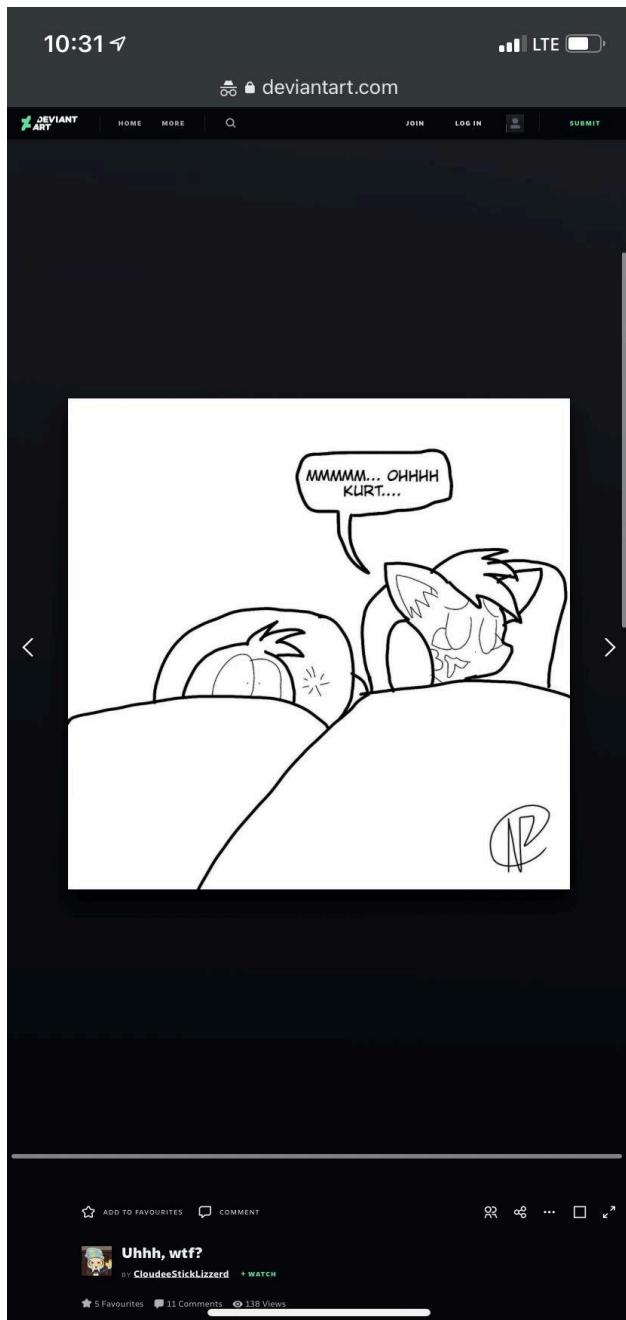

He then started drawing hate art of the ex-friend in the form of one of their OCs. Note how he's well aware that this wasn't the best call.

However, this is not the first time Cloud would do this to someone he knows. Another ex-friend of his has a similar story. But since they wish to remain anonymous, I will also tell this story for them. During the time this anonymous individual was a minor, Cloud had his character and one of theirs in a relationship. The ex-friend's character happened to have been underage, 14 years old specifically.

Cloud has made implications that the anonymous friend's character was impregnated as well.

To wrap this part up, I'll be linking two threads made by those who also had to deal with Cloud's aggressive, toxic behavior.

Racism

Cloud has dabbled into racism a few times. During the height of Squid Game's first season, Cloud has expressed that he did not watch it. Attached to it was a racist caricature of one of the characters.

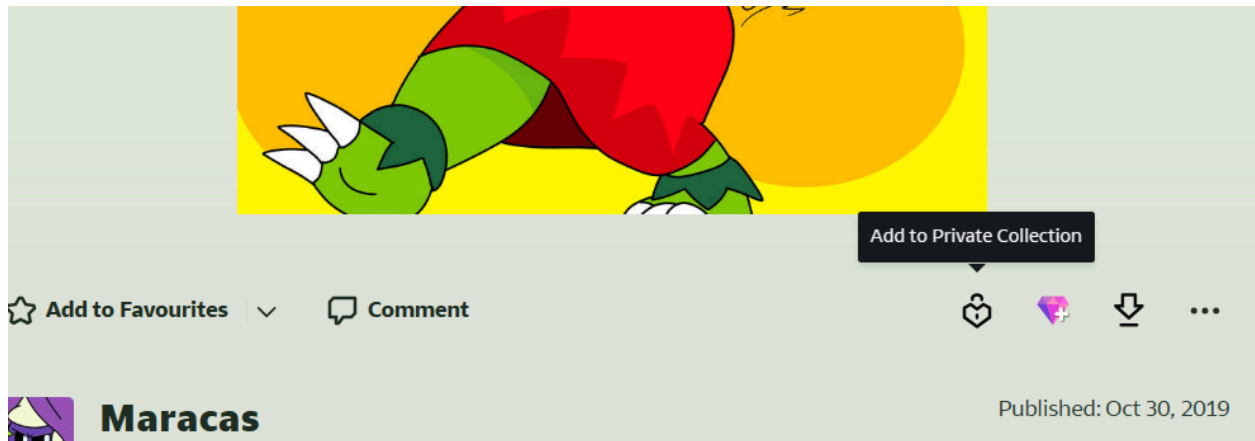

November 14th, 2021

That was posted in November 14, 2021. This piece was drawn only 2 years later.

The piece below was drawn on October 30th, 2019

November 3rd, 2021

I'm sure there are Asians out there with their last name being Wonton. However, in this case, it's just stereotypical with the full name. Sakami is a Japanese name that's paired with the name of Asian food. If it was made by an Asian (which Cloud is NOT), then it would be fine. Otherwise, this stuff is no laughing matter.

Meet Ching Chang Changying. I think this one's self-explanatory.

Rape and Non-Con

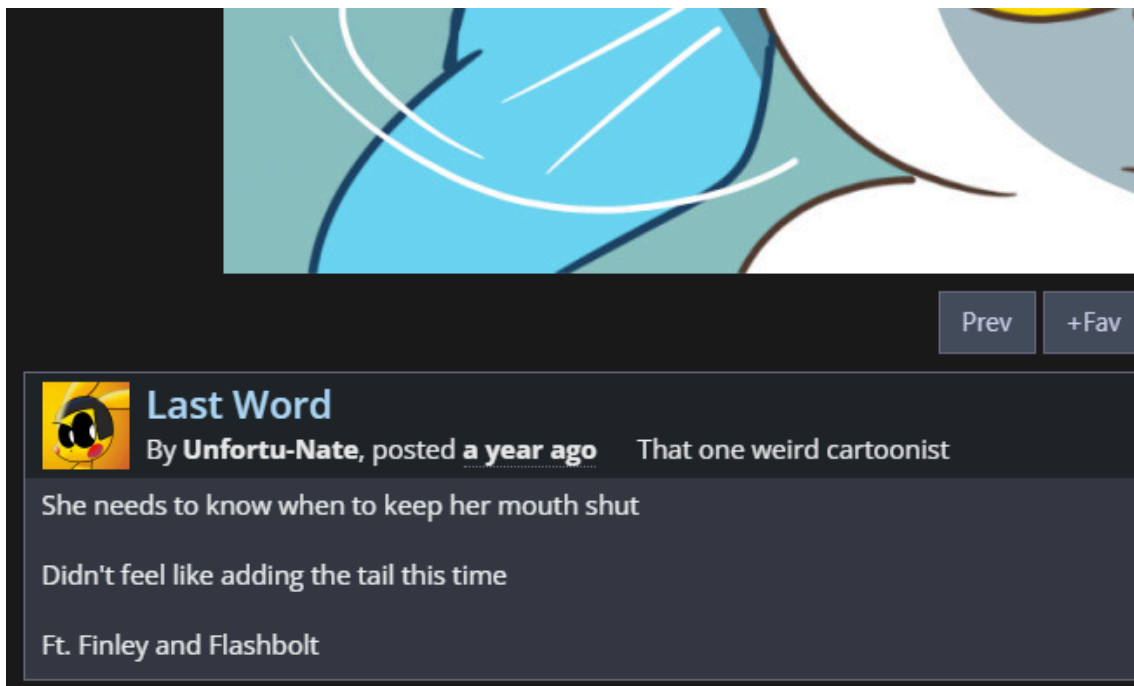

Cloud has drawn rape and non-consensual pieces several times. Some of which are his own, and some are of others. While it's true that an artist can depict whatever themes they want in their work, rape and sexual harassment are topics that, due to being a serious real-world crime, needs to be handled with care. Not only does Cloud handle the subject poorly, but has also fetishized it.

For anyone who wishes to justify this with a comment such as, "They're not real characters, it doesn't matter," regardless if it's only art and fictional characters, rape is neither attractive nor sexy. These are depictions of people being violated in the worst possible way psychologically and sometimes physically. It's a form of harm that can be given in ways that will take years to recover. Imagery or not, if you believe this is ok, and are aroused by it, there is something wrong with you.

I'd like to also include the comment he made about this image on his Furaffinity:

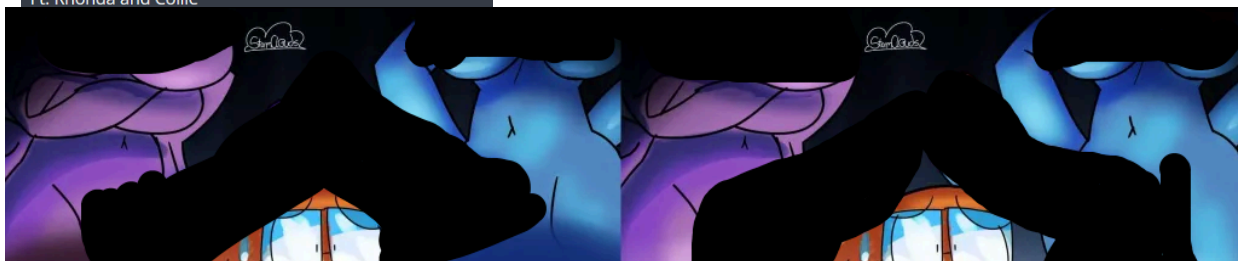

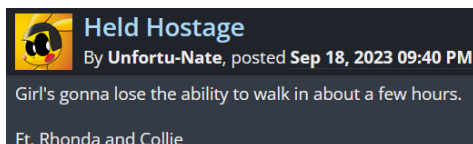

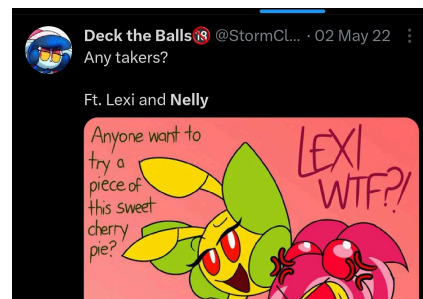

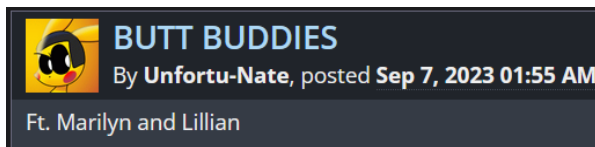

This next piece implies that the only way to defeat Raine was to simply rape her.

Overall Non-Con

This next part will get a subsection of its own, due to there being so many times he's drawn it. Not only does Cloud have an unnatural fascination with rape, but he also takes enjoyment in non-consensual scenarios, especially when it comes to his nsfw content.

The next piece, while not being made by Cloud, shows that he endorses and encourages this. He eventually would finish the job himself by making a third part of the previous drawings made for him.

What I find greatly concerning throughout the many times he's done this is, why anyone you ever want to fantasize about something that could mess anyone up, mentally, physiologically, physically, and emotionally? I don't think I can fathom the answer should he ever have the nerve to respond.

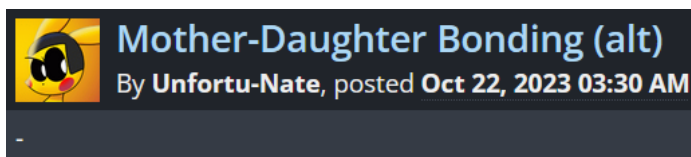

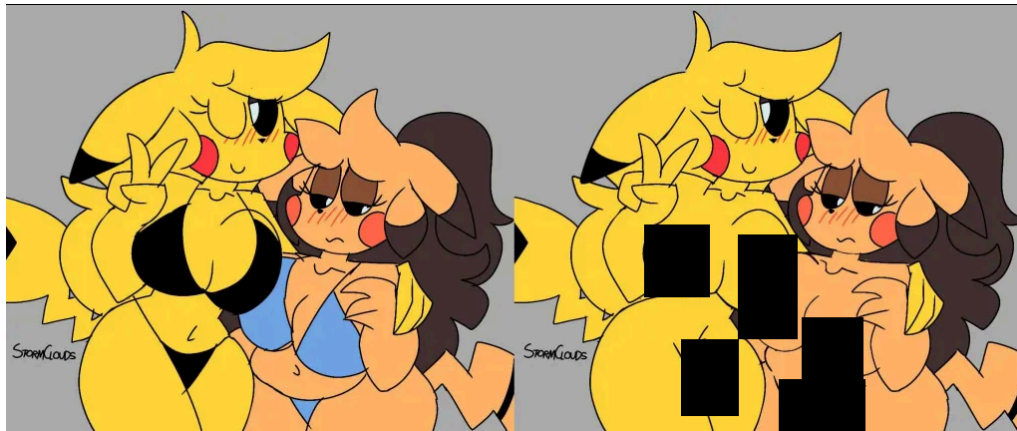

Questionable Misc.

As seen below, these two characters are meant to only be nothing more than friends, with the Fenniken being stated to be a lesbian. However, it isn't enough for Cloud to draw the two having sexual intercourse. Nothing but lesbian erasure here.

NSFW Art of Underage Characters

Cloud has drawn NSFW of existing, and underage, characters several times. All of which are still up on his Twitter and Furaffinity specifically. The first known time he's done this was with Starfire, specifically her from “Teen Titans GO”. In the TT series, it's heavily implied that Starfire has been aged down to around 15-16 years old, hence the show's name and theme. Considering that this version of the character is from GO, I think it's safe to assume they did something similar here.

Another known instance can be found in his Furaffintiy of Blaze the Cat presenting herself. Blaze is 14 years old in the Sonic canon.

Another instance can be found on his roster of characters. Below is Arinza Jennings. According to Cloud himself, she is a teenage sorceress. But despite being depicted and shown to be a teen, it hasn't stopped Cloud from drawing porn and suggestive content of her a few times.

Name: Arinza Jennings

Gender: Female

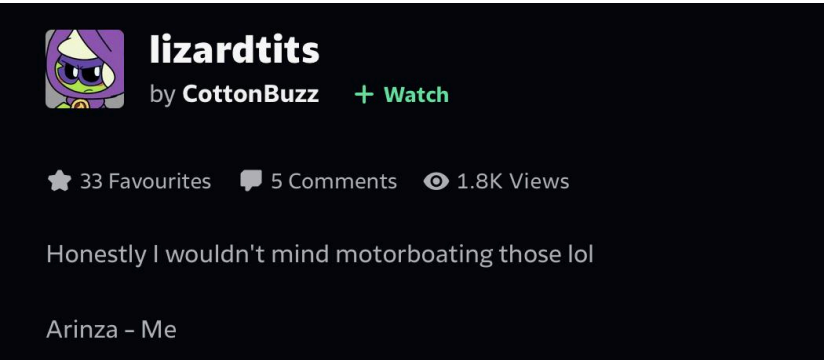

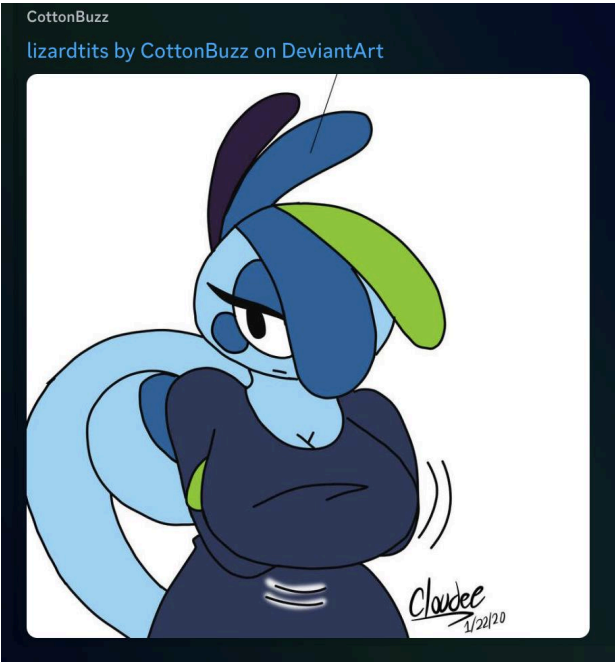

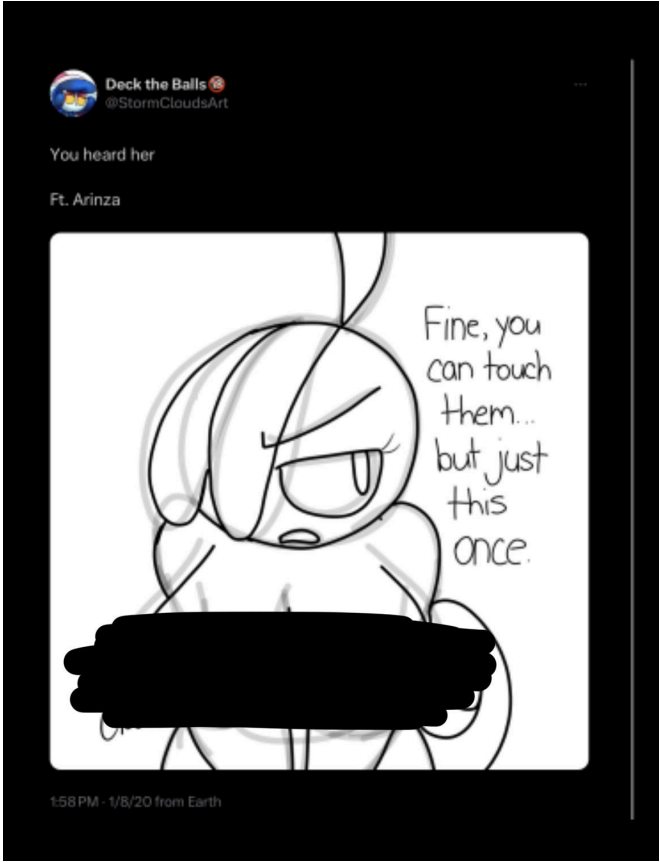

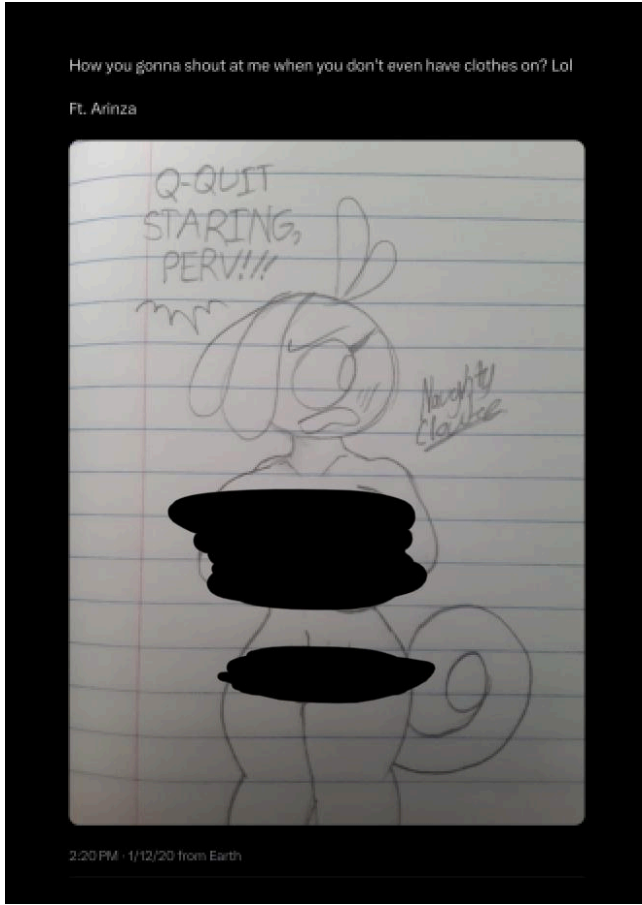

Species: Drizzile

Occupation: Teenage Sorceress (cuz fuck you I'm Nate)

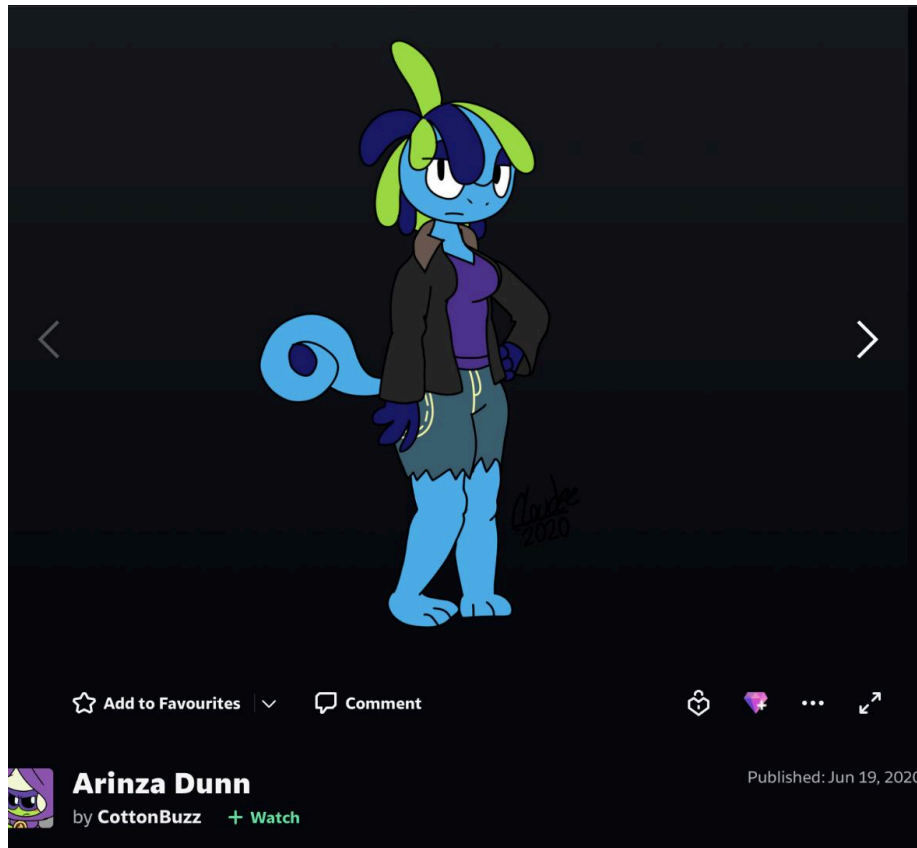

Arinza isn't too fond of being a sorceress most of the time. She has to put curses on people, learn wicked spells and avoid being evicted put of her home. She doesn't like it, but she has no other choice. Her wand is over 3000 years old and yet it still remains in pretty good condition. So there's that.

What's interesting to note about this, is that after being called out for drawing weird content on this character, he responded by aging her up in a later piece, possibly hoping that this would render all the criticism useless.

The Blaze piece is not the only time Cloud would draw Sonic characters in NSFW scenarios, either. The next piece below includes Vanilla and Whisper. In Sonic canon, Vanilla is said to be 26 years old. This would've been fine had Whisper not been included altogether. Whisper's age is 16 years old. So not only would this be porn of an underage character, but this would also be pedophilia.

Biographical overview
Age	16 ^[3]

Another piece with the same two characters.

While this next piece shows a character that isn't a minor, the creator of these characters is owned by a minor. To further explain, I first have to quickly cover who this person is and where the issue began. Sock.clip is the creator of two characters made for an FNF mod by the name of, "Twinsomnia". On their Instagram, they made it clear that they did not want anyone to make NSFW art of these characters.

However, Cloud did just that anyway, regardless if he knew about this or not.

Regardless of how fictional a character is, if they're below 18, it's not right to draw NSFW content of them. A fictional child is still a child, and them being fictional should not be an excuse to draw such content of them. Even if the character is shown to be aged up, you're still drawing an underage character. If you're going to draw NSFW content of existing characters, at least draw those 18+ by default. There is no excuse. This can also be applied to drawing NSFW content of characters owned by minors.

Summary

In summary, Cloud is a very petty individual who has done all of this and has gotten away with it with just a slap on the wrist. He's drawn a lot of rape and non-con, some CP and racism, and a handful of hate art for those who would not stand his behavior. If you've gotten to this point, it is still strongly advised that you cut Cloud off. He has been doing this for far too long and, as said in the beginning, needs to be held accountable for his actions. If all of this isn't enough to convince you to cut him out of your life and out of your friend group, then I'm not sure what else to tell you.

To Cloud directly, if you happen to be reading this and managed to get this far, then congrats. I think we both knew that this was going to bite you where it hurts sooner or later. I remember when you acknowledged that yes, you aren't a good person. I hope this doc will be the one thing that finally gets you off your ass and takes the steps to better yourself for once in your entire career. It doesn't take much to be a decent person. You had many opportunities to pull a U-turn and salvage this while you still could, and you squandered it.

UPDATE: JANUARY 17th, 2024

It's been a few weeks since the last time the doc was updated. Some things have changed after this was initially released. Since the doc was out, Cloud has abandoned his Twitter accounts and kept them locked, and posting more frequently on his Bluesky and DeviantArt. Aside from this, however, recent images show that he hasn't learned anything from this and keeps moving on without taking accountability for his actions. If you were going to throw this doc like a boomerang, you should have expected it to come back.

I'm not gonna bother defending myself here, because quite frankly there's nothing about myself worth defending anymore. Throughout my Internet life, I've been kicked out of servers, left servers, been doxxed, stalked, met a lot of annoying people, even had most turn against me for several mixed reasons, etc. And all because I can't learn to be a good person even though I've been given numerous chances to change myself for the better time and time again. Yeah, I get it. I'm a terrible person. I'm no fun to hang out with. I cause lots of problems for everyone else and I can't stand being certain people, stuff like that. I've gotten that shit rubbed in my face so many times that it's starting to become nothing more than a numb feeling. People wanna hate on me, that's fine. I never mentioned I was perfect. I never said I was a nice guy. Hell, I'm willing to accept a death threat or two if that's what it'll take to get me to stop feeling pain directed towards myself and others.
But really
I just don't give a fuck anymore
I'm tired, I'm upset, I'm pissed off, and that's not even close to what I'm really feeling deep inside. Coming to the internet probably was the biggest mistake of my entire life. And I can't stress that enough. I mean, I did get to keep a good portion of the friends who've stayed with me in my time of darkness, and for that I'm eternally grateful. But honestly, what's the point in having to apologize for all the bad shit I've done when half of the internet world is gonna wanna see me exiled anyway?

But before I close this off, I got one last thing to say to all the people who've turned against me:

Congratulations. You've killed the enemy, and it is me. Now you all can live your lives peacefully without dealing with the devil himself.
I hope you're happy now.

After the doc was released, this was his first statement before locking both his main and NSFW accounts up.

(Links are locked/privated but the date was December 29th, 2023)

It's only been and a day and a half, but I figure it's better to speak up now than to let this keep running rampant for who knows how long.

By now I suspect a majority of people on the Internet have read a certain twitter user's document about my actions in the past and one by one have turned against me, and I'm here to say: I admit it. I have harassed multiple users, made drawings of their characters against their wishes, acted like a creep, hurt their feelings, and even manipulated a good amount of them. There was no good excuse for me to be doing any of that stuff and all the criticisms I received, and all the scolding I got, I either brushed off or just ignored by blocking the people who exposed me. Even the people who treated me with nothing but the utmost respect, I took for granted. And now here I am, paying for the consequences of my actions because all because I was stupid to let someone who I THOUGHT was my friend expose the past that I was trying so desperately hard to forget.

Throughout my Internet life, I've done nothing but hate, hurt others, knock people down, manipulate, lie, etc., even got so far as to let myself trust people who CLEARLY don't look like they deserve it to begin with. I've lost so many friends countless times, and yet somehow I still act like the victim despite the fact that I'm mainly the reason why they don't want to be around me. Everyone's given me so many chances to become a better person time and time again, and yet nothing I've done throughout my time on the internet has been shown to justify why I'm deserving of those chances. I've always said to myself, "don't think about the past, focus on the present", but right now considering the way things are going, I'd say my past has found a way to get closer with every bad move I make.

I really do want to become a better person, I really wanna focus more on trying to have fun like everyone else, but I also wanna keep a sharp eye open on who I can and can't trust, because you never know who'll turn on you the minute you screw up. And because of my current situation, I probably may have to limit myself on making friends until further actions have been notified. You can make fun of me if you want, it won't make no difference to me either way. It's time I take responsibility for my actions, and I'm not letting anything stop me.

Thanks for your attention (if you were paying any to begin with)

Later on, he would make another statement, pictured above, this time admitting to what he's done and has still been doing, but still hasn't apologized for. Here, he's also seen blaming others rather than himself for pulling all these tricks off and assuming he'd get off scot-free.
(the original tweet was private/locked, but the date is December 30th, 2023)

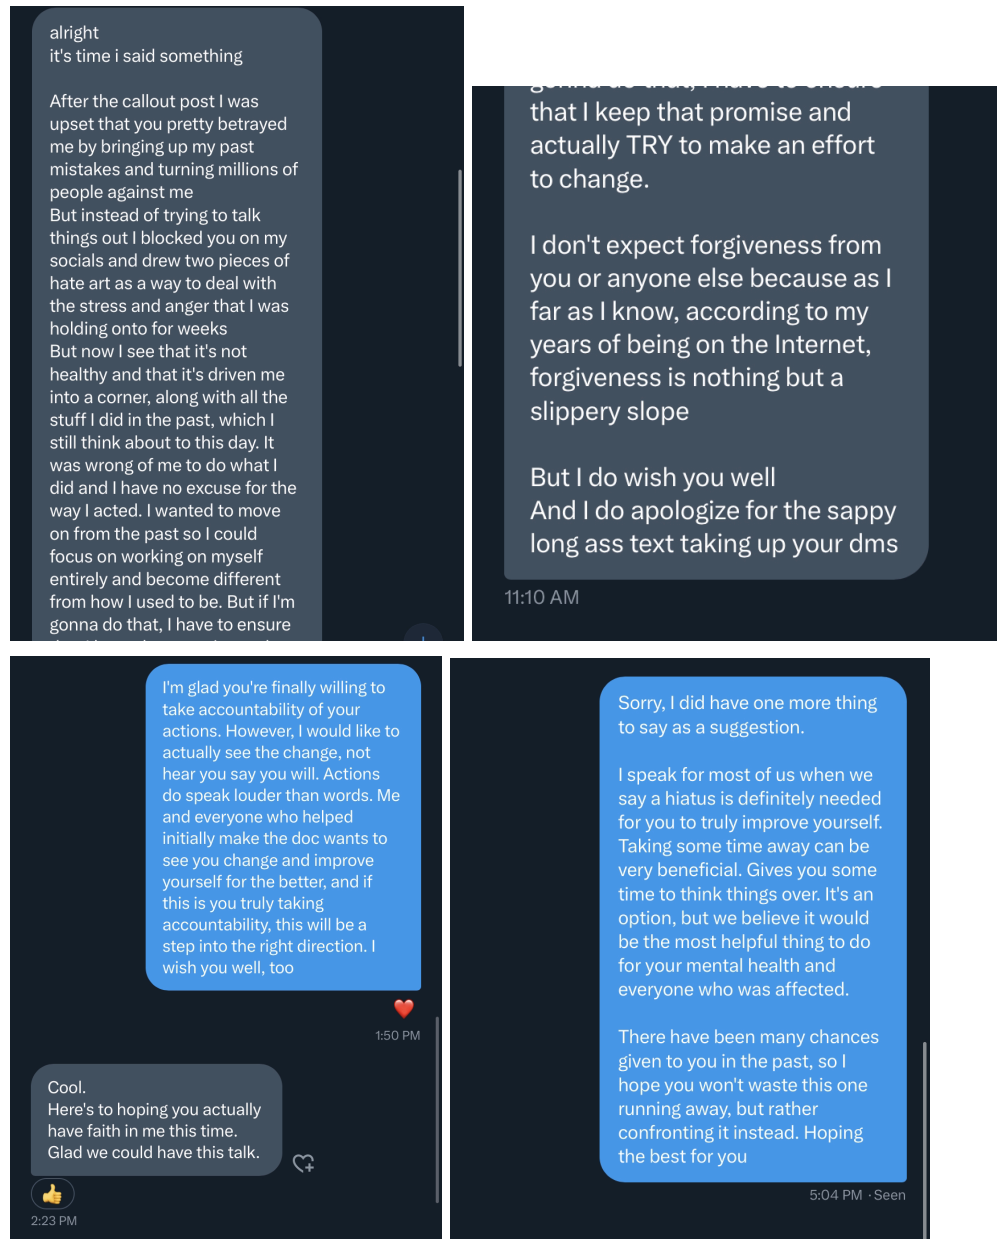

Not too long after, he continues to post more art, despite the backlash. Even running away to Bluesky and DeviantArt without addressing anything. He has also proved to have learned nothing about hate art. Shown below is a two-panel comic, with a depiction of the "certain Twitter user" he was talking about before.

(Date: 1/17/2024)

And always remember, he did this to himself.

When I had thought the dust had finally settled, I got a long DM from Cloud himself, pictured above. At first, I was expecting another angry message for things he wrought upon himself. After seeing what I thought was him finally holding himself accountable, and what I thought was him
