- Tickets must only be used by members, their family, or bona fide guest(s).
- Most tickets supplied by the respective governing bodies are held in a mobile phone app. For example, 'Twickenham Stadium' and 'Scottish Rugby' apps, which can be downloaded from any App Store. - Tickets provided by London Scottish must not be sold, or advertised for sale, in any shape or form or by any mechanism.
- Do not advertise or re-sell tickets on eBay or through any other website.
- Do not post pictures of tickets on social media sites as fraudsters have been known to copy these pictures and advertise tickets for sale.
- Do not re-sell tickets even at face value at the ground immediately before matches, not even to people who appear to be genuine rugby fans. These people are frequently runners for touts.
- If you cannot use your tickets, they must be returned to London Scottish.
- Tickets will be issued solely on the basis that they are used strictly in accordance with the relevant guidelines of the RFU and/or the SRU. These are available on request.
- Failure to adhere to the RFU and/or the SRU guidelines may result in London Scottish losing its ticketing allocation and being fined.

Therefore, any member found breaching these guidelines:

- May be expelled from the Club in the absence of a convincing explanation to be determined by a Disciplinary Panel.
- May face disciplinary proceedings and possible legal action from the RFU and/or the SRU.
