Interest Inventory

Instructions: Please follow the instructions below to complete a career interest inventory.

Go to the O'NET Interest Inventory Profiler, then read the instructions carefully. Once you are ready, click on

Get started →

Now, read through the instructions, paying close attention to the scale about how much you have to do the activity described in each question. Reread instructions 3 and 4. This is not a test, and you shouldn't spend a lot of time thinking about whether you like the activity.

Save the results on your device.

Review your results by reading about your RIASEC codes. These codes will tell you about the type of activities you like to do in a job and the kind of work environment you might like.

The RIASEC vocational interest model is based on psychologist John Holland's theory that people are more satisfied and successful when their work matches their interests and personality. Six broad interest areas describe both individuals and work. Click an interest to learn more:

Careers that share a similar profile to your personal combination of interest areas are likely to fit you. This match can help you choose a career path or jobs where you'll feel more motivated, capable, engaged, and happy!

Explore several careers that compare to the Elkhart Area Career Center Course Description Guide.

