

Hello everyone,

I've been doing some planning for our girls'/boys' Bible study and I'm really excited to get started!

For this year's study, I've chosen _____. The books will be ready for you at our first meeting, but here's a link if you'd like to take a look ahead of time:

Kickoff Event

To start things off, we'll have a fun "kick-off" gathering at _____ on _____ from _____ - _____.

EXAMPLE PLAN: The plan is to tie-dye tote bags for the kids to use at each meeting - DIY + Doughnuts! Siblings are welcome, though tie-dye supplies will only be for the Bible study kids. No worries if you can't make it; we'll prepare extra tote bags. (Alternative activities: Pizza in the Park, Water Balloon Wars, Popsicles & Play, just a simple playground meetup, etc.)

Ongoing Meetings

We'll meet monthly on the 1st/2nd/3rd/4th [day of the week] from _____ - _____ pm. Each gathering will include a snack, activity, object lesson, and the "story & study." We want to create a space where the kids can share what's on their hearts, notice God in their everyday lives, and learn how to encourage one another in the days, months, and years ahead.

Supplies & Costs

I'll purchase and prepare what we need for the kickoff, the study books, and a few extra teaching items so everyone has the same materials (fewer distractions that way!). If you could Venmo $_____ to @_____, that will cover costs.

Bibles

Between now and our first meeting, please "tab" your child's Bible. They are young, but capable! Having the girls/boys be able to look up verses in their Bible will be a skill we work on little by little.

Your Next Steps

1. Mark your calendar: Kick-off on _____ from – at _____.
2. Venmo $_____ to @_____ for study books and supplies.
3. Tab your child's Bible before our first meeting on _____.
4. Pray for this group—kids and parents alike!

I'm looking forward to an amazing year together. Please reach out if you have any questions.

With gratitude,
