Disappointment with God

These notes are not designed for you to "follow along and fill in the blanks." They are for you to engage in the presentation and record your questions, reflections and "to do" as we work through the topic.

We are all susceptible to it—disappointment with God. While we may never voice our disappointment to others, it is those small hours of the night that our suffering and questions to God and about God are acute. These silent screams are not unique to us or unknown to God. The book of Job helps us navigate suffering and disappointment with God.

Three principles I want to remember from this topic:

1.

2.

3

Two feelings this topic has created for me:

1.

2.

One thing I want to do in response to this topic:

Questions I still have:

SESSION NOTES:

Disappointment with God

These notes are not designed for you to "follow along and fill in the blanks." They are for you to engage in the presentation and record your questions, reflections and "to do" as we work through the topic.

We are all susceptible to it—disappointment with God. While we may never voice our disappointment to others, it is those small hours of the night that our suffering and questions to God and about God are acute. These silent screams are not unique to us or unknown to God. The book of Job helps us navigate suffering and disappointment with God.

Three principles I want to remember from this topic:

1.

2.

3

Two feelings this topic has created for me:

1.

2.

One thing I want to do in response to this topic:

Questions I still have:

SESSION NOTES: