

PAGE 1

1.1 Exterior. Noon. We are outside at a police graduation. On stage stands our protagonist receiving his space police badge. His smile shines brightly.

Caption

There was a time when this was my happiest day.

1.2 Exterior. Noon. Moving forward in time. Our protagonist is with his supervisor. They are both transformed. The supervisor is harassing a citizen.

Caption

And a time I believed in the badge...

1.3 Interior. Day. Inside a conference room, police review board members sit behind a long table. In front of the table is the protagonist talking about the illegal things he has witnessed from his police colleagues.

Caption

As its often said...

Caption

One rotten apple rots a barrel.

1.4 Exterior. Night. Our protagonist is getting beaten brutally by a gang of Space Police. The protagonist is not transformed but the Space Police are.

Caption

And one good egg doesn't make a dozen.

PAGE 2

2.1 Exterior. Sunset. Quarry. The police supervisor is fighting a monster space alien.

2.2 Suddenly the supervisor is hit with a laser sword slash on his back.

2.3 Here stands our protagonist. Now a dark version of his police metal hero suit.

2.4 The monster swipes at the protagonist, who has to use his laser sword to block the attack.

Page 3

3.1 The supervisor has recovered and tries to swing his beam saber at the protagonist.

3.2 The lock swords.

3.3 The protagonist kicks the supervisor away.

3.4 He turns and slashes the monster.

3.5 The protagonist stands over a kneeling supervisor as the monster explodes in the background.

PAGE 4

4.1 The protagonist is in midswing.

Caption

Feels like in this world there can't be good.

4.2 In silhouette, the supervisor's head goes flying off.

Caption

But it doesn't stop me from trying.

4.3 The protagonist stands over the dead supervisor's headless body.

Caption

One apple is removed.

4.4 He crushes the supervisor's police badge in his hand.

Caption

I won't stop still the barrel is clear.