

Who Are We?

We are a divergent group of Peacekeepers and Philosophers. We are those who are respected by our peers. We are passionate and knowledgeable of the worlds around us. We are a vast range of people, from healers, to artists, researchers, strategists, tacticians, and academics.

We strive to become keepers of knowledge and work to achieve ultimate Balance. Whether that be within ourselves, or through the help of others. The Order of the Morning seeks to showcase the best version of yourself.

As progenitors of Order and Balance, we are here to ensure that equity in all of its forms is met in the Syndicate. Through our tenets, and the guidance of The Valor our guild will ensure these goals are met. Through Resilience, Knowledge and Peace.

Resilience that the weak may find succor. Knowledge that we may illuminate the meandering path of life. Peace so that all may find tranquility within the weave.

We persevere to unlock the secrets of our history for if we do not learn from it we are doomed to repeat it.

What are our goals?

Resilience: Recognizing your truth, acknowledging the hardships that you have faced and taking them headfirst. Using that truth to fuel the desire to not only be strong for others but for yourself as well.

Knowledge: Opening your mind to all histories, past or present, in order to make informed decisions on how you can best help those around you. Keeping oneself informed is important in order to be able to survey both sides of the coin. Neutrality is key.

Peace: Keeping a sense of tact within oneself to be pragmatic, a sense of calm in all dealings and debates. To set aside one's emotions and prejudices.

Foresight: Letting the decisions made in the past not be forgotten, but in fact, be used to propel yourself toward an enlightened future.

Balance: Allow yourself to make informed decisions on what is perceived as ultimately "good" and "evil". The idea of striving to become a singular unified entity to live in what could be a harmonious form of society.

Our History

The First Whisperer of the Order of the Morning was Berat. A wise and ancient being who spent his life as a warlord across the planes. Berat was the one to unite the Whisperers to form the Syndicate. Together they grew in knowledge and influence until the Syndicate headquarters, The Misted Halls, was attacked. The voices no longer in agreement and the Syndicate as it was known. Shattered. In what was known as the Schism. Berat continued to lead the Order of the Morning with Lady Caroline Ravenwood as his Guildmaster.

Mags O'desieus was next to helm the role of Guildmaster under Berat after Lady Ravenwood stepped away from being guildmaster.

Mags commanded the Order until the fateful day the Scarlet Feast invaded the Veridian isle. At the hands of the Scarlet Feast guildmaster Nemo Grey, Mags O'desieus was killed. Signaling the Fall of the Order of the Morning.

The Light of the Order went to become The Steadfast and the Dark of the Order went on to become The Legion.

One day, a man in the woods appeared. His name is The Valor, a similarly wise and ancient man, and friend to Berat. The Valor came to the Veridian Isle with the intent to retake the name of Order of the Morning and re-establish the guild as a force for good as it was originally intended to be.

The Valor went about recruiting Fateless to join his Order Establishing Vera Vilsaint as the Guildmaster for his Order of the Morning.

Our Magics

The Valor bestows upon us the gifts of his magic: Light and Dark, wear the core of our polarity and balance lies. With the blessing of light we may reveal, heal, cleanse, protect and even revive that which is lost. With the power of the dark we obscure, withstand attack from those who violently oppose us and alternative healing options.