Dictation Practice10-1

Doctor: Good afternoon. Mr.Butler, is it?

Mr.Butler: Yes. Terri Butler.

Doctor: So your GP has referred you because of a problem you've been having with (1)_____. Can you tell me more about it, please?

Mr.Butler: Well, it's usually when I first wake up, I get a (2)_____ but it tends to (3)_____. It's been irritating me for a (4)_____, actually.

I initially thought it would just be resolved by itself but it hasn't. The thing is, and I know it's a bit (5)_____ but sometimes when I try to get it out, I've had (6)_____. It's not a lot by any means, but enough to notice.

Doctor: Right. Okay.

Mr.Butler: I've also noticed, for example, when my wife puts on perfume, it's my (7)_____, I can't seem to (8)_____ these days. So I'm a little concerned over that. I mean I can still breathe, of course, but it's worrying.

Actually, I thought I was (9)_____ because we recently (10)_____, or maybe it was, I don't know, (11)_____ because I suddenly started sneezing - not all day but still quite often, (12)_____. But that's not the case, apparently.

I know this condition isn't (13)_____ but it does affect my life. The (14)_____ feeling can really hurt, smetimes.

Doctor: I'm sorry to hear it's caused you so much worry.

Mr.Butler: Well, I'm also concerned about my job. I'm a (15)_____ and it's mostly for high-end clients, so it involves a (16)_____.

The last thing I need is to be seen constantly playing with or (17)_____ or worse still, sneezing can cause an accident.

Dictation Practice 10-2

Doctor: So, you don't believe it's allergies related?

Mr. Butler: Well, not as far as I know. I've been to my GP as you know, and tried to (1)_____ first.

I had a (2)_____ and that didn't show anything. So, I went away thinking it would clear up.

But then (3)_____ it was still annoying me, so I had a (4)_____. But that apparently (5)_____. But I keep thinking maybe it's something less common and that's why nothing's shown up.

My GP asked if I'd been ill because he thought perhaps it was caused by a (7)_____. But I hadn't been.

He also asked if I was taking any medications. He was aware of, like, (8)_____ or (9)_____, which I wasn't. In fact the only thing I'd started using around that time was a (10)_____ that I bought from the chemist, which he then (11)_____.

He thought maybe I'd been using it too much, so I did, of course. But doing so didn't seem to make a difference.

Doctor: I see.

Mr. Butler: And he suggested that I try a few to see if they make a difference. So, I got a (12)_____. That apparently helps with the dry air and therefore to (13)_____, which was okay but didn't make too great of an impact.

He told me how to make up a (14)_____. It's much cheaper than buying it from the chemist. I still use it now and that helps a little too, but just not for (15)_____. So, I have to keep it up a few times throughout the day.

Before going to bed, he said I should take an (16)_____. But again, it just doesn't seem to last too long and before I know it. I'm (17)_____ as before taking it.

Doctor: And how's your health generally?

Mr. Butler: I'm typically as fit as a fiddle. I (18)_____ ago because of a number of recurring (19)_____ at the time. They were enough to make me wake up to myself and finally go cold turkey.

As for alcohol, well, I've been having my regular (20)_____. Always the same brand and I always stop it too.

As I said, I'm (21)_____ for my age. I go to the (22)_____. I've been involved in a (22)_____ for a number of years. We're a medium distance group, an average of around 60 km an outing, so not too shabby.

Doctor: That's great.

Mr. Butler: So do you think there could be something wrong with my nose?

Doctor: Well, that's what we intend to find out. The way we do that is by performing a nasal endoscopy. It's a very thin...
