Steve and Kate's Camp

Families can buy any number of Day Passes and use them at any point throughout the summer. There's no advanced reservations or session commitments required. Or, if you need more care, you can purchase a Summer Pass, which covers the whole season. You don't even need to tell them which days you're planning to come—just show up! Either way, if your plans change they'll automatically refund all unused days at summer's end.
