

Bonni Behrend is an assistant professor in Counseling at Missouri State University. She is a licensed professional counselor supervisor (LPC-S), a licensed school counselor, and a registered play therapist supervisor (RPT-S). She is a former elementary school counselor and specializes in students struggling with the effects of trauma in school settings as well as expressive arts in counseling. She currently supervises school counseling students in the MSU Counseling program. In addition to teaching, she maintains a small private practice as well as school counseling consultation work with private schools. In free moments, she would rather be at the Buffalo River in Arkansas skipping rocks with her two boys, husband, and Australian Shepard.
