

00:00:05 Welcome to the multi-person audio drama "Time Agent," co-produced by Himalaya and Bilibili, recorded by Qiajiu Voice Factory, and produced by Yinxuan Drama Club. Captain, Hongbing, stop pushing yourself. Yes. Teacher Ma, who had been watching Lu Hongbing closely, finally stood up and signaled the referee to substitute.

00:00:35 Lu Hongbin was helped off the court by his teammates. Cheng Xiaoshi rushed to his side. "Captain, are you alright? I'm so sad to see you go." "I really am so sad to see you go, Captain."

00:01:02 "Captain, don't worry, today won't be your last match here." Cheng Xiaoshi said firmly, extending his hand to signal Lu Hongbin to give him a high-five as a substitution. Lu Hongbin hesitated for a moment, then raised his hand to give him a high-five. "Cheng Xiaoshi, don't forget our agreement." Cheng Xiaoshi ignored Lu Guang's warning, walking firmly onto the field with a sharp, murderous aura.

00:01:32 The game continued. This time, Cheng Xiaoshi received the ball and broke through with even greater speed than before, making a layup. The Longyang No. 1 Middle School players, also eager to counterattack, successfully stole the ball. Two passes were made to the frontcourt, handing the ball to Liu Lei. Seeing Cheng Xiaoshi quickly retreating to defend, Liu Lei couldn't help but feel a little uneasy. He gritted his teeth, took a step back, and jumped to shoot. Cheng Xiaoshi didn't give an inch, jumping almost simultaneously.

00:02:02 Seeing this, Liu Lei couldn't help but smile. The two jumped simultaneously; as the basketball flew over Cheng Xiaoshi, Cheng Xiaoshi should have already fallen. However, the next instant, Liu Lei was stunned. Cheng Xiaoshi was still in the air, steadily swatting the basketball he had shot down. How could he have been in the air for so long? Gai Mao! Good!

00:02:31 As the Longyang No. 1 Middle School team members were stunned...

00:02:55 With one minute and twenty seconds left in the game, Dianjichang Middle School's morale soared, and they launched an aggressive defense. Rongyang No.1 Middle School rarely encountered such a situation, and they momentarily lost their composure, making a series of basic mistakes. They quickly lost possession again, and the ball returned to Cheng Xiaoshi's hands.

00:03:13 He quickly dribbled past his defender, reaching the three-point line. Just as he was about to accelerate, Liu Lei gave the defender a wink. The defender understood, feigning defense but instead raising his hand and slapping Cheng Xiaoshi across the face. As Cheng

Xiaoshi fell to the ground, his glasses flew off and landed on the floor. Liu Lei, pretending to help defend, unintentionally stepped on him. Longyang No. 1 Middle School defensive foul!

00:03:44 "Sorry, bro, I stepped on your glasses." Liulijia Xingxing reached out to help Cheng Xiaoshi up. Cheng Xiaoshi slowly raised his head, his eyes even sharper without the glasses. A smile appeared on his lips. "Thanks. Hurry up, we have to catch the bus and meet our informant after this."

00:04:11 This time, it was still the Electric Airport Middle School that served. Cheng Xiaoshi found his position and signaled to his teammate who was serving. Without hesitation, his teammate passed the ball to Cheng Xiaoshi. The Longyang No.1 Middle School defender was about to turn and defend. Unexpectedly, the moment Cheng Xiaoshi received the ball, he jumped and easily shot a three-pointer. Everyone was stunned. A three-pointer? He can actually shoot three-pointers? It's tied! 45 to 45!

00:04:40 With only 26 seconds left in the game, Liu Lei glanced at the scoreboard and immediately had an idea. He said to the point guard, "Control the ball! Run out of time on offense!" The players from Dianjichang Middle School saw through their intention and pressed forward to steal the ball. But the Longyang No. 1 Middle School guard reacted quickly, turning to dodge and continuing to charge forward, sprinting to the shore. Dianjichang Middle School wouldn't give an inch, forcing their opponents to switch possession.

00:05:08 Cheng Xiaoshi caught his gaze and knew he wanted to pass to Liu Lei. The instant the pass was made, he suddenly flashed into position to intercept the ball. Unexpectedly, Liu Lei also saw through his intention. Instead of making a breakthrough after receiving the ball, he directly used the ground to bounce the ball back to the inside.

00:05:26 It was a pass from the base! The players from Dianji Airport Middle School had lost their positions due to being busy with defense. Cheng Xiaoshi quickly tried to intercept, but it was too late. The opposing player received the ball and leaped into the air, slamming it into the basket. The score was now 45-47. And there were only 8 seconds left in the game.

00:05:50 Let's leave it at that; this is the best possible ending. Cheng Xiaoshi didn't respond to Lu Guang; his gaze shifted to the others on the field. His teammates hadn't given up, looking at him with trusting eyes. Lu Hongbin on the sidelines also gazed at him expectantly.

00:06:07 They placed all their trust and hope in him. Could he really give up here? It's a deal, give up. Cheng Xiaoshi glanced coldly at Liu

Lei, then suddenly turned and accelerated, sprinting towards the frontcourt. "Cheng Xiaoshi, serve!" Hearing the captain's shout, the players from Dianjichang Middle School threw the ball forward with all their might. Liu Lei also realized what he was about to do and immediately called to his teammates.

00:06:37 The headline in the newspaper! Cheng Xiaoshi received the ball, turned and jumped, ready to shoot, but suddenly three burly men appeared in front of him like a stone wall. He stared intently at the basket blocked by the men, when suddenly an idea struck him. He glanced to the side and saw his teammate on the side already in position beyond the three-point line, raising his hand slightly to signal him.

00:07:02 Cheng Xiaoshi smiled instantly, but just as he was about to pass the ball, Lu Guang's urgent command echoed in his mind: "Cheng Xiaoshi, regardless of the past, regardless of the future!" He hesitated for a moment, and then Teacher Ma's words suddenly resonated in his mind: "What does basketball really mean to you?"

00:07:26 His memory suddenly pulled him back to the past, to the basketball court where he and Lu Guang were playing together. Without hesitation, he passed the ball to Lu Guang. He was a man of principle; he gritted his teeth and passed the ball behind his back.

00:07:50 Thank you for listening. This concludes this episode. For more exciting content, please listen to the next episode. Welcome to the multi-person audio drama "Time Agent," co-produced by Himalaya and Bilibili, recorded by 729 Voice Factory, and produced by Yin Xuan Drama Club.

00:08:19 Cheng Xiaoshi, entrusted by Chen Xiao, travels back in time and possesses Chen Xiao's body. Moved by his teammates' efforts for their dreams, he ignores Lu Guang's obstruction and is determined to win the competition to make up for Chen Xiao's regret.

00:08:41 He was just one shot away from rewriting history. He got the ball again, ready to jump and shoot, but was blocked by three tall opposing players. He suddenly snapped back to reality, and the laws of time that Lu Guang had explained to him flashed through his mind.

00:08:58 The world depicted in the photograph represents the past. Any alterations you make could distort time and rewrite the future. However, there are exceptions. Hmm? What exceptions? If there is a crucial point in that time, even if you accidentally change all the previous processes, as long as the outcome of the events that occurred at that point in time remains unchanged, then everything will return to normal.

00:09:24 Cheng Xiaoshi hesitated for only a fraction of a second. Seeing the trust in his teammates' eyes, he gritted his teeth, turned his back, and passed the ball to a teammate who had already made contact beyond the three-point line. The teammate received the ball and immediately jumped to shoot. Before the teammate who rushed to block him could touch the ball, he passed it out.

00:09:45 Time suddenly slowed down. The basketball arced through the air towards the hoop, each stroke as clear as a stitch. Each stitch represented anticipation, a regret and sorrow buried deep in my heart for years. That was the most unforgettable day of my life—I lost the game and missed my first love.

00:10:44 Where did that damn Tip come from? Watching the ball actually fall into the basket, Cheng Xiaoshi suddenly remembered Lu Guang's words, completely snapping back to reality and realizing what he had done. He stood there blankly, the cheers around him fading into the distance, he could only hear his own breathing, and nothing else.

00:11:07 That's right, even the telepathic connection he was most familiar with, the one that always gave him a sense of security when he entered the photo, had vanished. Lu Guang... Lu Guang! It was as if all the sounds in the world had been suddenly pulled away. Cheng Xiaoshi desperately tried to connect with Lu Guang through telepathy. However, no matter how hard he tried, the end of the telepathic connection was utter silence. He felt a sudden, inexplicable fear.

00:11:38 As a reporter for the news outlet, is it even appropriate for me to film General Manager Zhao? Chen Xiao, don't be such an idiot! Longyang No. 1 Middle School, charging in with the ball! Oh no, Lu Guang, did I just influence the course of history? You did change the original course, but the result didn't change. New guy, don't just stand there. Two against two, we're short one person, wanna join?

00:12:05 Goal! 48-47, we won! Once a crucial turning point is broken, everything that follows can be rewritten. Lu Guang, Lu Guang, are you there? Silence.

00:12:27 Chen Xiao, well done! That last pass was beautiful. What's wrong with him? Chen Xiao, why are you just standing there?

00:12:57 "Are you still not over it? Did you get a stroke from all the excitement, Xiao Xiao?" Seeing Cheng Xiao standing there dumbfounded, his teammates, though teasing him, still worriedly gathered around. Lu Hongbin even patted him on the shoulder and called out to him. Cheng Xiao was startled and reflexively shook off Lu Hongbin's hand.

00:13:24 "Don't touch me! What's wrong with you?" Everyone exchanged glances, and Cheng Xiaoshi finally came to his senses. He looked at everyone with complicated feelings, unsure of what to say, and finally said softly, "Captain, I'm sorry, I want to be alone for a while."

00:13:50 Ignoring the curious and worried looks from the crowd, Cheng Xiao walked towards the edge of the field with his head down, anxiously calling out to Lu Guang as he went. "Lu Guang! Where is he? Say something!"

00:14:06 Receiving no response, Cheng Xiaoshi disregarded the mission; his immediate priority was to return and check on Lu Guang's safety. He stopped, raised his hands, and prepared to exit the photo. This was the standard activation gesture for exiting the photo; a simple clap of his hands would exit. Just as he was about to finish the clap, Lu Guang's voice suddenly rang out: "Stop."

00:14:37 Thank you for listening. This episode has ended. For more exciting content, please listen to the next episode. Welcome to the multi-person audio drama "Time Agent," jointly produced by Himalaya and Bilibili, recorded by Qianya Winery, and produced by Yinxuan Drama Club.

00:15:07 Stop. You idiot, why are you only showing up now? You scared me so much I almost quit the photo studio. The client's words are all written on the note, but I don't know where Brother Qiao Lin is. Inside the photo studio, Lu Guang stood in front of the counter, his face calm and composed, making up lies. He picked up the note placed conspicuously on the counter and walked towards the sofa as he spoke.

00:15:36 Yeah, I found it now. Seeing how flustered you are, you finally understand the consequences of your reckless behavior. Damn, were you deliberately messing with me just now? I'm not as bored as you. You did rewrite the timeline of the previous event, but the final result remains the same.

00:15:56 "Huh? Why is that?" This answer surprised Cheng Xiaoshi. He was about to ask Lu Guang for a proper explanation when Teacher Ma walked over with Chen Xiao's camera, interrupting their conversation. "Chen Xiao, you won the competition, you don't even need the camera anymore." "Oh, I was so excited I forgot, thank you."

00:16:22 By the way, are we going to play against other teams later? That way, the basketball court can be legitimately preserved, right? Actually, regardless of winning or losing today's game, the junior leader has already decided to demolish this place and turn it into a marketing cooperative. What? In the end, studying is always more important than interest.

00:16:50 Cheng Xiaoshi subconsciously turned around to look at his teammates, who were still immersed in joy. They were unaware of the devastating news, cheering and jumping for joy around Lu Hongbin, dreaming about the future. "Hey, next time, are we going to play in the county competition? If we win a few more games, the school will definitely support us and keep the school team going. Maybe they can even help us renovate the court."

00:17:14 It would be best if you could change it to reflect the purpose, and with the headlights, it would be perfect. Or should we just tell them the truth? They'd find out sooner or later anyway. Teacher Ma was about to go over and tell them the truth when Cheng Xiaoshi stopped him and gently shook her head. Teacher Ma hesitated for a moment, then finally gave a helpless smile. Sigh.

00:17:44 Let them dream a few more days then. Thank you, Coach. I said to call him teacher, teacher. What's wrong with this kid today? Alright, you go celebrate with them too. I'm off.

00:18:02 Cheng Xiaoshi watched Teacher Ma leave before turning back to the field. The Longyang No. 1 Middle School team had already left, while the Dianjichang Middle School team was still playing around, immersed in the celebratory atmosphere. Cheng Xiaoshi smiled and picked up her camera to capture the moment. Lu Hongbin noticed the flash, turned around, and gave Cheng Xiaoshi a pleased smile.

00:18:30 Come on, let's take a picture to commemorate this important moment. Okay, okay, okay. Come on, everyone stand still. Come on, watch this. One, two, three. Cheese. One more, one more. Change poses. Come on, come on. You come over here. Me here, me here. You wander off. Get lost, I've learned from you. Come on, come on. Tong Xiaoshi, that's enough. Don't forget you still have a task to complete, save some energy.

00:18:58 "You're just passing on a message, how tiring can that be?" But before that, you also have to take Lu Hongbin home. That's easy.

00:19:20 In the Western Xia Dynasty, the terraced fields of the small town were bathed in golden light, a picturesque scene. Cheng Xiaoshi, walking through this painting, had no heart to appreciate it. He had assumed taking Lu Hongbin home would be simple—just hail a taxi, and they'd be home in no time. However, he was wrong. This was a remote town; there was nowhere to hail a taxi. He could only pedal hard on his bicycle, carrying the tall and burly Lu Hongbin, slowly making his way along the narrow roads.

00:19:49 He was drenched in sweat, gritting his teeth and seething with resentment. "Damn it! I run my legs off playing ball, and I bike even harder, why am I always the one suffering? Chen Xiao, if you're tired, put me down, I can walk myself." "It's okay, this little bit of exercise is nothing."

00:20:20 Inside the photo studio, Lu Guangwen smiled slightly, looking at the note Qiao Lin had written, and teased, "Looks like you still have plenty of energy. Perfect, let's deliver the client's message now. Lu Guang, did I owe you something in my past life?"

00:20:40 "Hey kid, you're such a good basketball player, why didn't you show off your skills sooner? It made me so nervous when I pulled you in as a substitute." Captain, I have something to say to you. Hearing Lu Hongbin's teasing, Cheng Xiaoshi didn't know how to respond, so he simply interrupted him with a task.

00:21:03 Hearing the seriousness in his tone, Lu Hongbin was taken aback, then said solemnly, "Go on." Under Lu Guang's guidance, Cheng Xiaoshi recited Chen Xiao's message word by word. Lu Hongbin listened patiently, a look of gratitude flashing in his eyes.

00:21:22 The twinkling lights and the joyful smile on the painting were especially touching under the golden sunset. Even I, Cheng Xiao, was infected by this atmosphere and suddenly didn't feel tired anymore. Thank you for listening. This concludes this episode. For more exciting content, please listen to the next episode.

00:21:56 Lu Hongbin!

00:22:17 The two drove near Lu Hongbin's house. Suddenly, a figure darted out from the roadside and blocked the road. Cheng Xiaoshi was startled and quickly gripped the brakes. It was a girl with pigtails, hands on her hips, looking quite aggressive. "Lu Hongbin, why did you sneak off to play basketball again? Aren't you going to university? Oh my god, what happened to your leg? Did you break it?"

00:22:45 "Pah! Pah! Pah! How can you curse your own brother like that? Playing ball doesn't make money or broaden your horizons, is it worth it to work so hard?" Cheng Xiaoshi's heart skipped a beat when he saw the girl's face clearly; it pounded in his chest—a conditioned reflex from Chen Xiao. He was the client's first love, and the scoundrel was our second target.

00:23:12 "You don't need to tell me, I've already sensed it from my body's reaction." As if hearing Cheng Xiaoshi's inner monologue, Liu Meng suddenly turned to look at him. "You were playing ball with my brother, right? Who are you? I've never seen you before? Chen Xiang! Where are your glasses? I wouldn't have recognized you without them." He'd gotten utterly destroyed while playing ball. Heavens!

00:23:42 Let's begin. Let's begin.

00:24:12 Cheng Xiaoshi took the camera hanging around her neck, preparing to take a picture of the two. In the camera lens, Liu Meng's face was expressionless, without a smile. Seeing this, Lu Hongbin complained, "Mengmeng, have you read too many books and developed a blank expression? Can't you smile? Liu Meng, just smile!" Liu Meng ignored them, her face remaining expressionless. Three, two, one, the choice!

00:24:42 Perfect. Come on, you two take a picture too. Huh? Why? Chen Xiao really broadened my horizons today, dunking and three-pointers are all he can do. What? Chen Xiao, you can dunk? No problem, I learned from watching anime on Bilibili. Cheng Xiaoshi, watch your words and actions, and hide your true colors.

00:25:12 Cheng Xiaoshi immediately adopted a demure and shy demeanor, feigning embarrassment. "Ah, never mind." "Stop pretending, come over here." "Oh, I don't want to!" Cheng Xiaoshi. "Stop dawdling, let's take advantage of the beautiful sunset and get to work."

00:25:34 Lu Hongbin snatched the camera and pushed Cheng Xiaoshi and Liu Meng together, wanting to take their picture. Liu Meng had no choice but to comply, but she was quite far from Cheng Xiaoshi, almost wide enough for another person to stand between them. "You two are like positive and negative poles, can you move a little closer?" Cheng Xiaoshi and Liu Meng moved slightly closer. Liu Meng was clearly a little embarrassed, while Cheng Xiaoshi subconsciously tried to put his hand on Liu Meng's shoulder.

00:26:04 Chen Xiaoshi, put your hand away. Chen Xiaoshi pouted, obediently withdrew his hand, and posed for a photo with Liu Meng. Come on, three, two, one, blind man.

00:26:22 In the photo, Cheng Xiaoshi looks displeased, while Liu Meng appears particularly happy, even making a last-minute gesture and leaning slightly towards Cheng Xiaoshi. Cheng Xiaoshi pushes his bicycle alongside Liu Meng, finally taking Lu Hongbin home. They're finally home.

00:26:50 Chen Xiao, thank you for today. It's nothing, helping the disabled and vulnerable is just a small thing. I'll be going now. Cheng Xiaoshi turned to leave, pushing his bicycle, but Lu Hongbin suddenly called out to him. Wait, is there anything else the captain needs? Mengmeng, could you see Chen Xiao off? Huh? Oh.

00:27:18 "Captain." Lu Hongbin winked knowingly at Cheng Xiaoshi, seemingly already aware of Chen Xiao's thoughts. Cheng Xiaoshi pushed his bicycle, strolling side-by-side with Liu Meng along the country path. Liu Meng kept his head down, lost in thought. Cheng Xiaoshi glanced at him, silently muttering to Lu Guang.

00:27:43 However, it's obvious the rogue has feelings for Chen Xiao, how could Chen Xiao let go of her first love? Regardless of the past, all we need to do is bring the flowers and ignore everything else. My heart was pounding in my chest; you can imagine how much he wanted to confess back then. So, did he confess or not, Chen Xiao? What's wrong?

00:28:10 "Nothing, I just thought...you actually look quite handsome without your glasses." The girl has already spoken first, should I respond or not? Don't make things complicated for myself. Helpless, Cheng Xiaoshi could only smile shyly and remain silent. For a moment, neither of them spoke, walking quietly side by side.

00:28:40 As the sun set, a gentle evening breeze rustled through the wheat ears, dragonflies flew low, and a sense of melancholy inexplicably settled over the field path. Liu Meng, as if touched by something, finally mustered the courage to speak. "Um... Chen Xiao, you know about my family situation, right? Ah? Lu Guang, what's the situation?"

00:29:10 Thank you for listening. This concludes this episode. For more exciting content, please listen to the next episode.

00:29:40 Chen Xiaoshi was a little confused by the question and quickly turned to Lu Guang for help. Lu Guang calmly relayed his lines to him. "I've heard your brother mention it, what's wrong?" Liu Meng stopped, remained silent for a moment, and finally spoke her long-held secret. "My brother and I are half-brothers, you knew that?"

00:30:08 My dad hopes that after the final exams this semester, I can go to his place and study in the city. But... I... Cheng Xiaoshi looked at Liu Meng with surprise. Liu Meng's eyes held a hint of expectation, as if waiting for his reply. Lu Guang... How should I answer? Lu Guang...

00:30:36 In the photo studio, Lu Guang stared at the note in silence for a long time. The message he was passing on to Liu Meng began with Chen Xiao's revelation that Liu Meng was going to study in the city. After a long while, he composed himself and began to read it aloud softly.

00:30:52 As Cheng Xiaoshi repeated each word, Liu Meng's eyes slowly shifted from initial confusion to deep emotion, glistening with tears. She suddenly smiled through her tears, took a step forward, and extended her hand. "Okay, pinky promise. Okay, pinky promise."

00:31:22 After saying goodbye to the thug, Cheng Xiaoshi hopped on his bicycle and sped towards Chen Xiao's house. On the way, he became increasingly suspicious of Lu Guang's unusual behavior today. "Lu Guang, is it really okay to say this? Will they still miss each other afterward?" "Yes, as long as the turning point remains the same, the ending won't change." "Okay, you're always right." "So now all that's left is to pass on a message to his mother?" "Hmm."

00:31:51 Ugh, I can go back and rest soon, I'm exhausted today. Hey, you know what, the scenery in this town is really nice, so many stars! Really? Well, look at them a little longer. Why don't you seem a bit down? Probably because you're tired. I'm the one who did all the work, you know.

00:32:19 Lu Guang ignored him. He gently folded the note he had sent to Liu Meng and looked at the night sky outside the glass roof. The city's night sky was stained with neon lights, and there weren't many stars. He sighed softly, a hint of sadness creeping into his usually composed eyes.

00:32:49 When Cheng Xiaoshi arrived at Chen Xiao's house, it was already dark. She casually leaned her bicycle against the wall, jumped off, and ran inside. To her surprise, she was greeted with a brutal beating. Chen Xiao's mother was furious, hitting and yelling at her. "You're dead again? Coming back so late? You ran away! You ran away! But I'm back now!"

00:33:16 "Playing basketball, playing basketball, you even knocked my glasses off! Are you still so mean?" "Mom, I'm sorry, I admit my mistake, okay?" Chen Xiao's mother stopped hitting him because she was too tired to continue, but she still wouldn't let it go. "You're not doing your job properly now, you're not studying hard. You'll end up just like your father."

00:33:45 "What are you standing there for? Go get the food." "Yes, yes, yes." Cheng Xiaoshi agreed, quickly put down her camera, and ran to the kitchen to help get the food. Chen Xiao's mother had actually prepared a table full of fish and meat. She was dumbfounded. "Why cook such a big meal for just the two of you? It's such a waste." "Who knows when your dad will come back? He never tells me. What if there's not enough to eat when he gets home? He'll blame me for not taking good care of him."

00:34:19 "Here, have some chicken leg. Eat more so it won't go to waste." "Thank you, Mom." Chen Xiao's mother skillfully dismantled the chicken carcass, giving the fattest part, the drumstick, to Cheng Xiaoshi. A warm feeling welled up inside Cheng Xiaoshi. Touched, she took a bite of the drumstick and lowered her head to eat. "Hey, don't just focus on eating, there's still one carcass left to cook."

00:34:50 Hmm? Why aren't you eating? Mom, I heard Liu Meng say today that she's going to study in the city in the second half of the year.

00:35:07 "When can I go to the city?" Chen Xiao's mother remained silent, as if she hadn't heard. She slowly put down the chicken carcass and poured the dismembered chicken meat into Cheng Xiaoshi's bowl. "Here, I've already dismembered the meat for you. Mix it into your rice and eat it. You'll be going to work in the city anyway, so you might as well find a job sooner rather than later." "Go! If you're going to leave, then leave now! Mom..."

00:35:37 Anyway, you all love going to the city, leaving me all alone at home. Don't worry about me. Your dad went to the city to be a reporter for some tabloid; I never know where he is, whether he's alive or dead.

00:35:51 I.....

00:36:17 Listening to Chen Xiao's mother's accusations, Cheng Xiaoshi felt a pang of sadness, unable to utter the words of argument. "Lu Guang, I can't bring myself to say hurtful things. Then let's finish the task as soon as possible. Repeat after me." Lu Guang opened the note and began to read it softly. Cheng Xiaoshi's expression changed. "What? Are you sure I'll just say what you say?"

00:36:48 "It's alright, even without the argument, the outcome wouldn't change." Cheng Xiaoshi was puzzled. He looked at Chen Xiao's mother, who clearly felt incredibly wronged, yet was still trying her best to control her emotions. After a slight hesitation, he gave up asking further questions and repeated Lu Guang's words. Upon hearing his words, Chen Xiao's mother forgot to gasp and looked up at him in surprise.

00:37:15 Time passed second by second, and the surprise gradually turned into relief, and finally into a radiant smile. Thank you for listening. This concludes this episode. For more exciting content, please listen to the next episode.
