

SEED.COM VSL

THIS IS AN EXAMPLE PIECE OF COPY TO SHOW WHAT I'M ABLE TO DO FOR A BIG BRAND LIKE SEED.COM, BUT I DID NOT WORK WITH THEM.

Important FYI: This VSL targeted a problem-aware and solution-aware audience

MICROLEAD

If you've got a probiotic bottle sitting in your cabinet right now, I need to tell you something that's going to make your stomach turn.

Most of what's inside that capsule is already dead.

Not expired. Not old...

Dead, dissolved by your own stomach acid within minutes of swallowing it, before it ever had a real chance to do anything for you.

Like buying a raincoat that dissolves before the storm even hits.

You paid for it anyway. You took it every morning like you were supposed to. And most of it never survived long enough to matter.

That's not a rare defect in one unlucky brand.

That's a quiet, unspoken failure mode running through most of an entire industry.

And once you see it, you'll understand exactly why the probiotic aisle looks the way it does:

hundreds of products, wildly different results, and almost no reliable way to tell which ones were actually built to survive the trip.

Here's the part nobody in that aisle wants you to know.

Over the next half hour, I'm going to prove that to you. I'm going to show you exactly what a probiotic has to survive to do you any good, why almost none of them are built to survive it, and the one detail two people discovered that finally made survival possible.

Stick with me.

This is going to change how you shop for supplements for the rest of your life.

LEAD

VOICE:

Here's what's actually going on underneath all of it.

The mornings you wake up flat and go to bed looking six months pregnant.

The lunches that quietly ruin your afternoon.

The mental math you run before a flight, a first date, or a meeting you can't easily step out of:

where's the bathroom, how far, can anyone hear you, what if someone's already in there.

You've probably built an entire invisible operating system around managing that uncertainty.

Most people have.

Most people never say it out loud, because it's embarrassing.

So let's just say it:

you don't fully trust your own stomach, and it's exhausting.

Here's the part that makes it worse.

You've already tried to fix it.

Maybe you cleaned up your diet.

Maybe you added fiber, or fermented foods, or a probiotic, possibly more than one.

And your results were probably all over the place.

One did nothing.

One gave you more gas than you started with.

One seemed to help for a few weeks, then quietly stopped.

There's a phrase for that experience, and if you've lived it, you already know it in your bones even if you've never said it out loud: probiotic roulette.

In the next few minutes, I'm going to tell you exactly why that happens, and it has almost nothing to do with luck, or your unique biology, or picking the wrong brand.

It comes down to one mechanism almost nobody explains to you honestly.

Once you see it, a lot of your past results are going to suddenly make a lot more sense.

I'm also going to tell you a very specific, very personal story about how two people, one of them a scientist who's spent nearly two decades obsessed with this exact question, stumbled onto the answer while eating pomegranates in a kitchen.

I promise that detail will make sense in a few minutes.

And I'm going to show you something that flies directly in the face of what almost every supplement label has trained you to believe:

that a bigger number on the bottle means a better product.

It doesn't.

I'll prove that to you shortly.

Before we go further, I want to be upfront about who this is actually for.

This isn't a treatment for a diagnosed digestive disease, and if that's what you're dealing with, please keep working with your doctor.

This is for the everyday, otherwise-healthy version of this problem, the bloating, the unpredictability, the doing-everything-right-and-still-not-feeling-right version, which, if you're honest, is probably why you're still watching.

And if part of you is thinking, "I've heard this pitch before," good.

You should be skeptical.

This category has earned every bit of it, with giant numbers on labels, dramatic transformation stories, and nowhere near enough evidence behind most of it.

I'd rather earn your trust over the next thirty minutes than ask for it up front.

One woman put the whole thing more simply than I ever could:

"I just wish I could control it."

Another, after years of guessing:

"I'm eating good and exercising, but I can't see the results because I feel bloated."

That's the real problem we're solving here.

Not a symptom.

A complete loss of trust in your own body.

BACKGROUND STORY

VOICE:

Before I hand this over to him, let me tell you quickly how I actually got here, because it explains why I care about this as much as I do, and it's not really a professional story.

It's a personal one.

My name is Ara.

A few years ago, none of this was anywhere on my radar.

I'd co-founded a mobile commerce company, nothing to do with health, nothing to do with the gut.

Then I had a miscarriage.

And it did something to me that nothing else could have.

It made me ask, seriously, for the first time, what kind of impact I actually wanted to have with the rest of my working life.

That was the moment everything changed.

Not long after, I got pregnant with my son.

And that pregnancy, combined with a genuinely difficult stretch trying to breastfeed, pulled me straight into the microbiome, whether I was ready for it or not.

So I did what a lot of people watching this have probably already done at some point.

I started researching everything I could find.

And what I found wasn't reassuring, it was a sea of conflicting advice, confident-sounding claims, and products that all sounded scientific and mostly weren't.

I needed an actual answer, not another opinion, and I couldn't find one anywhere.

Around that time, somewhat randomly, I met a scientist in my own kitchen, eating pomegranates, of all things.

He'd been studying the microbiome since 2006, years before most people had even heard the word.

And the more we talked, the more one thing became obvious to both of us:

the actual science behind probiotics was some of the most promising research happening anywhere in medicine.

The products sitting on shelves, though, in his words, were riddled with misleading messaging and hyperbolic claims that had almost nothing to do with that science.

I'd always thought of myself as a lifelong science nerd.

And even I had spent years taking my own digestion completely for granted, until, one day, I couldn't anymore.

That gap, between how good the science actually was, and how disappointing the products actually were, is the entire reason any of what you're about to hear exists.

We didn't want to build another bottle of bacteria with an impressive number on the front and a hope-it-works shrug behind it.

We wanted an actual answer to a question almost nobody in this category was seriously asking:

Why do so many seemingly well-formulated, well-intentioned probiotics still fail to do anything at all?

That question sent him back into the research, on top of the nearly two decades he'd already spent there, to pull apart every stage of what actually happens between the moment you swallow a probiotic and the moment, if it ever comes, that it does you any good.

What he found changed the way I think about every supplement I've ever put in my body.

I want him to explain it to you directly, in his own words.

TRANSITION

SCIENTIST (on camera):

Thanks, Ara. My name's Raja.

I've spent close to two decades studying the microbiome, and I want to walk you through exactly what I found, because once you understand this, you'll understand why so many probiotics, including some genuinely good ones, quietly fail.

UNIQUE MECHANISM OF THE PROBLEM

RAJA:

Here's the uncomfortable truth about the probiotic industry.

Most products fail, not because the bacteria themselves are bad, and not because "probiotics don't work," but because of what happens to them before they ever reach your gut.

There are three failure points.

Almost every product on the market has at least one of them.

The first is strain selection.

A lot of formulas are built around whatever strains are cheapest and easiest to source, not necessarily the ones with the strongest evidence behind the outcomes people actually care about, like bloating, gas, and regularity.

More strains sounds impressive on a label.

It doesn't mean much if they were never chosen deliberately in the first place.

The second is evidence.

Here's something most people don't know:

the vast majority of probiotic research is done on individual ingredients, in a lab, in isolation, not on the actual finished product you're swallowing.

A company can list a dozen strains, each with a study attached somewhere, and still have never once tested whether that specific combination, in that specific capsule, at that specific dose, does anything at all once it's actually combined.

And the third, the one I think matters most, is survival.

Your stomach is one of the most hostile environments in the entire human body.

It's designed to destroy things.

Bacteria included.

Most probiotics are simply dissolved by stomach acid before they ever get near your colon, which is actually where the majority of your gut microbiome lives, and where these organisms need to arrive alive to do anything useful for you.

Put those three things together, and you get exactly what you've already experienced:

probiotic roulette.

Not because you did anything wrong.

Because you were trying product after product that was never engineered to survive the trip to where it actually needed to go.

Here's the thing, you probably already had ninety-nine percent of this figured out.

You know probiotics matter.

You know strains matter.

What almost nobody hands you is the missing one percent:

whether any of it survives long enough to matter at all.

That seed-on-rock idea,

a seed dropped on rock never grows, not because the seed is bad, but because it never reaches soil, that's not just a metaphor to me.

It's the literal engineering problem I spent years trying to solve.

Once I understood it clearly, the question I was asking completely changed.

It stopped being "how do we cram more bacteria into a capsule."

It became: how do we build something engineered, from the ground up, to survive the trip, and actually arrive alive, in the right place, in a meaningful amount?

UNIQUE MECHANISM OF THE SOLUTION: MACRO

RAJA:

So here's the real solution, at the macro level, before I get into the specifics.

If the problem is survival, bacteria dying before they reach where they're needed, then the solution has to be protection.

Not more bacteria.

Better-protected bacteria, engineered to survive the trip and released only once they've actually arrived.

I ended up calling that idea the Seed Coat Effect, because it's really the same principle nature already figured out, long before either of us did.

A literal seed survives hostile conditions, soil, sometimes an animal's entire digestive tract, because it's wrapped in a coat that holds together just long enough to release its contents in exactly the right place, at exactly the right time.

That's the theory.

Now let me show you what it actually took to build it.

UNIQUE MECHANISM OF THE SOLUTION: MICRO / PROOF

RAJA:

Practically, the theory meant building a capsule inside a capsule, something purpose-built to protect probiotic strains through stomach acid, so they survive the trip and release exactly where they're supposed to:

in the colon, still alive.

Not dissolving too early, somewhere in your stomach, and never truly arriving at all.

And what's inside that capsule matters just as much as the capsule itself.

What we built is a synbiotic, a prebiotic and a probiotic combined, instead of asking you to figure out the difference yourself and go buy them separately.

Twenty-four clinically studied bacterial strains, compare that to most competitor formulas, which typically use ten or fewer.

And I want to be specific about why that number matters, instead of just stating it, because on its own it's just another impressive-sounding stat.

It matters because your gut isn't dealing with one problem.

Bloating, gas, irregularity, gut-barrier integrity, these involve different mechanisms, different pathways, different organisms doing different jobs.

Ten strains chosen loosely can maybe cover one or two of those jobs reasonably well.

Twenty-four strains, chosen deliberately and organized by function, can cover considerably more ground, which is the entire reason for going through the trouble of a four-blend structure instead of one generic mix.

The core blend, sixteen strains, roughly thirty-seven billion active units, is behind the outcomes people tend to notice first:

less bloating, less gas, more regular, more predictable digestion.

The other three, smaller blends support gut-barrier integrity and gut-immune function, skin appearance through the gut-skin axis, cardiovascular health, and micronutrient synthesis.

One more detail, because it's something almost nobody in this category is honest about.

You've probably seen labels bragging about huge counts, fifty billion, a hundred billion, numbers that just keep climbing.

Standard counts only measure bacteria that happen to grow in a lab dish.

That misses a huge number of organisms that are alive and fully functional, just not easily cultured that way.

We measure viable cells instead, all of them, not only the ones that grow on a petri dish, and the finished formula delivers roughly fifty-three point six billion of them.

But I want to be clear: the number itself was never really the point.

The point is that the strains, the amount, and the delivery were all designed to work together, not just to look impressive on a bottle.

The prebiotic side matters just as much.

We use about four hundred milligrams of a non-fermenting prebiotic, sourced from whole Indian pomegranate, the same fruit, actually, that Ara and I first bonded over in her kitchen.

Non-fermenting, so it's gentler for sensitive digestive systems, and compatible with a low-FODMAP diet, if that's a world you've had to live in.

I wasn't willing to stop at "this should work, based on how the ingredients performed on their own."

We ran full-formulation, randomized, placebo-controlled clinical trials, testing the actual finished capsule, at the actual dose you'd take, not just the ingredients in isolation.

Some of that research has been published in the journal Gastroenterology, and presented at Digestive Disease Week, one of the largest gastroenterology research conferences in the world.

Every batch also goes out for third-party testing, pesticides, heavy metals, glyphosate residue, major allergens.

It's manufactured in Italy, under EU pharmaceutical GMP standards, considerably stricter than standard U.S. supplement requirements, inside an ISO-certified facility.

PRODUCT BUILDUP + REVEAL

RAJA:

Once we had the theory, the obvious next move was to go see if anyone had already built it.

So we looked.

We found products with well-studied individual strains, but no evidence the finished formula, combined together, actually worked.

We found delivery technology designed to survive stomach acid, attached to arbitrary, unstudied strain blends.

We found synbiotics that paired a probiotic with a prebiotic that fermented too aggressively, causing the exact bloating and gas people were trying to fix in the first place.

Every option out there solved one piece of the puzzle and quietly ignored the rest.

So we built it ourselves.

That took years, not weeks.

Early formulations didn't hold together through simulated stomach-acid testing.

Some strain combinations looked promising individually and did nothing once combined.

There were real setbacks, the unglamorous kind.

Reformulating. Retesting.

Going back to the research and starting entire sections over.

Eventually, the finished formula passed.

Full-formulation, randomized, placebo-controlled clinical trials, not just the ingredients tested individually, but the actual capsule, at the actual dose.

And once people around us started trying it, colleagues, doctors we respected, friends who'd been through their own versions of probiotic roulette, they started asking where they could get more.

Which meant we had to actually build a company, not just a formula.

ARA (on camera):

So here's where I'll tell you what this turned into.

We named the company Seed.

Not for a clever acronym, not a name a branding agency handed us, because that seed-on-rock idea, reaching fertile ground alive, was the entire engineering problem we spent years solving.

It felt like the only honest name for what we'd built.

The formula is called DS-01, our Daily Synbiotic.

And the delivery system built around the Seed Coat Effect, the capsule inside a capsule, we call ViaCap.

That's the only proper noun in this entire video worth remembering, and honestly, even that matters less than the idea behind it:

strains that survive the trip and arrive alive, exactly where they're needed.

PROOF

ARA:

I don't want the rest of this to feel like a science lecture.

I want you to hear from people who take this every day.

“Regularity is back.”

“Seed DS-01 is the best solution for relief from years of IBS, diarrhea, bloating, and constipation.”

“I will be buying this for the remainder of my life.”

“I was a skeptic, I'd tried other probiotics and never noticed any difference, but Seed is great.”

“I haven't had any bloating since taking it, and my stomach feels great no matter what I eat.”

“My experience at seventy-six years old is great improvement in regularity, with no negative side effects.”

“My thirty-six-year-old son has had equally positive digestive results.”

Today, there are more than ten thousand verified reviews on our site, not curated highlights, the actual review page, good and mixed alike.

DS-01 has been reviewed hands-on by Healthline, Good Housekeeping, and Fortune, in 2026 pieces you can find and read for yourself, not brand-supplied copy.

Raja isn't just a founder with a nice title, either, he holds patented inventions related to stabilizing sensitive compounds for the microbiome, and he still leads our clinical trial design and academic collaborations today, years after we started this.

And there's a good chance you've already walked right past this product without realizing it, we're on shelves nationwide at Target, and available on Amazon.

I mention that not to brag, but because I know exactly how skeptical this category has made you, and honestly, it should have.

I'd rather you know this is a real, established product, one gastroenterology researchers were willing to put their names on published research about, not something that only exists inside a persuasive ad.

FUTURE PACE / BENEFITS

ARA:

Picture something for a second.

A morning where you get dressed and you're not checking your stomach in the mirror first.

Where breakfast is just breakfast, not a calculation.

Where someone asks you to dinner tonight, and you say yes, immediately, without quietly running the bathroom math in your head.

A flight where you're not thinking about the airplane bathroom the entire time.

A first date where you're not silently wondering whose bathroom you might end up using.

A vacation where you actually eat the food, enjoy the food, and don't spend the rest of the day quietly paying for it.

Clothes that fit the same at the end of the day as they did at the start of it, instead of a waistband you're quietly loosening under the table by nine.

A bowel movement you don't have to think about, plan around, or wonder about, it just happens, on its own schedule, the way it apparently does for other people.

A healthy person doesn't spend their day silently asking, "how's my digestion doing right now?"

They just live.

Not a flatter stomach as a trophy,

a stomach you finally stop having to think about.

And that matters most for the reason we talked about earlier.

You've been doing everything right.

You're disciplined.

You already take care of yourself.

You deserve to actually feel like the healthy person you already know yourself to be.

PRODUCT RECAP

ARA:

So, to bring it together:

DS-01 is a simple two-capsule daily synbiotic, twenty-four clinically studied probiotic strains across four blends, paired with a non-fermenting prebiotic from whole Indian pomegranate, delivered through ViaCap, built around the Seed Coat Effect, engineered to survive stomach acid and release exactly where it counts.

Backed by full-formulation clinical trials, third-party tested batch by batch, manufactured in Italy under EU pharmaceutical GMP standards.

No refrigeration required. Vegan. Gluten-free.

Small enough to actually travel with.

And to be clear about what this isn't:

it's not a diet you have to follow forever,

not a fermented food where you're guessing at the dose, not a giant number on a label with nothing behind it.

It's one specific, tested, protected formula.

Twice a day.

OFFER

ARA:

Now let's talk about how to actually get it.

DS-01 is forty-nine dollars and ninety-nine cents a month for a thirty-day supply, sixty capsules, a simple two-capsule daily dose.

It's sold exclusively through subscription on seed.com, which is intentional, it lets us guarantee freshness and consistency, batch to batch, instead of a bottle sitting on a shelf for who knows how long.

If you're new here, you'll get a welcome discount on your first order, commonly twenty-five percent off, typically bringing that first month down to somewhere around thirty-seven to forty-three dollars, depending on the current promotion.

Every order ships free within the continental United States.

You choose how often it arrives, every month, every three months, or every six months.

The three-month option runs around a hundred and thirty-five dollars total, closer to forty-five a month.

The six-month option stretches that discount even further.

Most people who end up choosing the three- or six-month plan aren't doing it because anyone talked them into it, they're doing it because once something finally starts working, running out feels like the last thing they want to risk.

That's really the only reason to consider it.

Your first order also comes with our Welcome Kit, completely free, about twenty-five dollars of value on its own.

A refillable glass jar, plus a smaller glass travel vial, so you're not lugging the entire jar with you.

After that, refills arrive in compostable pouches instead of a new plastic bottle every time.

And you can cancel any time.

No phone-call gymnastics, no retention maze.

If it's not for you, you simply stop.

GUARANTEE

ARA:

I know what a lot of you are thinking, because it's exactly what I'd be thinking too:

"What if I try this and feel nothing, just like everything else I've already tried?"

Fair question.

DS-01 comes with a thirty-day, no-questions-asked money-back guarantee.

If you try it and genuinely don't notice a difference, you can request a full refund within thirty days of your first order arriving.

Full stop.

One more honest thing.

Some brands will tell you that if a probiotic makes you feel worse at first, more bloated, more gassy than before, that's proof it's "working."

I don't believe that, and I won't tell you that either.

If something makes you feel worse, that's not a sign to push through it.

That's information.

I'd much rather you tell us, and get every dollar back, than white-knuckle a bad experience because someone convinced you it was supposed to hurt before it helps.

CLOSE

First Call to Action

ARA:

So here's your first, easiest step.

If everything you've heard so far makes sense, go ahead and choose your plan below right now, fully covered by that thirty-day guarantee.

You can decide for real once you've actually felt the difference, not before.

What Happens After You Click

ARA:

Just so there's no mystery about what happens next:

you'll land on a simple, secure order page, choose your cadence, and your first order ships within a couple of business days.

Your Welcome Kit arrives with it.

That's the entire process.

No calls, no upsell maze, no surprise charges buried in fine print.

Second Call to Action: Two Choices

ARA:

At this point, you're really looking at two choices.

You can close this video, go back to the same shelf of the same products that haven't worked, and keep playing the guessing-game version of this for another year.

Or you can try the one that was actually built to solve the specific problem we just spent the last half hour walking through, fully backed by a guarantee that puts the risk on us, not you.

I know which one I'd choose, because I've already lived the first one.

Go ahead and select your plan below.

ARA:

One more honest note, because we're near the end here.

The welcome pricing on this page is a genuine, limited promotional window, not a countdown clock designed to rush you.

But it is time-limited, and once this particular presentation stops running, that specific pricing typically goes with it.

If you've already made up your mind, there's no real reason to come back later and pay more for the exact same first order.

Third Call to Action / Thank You

ARA:

So go ahead and claim your order below.

And however you decide,

today, or after you've gone and compared this to everything else out there,

I hope what you learned in the last half hour helps you stop guessing.

Thank you for spending this time with me.

FAQ

ARA:

Still here?

Let me answer the questions we hear most often.

"I've already tried probiotics. Why would this be any different?"

Because the real question was never "do probiotics work."

It's "was the one you tried actually designed and tested to deliver those strains alive to where they needed to go?"

Most weren't.

"Why pay fifty dollars a month when I can get one at the drugstore for fifteen?"

You're not paying for a bigger number on a label.

You're paying for deliberate strain selection, a true synbiotic formulation, a delivery system engineered to survive stomach acid, and clinical trials run on the actual finished product.

"Everybody's microbiome is different, how do I know this will work for me?"

You're right, it is different, and I won't pretend every person responds identically.

What I can tell you is this isn't a generic, arbitrary blend, it's built around specifically identified strains, with evidence behind the finished formulation, which is the strongest predictor we have.

"Will this make me feel worse before it feels better?"

It shouldn't, and if it does, that's what the guarantee is for.

Most people notice a difference in their digestive tract within twenty-four to forty-eight hours; longer-term benefits build gradually.

"Can't I just eat more yogurt or kefir instead?"

You can, and for some people, that genuinely helps.

What we're offering is standardized and consistent, the same strains, the same dose, the same delivery, every day, instead of hoping today's batch happens to contain whatever your gut needs.

"Is this just influencer marketing?"

Judge us on the finished-product clinical trials, the third-party testing, and the fact that gastroenterology researchers were willing to put their names on published research about it.

"Why should I trust another supplement brand at all?"

You shouldn't, blindly.

This category has earned your skepticism.

All I'd ask is that you hold us to the same standard:

look at the strains, the formulation, whether the finished product was actually tested, and decide for yourself.

Whatever question was actually holding you back, I hope one of those answered it.

DS-01 is one formula, twice a day, covered by a thirty-day guarantee, so if you're ready, your plan is waiting right below this video.

[END]

Compliance note for production: primary on-camera claims should stay to "reduces bloating and gas" and "improves regularity and digestive discomfort." Secondary blend claims (skin, cardiovascular, micronutrient synthesis) should stay in "supports" language and be legal-reviewed against Seed's current approved claim list before filming. Confirm current strain count, AFU figure, clinical citations, and active promotional pricing directly against seed.com before final lock, per brief placeholders.

HEADLINE

Become an expert at picking up and seducing women using secret, forbidden Tinder techniques

VIDEO

Hi, my name is XXX...

And in just 1 second, you're about to find out how the Tinder Swindler managed to seduce so many women so easily that they'd do anything for him!

And brace yourself: it wasn't the money, it wasn't his looks... He simply KNEW one thing about women that most men have no clue about.

Look, you probably already know this method is pretty controversial and forbidden, since it was used for evil.

That's why I have no idea how much longer this video will stay up before lawsuits and complaints come rolling in. So take advantage of this content while you still can.

Everything I'm about to reveal to you here is already well known to politicians, TV hosts, tycoons, extremely influential people... and of course, psychopaths.

But this information isn't shared with the average person — and you're about to discover it right here.

These are techniques rooted in sociology and psychology, knowledge gained through years of experience and observation.

And no! It has nothing to do with how you look, with canned WhatsApp text templates, or with the money you blow on her at the club.

You're going to be blown away by how simple and effective this information is when it comes to winning a woman over using the methods of Simon Leviev, the Tinder Swindler.

Watch this video all the way to the end and I guarantee you'll know how to seduce a woman with that same ease.

And you'll be kicking yourself for not having found out about this method sooner.

Plus, you'll also get a free gift at the end of this video.

Can I count on you?

First off, I want to share a bit of my own story.

Just to be crystal clear: I haven't turned into some Tinder Swindler, and I don't manipulate women to harm them.

I wasn't always a player... one who knew exactly what women expect from a man.

I was chilling in my single, lonely life. As long as I had my peace and quiet, I wasn't really tuned into the whole hookup thing or even into women.

It's embarrassing to admit, but I hadn't woken up to real life yet. I was super immature and had a completely romantic, distorted view of women.

But then reality came knocking at my door.

In a way, I'm grateful for that period. Because I had those experiences earlier in life.

It was my first day of class at the Information Systems college. I figured it was the right major for me, since I was a nerd, a lover of computers and video games.

As I was walking up the stairs, I caught this amazing scent.

Something sweet...

And when I looked over, a girl was coming down the stairs, completely chill, not paying any attention to me.

The pit in my stomach was instantly justified.

A brunette, around 5'7", in a black dress that didn't really show much off.

She was holding some books up around her chest, and you could tell her tits were big.

That moment was incredibly important for me.

I finally woke up and got it...

"I need to be with a woman!"

As my desire grew, the number of beautiful women around me seemed to grow too.

Every single day at that college, I'd see and burn with desire for one of those women...

It didn't matter where I was...

At the bar.

In my classroom.

At the library...

And I started getting worried, because in my friend group — most of them nerds like me — almost every single one had a girlfriend.

You can imagine how pissed I was about that!

I wanted to see a woman get goosebumps because of me.

But I was too immature, I didn't know how to approach a woman, hold a good conversation, win her over, and ultimately get her into bed.

Honestly, I was scared of women.

It's a weird thing to say. But to me, those beautiful women were on a higher level and would lose interest the second they heard my boring conversation.

I had zero interest in a relationship, so I just wanted a quick, effective way to get laid.

But how was I supposed to pull that off when I didn't even have decent self-esteem, I was nervous, and I had zero social skills?

There were times I felt like complete trash for not being able to approach a girl and just having to suck it up while they went out with other average dudes.

Yeah, because I'd see really mediocre guys surrounded by women.

But just being thirsty wasn't the worst part...

At a bar near the college I went to, I ordered a beer and sat down next to a girl who took classes in the room next to mine.

She was also drinking a beer and seemed stressed out, kind of scowling...

Me, in my innocence and stupidity, thought it'd be a great idea to take a shot at striking up a conversation with her.

In my head, if she was stressed, maybe she'd want to be distracted by someone. In this case, me.

And guess how I started the conversation?

"Hey, I know you from college. Want to go out with me?"

Yeah... I was super blunt and totally inappropriate.

She just turned her face away and told the bartender I was bothering her.

I walked out of that situation looking like a creep and a complete idiot.

Mortified, ashamed...

You know those situations that come back to haunt you right when you're trying to fall asleep? The kind that makes you cringe so hard you curl up in shame?

Yeah, that was me.

Completely desperate to forget that moment and starving to figure out how to attract and seduce a woman, I started looking for alternatives.

Back then, I started hanging around guys who had the lifestyle I wanted: players who could pull women easily and get them into bed.

Arthur, one of my classmates, fit that bill perfectly.

I always saw him at the bar and he was almost always surrounded by friends... and women.

On Instagram, he was always posting party stories — always with women.

There was a reason this guy had a player reputation.

One day, we were just shooting the shit... in one of those rare moments I caught him alone.

One thing that really bugged me was the constant pinging of messages on his phone.

Every ping, he'd grab the phone, smile, and type something back.

He did it so many damn times that I finally asked him, half-joking, if he was busy.

Arthur just answered that his Tinder was popping off.

My mind was blown by that piece of info.

Tinder? That hookup app?

Yeah — up until then, I didn't really believe in dating apps or sites.

I figured that if I didn't know how to handle women in real life, it wouldn't help me one bit online.

Arthur explained how Tinder works, told me he just used it to set up dates with women.

One night and done! No relationships, no runaround, and best of all, it cut straight to the chase.

That was exactly what I was looking for.

Tinder seemed way more dynamic and intuitive compared to the more traditional sites.

So I made my account, threw up a decent photo, wrote a good bio... and off I went looking for women near me.

After spending some time on that app, I realized the embarrassment I went through with that woman at the bar was nothing compared to what I suffered on Tinder.

One woman more gorgeous than the next... but every single one of them extremely picky and demanding.

I started getting addicted to it, waiting for a Match every single day.

And with every message, I'd get more pumped up.

One day, I matched with this stunning blonde.

A total smokeshow, with huge tits and miles of legs.

Okay, I'll admit I got nervous and ended up jumping the gun.

I was the first one to message her and right out the gate I told her she was gorgeous.

I regretted sending that the second I hit send... but she actually replied.

We chatted for about two days and I was already convinced I could set up a date.

That's when she asked me to follow her Instagram profile and chat with her there because it was easier.

The woman had something like 5,000 followers, provocative photos, and most of the comments were from men.

I sent her a DM... she didn't reply.

Next day, I sent another one... nothing back.

That's when I realized she was using Tinder to grow her Instagram following.

Another situation, after several days of trying, was when I finally managed to set up a date.

The woman was cute and we agreed to meet up at a bar downtown after 1 day of chatting.

I was already prepped and even rehearsing what I was going to say to get her into bed. Those overused scripts I found online.

Got there, no sign of her.

The excuse she gave me was that something happened with her sister.

Right there at the bar, I dug into Tinder and matched with a girl who was also downtown, but at a diner.

On the spot, I went to meet her, but when I got to the diner...

The woman was sitting with another dude.

I just turned around and walked out of there.

Those were just two of the disastrous experiences I had with that app.

I was starting to believe that Tinder is a self-esteem booster app for average-looking women.

And a self-esteem destroyer for average-looking men, like me.

Could it really be that I was that unlucky with women?

And it was at that rock-bottom moment that I started asking myself: what do players have that I don't?

By coincidence, the same day I got blown off twice in a row, I watched a documentary about serial killers.

Obviously I'm not into crime stories, but this thing really got to me...

Psychopathic people who felt no empathy for anyone... but at the same time, extremely seductive and sociable.

At the time, I thought I was overthinking it, but this question stuck in my head:

Why do psychopaths attract and win over so many people?

And I'm not just talking about psychopath killers — I'm also talking about people with high levels of psychopathy who aren't aggressive at all.

Top executives, tycoons, the best salesmen, neurosurgeons... all of them have coldness, rationality, and massive power of influence.

From there, I started studying more about this type of person...

And what I discovered fit my problem perfectly: women.

I read tons of books and even scientific articles on it, and what I found was shocking.

Men with psychopathic traits are the biggest players, the ones with insane social skills, and...

On an evolutionary scale, people are drawn to psychopaths so easily because of GENETICS

More rational, strong, and cold people are more attractive for evolutionary reasons: they're the ones with the best shot at surviving and keeping order.

And these are scientific facts, not just my opinion!

And that's when I came across the Tinder Swindler, Simon Leviev.

A man with strong traits of antisocial personality disorder. And he followed everything I had figured out in my research...

He applied it all masterfully in the field of relationships.

So masterfully that he only needed 1 second to attract women.

You might be wondering how he pulled that off in just 1 second...

Stick with this video and I'll break down his modus operandi for you.

Like I already told you, I'm no looker or loaded with cash. Far from it — I was just a regular guy with no clue how to approach a woman.

And because of that, I went looking for answers in psychology and human behavior. And that's how I came to a conclusion.

An action plan that the Tinder Swindler himself used.

A plan that lets regular guys make the women they want shiver under their skin.

That makes you a magnet for beautiful women. That gets you skin on skin every night.

Reminder: this knowledge should not be used for evil.

But in just 1 second, Simon Leviev was able to attract, win over, and make a woman FALL IN LOVE.

And the way he handled every move was calculated based on what he knew.

He had every situation under his control. He owned every moment with the woman.

Just to be clear up front, this video is NOT in favor of con artists — my mission here isn't to train scammers. We're just going to break down how this guy was able to seduce so many women.

After all, have you ever asked yourself how the Tinder Swindler managed to be so magnetic? How did this man convince so many women?

The mechanism he knows that most men have no clue about...

The reason he's so seductive...

He knew how a woman's brain works in certain situations.

When you get your hands on this knowledge, women will feel magnetized, seduced by you, and they won't even be able to explain why.

You might be thinking: but he showed off money, was always well-dressed, at expensive parties, and on top of that he was offering gifts and high-end dates to those women.

Across tons of interviews and even in the Netflix documentary, all the women accusing him barely mentioned anything about Simon Leviev's money.

To put it simply, they said they felt something different about the man, a magnetism, a kind of regard they couldn't explain.

The Swindler simply made people like him, and the money was just the convenient bonus.

Because once you understand that money and looks aren't the key when it comes to seducing a woman, that's when you'll start to understand the real game.

He used the biological survival drive to seduce with such ease. Here's how that works

In short, it's not about giving a woman security — it's about making her feel vulnerable and in need of your strength.

Unconsciously, the woman feels protected, even when she doesn't need to be.

On top of all that, Simon Leviev knew exactly how to pick the ideal women, like there was a very specific type.

And once you apply the same thing the Tinder Swindler applied, you'll notice women will start coming to you, making up excuses just to start a conversation.

How easily the conversation flows, how easily you get her into bed.

That's exactly what happened with me, following the tactics of someone with enviable social skills.

I decided to try it out for real.

I logged back into Tinder after a string of failed attempts, and there I went, only swiping right on the women who fit what I wanted.

Women I was sure would work for my tests.

First it was trial and error. I got rejected on a few dates, but I refined everything I'd been learning from the Tinder Swindler's tactics.

Until one day, after getting some things wrong and some things right, I finally landed a date where I managed to get her into bed.

I followed the rules I'd created myself on that first date and applied them with other women.

The same messages, the same mental triggers, the same behavior to attract and seduce...

Turned out it worked with every other woman I talked to.

And remember that player friend of mine, the one who taught me about Tinder?

One time I saw him chatting with the same woman who only wanted followers for her Instagram.

I decided to teach him my step-by-step method and see if it worked on her — someone who actually didn't want to hook up at all.

4 messages later, the two of them had set up a date.

I found out the next day that they spent the night together.

Who would've thought: a woman who only wanted more clout on social media through Tinder fell for a method used by the Tinder Swindler himself.

And I went even further...

I wanted to know the exact moment they decide to give the guy a chance

How does a woman's brain work in that moment?

Digging deeper into human behavior, psychology, and sociology — like it was a hobby for me — I dove deeper into a woman's mind.

Which explains how Simon Leviev attracted and seduced women so easily.

I observed the women my friend and I were hooking up with and paid attention to the exact moment they saw that we positioned ourselves as strong survivors.

Women's biology spoke louder at one specific moment.

They got more interested, sent longer messages, and gave plenty of openings for invitations.

"Let's hang out"

That's how they talk about it, like a date is just running to the corner store.

Once you find out the right way to seduce a woman, a conversation gets way simpler.

You, with just a few hours of chatting, can easily get her into bed.

Women became easier to land through specific behaviors and messages.

With a step-by-step...

... That I decided to call The Tinder Swindler Method

I named it that because of how that man behaved, seducing so fast.

Remember, this method isn't meant to hurt anyone!

I decided to test it out on some other friends who were also having problems with women.

Nerdy, shy friends, and even one who had social phobia.

I was blown away by how quickly and easily they were lining up dates that turned into long nights.

Some even ended up in lasting relationships.

All because they activated the survival instinct in a woman's brain.

And then the Netflix documentary about the Tinder Swindler dropped. The film didn't go that deep into the science behind powerful seduction, but you could still tell Simon Leviev had his methods locked down to attract women.

He even had a very clearly defined profile of what he wanted. Just like I was also handpicking every type of woman who fit what I was looking for.

And I kept teaching the Tinder Swindler Method to friends and people in my family. Men who:

- * Didn't know how to lead a good conversation
- * Bored women out of their minds
- * Rarely managed to get a woman into bed
- * Only attracted women they didn't really click with

I walked them through every step of this method, and my friends and family members were really able to, through messages alone, get women interested in a date.

After so many success stories tested on myself and the men around me, I felt obligated to write down, refine, and perfect everything I'd learned up to that point.

The biology behind intense attraction, the Tinder Swindler's tactics, the psychology and sociology behind psychopathic wisdom...

I cataloged new techniques, strategies, and tips that tap into women's subconscious. And I finally created the program

XXX

The step-by-step method the Tinder Swindler used to awaken a woman's instinct to seduce her, even if you have no money and you're not good-looking

The first and only program that combines social and psychological tactics inspired by the Tinder Swindler and psychopathic behavior to seduce a woman online, get dates, and take her to bed.

In the program, I reveal all this deep knowledge in a practical way, with the mental triggers you need to exploit to awaken women's instincts, how to apply them in your conversations, and how to leave women interested in you!

After applying this knowledge in a quick and practical way, you'll notice

- * how you'll become more confident around women
- * how a conversation will flow effortlessly
- * how dates will be more enjoyable and comfortable, with no awkwardness or boredom

This is a program unlike any other, because it doesn't involve overused scripts, cookie-cutter formulas, and isn't just about Tinder either — it covers your entire life as a whole.

The XXX program covers everything about the persuasion and seduction of women with scientific backing.

And it might sound deep and difficult, but actually, you won't have to read scientific articles, books, and go through trial and error like I did.

The program comes with all the knowledge spoon-fed and ready to be applied in your life, and at the same time, packed with advanced techniques you don't see every day out there.

Take a look at what you're going to learn in the XXX Program

THE BEGINNING

Your Attitude

In this module, you'll learn the behaviors that make you more confident and that attract and seduce a woman.

You'll be able to notice how her behavior changes the moment you start applying the right attitudes.

CONTROL YOUR EMOTIONS

Do you get nervous and insecure when you're about to talk to a woman?

You'll learn how to control your emotions to act in the best way possible, in line with your goals.

NOT EVERYTHING IS WHAT IT SEEMS

XXX

WOMEN ATTRACT MORE WOMEN

XXX

DON'T BE A SON OF A BITCH

XXX

BE DISCREET

XXX

KNOW YOUR LIMITS

XXX

Those are the modules, and inside them is incredibly rich content for you to apply in your in-person relationships and especially on Tinder.

Remember that Tinder is a hugely important channel and you should also apply everything in real life.

And once you apply everything and see women get friendlier, smile more, and become interested in you, all those failed dates from the past will feel like jokes.

And now you might be wondering...

"I don't have money or enviable looks — is this going to work for me?"

That crossed my mind plenty of times...

And plenty of times I saw average and even ugly men with women fighting over them.

Or men with no job and no future, hooking up with multiple women at the same time.

I decided to stop asking myself how they did it and actually started studying for real and applying everything.

I really can't tell you whether the XXX program will work for you, since I have no idea what trauma you've been through, whether you're tired of the insecurity or the fear of women, like I was.

What I can guarantee is that if you're here, that means you already KNOW that looks and money are NOT the key when it comes to attracting and seducing women.

Which means you're already ahead of most men who believe that and destroy their self-esteem with every rejection.

And this program is exactly for the men who are tired of that and looking for not just little formulas, but seduction and persuasion at a scientific level.

So I'll throw the question back at you:

Are you that man?

- * Want to finally leave the embarrassments behind and have a good conversation with a woman?
- * Want the ease of attracting and seducing?
- * Are you ready to put this knowledge into practice?
- * Are you ready to drop the cloak of insecurity and step into the confidence and posture of a man of value?

All the time, you see super expensive coaching programs teaching not just relationship-focused knowledge, but also how to live a more confident life. They invest a ton of time in studying too, just like I did.

And now you can get access to this knowledge in a faster and more practical way, without having to pay thousands of dollars and spend tons of time studying.

If you feel ready to be that confident, seductive man — the man who'll be part of the small percentage that knows how to activate a woman's primal instincts — I want you to be part of our XXX community!

And I really want to see your results, just like the people I passed this METHOD to

Because of my studies, everything cost me more than R$5,000 in books, training, subscriptions, and even scientific article platforms...

And I'm about to tell you how much XXX costs, but first...

For you who made it this far, I have a gift. Sign up in the form below and you'll get access to the first 3 modules FOR FREE in your email.

And I want to ask you a question:

How bad have you felt about not being able to get the women you actually want?

Tinder can actually be cruel to its male users, just like how I felt awful.

Low self-esteem and less and less faith that I'd ever land a woman.

Today I see that if it weren't for the rejections and embarrassments I went through, I probably wouldn't have the knowledge I have today.

The day they happened, I felt awful, but today I see those were opportunities for growth.

And since I invested in and trusted the method of influence and seduction used by tycoons, famous people, and of course, the Tinder Swindler, I got huge results and shared them with the people around me.

I know you can also get huge results both online and in real life.

Because once you have this powerful knowledge in your hands, you'll be able to have the woman you desire.

Forget the embarrassments and the low self-esteem.

That feeling of your heart racing, of seeing the smiles and the tenderness of a woman when she's head over heels for you.

Of being good with yourself, with your self-confidence renewed

Of spending night after night with company, feeling your heart explode with euphoria, having great sex, and knowing you're a man of value who's with a beautiful woman of value too.

Does this kind of life make sense to you? This life, to me, is priceless.

That's why I thought long and hard before putting a price on XXX

With guaranteed results and all the investment I made to acquire this knowledge... it would make sense to charge R$4,000, considering the X bonuses included in the training.

BONUSES - price

Adding it all up, the minimum I could charge for XXX is R$4,500

But this training started out by sharing methods with the people around me.

Friends and family who, like me, were already losing their well-being and sense of self-worth. Men who felt anger and fear toward women.

I want this training to come help men like that. To take back our honor and our worth.

That's why I decided to set the price at R$1,000.

But later, talking with Arthur, who became a great friend of mine, he advised me to make the training more accessible, to reach more men who need this knowledge.

So I made the call and decided once and for all: if you made it this far, to the end of the video, you're getting an R$800 discount, and you can grab XXX for R$197

Instant lifetime access for just R$197 or 12 payments of R$19

And your purchase is 100% guaranteed! I believe in this method so much that I'll give you 7 days to apply it or your money back

You can purchase and read all the material in a single day, and I recommend applying the method bit by bit, one step at a time. Then you can start to notice:

- * Women will message you more easily
- * A conversation will flow like water down a river
- * How women will feel seduced and magnetized by you and won't even be able to explain why

And now the decision is YOURS

If you made it this far, that means you're tired of all this.

Tired of the humiliation, the frustration, and the low self-esteem.

And I know you deserve so much more, because you're here, looking for knowledge that can be useful in relationships and in other areas of your life as well.

In XXX, I do everything and pour all my knowledge into helping you...

And you can click the button below this video and make your decision — something I can't do for you.

I wouldn't make this offer if I weren't sure you'd get results, like I and the people around me did.

When you click the button below, feel the confidence and the freedom of no longer struggling and just letting a conversation flow, leading to a date and great nights.

Let's do this? I'll be waiting for you in our Community.

LEAD - SHUGANE - MEMORY

LEAD OF A VSL FOR MEMORY LOSS

It was November of 1994.

The cameras trembled with fear before a letter being read on national television.

Ronald Reagan, former President of the United States, had written a piece of paper that was smudged by tears, addressed to the American people:

"I have been diagnosed with Alzheimer's..."

In that moment, the world froze, and people were horrified.

The greatest power on the planet watched its former leader admit that his mind was losing its memories and its identity.

It wasn't just news, it was an omen: if even Reagan, with all the power, money, and connections he had, could succumb...

No one, absolutely no one was safe.

The newspapers of the time treated it as if it were the cruel destiny of old age...

Newspapers ran headlines saying "Ronald drew the short straw in life's Russian roulette."

People started picturing themselves no longer being able to remember the faces of the people they love...

Not remembering the stories that build their identity...

Not remembering the moments with loved ones who are no longer here.

The fear of not remembering even who they were started locking people up behind invisible bars.

And the disgusting part is that Western medicine declared: Alzheimer's is irreversible, it's practically a death sentence.

And you know what's the most horrifying thing in this story?...

Whenever the authorities say something, people don't question it, they just blindly believe.

And millions of families, from that moment on, all the way to today, almost a century later, accepted that sentence as if it were the law of gravity.

Everyone believes Alzheimer's is age, genetics, diet, or bad luck...

But I'm sorry to tell you, all of that is one big lie.

All of that is nothing more than a way to keep people trapped on medications for the rest of their lives.

That's how the big pharmaceutical companies see you...

As a number...

Profit...

Recurring revenue...

And nothing more than that.

But there was something nobody had noticed...

For thousands of years, on the other side of the world, a village in Nagano, Japan, had a startling habit.

Entire villages where the elderly kept crystal-clear minds well into their 90s, even 100 years old.

And even at that age, they had the ability to remember stories from their entire lives with enough detail to recall the name of every friend on the street from when they were kids...

Yes, you read that right.

Centenarians with sharper memories than the young people of today.

While Reagan was saying goodbye to his memory, in Japan men and women were still remembering the name of every grandchild, every street, every subway stop

And the damn press never even tried to connect the dots.

But, no matter how hard they tried to bury everything...

In the last decade, a doctor who watched her own father pass away from Alzheimer's...

Was the one who went down the rabbit hole, and found the real culprit behind Alzheimer's, that lives hidden in the brains of 60% of Americans...

Not aging, but a kind of disgusting and silent parasite, that sets up shop in the brain like an unwanted houseguest.

An invader that, just like a termite eats away at wood...

Bit by bit, eats away at memories, identities, bonds.

The most disturbing detail?

According to the same reports, there was supposedly a Japanese green tea, for centuries, capable of wiping out this parasite

A cocktail of local herbs that creates protective barriers that block this parasite from getting in...

On top of doing something science said would never be possible...

This same Japanese green tea is capable of restoring memories damaged by the disease.

But, as we all know, this discovery never made the headlines.

Not because it was irrelevant.

But because, if revealed, it could blow up the billion-dollar empire of palliative drugs...

The same ones that only promise to delay the inevitable while the medical bills pile up.

Reagan was remembered as the symbol of Alzheimer's.

What nobody said is that he was also the marker of a convenient silence: while America cried over its loss of identity, Japan held the key to cognitive resilience.

And maybe that's why, even today, you've never heard about this forgotten weapon.

Because admitting that there is a hidden enemy — and a natural antidote capable of facing it — means rewriting the entire narrative that you and millions of families accepted as fate.

But this story is about to be revealed.

And, when you learn it, you'll understand why some elderly people can cross decades without losing who they are — while others fade away in just a few years.

You'll find out why scientists who studied long-lived communities in Okinawa would talk, in hushed voices, about a "forbidden secret" that Big Pharma would never let see the spotlight.

And, above all, you'll realize that what seemed like an inevitable end...

...can, in fact, be the beginning of a return.

A return to clarity, to identity, to the right to be remembered by your name and by the story you wrote.

All thanks to a natural resource that survived hidden in Japan — and that now, finally, can be revealed.

VSL - PINK SALT - DIABETES

[] Lead – Conspiracy Lead

[EXPERT]

If you have diabetes or pre-diabetes, stop everything right now.

Because what I'm about to reveal could have prevented the most god-awful night of my life, the night my daughter died because of me.

[NARRATOR]

Drugs like Ozempic, Metformin, and Gliptin are sold as hope... but they carry a secret so filthy that not even doctors dare speak about it.

They're loaded with substances that silently turn your body into a ticking time bomb, ready to detonate with a cancer diagnosis at any moment.

[EXPERT]

Imagine waking up every single day knowing that the very drug you take to survive... could be killing you from the inside, cell by cell, like a death sentence with a label and a prescription.

[NARRATOR]

The world's biggest powers are already on red alert.

Because these medications contain cancer-causing substances.

Thousands of diabetics are dying without ever knowing.

They keep taking these drugs thinking they're being saved, while their own body becomes an internal minefield.

What you're about to hear will probably make you furious...

But this risk has already spread across more than 90 countries in the last four years.

And this month, the situation got even worse.

[NARRATOR]

The truth is that the giant pharmaceutical companies are working behind the scenes — manipulating politicians and hiding all of this from the mainstream media.
So the sales of these treatments don't take a hit.

[TESTIMONIAL FROM A DOCTOR]

On October 22, 2013, I received a subpoena at my home, accused of defaming the image of major brands...

But the truth is, I was just helping my patients heal without having to load themselves up with drugs.

And on February 7, 2014, they took my license away saying I wasn't fit to practice medicine.

[NARRATOR]

They've been playing dirty for years.

And they don't care about people's health — only about their billion-dollar monthly profits.

It's precisely because of these companies with so much power that you won't hear about this shocking discovery anywhere else.

Especially because groups of scientists from around the world have already proven that most diabetes treatments are directly linked to pancreatic cancer and cardiac arrest.

And while you're watching this documentary...

Thousands of families have lost their loved ones thanks to these failed medications that Big Pharma forces us to buy, as if it were some magic solution for diabetes.

And unfortunately, those families have no idea where the complication came from.

[TESTIMONIAL — 50-YEAR-OLD WOMAN]

To this day, they say Jason, my husband, passed away from lack of effort...

But he trained every single morning, got his sun, took all his medications, and had turned his diet around 180 degrees.

Today, thanks to Dr. Tenzin, at least I understand the real cause of everything that happened.

[EXPERT]

This isn't a game — we're talking about the health of millions of people who suffer from diabetes.

Just like you, my wife, and my daughter...

[NARRATOR]

And you know the worst part of all?

Big Pharma giants like Pfizer, Novo Nordisk, Eli Lilly, and Sanofi — the ones who manufacture diabetes drugs...

On top of raking in trillions of dollars every year off your disease...
They will never admit the guilt they carry, because they don't want to lose money and watch their stock price collapse, do they?

[NARRATOR]

But what they hid from you is that the treatments only mask the symptoms temporarily — they never address the root cause of diabetes in your body.
And they're going to keep putting these cancer-causing substances into the medications without a second thought.

[SCIENTIST IN THE LAB]

As a former employee of [censor the audio and his mouth saying the company name], I'm certain that if people knew what's really in those medications, they'd never inject them into their own bodies.

[EXPERT]

Have you noticed that even when you take your medication on schedule every single day...
Even eating right and exercising almost every day, it feels like NOTHING actually works to treat the diabetes?
It feels like your glucose is out of control, like a runaway car on a beat-up road full of potholes.

[EXPERT]

Every time you bump up the dose or switch medications, it's like pulling an emergency brake that simply doesn't work.
The truth is, while you fight every way you possibly can to win the battle against this disease that's draining the life out of you...
Your body keeps getting weaker and more dependent on drugs that can give you cancer and sudden cardiac arrest.

[NARRATOR]

And there's something even crueler that's been hidden right under your nose all these years of suffering...
These companies know that these medications are among the leading causes of loss of libido and infertility — in both men and women.
These drugs destroy your relationship...
And they leave you weaker and weaker...
All of it right under your nose, without you even noticing.

And over time...

You start making excuses to avoid sex, you avoid intimate moments with your spouse, and you start thinking it's your age, that all of this is just natural.

And the reality is — none of it is your fault.

[EXPERT]

And maybe you're thinking:

"But damn it, if the treatments doctors recommend are bad for me, then what am I supposed to use?"

I want you to take a deep breath...

And feel relieved.

Because today, I'm here to reveal the truth that has never reached your ears.

I'm going to show you this simple morning ritual with pink salt that can treat the symptoms — and even reverse diabetes naturally.

[NARRATOR]

It's the same ritual used by the people of Zanskar in the Himalayas for centuries as a fountain of health and youth, to control your body's blood sugar in a completely natural way.

This simple pink salt ritual works whether you've been suffering from diabetes for one year or for thirty.

Even if you've just been diagnosed, or if you're in a pre-diabetic state.

Now the moment has come to finally take control of your life.

This treatment works because it's the only one that addresses the real cause of high glucose in your body.

It has already saved the lives of thousands of people — including celebrities...

Like, for example, Tom Hanks:

[TOM HANKS]

I have to admit that, in 2013, I announced I would be stepping back from the Hollywood industry to take care of my health, and as many of you already know, I did that to treat my diabetes.

Today, after years of fighting, I can say I'm finally free — something I thought would never happen.

I owe all of this to Dr. Arum, for guiding me through this process and showing me this natural solution that addresses the root cause of diabetes.

[TOM HANKS' DAUGHTER]

It's been years since I've seen my dad this alive.

[EXPERT]

And let me say this right up front...

This isn't like those unrealistic promises you've seen all over the internet that never work.

I'm talking about something that has been used for thousands of years by the people of the Himalayas...

What I'm about to show you goes against everything you've ever been taught about diabetes.

And it could even have saved the life of my little girl, who was taken too young by cardiac arrest brought on by diabetes.

And now, this simple ritual could save yours!

[TESTIMONIAL]

I was trapped in this endless loop of the pharmaceutical industry...

Drugs, cutting out food I loved, appointments, and more drugs.

Until December 2024, when my hand was nearly amputated — the doctor said there was no other option.

Today, as you can see, I have both my hands intact...

And it only happened thanks to Dr. Tenzin, who introduced me to the pink salt trick.

At first, I thought it was a lie...

After all, how could something so simple prevent an amputation?

But the only thing I can say is: thank God I gave it a chance!

[NARRATOR]

So...

If you've spent years suffering with uncontrolled diabetes, never understanding what's really behind it.

You've tried every kind of diet...

Every workout...

And insanely expensive treatments...

But nothing brings your glucose down — not even a little...

It's natural to lose hope that your life will ever go back to what it used to be.

[EXPERT]

I know exactly what it's like to try everything and feel like the glucose levels just won't come down, no matter what.

After all, I spent years trying to end diabetes in the lives of the two people I loved the most...

My daughter and my wife.

[NARRATOR]

And let me tell you an obvious truth that needs to be said: You weren't born with diabetes. So no matter how much you've already tried, no matter if you think there's no way out for your sky-high glucose...

You're about to understand the real reason your glucose keeps climbing — even when you do everything the doctors tell you.

And how you can put an end to this hidden villain that secretly infiltrates your body, infects your glucose-control system, and steals your energy — using just one simple ritual with Himalayan pink salt.

The annual diabetes rankings show that Himalayan villages — like the Sherpas, Newar, and Tamang — have some of the lowest diabetes rates in the world: only about 0.5% of the population.

And here's something that's going to shock you.

Their diet isn't all that different.

They eat foods that, anywhere else in the world, would be considered "unhealthy."

On top of that, the few people who do have diabetes in those regions can reverse it with ease. Without needing medication.

But what makes their bodies different from ours?

How can they eat the same foods we eat, and still live almost 90 years without diabetes?

Look, I know your glucose levels are stopping you from enjoying a guilt-free life with the people you love.

Diabetes has already taken limbs.

Stolen eyes.

And ended the lives of millions of people.

It's destroyed the freedom of leaving the house without fear.

And it's even stolen intimacy from relationships.

But today, you're going to discover how a simple pink salt trick can make your body work again like it did when you were 24 years old.

With no fear.

No guilt.

No more dread when you check your glucose!

[TESTIMONIAL — 70+ YEAR OLD MAN]

Before I met Dr. Tenzin, every meal was Russian roulette.

I'd look down at my plate and instantly feel guilt, fear, and shame.

My fingers were marked from pricking them so much to check my glucose... I was even hiding from my own family.

Today it's different.

I can sit down to breakfast with my grandkids, eat a slice of cake, and laugh with them...

Without the weight of the disease on my shoulders.

Honestly, it's emotional for me... that's all: just emotion.

[EXPERT]

Look, I've already lost many patients to this disease.
And unfortunately, I ended up losing my daughter too.
And no matter how much I still carry the guilt of what happened to this day.
It was that event that changed my perspective on health, and made me understand how ordinary people can reverse type 2 diabetes using just a simple pinch of pink salt every morning.
And it made me uncover the true origin behind diabetes — the one Big Pharma has been hiding for decades.
Thanks to everything I went through, today I've already helped more than 5,560 families break free from this disease that seems to have no solution.
And my daughter wasn't the only one struck by diabetes.
Two years and eight months ago, my wife's health was in critical condition, even while she was taking her daily doses of insulin and metformin.
Those medications, instead of helping her, seemed to be making her weaker, paler, with less energy.
And as doctors, we've always been taught to treat the symptoms of disease — but in school, they never showed us how to treat the root cause of this problem.
It's like we're firefighters constantly putting out flames, with no clue how to keep them from starting in the first place.

[TESTIMONIAL — 55-YEAR-OLD MAN]

I remember looking at my wife lying on the couch, with no strength left to even play with the grandkids, and thinking: "This is how it's going to end."
Years of injections, pills, doctors' promises that in the end never changed a thing.
When I heard about Dr. Tenzin, I'll be honest... I thought it was just another illusion.
But it was different.
In just a few weeks I saw the color coming back to her face, the energy coming back to her eyes.
Today, thanks to him, I have my lifelong companion back.
That's priceless.

[NARRATOR]

Look here...
Drugs like metformin, insulin, and Ozempic only mimic the action of the GLP-1 and GIP hormones synthetically.
But that doesn't fix the real problem.
In the long run, these drugs leave you weak and compromise your entire immune system.
And when your immunity is low, your body becomes vulnerable — letting other viruses, inflammation, and hormonal disorders spread and destroy your body even further.

[EXPERT]

But there's something even more dangerous that's silently attacking your body.
Something that hasn't been discussed anywhere outside of this short presentation.
The real villain behind diabetes: The Pancreatic Fungus.
I know this is going to scare you, but I have to be completely honest with you...
The real cause of diabetes in your body is a fungus that has silently invaded your pancreas...
This fungus takes up residence in the pancreas and starts rotting the entire organism, preventing it from regulating glucose in your body.
It literally destroys you from the inside out.

[NARRATOR]

This fungus is a "cousin" of the fungi that destroy feet and hands, but with one small difference...
After this villain has been living in your pancreas for some time, the problem isn't just diabetes anymore...
It starts releasing cancerous cells throughout your body, until the inevitable end arrives...
And that's why this simple pink salt ritual works — because it treats the root cause of diabetes, unlike other drugs like Ozempic, metformin, and gliptin that only mask the symptoms...

[EXPERT]

Studies done by researchers in Geneva in May 2024 reveal that the Pancreatic Fungus is what's preventing your glucose levels from staying under control...
Because it literally kills your pancreas...
Even if you've already cut out every food that brings you joy.
Even if you're sweating buckets every day to stay in shape.
And even if you've gotten your body used to fasting.
None of that is going to end your diabetes, because it doesn't even tickle the Pancreatic Fungus — it just slightly muffles the symptoms.

[NARRATOR]

And that's exactly where the problem lies.
Until you remove this fungus from your body, your pancreas isn't going to recover its function...
And you'll keep fighting an invisible enemy inside your own body.
That's why, when you were young, you could eat whatever you wanted without worrying about your glucose.
Because you didn't have the Pancreatic Fungus yet, and your pancreas was working just fine.
And until you do something to change this situation and remove this disgusting fungus from your body...
The symptoms will continue.
The medications won't work.

And the diabetes will get worse and worse.

But today, you're going to discover the ritual of the people of Zanskar — a small Indian village in the Himalayas — that uses only pink salt and two more ingredients to finally end the spread of this cancerous villain in your body.

No needles, no metformin, no injection pens.

And that's exactly why the pharmaceutical industry wants to stop this information from reaching you.

[EXPERT]

I want you to understand something they never told you: your glucose level is not directly related to your diet.

It's not because of the sweets you eat, the sodas you drink, or the fast food you have.

And it's certainly not the fault of stress, lack of sleep, or emotional factors.

And much less age and genetics, like a lot of people out there believe.

None of that is the real culprit.

After all, if any of that were the origin of diabetes, the medications would have already solved the problem — wouldn't they?

All those factors I mentioned can make your glucose spike for a few hours — or minutes.

But they don't keep your glucose high all day long, much less for years or decades.

Think about it with me:

When you're sleeping, you're not eating sugar, right?

So why does your glucose already wake up high?

What is making it climb continuously?

You don't eat "junk" every single day.

[TESTIMONIAL — SKINNY, BEAUTIFUL 40-YEAR-OLD WOMAN]

I was never one to eat sweets... but even so, my glucose was always through the roof.

I couldn't understand what was happening to me.

[NARRATOR]

So how do you explain that your glucose stays high even when you're fasting?

There are thousands of people who have never set foot in a gym.

They live on burgers, donuts, pizza.

A lot of them are obese or overweight.

And even so, they never developed diabetes.

You probably even know someone like that, don't you?

[EXPERT]

The only difference between your body and the bodies of those people who have never seen their glucose go above 110 is that their pancreas regulates glucose naturally...

Whereas the pancreas of everyone who suffers with diabetes doesn't work properly because of the Pancreatic Fungus.

And until you wipe out this enemy in your body...

Your pancreas won't function the right way, your glucose will never be controlled.

[EXPERT]

And I'm not talking about simply regulating GLP-1 and GIP production like those failed treatments that can cause cancer.

I'm talking about truly restoring your pancreas, and getting it to work like it did back when you were 20 years old.

Like a time machine, you know?

But look, I'm telling you up front because I don't like lies.

If you walk away from this video without removing the Pancreatic Fungus, the responsibility for the consequences in your life is entirely on you.

Like amputations, cancer, and other extremely serious problems that can happen just by trusting the conventional treatment system.

[NARRATOR]

But the strangest thing...

Is that there's a small group of people in the Himalayas who don't suffer from this — and their secret is going to leave you in shock.

The Zanskaris, a population that lives in isolation in the Himalayas, have the most regulated glucose levels on the planet.

Even with habits considered unhealthy, many of them live for almost 95 years.

But why does the Zanskar population live so long and so healthy, while most of the Western population tends to develop obesity and diabetes — and even die decades earlier?

Well, the answer lies in this simple pink salt ritual that they've used for centuries to control their own blood sugar levels.

[EXPERT]

This ritual is what eliminates the Pancreatic Fungus and regulates glucose levels below 110.

This simple ritual has allowed more than 5,000 of my patients to break free from their dependence on insulin and on medications that don't work.

And finally let them eat ice cream with their grandchildren without fearing their glucose would spike.

Finally let them go enjoy a family lunch without a heavy conscience.
And they no longer live in fear of every cut turning into an amputation, or of having a sudden cardiac arrest from diabetes.
Hundreds of people come to my talks to share their results, showing how their lives have been completely transformed after they learned how to reactivate their pancreas naturally — instead of depending on synthetic versions full of side effects.
They share their lab results with pride.
Today, they live completely normal lives.
I want you to see with your own eyes the case of James, 63 years old...

[James Testimonial]

Hey everyone. James here...
I just got back from the park with my grandson — we had two milkshakes and split a pretzel...
But why am I telling you this?
Because I was a prisoner of diabetes for 22 years.
22 years of suffering with food...
22 years afraid of going to the doctor...
22 years afraid of checking my glucose.
Until Dr. Tenzin showed me how to do this pink salt ritual.
At first, I didn't think it was true.
But after a few weeks of using it, my fasting blood sugar dropped to 98.
Something that used to be impossible is now reality, thanks to this pink salt ritual.

[Doctor speaking again]

Or like Laura:

[Laura]

Hi friends, how are you?
Look, do you see this monitor on your screen?
That's my glucose after having dinner with my family.
I'm finally back to living free, without guilt, and without fear.
All thanks to this simple pink salt ritual that Dr. Tenzin explained.

[EXPERT]

And there's nothing that makes me prouder than helping people who suffer with diabetes...
After all, the worst phase of my life was because of diabetes.
It destroyed my family.
And even being a doctor, I know what it feels like to be powerless — trying everything to end this disease, and feeling like you're seeing zero improvement.

Driven by my own family and by more than 5,000 patients, I worked up the courage to come here and share with you everything I discovered about the origin of diabetes — and how to treat it naturally.

Without needing medication with needles, without crazy diets like fasting and keto, and certainly without having to run in circles around a park like a hamster.

I have absolute confidence that, by applying what I'm about to reveal to you now, you're going to feel your body breaking free from the chains of diabetes within the next few weeks.

To the point where controlling your glucose will be as natural as breathing.

All thanks to this discovery that wipes out the Pancreatic Fungus and renews the system that regulates glucose in your body!

[EXPERT]

So, stop everything you're doing...

Close the bedroom door, and pay attention to this video.

These days, a lot of people make videos with false promises.

They hire actors to pretend to be doctors or specialists, or they just use voiceover and text without showing their face.

You know why?

Because those lies are crimes, and they have serious consequences.

They invent results.

I don't.

I'm here with my chest open to show you the truth.

I show my face and my family's face, because I'm presenting what really happened in my life.

I know I'm taking a huge risk by exposing myself.

Those people who lie to you might try to attack me — or even silence me.

But I'm willing to take that risk.

As long as I can help as many people as possible.

And pay attention...

Unfortunately, three years ago, I had to learn the worst way possible — and I spent overnights in a freezing hospital just to lose the person I loved most.

And I'd give anything to have the chance you're getting right now to learn this pink salt ritual that reverses type 2 diabetes naturally.

A lot of people come to my talks in the United States, traveling from all over the world.

Most of them eat sugar every day, don't exercise, drink alcohol, and are overweight.

And even so, this simple morning pink salt ritual worked for every single one of them.

What I'm about to reveal to you now will make it impossible for you not to see results.

[NARRATOR]

If you pay attention to this video until the end...

You'll never again feel that wave of dread every time the meter beeps, like it's announcing your death sentence.

I know you feel lost right now, like your life has been hijacked by numbers that only go up.

Every appointment is more expensive, every test is more terrifying, every additional dose of medication — and still, the glucose stays out of control.

The routine becomes a prison: you avoid parties, you run from dessert, you smile on the outside, but on the inside you die of guilt at the first bite of something sweet, knowing the price you'll pay is your life.

The exhaustion never lets go, the worry about the future eats you alive, and the worst part... It feels like nobody understands the silent battle you're fighting.

But with what we'll reveal in today's program, you're going to break free from this perverse cycle.

And you'll never again throw your money away on clinics and hospitals that don't solve anything...

And you'll finally say goodbye to the medications that just keep you tied to the disease.

[] Body

[EXPERT]

Well, before I get carried away, let me introduce myself properly:

My name is Arun Tenzin, but you can call me Dr. Tenzin.

I'm 53 years old, and I've dedicated almost three decades exclusively to studying and treating diabetes.

I graduated from the prestigious Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore — a global reference in medical research.

And since 1996, I've been closely following the evolution of the disease, its treatments, and most importantly, its failures.

In that period, I've already treated thousands of diabetic patients, developed natural protocols that are now studied at academic centers, and been invited to speak at international endocrinology conferences.

But what really gives me authority is what I've lived through in practice:

* Watching people that medicine had already condemned to daily insulin finally break free from the disease in just a few weeks following my guidance.

As many of you already know, I was born in the heart of the Himalayas, in a small village called Zanskar — a place isolated from the modern world, where people live almost in another time. There, the mountains aren't just rocks: they're walls that guard secrets of health and longevity that Western science is still crawling to understand.

I grew up watching men and women reach 90 years old with the energy of young people — without medication, clinics, or hospitals.

But when I was 13, my life changed.

The isolation of the Himalayas could no longer sustain my family, and we were forced to leave our ancestral land.

We left for the United States in search of survival, while part of my family stayed behind in Zanskar.

It was that rupture between two worlds — the hidden knowledge of the mountains and conventional medicine — that shaped my destiny and brought me here.

I became a doctor through enormous effort, and above all, thanks to the sacrifices my parents made for me.

But over the course of my career, I discovered something that medicine insists on hiding:

The real villain behind diabetes isn't sweets, isn't age, isn't genetics.

It's the Pancreatic Fungus — a silent invader that takes up residence inside your most vital organ and starts devouring your cells, day after day.

As it grows, it turns your own body into the enemy, firing off uncontrolled insulin spikes until it drains every ounce of your strength.

It's because of this fungus that millions of people fight a losing battle against high glucose, even when they're stuffed with medications.

And it was only when I returned to my origins, on a journey to the heart of the Himalayas, that I discovered the solution Western science had ignored for centuries.

There, in the isolated villages of Zanskar, I found entire families living free from diabetes — even consuming foods that here would be considered "forbidden."

Their secret?

A simple yet powerful Morning Pink Salt Ritual.

An ancestral habit that reactivates the dormant pancreas, stabilizes insulin spikes, and gives the body back its natural ability to control glucose.

This ritual wasn't created by me.

It's been practiced for centuries, passed down from generation to generation as part of the local culture.

And I'm going to show you how to do it in a simple way, so that finally, anyone — diagnosed three months ago or forty years ago — can break free from this silent villain responsible for diabetes and pancreatic cancer, without depending on medications or needles.

But none of what I've achieved in the last 28 years would have been possible without the journey that changed my life — which I'm about to show you...

[MINI-TRANSITION — NARRATOR]

When the answer doesn't show up in the reports, you go looking from those who have no interest in lying. And it was right there, isolated between ice and stone, that a glimmer of hope emerged.

[NARRATOR]

In 2021, at the height of the COVID-19 vaccinations, Dr. Tenzin and his wife, Ashley, were in the Himalayas, in the region where the doctor had been born — the village of Zanskar.

She had been suffering from type 2 diabetes for many years.

At the time, the doctor was attending a medical conference in Kathmandu, the capital of Nepal:

The Nepal Summit on Health and Diabetes Innovations.

Which is one of the most renowned diabetes events in the world, and it cost $6,870 just for the entry ticket.

He went there in search of alternative treatments and solutions to help his wife and his daughter, who was also a type 2 diabetic.

After the event, Dr. Tenzin took the chance to visit my family — especially his grandfather, who had never left the Himalayas.

They live in Zanskar, a village known for something science can't explain: men and women living past 90 with the energy of young people, and almost zero cases of diabetes.

[EXPERT]

My grandfather, now 92 years old, has always been my living example of vitality.

And that night, he welcomed us with a feast that would be the nightmare of any diabetic:

Donuts glistening with sugar, cupcakes covered in whipped cream, creamy cheesecake, steaming french fries, and even cornbread fresh out of the oven.

I remember looking at my wife, who'd been living with type 2 diabetes for years, and seeing in her eyes the mix of craving and frustration.

For her, even one small piece of that dessert felt like a death sentence.

And yet, right in front of her was my 92-year-old grandfather, devouring every dish like a kid... and looking healthier than the two of us combined.

I panicked instantly.

I wasn't prepared to react in that situation.

I knew that kind of food was a disaster for anyone with diabetes.

I was terrified just imagining what could happen if my wife ate that.

But to my surprise, my grandfather and his friends — all over 80 — were laughing and eating like nothing could touch them.

[NARRATOR]

And that's when, smiling, my grandfather said the words that have echoed in my mind ever since:

"My dear grandson, everyone here is over 80.

We eat these things every morning.

And to this day, not one of us has developed diabetes."

[EXPERT]

My head had already gone to another planet.

It was as if everything I knew about medicine made no sense at all.

I was furious about the situation.

How could people that age eat that much sugar and that many carbs every day... and still stay healthy?

As a doctor, I felt obligated to test his glucose the moment my grandfather finished his meal.

So, I got up from the table, grabbed my meter, and ran the test.
And when I saw the result, I was in shock at the numbers...
His blood sugar was 108.
As if he hadn't consumed a single gram of sugar.
But I saw with my own eyes the sugar bomb he'd thrown back along with his friends.
Right then I thought: "This makes no sense at all."
I'm a diabetes specialist, I deal with this every day for 28 years, and I had never seen anything like it.
How can someone eat that much sugar and that many carbs every day and not develop diabetes?
Why was my grandfather, at 92, doing just fine — while my daughter and my wife suffered with diabetes and couldn't get cured even eating clean and using insanely expensive medications?

[NARRATOR]

And seeing that scene, the doctor reached an obvious conclusion: All the inhabitants of Zanskar really did have something different about them.
And if he could discover what it was, he could finally give his wife and daughter a peaceful life.

[EXPERT]

At the time, my first hypothesis was some kind of genetic mutation.
But it was something I needed time to understand better.
I thought I was about to crack a genetic secret hidden in the mountains of Zanskar... but life was about to pull the floor out from under me.

[NARRATOR — DOCUMENTARY-STYLE TRANSITION]

He thought he was about to crack a genetic secret hidden in the mountains of Zanskar... but life was about to pull the floor out from under him.
What was coming next wouldn't be a scientific answer — it would be a brutal blow to his head, capable of changing the course of this investigation forever.

[] Background Story

[EXPERT]

During those few days in Zanskar, I got the call every father dreads.
The voice on the other end was trembling.
It was a call from the hospital saying my daughter had had an emergency.
Her glucose was crashing.
And in that moment, my blood pressure dropped, and the world sank in a single second.
I ran to a quiet corner between the stone houses and all I could hear was one thing: "She's gotten worse... much worse."
It wasn't an ordinary scare — it was the beginning of the worst moment of my life.

She was rushed to a hospital that partnered with my clinic, and I immediately flew back to San Francisco.

We caught the first flight, and my wife couldn't stop crying the entire way.

We were unmoored, completely helpless.

My daughter, who had followed to the letter everything I believed was the right way to treat diabetes, was now on a thin line between life and death.

When I got to San Francisco, I was able to stay by her side and monitor her closely.

She was doing everything that was recommended: constant glucose monitoring, a strict diet, regular exercise, and she was taking Ozempic, metformin, and insulin every day.

But despite all that effort, her glucose levels were unpredictable.

Her fasting readings were over 142, and two hours after meals, they were over 325.

She switched medications several times and tried every option possible.

But any improvement was always temporary.

As a father, watching my daughter suffer was devastating.

I couldn't sleep anymore.

Because even being a doctor, I couldn't help my own daughter — the most important person in the world to me.

On June 4, 2021, the unimaginable happened: she suffered a sudden cardiac arrest, a victim of the complications of the diabetes she'd fought so hard to control for years.

My daughter was a lively girl — she laughed loudly, made wild plans for happiness, collected friends and late nights, dreamed of trips and tables full of food.

And that's exactly why it hurts to say every word I'm saying here: I'm not piling on adjectives to sanctify her memory.

I'm admitting that a young, energetic life was wiped out by an enemy that medicine swore was under control.

But the truth?

It wasn't.

The autopsy revealed her pancreas was completely compromised, unable to regulate insulin.

But what caught my attention was something else: the organ had a kind of strange tissue — whitish and hardened, as if it were being eaten away from the inside.

The doctors dismissed it immediately.

They said it was just a coincidence — a detail with no direct link to her death.

[NARRATOR]

The alarm in Dr. Tenzin's head went off...

Something was telling him it wasn't a coincidence.

It was a clue they couldn't see — one that could reveal the true cause of the diabetes that had taken his daughter's life.

[EXPERT]

And the question that wouldn't leave my head was:

What really happened to my daughter?

Why, even doing everything right, couldn't she control her glucose levels?
I couldn't hold it together — I had just lost the most precious person to me, and she didn't deserve any of this.
She had a whole life ahead of her.

[NARRATOR]

On that tragic day, after losing his daughter, the doctor found himself in a situation no parent should ever face: grieving the death of his own child.
And he still had the devastating responsibility of telling his wife that their only daughter wasn't coming home.

[EXPERT]

My wife, Ashley, 49 years old, also suffered from the same condition that took our daughter. She had always been a strong woman.
But that day I watched her completely fall apart.
She couldn't bear the idea that our daughter was gone.
I still remember her words to this day:
"She died because I passed the diabetes on to her."
She believed it was her own genetics' fault.
Watching my wife, the only person I had left, blame herself for something that wasn't her fault, broke my heart.
This chaos in my life only reinforced my determination to dig deeper, learn more about diabetes, search for alternative explanations, and try to understand what really happened to our daughter. After all, maybe I could help other people not go through what I had to go through.
And that's why I'm here today.
Not to share my sad story, but to present the discovery that can change your life — just as it has already changed the lives of more than 5,000 patients.
The months that followed were the worst of my life.
My wife, after everything she'd been through, was still diabetic.
And I knew: if I didn't do something, she could be the next one to leave us, just like our daughter.
I had a flame burning inside me, determined to discover what the hell happened to my daughter and why nothing I had always recommended to my patients worked for her.
The loss of our daughter devastated Ashley, mentally and physically.
She surrendered to the grief, and her health deteriorated rapidly.
Our daughter's death took away her will to live.
Her glucose started shooting up like a rocket.
She no longer had the strength to fight the disease.
She stopped working out, stopped getting sun, stopped hydrating, and stopped following any kind of balanced diet.
She was punishing herself for everything that had happened to our daughter.

But after a lot of insistence, she went back to following a strict diet and taking her medications properly.

[NARRATOR]

Except, as you probably already know... that wasn't enough to regulate her glucose. Every day, the glucose levels kept climbing higher and higher. Extreme exhaustion was completely consuming her. Neither metformin nor insulin worked on Dr. Tenzin's wife anymore. It was literally like throwing a car down a hill with no emergency brake. Until another problem hit us like a meteor... A few weeks later, she developed diabetic neuropathy. And one day, she tripped on the stairs, hurt her foot, and didn't even realize she'd hurt herself. The wound quickly turned into an ulcer.

[EXPERT]

And from my decades of experience as a doctor, I knew: it was only a matter of time before they'd have to amputate her leg. The emotional suffering, combined with the physical wear and tear, created a devastating cycle. It felt like we were reliving the same nightmare we went through with our daughter. I couldn't look at myself in the mirror because of the shame I felt. How could I still call myself a doctor if I hadn't saved the people I loved most?

[NARRATOR — TRANSITION]

While the family wound was opening wider and wider, everything around him seemed to collapse: hospital corridors that smelled like desperation, the sound of rushed footsteps, and a clock marking time that doesn't forgive. The scientific hypothesis that had been guiding him started bleeding in practice — and in place of certainty, a primal fear grew: either he found the answer, or he'd lose another life. It was at that moment, with hands dirty from powerlessness, that an insane idea took shape in the head of a doctor: go back to the place where the answer might exist, even if it meant crossing the world and challenging everything he knew. What motivated that decision? It's what you're about to see.

[] Discovery Story p.2

[EXPERT]

So, on November 23, 2021, watching Ashley's health deteriorate and realizing that traditional treatments were no longer enough.

I really felt like she was on the verge of ending up in the hospital and never coming back.
So, I decided to make the most radical decision of my life...
Go back to the Himalayas.
Deep down, I felt it was some kind of divine intuition.
Like the universe was telling me that this was my only way out.
After all, I knew there was something unique about the habits and lifestyle of the people of Zanskar — something I had never seen anywhere else in the world.
Something was telling me that, by spending some time there, I might discover something that could help my wife escape this suffering that seemed eternal and inescapable.
My wife needed more than diets and expensive medications.
She needed a complete transformation — something different from everything we'd already tried.

[NARRATOR]

They traveled in search of the truth the doctor had never known about diabetes.
He and his wife arrived in Zanskar on December 2nd and quickly began adapting to the routine there.

[EXPERT]

And yes, I hadn't gone crazy the other time I was there:
They really do eat sweets almost every morning.
But my wife avoided the sweets and focused on traditional Himalayan food — vegetables, lentil soup, fish, and yak meat.
But the answer wasn't in the food.
Because even following 100% of what they eat there, her glucose wouldn't come down — not even a little.

[NARRATOR]

Until, after 19 days, on a Saturday morning, the doctor woke up early and poured everything out to his grandfather about what had been going on...
He was about to throw in the towel...

[EXPERT]

Ashley wasn't getting better.
In fact, she was getting worse.
The conventional treatments didn't even tickle her.
And I had no idea what to do anymore.
So, after telling him everything, he didn't give me any answer that would help me.
He just convinced me to talk to a friend of his — a naturopathic doctor from Zanskar.
And honestly, I thought it was going to be some religious talk.

So I didn't give it much importance.
Especially because I studied at the best universities in the world, and I believed a doctor with that kind of approach could never solve a problem that advanced medicine hadn't solved to this day.
I didn't want to believe that nothing I knew was actually true.
But since nothing was working for my wife, and I hadn't been able to do anything for my daughter...
I decided to give my grandfather's friend a chance.
That's when I met Dr. Pema Lobsang, an 88-year-old doctor.
He was one of the most respected practitioners in Zanskar — known not only for his knowledge but also for his selfless character.
Always with a soft smile on his face, wanting to help the people around him.
After 40 minutes of talking with Dr. Pema, I explained my whole situation and my story.
And as strange as it might sound...
He smiled and said he was going to give me a gift capable of solving my wife's problem.
I thought he was making fun of me.
I seriously thought about getting up and leaving right then...
And that's when he opened a brown box that had a Tibetan prayer flag tied around it.
I got curious, because I saw he was actually serious...
When he opened it, he took out 6 different herbs, crushed them one by one, and handed me a mixture of local herbs called Gurukosensu.
And he explained that all Ashley needed to do was put the herb powder under her tongue, along with a pinch of pure pink salt, and drink a glass of warm water once a day, before breakfast.
At first, I thought it was a joke — some kind of mystical ritual that was going to drug my wife.
After all, how could a mixture of pink salt and a few herbs be capable of reversing years of type 2 diabetes?
But since it was natural and posed no risk, I decided to try it.
For the first three days, I'll admit I didn't notice any change in Ashley.
The blood sugar tests hovered around 140 fasting.
It felt like the diabetes was making fun of us.
I insisted my wife keep taking it.
Until on the seventh day, some strange things started happening to her...
First, she stopped feeling weak.
Then that excessive thirst — like she was living in a desert — finally disappeared.
And the best effect was that she barely had to get up at night anymore to go to the bathroom.
All of this was a great sign that we should keep going with the treatment.
On the 12th day, I noticed her glucose levels — which used to be around 157 when she woke up — were now stable at 110 mg/dL.
She felt lighter and had more energy.
She even told me she felt like she was in her early 20s again.
For the first time in many years, she wasn't anxious about checking her glucose.
And we felt like the scoreboard in the battle against diabetes was finally turning.
After 20 days, the wound on her leg started healing like the body of any other ordinary person.
I just couldn't believe it.

The whole thing felt like an illusion.
My grandfather even teased me about it:
"See, you stubborn kid?
You should have listened to Dr. Lobsang sooner!"
Until a month later, my wife's post-meal glucose was around 110 — the most stable we'd seen in years!
And the wound on her leg was completely healed.
That handful of natural herbs called Gurukosensu mixed with native pink salt was healing my wife in a way that no traditional medical treatment, costing thousands of dollars, had ever accomplished.
Seeing her results, I was confused...
As happy as I was, I couldn't believe everything that was happening.
I wanted to understand why that herbal formula worked, while the medications she had been using never had the same effect.
I needed more answers...

[NARRATOR — TRANSITION]

He had seen the impossible healing, the stabilized glucose, his wife's life returning to normal. But there was still one question burning like a branding iron: why did that work... and the billion-dollar drugs didn't?
What seemed like a miracle was hiding a dark biological code, buried for decades.
And the answer, given by a doctor in the shadows of the Himalayas, was about to dismantle everything our doctor believed about diabetes.

[] Unique Mechanism of the Problem

So I went after Dr. Pema and asked for an explanation.
And I asked him: "Why the hell do these herbs work so well to treat diabetes?"
And what he told me... completely changed the way I see diabetes.
These were his exact words:
Good habits and intense exercise aren't enough. And they're not the real cause of long-term blood sugar instability either.
People can eat well, exercise, and still struggle to control their glucose.
And if they stop those habits for one week, the levels skyrocket again.
You know why?
Because diet and physical activity only temporarily mask the hyperglycemia.
They don't treat the true root of diabetes: the Pancreatic Fungus, a silent invader that lodges itself inside the pancreas, eats away at the beta cells, and sabotages insulin production. This fungus acts like internal mold, rotting the organ little by little until it can no longer regulate glucose.
At that very moment, my mind went "boom"...
I remembered my daughter's autopsy...

That strange white tissue the doctors showed in her pancreas, saying it was just a consequence of the diabetes... was actually the clue to the real cause.

I was speechless...

It was as if the universe had connected all the dots in my mind, and I was finally seeing a light at the end of the tunnel.

A tear actually slipped from my eye, and I asked, still in a state of confusion, for Dr. Pema to explain more.

[NARRATOR]

That's when he revealed everything:

The failure doesn't start because you ate too many sweets, or because you inherited the disease from your family.

It starts when the Pancreatic Fungus silently infiltrates the organ.

[EXPERT]

This fungus takes advantage of excess glucose in the blood and the acidic environment created by the modern lifestyle to enter the bloodstream and lodge itself in the pancreas.

There, it sets in like hidden mold, forming invisible colonies and beginning to spread.

Its main target is the beta cells — the ones responsible for keeping the pancreas working and regulating insulin.

Day after day, the fungus eats away at these cells, destroys what's already there, and prevents natural regeneration.

And what's even scarier: as it grows, it releases toxic fragments, defective and mutant cells that increase the risk of pancreatic cancer.

In other words, on top of sabotaging the pancreas and glucose regulation, the Pancreatic Fungus plants a silent cancer that can develop over the years.

It's because of this fungus that insulin stops working.

Glucose accumulates, and the pancreas gets rotted from the inside...

Until the entire body enters silent collapse.

[NARRATOR]

The result?

Exactly what we see in millions of patients every year:

uncontrollable blood sugar, fatigue, excessive thirst, tingling, infections, wounds that won't heal.

Look here...

It's like when you see a piece of bread forgotten in the kitchen.

On the outside, it looks almost normal... but on the inside, the mold has already taken over, creating an invisible web that silently rots everything.

You can cut away the visible part, but the roots stay there, spreading deeper and deeper.

The Pancreatic Fungus acts exactly like that: it slowly infiltrates, occupies every space, and eats away at the cells responsible for controlling your glucose.

And when you notice the signs on the outside... on the inside, the damage is already underway.

[EXPERT]

So pay close attention...

If you have type 2 diabetes and you feel tingling, frequent hunger, constant thirst, sudden glucose spikes, constant urge to urinate, extreme fatigue, blurred vision, wounds that take forever to heal, unexplained weight loss, recurring infections, itchy skin, irritability, pain in your legs or feet, or difficulty concentrating...

That's a sign that your pancreas is infested with the Pancreatic Fungus, and it's molding more by the minute...

Your pancreas isn't working correctly anymore, and your beta cells aren't being produced the way they should.

It's as if your body has entered silent death mode.

Even with diet and medication, it doesn't respond at all.

You keep doing everything right, but the glucose levels keep climbing.

And that's where the real problem lies:

None of the conventional treatments address the root cause of type 2 diabetes...

They smother the symptoms!

Let me explain better...

Basically, they inject artificial versions of certain hormones, like semaglutide and tirzepatide, which try to mimic the natural beta cell production of the pancreas.

It's like putting makeup on a deep wound without treating the infection.

There's no point in pretending the wound isn't there.

You have to treat it from the inside out.

Have you noticed that even after following all your doctor's recommendations — medications, exercise, and diet — your glucose is still high?

That happens because the mechanism that controls sugar in your body simply stopped working... The pancreas.

And that's the part nobody told you.

It's not your fault.

But it's going to be your responsibility to keep believing that the problem is your diet or being sedentary.

The root of the problem is the infestation of the Pancreatic Fungus, which rots your pancreas and prevents it from regulating your glucose levels...

And that's why this Himalayan ritual achieved what no other treatment has been able to achieve to this day.

Because the only way to solve this is to eliminate the Pancreatic Fungus and restore your pancreas's beta cells.

And until you do something, your pancreas is going to keep rotting.

It's like a fruit basket — the moment one starts to rot, all the others start rotting along with it.

And the only way to keep them all from rotting is to remove every single one that has fungus. That's exactly what this powerful ritual does to your pancreas.

Look here...

In 2024 alone, more than 6 million people died because of diabetes — the result of the prolonged effects of blood sugar instability and chronic insulin resistance from the malfunction of the pancreas.

[NARRATOR — TRANSITION]

Now you understand what really happens inside your body.

But the question nobody dares to answer keeps echoing: if science already knows that the Pancreatic Fungus is the root of the problem... why the hell do the medications keep attacking only the symptoms?

The answer isn't in biology — it's in the dirty game played by the big industries.

And when you see what they do in the shadows... you're going to feel the same outrage that thousands of families have already felt after losing the people they loved most.

[] Conspiracy — Common Enemy

[EXPERT]

And if you're like me...

Now maybe you're asking yourself:

Why are diabetes medications so expensive if they don't eliminate the Pancreatic Fungus and regenerate the pancreas — which is the only thing that matters?

And the answer might shock you...

Most solutions for glucose control only focus on raising insulin levels or masking some supposed improvement in insulin resistance.

Let me explain it to you very simply:

It's as if, in a war, they sent soldiers to fight with ammunition that lasts 6 to 8 hours...

Against an invisible enemy with an army and infinite ammunition.

How do you think that battle is going to end?

You know the answer.

It's an endless cycle.

[NARRATOR]

You take pills and shots every 8 hours to try to control the symptoms.

But the real cause keeps living inside you: your pancreas is exhausted, and it can't regulate your blood sugar.

These medications just trick you, making it look like your glucose dropped.

But the body's natural mechanism keeps failing, leading you to need another dose hours later.

[EXPERT]

For a long time, I was banging my head against the wall over all of this, and I came to an obvious conclusion:

It might sound bizarre...

But these big companies want you to stay sick.

You know why?

Because the more you suffer with diabetes, the more you spend on metformin, insulin, Ozempic, Mounjaro, and other expensive medications that only last a month.

It's a vicious cycle that keeps you trapped, without ever treating the root of the problem.

Meanwhile, the big pharmaceutical companies profit off your disease.

I hope you don't take this the wrong way...

But do these companies actually value your life and your health, or do they just see you as one more number?

Look...

Unfortunately, the educational institutions in the West only teach us to treat the symptoms of diseases — not to cure them.

So as much as doctors want to help, they weren't trained to do that — they only know how to muffle the symptoms of diseases.

It's as if at medical schools that cost hundreds of thousands of dollars, they taught us to mop up an ocean.

And nobody questions why this is...

As long as you have glucose problems, you'll keep spending money on medications.

While you suffer, somebody is getting rich right now.

And few people realize this, but the disease market is the most profitable in the world.

Novo Nordisk, the company responsible for Ozempic and Wegovy.

Brought in over 18 billion dollars in just the first three months of 2025.

They saw that the product became a phenomenon, and now they're raising prices more and more.

Diabetes is one of the three biggest causes of death in the world, and also one of the most lucrative income sources for the pharmaceutical industry.

And the truth is, the industry prefers to keep people chronically sick rather than search for a definitive cure.

Their real goal is to control the disease, not eliminate it.

You get it?

And remember, I'm saying this not just as an American citizen who lost his daughter, but as a doctor who knows what happens behind the scenes...

Especially because, with all this technological advancement of the last few decades, do you really think these industries are incapable of developing something that ends diabetes?

Of course they can.

But if they did, who would keep paying them thousands of dollars a month?

[NARRATOR]

And the worst part of all...

Is that on top of selling products that don't actually help...

They block the development of therapies that could naturally reactivate beta cell production in the pancreas.

And whenever a new treatment possibility comes up, they spread news saying it's ineffective or that it's some kind of fake news.

[EXPERT]

After all, like I've been saying...

Definitively curing diabetes isn't an interesting business model for them.

They don't care about your well-being — they only care about profit.

It would make so much more sense if these medications wiped out the Pancreatic Fungus, regenerated the pancreas, and regulated the body's natural insulin production.

That way, diabetics could finally live free from this damn disease that's been taking lives.

And they would even prevent the development of complications like pancreatic cancer and sudden cardiac arrest, just like what happened to my daughter.

But the answer is simple, and anyone can understand it:

Yes, that would be the most logical thing to do, but they choose not to.

That's why you've never heard about this anywhere else.

And because I picked a fight against this giant pharmaceutical industry, I've been threatened many times.

My website gets taken down practically every single day.

And I frequently notice people spying on me in the street.

That's how they operate:

They spread fear and use money to silence anyone who really wants to help.

But I'm not afraid.

I already lost my daughter because of them, and I helped treat my wife.

My commitment is to help as many people as possible, even if it costs me my freedom.

And that's why the only place where you're going to find someone talking about how to remove the Pancreatic Fungus and regulate your blood sugar levels naturally is right here!

Today, I travel the world giving talks about everything I'm telling you here.

So if you've made it this far, it's probably because this disease that destroyed my family is also affecting your life.

And I want to congratulate you for wanting to change that.

You're about to discover how to do this simple Himalayan ritual that, in 2025 alone, has already helped more than 5,000 families around the world.

And it's going to transform your life too.

I'm sure of it!

[NARRATOR — TRANSITION]

After losing a daughter and almost losing a wife, he discovered something that could no longer be hidden.

What you're about to hear is the reason thousands of families have already seen their bodies recover... and why maybe, for the first time, there is a real way out for you too.

[] Solution Mechanism

[EXPERT]

I'm going to explain to you now why this treatment is capable of restoring your body and ending diabetes once and for all:

While medications, pills, and injections only fight superficial symptoms that last a few hours and require constant application...

This compound acts in a completely different way.

It's made from natural ingredients that act directly on the pancreas, starting a process of regenerating the beta cells and eliminating the fungal infestation that has silently lodged itself in your body.

With that, the compound corrects the body's own glucose-control system and reverses the damage caused over the years or decades.

In other words, the more beta cells your body produces, the better your pancreas functions, and the better it functions, the more your insulin starts regulating again — and the resistance starts to disappear...

As a consequence, glucose stabilizes completely.

Reaching levels like 95 mg/dL fasting.

Letting you finally eat what you want, when you want, without worrying about checking your glucose afterwards...

And finally being able to go to the doctor without fearing that every appointment is a possible sentence.

According to what Dr. Pema explained to me, the pink salt combined with the Gurukosensu is made with six specific herbs. Each herb, on its own, already brings important benefits to the body:

- * Completely eliminates the Pancreatic Fungus within a few weeks of use.
- * Reactivates the production of beta cells in your body, just like in the days when you were 20 years old.
- * Helps the pancreas go back to producing insulin naturally. Putting an end to diabetic pancreas syndrome.

- * Improves insulin sensitivity

- * Restores metabolism deeply
- * And even, as crazy as it sounds, helps with natural fat burning.

When consumed once a day for at least 10 days, the oxidative effects on the kidneys start to reverse, improving kidney function.

Almost immediately, about 80% of people who use the compound report relief from body pain and inflammation.

It also acts on the neurological system, thanks to the presence of astragalus root, which helps reduce symptoms of anxiety and depression.

After 15 days, women notice relief from menopause hot flashes, thanks to Wild Yash, a natural hormonal regulator.

Wounds that used to take a long time to heal — like the ones my wife had — stop being a problem after 20 days of use.

That's thanks to the Solomon's Seal plant in the formula, which has been used for over 2,000 years to heal ulcers.

Some of my patients had hypertension, and the powerful ritual with pink salt and Gurukosensu was able to regulate their blood pressure to levels comparable to Losartan.

The blurred vision that used to torment many of them also stopped being a problem.

Although it doesn't replace the use of glasses, the compound corrects that persistent fog in your vision that doesn't go away with any common medication.

Although the first effects are noticed within a few days, continuous treatment is essential to maintain control and really put an end to diabetes — and prevent it from coming back into your life forever.

[TESTIMONIAL — 60-YEAR-OLD WOMAN]

I thought I would never feel the energy to play with my grandchildren again.

Before, any 10-minute walk would leave me exhausted.

After Dr. Tenzin's ritual with pink salt, I started waking up lighter, without that high-glucose hangover.

Today, I can take my grandchildren to the park without fearing I'll feel sick.

Just imagining this months ago... it seemed impossible.

[TESTIMONIAL — 50-YEAR-OLD MAN]

I didn't want my kids to grow up remembering a tired dad lying on the couch.

When I started Dr. Tenzin's ritual, my body responded slowly... until one day I realized: my glucose wasn't spiking after lunch anymore.

Now I can run around with them in the backyard.

They don't know it, but every laugh of theirs is proof that I made the right decision.

[TESTIMONIAL — 76-YEAR-OLD WOMAN]

I spent years believing my life would just be medications and appointments.

But when I heard about the pink salt ritual, something lit up inside me.

I followed it to the letter... and I realized my vision wasn't blurring anymore in the late afternoon.

I went back to sewing, to reading my books without that anguish.

It's like I got back the small joys I had already buried.

[EXPERT]

Now you might be asking yourself:

If this compound is so effective, why isn't it readily available out there?

I need to be honest with you...

The truth is that the ingredients in Gurukosensu are extremely difficult to find in their pure form. And when they are found, the cost is so high that most people wouldn't be able to keep up the treatment long enough to see the results.

[] Product Buildup

And that's why, after seeing the life transformation in my wife.

And thinking about how much it could have helped in my daughter's treatment, and even saved her life — I made a decision...

The decision that I would do everything possible to make this treatment accessible, to help as many people as possible who suffer with Diabetes and are tired of decades of treatments that never actually solve the problem.

The mission to make this pink salt and Gurukosensu ritual accessible to the largest number of people.

When I came back from the Himalayas to the United States, with my wife Ashley completely transformed, the first thing I did was call the patients at my clinic and convince them to test this compound.

I chose 10 patients in different stages of diabetes, with varying ages.

The youngest was Michael, 35 years old.

The oldest, Robert, 87.

And as different as their ages were, they had one thing in common...

They both believed it would be impossible to permanently get rid of diabetes.

But there was one small problem with this whole treatment...

I didn't expect the high cost of importing the herbs and the complexity of the required documentation.

The treatment for each patient ended up costing $5,000, with an average delivery time of 30 days.

So I made a tough decision: I sold my car and invested $50,000 of my own money to cover the treatment for these 10 patients.

After all, my mission to help as many people as possible depended on it.

The first week was challenging.

The bitter taste of the herbs made some of them think about quitting.

But since they were already feeling some benefits, they all decided to continue.

After three weeks, what I had been waiting for happened:

I still remember to this day the emotion I felt...

All 10 patients — despite the differences in age, diet, and routine — reached the same results!

I checked each one's glucose:

None had higher than 95 fasting and 130 after meals.

After witnessing that, I knew I was facing one of the biggest revolutions science could see.

But now, I needed to find a way to make the treatment accessible to all of my patients.

And at the time, I had about 600 patients under my care, and repeating what I did for the first 10 was impossible.

And if I were to multiply $5,000 by 600 patients, it would cost almost $3 million — an amount I had no way of covering.

So I gathered all the patients in a seminar and told them everything I'm telling you now.

I talked about the experience of the 10 patients who tested the treatment, and how Gurukosensu was the only real solution for type 2 diabetes remission.

Everyone agreed to participate.

And since this time there were a lot more people, I was able to reduce the treatment cost from $5,000 to $2,000 for a full year.

Without exception, everyone decided to pay that amount.

After all, nobody would think twice about investing in their own health, right?

Two weeks after they started, I began receiving dozens of messages with emotional reports.

[TESTIMONIAL OLIVIA]

"Hi everyone, Olivia speaking here.

I spent years eating in fear, controlling everything, and even so, my tests just kept getting worse.

Even fasting, my blood sugar would hit 183.

Until one day Dr. Tenzin invited me to the seminar and presented the treatment.

At first, I didn't really believe in it, even though he had been my doctor for years.

But after seeing all the research and the seriousness of the lab, I decided to try.

Today, I feel like I've been given a new chance to live.

My glucose is great — and I can even eat a slice of cake with my grandchildren."

[TESTIMONIAL STEVE]

"Hey, my name is Steve, and my story goes like this: I was about to lose a finger because of a wound that just wouldn't heal.

The diabetes was consuming me to the point where I forgot who I was.

I barely had the strength to work anymore.

I felt like a failure as a father and husband.

After I met Dr. Tenzin and this pink salt treatment, it was like flipping a switch.

The wound closed, my glucose went back to normal, and I got my energy to live back. These days, I recommend it to everyone who's going through what I went through."

[expert]

And the messages didn't stop coming.

One after another.

This compound wasn't just controlling diabetes superficially.

It was restoring the body's natural system, eliminating the Pancreatic Fungus...

Reactivating beta cell production and restoring pancreas function.

It was bringing a new life to all the people who tested it.

With more lightness, without having to keep getting injections, without having to feel afraid every time they left the house.

My patients were finally living normal lives, no longer needing monthly check-ups. And seeing those people going back to their normal lives, without suffering, without fear, and without agony, was the greatest reward I could ever receive in my life.

I closed my clinic in San Francisco.

I gave up all of my income.

But that opened bigger doors.

And it completely transformed my life.

What I didn't expect was that this journey would lead me to give talks all over the world, living with one single purpose: to share the truth about diabetes.

After getting undeniable results with the Himalayan compound of pure pink salt and Gurukosensu, and finally seeing hundreds of testimonials from patients who reversed the disease, I knew I needed to spread this solution to more people who suffer with diabetes. Every day, my inbox was flooded with messages asking how much that compound cost and how people could buy it.

And to my surprise, hundreds of people were willing to pay the $2,000 my first patients had paid.

And I was certain this discovery couldn't stay only with me and a handful of patients. I needed to find a way to help more people who, just like my wife and my daughter, were silently suffering with diabetes.

So I decided to study the components of this Himalayan ritual more deeply, to find some way to help as many people as possible.

The problem was that the small amount I had was almost gone.

So I reached out to my contact again and secured a larger supply of this special formula, to study every detail and confirm how it could directly support the function of the pancreas and the vitality of the beta cells.

I partnered with a highly specialized lab to bring the entire formula together into a 100% natural and easy-to-use compound.

There were over 2 months practically caged inside the lab, testing combinations of the components in different quantities, and countless failed attempts.

Finally, we made it — we found the exact combination that completely eliminated the Pancreatic Fungus and restored beta cell production in the pancreas.

I was so excited!

Because I was the only American with a fully natural solution that didn't depend on Big Pharma being in control.

And it was the perfect time to share this formula with as many people as possible.

But before bringing it to the public, I needed to make sure this formula would work for everyone — including those who had already tried everything and failed.

That's why I organized a clinical study with over 6,000 volunteers.

Men and women, of all ages, different family histories, varied BMIs, people with sky-high fasting glucose and people living off pricked fingers and the fear of hypos.

The idea was simple: prove that this works without exception.

Each participant received enough bottles and was instructed to take one capsule upon waking, every day, before breakfast, and one capsule before bed.

The results came in absurdly fast.

And they were better than I had imagined.

The average drop in fasting glucose was two decimal places lower; most saw stable curves on the very same day, and a progressive reduction in spikes in the following weeks.

In real-life terms: more constant energy, the end of that afternoon slump, deep sleep, stable mood, and the feeling of taking command of their own body again.

The reports kept repeating: less tingling, less unstoppable thirst, fewer nighttime trips to the bathroom, more well-behaved blood pressure, and a pancreas that was clearly responding again.

Many described something they hadn't felt in years: peace when looking at the meter.

For the first time, a formula showed broad response, with no theoretical exceptions.

And what surprised me most was who responded fastest: precisely those who had struggled the most in the past — people who dieted, fasted, used insanely expensive medications, changed their workout, switched supplements, and still lived on a glucose roller coaster.

With the treatment we'd put together, they didn't just improve: they completely transformed into younger people.

In short: those who had been collecting frustrations were able to stabilize faster and maintain that stability using the formula.

The reason is direct: when you wake up the beta cells, the pancreas comes out of panic mode and your glucose stops sabotaging you all day long.

And the definition I heard most was this: "Complete life change."

It's not a license for going overboard at the dinner table — it's psychological freedom.

It's peace to eat with confidence, without the paranoia of an immediate spike.

It's getting back to planning your day without revolving around a number on a meter.

It's finally being able to go to the doctor without fearing the diagnosis.

That's what happens when you stop fighting with food and start reviving your pancreas.

The only thing they did was take two doses every day — one before breakfast and another after dinner.

That reactivates beta cell production.

And it ends the Pancreatic Fungus.

Then that's it — life back in control.

No needles, no expensive medications, and certainly no unnecessary appointments.

This is my life's work.

The name of this compound is Glucosense.

It's the only product on the market with Himalayan ingredients capable of reactivating beta cell production and regenerating the pancreas naturally.

It's not just a glucose regulator.

It reactivates the system that controls blood sugar in your body, restoring hormonal production, promoting deep metabolic rebalancing, and protecting the function of your pancreas.

After this system is restored, continuing to use the compound is essential — because it revitalizes the cardiovascular system and the kidneys, increases your daily energy, and significantly improves blood circulation, ensuring you go back to living a normal life.

And don't worry:

You're going to receive a complete guide to optimize your use of Glucosense.

This manual includes detailed treatment instructions, the ideal times to take it, and everything you should avoid for the best results.

Glucosense is FDA-approved, and because it's 100% natural, it poses no risk to your health. More than a treatment, it's the only natural way to eliminate the Pancreatic Fungus, reverse type 2 diabetes symptoms, and prevent serious complications down the road, like pancreatic cancer. This natural compound is a direct attack on the corrupt practices of modern medicine, freeing you from the chains of a system that profits from your disease.

Choosing Glucosense today is the best decision — not just to control diabetes, but to eliminate it once and for all, allowing your pancreas to go back to functioning normally.

And to make your experience of controlling diabetes even better, I have a special surprise for you.

We know that diabetes and other health conditions affect several aspects of your life — from blood pressure and cholesterol to metabolic balance and body weight.

That's why we enriched the Glucosense formula with Himalayan spices, offering additional benefits at no extra cost.

This special bonus was created to take care of multiple areas of your life that we know have been affected by diabetes.

The special formula includes ingredients that:

- * Balance blood pressure
- * Promote healthy and efficient blood circulation

This bonus is essential for the health of your heart, giving you the chance to live a long, healthy life with full control of your blood pressure.

On top of that, you'll get support to reduce bad cholesterol (LDL) and raise good cholesterol (HDL).

This balance is fundamental for keeping your heart and blood vessels in great condition.

Our formula also helps regulate blood sugar levels and combat insulin resistance — critical factors for those who live with diabetes or are at risk of developing it.

This bonus is a powerful ally in maintaining metabolic balance and overall health.

And it doesn't stop there...

On top of taking care of your heart and metabolism, our special formula also helps with weight loss, helping you reach and maintain a healthy weight naturally.

Well, now that you've seen my life's work, and understood how it has truly been saving thousands of people from Diabetes...

[] Offer

You might be asking, "but how much is this going to cost?"

Before answering you, I have a question for you!

What would it be worth to you to live with stable glucose every day, without fear of sudden spikes or drops?

Knowing you've completely eliminated the Pancreatic Fungus and your pancreas is back to normal...

That your beta cells are active again, responding naturally...
Feeling constant energy from sunrise to nightfall...
Sleeping peacefully without fearing hypoglycemia...
Living without that insatiable thirst, without the crushing fatigue, without the brain fog that steals your life.
What is all of that worth to you?
Look here...
Indicators show that Americans spend an average of more than $12,000 a year on hospital bills. And a large portion of those expenses come from complications linked to diabetes — like high blood pressure, overworked kidneys, fragile heart, painful neuropathy, and Alzheimer's. On top of that, we still have the costs of medications, glucose tests, appointments, and the constant anxiety of not knowing what the next number on the meter will be. Do you understand that uncontrolled glucose isn't just a health problem...
But also a problem that bleeds your wallet, your peace, and your freedom dry?
So, how much would you be willing to pay to live completely free from the prison of unstable glucose?
On top of all the savings that controlling diabetes brings to your life...
There's something even bigger: freedom.
The freedom to sit at the table with your family without fearing every bite.
To leave the house without carrying the dread of a crisis in the middle of the day.
To plan trips, moments, dreams, without depending on the mood of your glucose.
To play with your kids or grandkids without getting exhausted in minutes.
To wake up knowing that your body isn't against you, but finally on your side.
All of this, obviously, is priceless.
So, when you feel the difference of having a normal pancreas again...
With no fungus.
When you experience the peace of seeing stable numbers on the meter day after day...
And when you realize how this change transforms every other aspect of your life...
You're going to notice that the price doesn't matter.
And that you'd pay any amount to have a life like this.
After all, controlling diabetes isn't just about numbers on a meter...
It's about staying healthy to support your family.
It's about setting the right example for your children and grandchildren.
It's about showing that you love yourself enough to refuse to live as a hostage to a diagnosis.
So, with all of that in mind...
The only question left is: what would it be worth to you to live free from uncontrolled glucose forever?
That's why it would be fair to charge $2,000 — which was the initial amount for the first patients...
I could charge $1,000...
Or even $500 for Glucosense.
But you'll be happy to know that you won't have to pay anywhere near that.
Because, as I've said, the reason I'm here today isn't to fill my pockets.

My personal purpose is to see as many people as possible with their glucose under control, living without fear of a meter, without spikes that ruin the day, without the shadow of complications.

I'm not doing this for me — I'm doing this for my wife and my daughter, who suffered for years. After all, I've already achieved stability in my career.

I don't need money.

What I want, what drives me, is to put this formula in the hands of every person who feels like their body has betrayed them, and to show them there is still a way out.

And I don't want the price to be an obstacle to that.

That's why I fought to make Glucosense as accessible as possible.

And believe me: it wasn't easy.

Because what makes this formula so effective is precisely the absurd quality of bringing every ingredient from the Himalayas and the meticulous preparation of each ingredient — and that's expensive.

But I made it happen.

Originally, the Glucosense treatment was sold for $250 per bottle, due to the complexity of obtaining the ingredients directly from the Zaskar region of the Himalayas.

Production is very limited, which means we don't have stock for everyone.

But to make this accessible to anyone looking for a healthier life free from diabetes, I decided to do something incredible just for today:

I'm not going to charge $250 per bottle, like my patients recently paid.

In fact, I want to make this offer I'm about to give you even better...

That's why, on top of the bottle of Glucosense, I'm going to give you a special gift!

Below this video, you'll see how many people are watching at the same time.

That's why the first 30 people who buy the treatment are going to receive a kit with the Dexcom G6, along with the monitoring sensor.

That's right:

You're going to receive the complete Dexcom kit, if you're among the first 30 to buy as soon as the button is activated.

And right now, many people are watching this presentation, and I'm sure they're all ready to change their lives.

But we have a big problem: there are only 153 bottles of Glucosense left available.

In a few moments, a button is going to appear below this video.

If the button is green, you still have time.

But if it's red, unfortunately the stock has run out.

Time is running out.

Either you act now... or you'll be condemning yourself to a life of glucose spikes.

Because the price, for the first time, will not be $250 per bottle.

The price will not be $200, or even $100.

We're offering three treatment options for you to choose from:

Pick the one that best fits your needs.

All of them come with a 60-day guarantee.

It doesn't matter if you use all the bottles.

If you don't see results, we refund your investment.

And no matter which option you choose, if you're among the first 30 buyers, you'll still receive the Dexcom G6 monitoring kit, valued at over $1,000.

The first option is two bottles — the minimum recommended duration to start the treatment, eliminate the Pancreatic Fungus, get back to producing beta cells, and regenerate your pancreas.

With this option, each bottle costs only $79, with a small shipping fee.

Now, the option with three bottles, which would be three months of treatment. That timeframe ensures you restore the body's blood-sugar control system and recover the damage done to the pancreas over the years.

Each bottle comes out to only $69, and shipping is free.

The third option, with six bottles, is the one I recommend for most of my patients.

It was made specifically for those who are in a more advanced stage of the disease, just like my wife was.

This option also reduces the chances of cancer by up to 99.3%, as well as a complete pancreas collapse, and offers full support for hormonal restoration.

The longer you use it, the lower the risk.

Unfortunately, I don't have enough stock to serve every diabetic patient.

If you want to secure a larger amount to keep at home, this is your only chance.

And you know what's even better?

The price drops even further: only $49 per bottle — that's a $960 discount.

A lot of people are counterfeiting my treatment, and this is the only official place where you'll have access to this real opportunity.

These prices are limited exclusively to this page, because obtaining these pure herbs from the Himalayas is extremely expensive, and I can't keep these prices up for long.

Our success rate is over 97%.

But if you're not satisfied with the purchase for any reason — whether you didn't get the desired results, or you simply didn't take a single capsule — you can cancel at any time, with no red tape.

After purchase, our support team will get in touch within minutes to answer any questions you might have.

And as I said before: if you're among the first 30 buyers, you're going to receive a confirmation email with all the necessary information to receive your order, along with the Dexcom G6 kit.

It's very simple to use — you just need to take one capsule before breakfast and repeat the dose after dinner, always with a glass of warm water.

In just a few weeks, that'll be enough for you to start feeling all the benefits I've mentioned so far.

Now, if you close this video, it's like signing your own sentence.

Your pancreas is already compromised, your hormones are deactivated...

And if you don't act now, the next complication could be irreversible.

You're standing in front of an opportunity that few people get access to.

This is a unique chance to transform your health with an investment far smaller than any traditional treatment.

The time to act is now, before the offer ends and the bottles run out.

Unfortunately, there is no forecast for new stock.

Remember: these offers are for a limited time.

As soon as the button below turns red, the treatment will be taken off the air.

Don't miss this unique chance right in front of your eyes.

This is the best opportunity to wipe out, once and for all, the root of the problem that — before watching this video — you didn't even know existed.

The moment to act is now, before all the bottles run out.

Make the decision that's going to change your life for the better.

By clicking the button below, you'll be redirected to my page, where you'll need to choose between the three options:

two, three, or six bottles.

After that, you'll be taken to our payment system — a 100% secure and encrypted page.

Which uses the same data security system as major companies like Amazon, Apple, and some banks.

So, you can rest easy because your information will have maximum security in there.

Just like you're seeing on the screen, all you need to fill in is:

- * Full name

- * Email

- * Correct address, so we can send your order as fast as possible

And then, just choose your payment method:

Either credit card or PayPal.

But remember, only a few bottles are left, and the button below this video will probably turn red in a few minutes.

And your chance to live without worrying about your glucose.

Your chance to be an example of health for your children and grandchildren.

Your chance to live the rest of your life with lightness, and without fear...

Will be gone.

So, if the button below is still green, there are still bottles available at a discount.

But if it's red, that means the offer is over, and Glucosense will go back to its original price of $250 per bottle.

The moment is now.

We're offering more than $950 in discounts, so you have the real chance to change your life.

Get back to enjoying your favorite foods, family lunches, for just $49 per bottle, with the six-month treatment.

You're one click away from completely changing your life.

I'm sure this is the decision that will bring pride and quality to your future.

Choose your ideal package now and start your transformation.

[] Closing

And as I had said, I advise you to choose the 6-bottle option.

In my opinion, it's the smartest decision.

Think about how your life changes when your glucose is stable for the next 6 months, with the pancreas responding in the morning and the beta cells active every day.

That's what you really need.

In the first few weeks, your pancreas will eliminate approximately 30% of the Pancreatic Fungus.

The glucose curve starts to drop.

The brain fog will disappear, and your energy will fully come back to what it was before you started suffering with diabetes.

One capsule when you wake up, another before bed, and that's it — your pancreas will already be regulating your glucose the right way.

By the sixth week...

You're already feeling the routine under control:

You'll look at the meter without getting a scare.

You'll have meals without fearing what could happen afterwards.

And you'll finally have deeper sleep.

You go back to eating the food you love without paranoia about feeling sick in the middle of the day.

Your entire family will start telling you things like: "you look different... lighter... more alive."

You look at yourself in the mirror and recognize someone who's in command of their own body, not someone who's controlled by diabetes.

When that happens, you'll finally start making plans in your life again...

You go out without carrying fear in your pocket, you stop negotiating with guilt at every bite, and the self-confidence that the loss of control stole starts coming back.

By the end of the third month using Glucosense, the change is even bigger...

Your glucose is predictable.

You know that fasting it won't go above 105!

Your body sustains energy all day.

Your skin shows that the stress is gone.

Your head functions like a young adult — with focus, mood, and stability.

That insistent little ache in your joints and back finally lets up because the body has come off the inflammation roller coaster from the glucose.

And you live with more health, more breath, more freedom.

That's because, on top of being the only protocol created to wake up beta cells and pull the pancreas out of failure mode early on, Glucosense helps the body get out of chaos, reduces the daily load, and gives back the feeling of real control of your own body.

With no food torture, without enslaving yourself to impossible routines, and without having to feed the pharmaceutical industry system that lives off profiting from your disease.

But look, you need to act fast.

We have 153 bottles in this batch.

And there are a lot of people watching this video with you right now.

Most of them understood that the 6-bottle option is the smartest for real stability.

A good portion will pick that option.

Others will go for 3 bottles.

And some will go with 1 to start with.

Do you really think this stock will last until the end of the day?

If you were thinking about leaving it for later, I'm sorry to tell you...

There is no "second chance."

There is no "I'll deal with it later."

It's now or never.

Either you take advantage of this window to switch your pancreas on every morning and stabilize your glucose for good...

Or tomorrow you'll wake up with that tightness in your chest of someone who let slip the only step that actually changed their life.

You know exactly what I'm talking about.

If you don't act now, that's the feeling that's going to bite you.

Today I opened up my story and showed you the path.

Now it's your turn: select your kit below, confirm your order, and start tomorrow.

I showed you all the scientific proof and studies that confirm what I said is true...

And I revealed the true culprit behind your uncontrolled glucose.

I also talked about the ingredients that act directly on the pancreas and help reactivate the beta cells...

I showed you that Glucosense is the only 100% natural and safe way to make this happen...

And I made the best possible offer so you don't miss this opportunity.

Finally...

I even offered an exclusive 180-day guarantee to eliminate all of your risk.

In practice...

Either you feel your glucose stabilize, your energy come back, and the control of your health be reborn...

Or your money goes 100% back into your pocket.

Simple as that.

I do this because I care.

I know how painful it is to live in fear of the next number on the screen...

How agonizing it is to wake up with no energy, no drive, depending on medications and endless adjustments...

I've seen uncontrolled glucose steal the joy of living from so many people.

And I know it happens to you too.

That's why I worked so hard for you.

Because I know that what I have here really works.

I know that Glucosense really can help you.

I opened your eyes.

But, at this moment, only two paths remain for you.

One path is filled with the same frustration that brought you to this video.

The path where you live in constant fear of the next number on the meter...

Where you don't recognize your own body anymore — always tired and out of energy...

Where you avoid even looking at your tests, while at the same time judging yourself for feeling like you've lost control of your own health.

A path where you have no freedom.
Where you have to choose your meals out of fear of a glucose spike...
Where your nights are interrupted by thirst or insomnia...
Where your strength always seems to be running out, and you worry constantly about the complications that may come.
That, most likely, is the path you're on today.
After all, that's the path that brought you to this video.
But now, you can change it!
You just have to choose the second path.
The path of saying "yes" to Glucosense and securing your supply right now!
Thousands of ordinary people have already chosen this path and are experiencing how different life can be from the smallest change.
Now I invite you to join us to feel what it's like to have your glucose stable without effort...
What it's like to go back to eating with confidence, enjoying moments without fearing every bite, and to love the peace of seeing your body respond again.
All you need to do is select your supply right below now and place your order!
That was the decision Michael, 52 years old, made.
A few weeks ago, he barely had the energy to climb the stairs at home...
And today he sent me a photo smiling, after finishing his first morning walk in years...

[Photo of the Man]

And he told me that, for the first time in a long time, he sat down at the table with his family without fearing what the meal would do to his glucose.
He also sent me a photo of his meter screen, reading 104.
And he told me he hadn't seen a number that stable since he was 30 years old.

[Photo of the Meter]

For me, that's priceless.
And I receive testimonies like these every day in my email.
And I anxiously hope to receive a message like that, from you who are watching this presentation right now too.
And before wrapping up this presentation...
I've received some frequent questions about Glucosense recently...
And I'm going to answer them here:

Question number 1:

"I've been using Glucosense for 2 weeks, and this morning, I checked my glucose and saw it had already dropped over 40 points and the curve was more stable.
Is it normal to have effects this fast?"

* Yes, it's completely normal.

With Glucosense, some people notice curve stability faster.
But, on average, you'll feel consistent stabilization between 2 and 6 weeks.
And don't be alarmed if you respond earlier...
That just means your pancreas has gone back to responding and your beta cells woke up quickly.

Question number 2:

"I thought the delivery time was 7 business days.

Except I bought yesterday and it ended up arriving today. Is this normal?"

* Yes, even though the average time is 7 days, our shipping team tries to send things out as fast as possible; that's why a lot of people end up receiving Glucosense well before the deadline.

Question number 3:

Is it possible to control glucose using Glucosense even without changing my lifestyle?

* Totally. Your lifestyle won't have a major initial influence on the pancreas's response with Glucosense.

Just like in the ritual that inspired our formula, you don't need to change everything all at once if you don't want to.

The only thing you need to do is take one Glucosense capsule daily upon waking.

Because that way, the treatment with Himalayan ingredients will act directly on your body, waking up the beta cells and pulling the pancreas out of failure mode.

With that, your glucose curve tends to stay more stable throughout the day.

Of course, as a doctor, I recommend that you eat healthy foods and exercise regularly. Whether you want to or not, that positively influences your health.

But you don't need to be a slave to that to start stabilizing your glucose. Just Glucosense is enough to start the process.

Question number 4:

I've been taking Glucosense for 4 weeks, and on top of seeing my blood sugar lower and more stable, I've noticed other benefits — like more constant energy, better mood, more behaved blood pressure...

And another thing I noticed was that my libido increased and I have a lot more drive now. This has been doing wonders for my relationship.

Is this some kind of side effect of Glucosense?

* Glucosense has no known side effects. It's 100% natural and can be used safely. What happens is that, by pulling the body out of metabolic stress and restoring the pancreas's response, the body tends to balance out systems that were dysregulated. And that impacts energy, drive, and yes, sex life.

In men, this often translates into improved performance and confidence.

So yes: with Glucosense, on top of seeing stable glucose and more vitality, it's common to notice improvement in your intimate life.

And today, only today on this page...
All of this for a price of just $69 per bottle.
So being honest, it doesn't make sense not to take advantage of this.
After all, an opportunity like this isn't going to come around again...
Because once this promotional stock of 139 bottles is gone...
It will never again be possible to secure Glucosense at such a low price.
So, select your Glucosense supply below right now and place your order!
Thank you so much for watching this presentation all the way through. I'm sure that if you put all the points I presented you onto a scale, you'll know that the right decision is to tap the button below this video while it's still green and secure your treatment with Glucosense.
Your attention means a lot to me.
See you soon, take care!

[FINAL TESTIMONIAL 01] - 61-YEAR-OLD WOMAN

"I cried almost every day because I didn't even have the energy to play with my grandson. He'd come up to me with the ball in his hand, and I'd make excuses because my body just couldn't take it anymore.
After 3 weeks following Dr. Tenzin's ritual with Glucosense, something simple happened, but it changed everything:
I was able to run after him in the backyard without getting dizzy.
In that moment, I realized that glucose was no longer the enemy holding me back.
My son hugged me and said: 'now you're back to being the mom you used to be.'
I went back to being present, alive, with real energy."

[FINAL TESTIMONIAL 02] - 72-YEAR-OLD MAN

"I worked for years as a driver, but I got to the point where I couldn't drive to the grocery store without almost passing out from dizziness because of the glucose. It was humiliating.
With Dr. Tenzin's Glucosense, the first thing that came back was the stability in my body.
One day, at breakfast, I realized I was able to eat in peace, without that cold sweat or my vision going dark.
My wife cried, saying she hadn't seen me like that — calm and normal — in over ten years.
In that instant, I felt like a part of me had come back.
Thank you, Dr. Tenzin."

[FINAL TESTIMONIAL 03] - 48-YEAR-OLD WOMAN

"My husband couldn't even walk to the bakery anymore without stopping three times, sweating cold, and almost falling from the weakness because of the glucose.
I brought Dr. Tenzin's Glucosense as a last resort, without much faith."

By the third week, he came back from the bakery, put the bread on the table, and said: 'I went and came back without stopping a single time.'

It had been years since he'd been able to do something so simple.

That moment gave me hope again.

Today he already walks short distances on his own, and I no longer live with that weight of helplessness in my chest."

[FINAL TESTIMONIAL 04] - 67-YEAR-OLD WOMAN

"I didn't even have the strength to sing happy birthday at family birthdays anymore.

I felt ashamed because everyone expected me to be the lively grandma, and I would just sit there, tired, with my glucose through the roof.

After 1 month following Dr. Tenzin's ritual with Glucosense, something happened that I will never forget: when my grandson came running in with the cake in his hands, I stood up and helped him blow out the candles.

My entire family started crying.

It was as if we had all gotten life back in that instant."

[FINAL TESTIMONIAL 05] - 55-YEAR-OLD WOMAN

"I was at the peak of my career, but the lack of energy and that fog in my head was sabotaging me all the time.

I'd forget meetings, names, lose track of the conversation in the middle of a presentation. I felt useless.

I started Dr. Tenzin's ritual with Glucosense kind of without faith — I just wanted to stop dragging myself through the day.

In less than 20 days, the first thing I noticed was that my head got clear.

The energy came back little by little; the dizziness vanished; I was able to remember details again without having to write everything down.

Today I lead entire meetings with confidence, without depending on papers or asking someone to remind me.

My colleagues even joke: 'Cláudia is back.'

I smile and say: I'm not back... I was reborn."

VSL - INVISIBLE PINK SALT STRUCTURE (original)

[] Lead 01

If, before going to bed tonight, you put just ONE pinch of this strange pink salt trick under your tongue...

...your blood sugar can drop by up to 83 points in a matter of days, as if you were flipping a hidden switch inside your own body, waking up an energy that's been switched off for years.

No needles.

No metformin.

No cutting out the bread you love so much.

No starving yourself like a prisoner.

None of those crazy diets that only leave you worse off.

You can go from terrifying numbers on the meter, like 212...
276...

Even 331, each one like a death sentence flashing red on the screen...

To stable, safe numbers that let you breathe easy for the first time in years, and all of this without having to make some superhuman effort

It's as if your body, tired of fighting against you, finally remembered how to work properly again, naturally, the same way it did when you were in your early twenties and didn't have diabetes!

[CELEBRITY TESTIMONIAL 01]

Everyone asks me how the hell I managed to drop my blood sugar so fast.

Some people think I started using Ozempic or Mounjaro, but I never touched those pens.

What really pulled me back from the brink of collapse was a trick so simple, so cheap, so absurd...

That it sounds like a lie.

A ritual with an ingredient forgotten in your kitchen cabinet: Himalayan pink salt.
It's like Mounjaro...

Only without the needle, without the side effects, and without the risk.

And the best part: without depending on the pharmaceutical industry.

[CELEBRITY TESTIMONIAL 02]

This nightly pink salt ritual was what pulled my body out of "metabolic failure" mode and naturally switched the hormones that control insulin and blood sugar back on.

If I could recommend just one thing for anyone living with type 2 diabetes, it would be this ritual.

[KARDASHIANS TESTIMONIAL]

My mom, my sisters, and I do this every single day.

We put a pinch under our tongue before bed.

And the next morning, blood sugar wakes up stable, no spikes, no scares.

Our bodies started working the way they should.

No more of that blood sugar roller coaster that leaves you dizzy, exhausted, irritated, and always one step closer to the next complication.

[DOCTOR]

This trick is more powerful than any diet, internet protocol, or miracle capsule.

It's like switching off the emergency alarm that's been screaming inside your body for years...

and suddenly, feeling the silence of peace come back.

Because it wakes up two hormones that were practically dormant in your body: GLP-1 and GIP.

These are the exact same hormones that ridiculously expensive injectables like Ozempic and Mounjaro try to imitate with artificial formulas, full of disgusting side effects.

Except now, with this simple pink salt trick, you activate these hormones in a natural, clean, and safe way, right from your home...

Without depending on anyone.

That's what gave my mother her life back when it already seemed too late to treat her type 2 diabetes.

And not just hers...

But the lives of more than 21,500 Americans who saw their glucose plummet, their medications set aside...

And life finally come back

And when I say "life come back," I'm not just talking about pretty numbers on a lab report. It's waking up without the damn thirst.

Without having to prick your finger first thing in the morning.

It's sitting at the table and eating warm bread, cake, even that slice of pizza you always avoided, with no guilt, no fear, no paying the price afterward.

It's looking at people your age and seeing how worn out they are... and smiling on the inside because you, on the contrary, got your energy back, you fit back into that outfit forgotten at the back of your closet.

It's hearing from your doctor, the same one who said you'd be condemned forever: "I don't know how to explain it..."

But your labs are perfect."

It's being able to get results without a gym, without living on salads, without killing yourself with intermittent fasting.

And even better, it's feeling your feet again, seeing clearly, walking light...

All of this without sacrificing a thing.

Without giving up the food you love.

Without changing the routine you already live.

But here's the catch: this video could go down at any moment.

So if you're seeing it now, count yourself lucky and take advantage.

Now you're the one who can break this invisible sentence.

You can be the next one to prove that diabetes no longer controls your life and become an example, admired by the people around you, like friends and family, for having beaten type 2 diabetes naturally.

[CELEBRITY TESTIMONIAL 04]

"At first, I didn't take it seriously.

I figured it was just another internet lie.

But in 30 days of doing the pink salt trick, my glucose dropped from 182 to 97.

I stopped feeling that thirst that made me chug liters of water when I woke up.

And I didn't have to get up at night to pee anymore.
My doctor was in shock.
He said he'd never seen an improvement like this without insulin."

[CELEBRITY TESTIMONIAL 05]

"My glucose was hitting 214 every day.
In 3 weeks using this pink salt trick, it dropped to 107.
I stopped waking up in a cold sweat in the middle of the night, my heart stopped racing, and that unbearable thirst disappeared.
It was like my body finally started listening again."

[DOCTOR]

Imagine starting today...
And in just 21 days, watching those cursed numbers that have been haunting you finally crash down, like someone shut off the siren that never stopped wailing
Watching your hand stop shaking, your vision stop blurring, and the tingling go away.
If you really want to live a free life, and finally feel proud of having beaten the fight against this damn Type 2 Diabetes...
So you never again risk a stroke or cardiac arrest from diabetes, leaving your kids and grandkids behind.
Then...
Close the door, put on your headphones, and pay close attention here...
Because in the next two minutes and fifty-three seconds, I'm going to show you exactly how it's possible to reverse type 2 diabetes naturally, without medications or injections, without expensive treatments, and certainly without any kind of crazy diet.
And it's not just me saying this works...
Since the start of 2025, thousands of people between 25 and 85 years old have been quietly using the pink salt trick.
And the reports are mind-blowing.
In just 7 days, people watched their glucose plummet, without giving up the food they love, without setting foot in a gym
And the reason this happens is brutally simple...
But powerful enough to flip the entire industry upside down.
When you follow the right ritual, with the exact ingredients...
It's like turning the hidden key inside your body to switch off diabetes.
Anyone, even someone who's been carrying diabetes for years, can feel their body responding in the first few days...
As if it's finally no longer a hostage to the disease.
Right in the first few days, the classic symptoms of type 2 start to disappear:
The unbearable thirst that made you chug liters of water at night... vanishes
The endless hunger that turned you into a prisoner of your own plate... is gone.

The crushing fatigue that left you with no strength even to play with your beloved grandkids... gives way to real energy.

And here comes what nobody dares to say...

Glucose finally gets back on track, insulin resistance starts to disappear... and the pancreas — the one they wrote off as dead — finally shows signs of rising from the ashes.

This trick can bury once and for all the fear of waking up blind, of seeing your leg amputated, of living as a slave to needles.

It can be the start of the life you thought you'd never have again.

Real glycemic control.

Without the torture of a suicidal diet.

Without medication poisoning every cell.

And without that daily terror of "when will the next crisis hit?"

You might think it's an exaggeration...

But even celebrities, with access to the best doctors in the world, have secretly adopted this trick.

Not out of vanity, but because they too were on their knees before the needles and the poisons of the industry.

They use it to keep glucose tamed, without metformin, without needles, without destroying themselves from the inside out.

And they do this away from the cameras... because they know: if this truth leaks, the industry's billion-dollar empire crumbles.

 [Celebrity Testimonial]:

"In 30 days, I got back something I thought was lost forever: control over my blood sugar. All thanks to one simple trick with pink salt.

At first, everyone laughed. My family thought I was falling for another internet scam. But today, my labs speak for me. Today, I look back and think: how is this not in every doctor's office? How many lives could already have been saved?"

But let me warn you: this video could disappear at any second.

And if you leave now, you'll probably never see anything related to this pink salt trick on the internet again.

Because what you're about to see is the most dangerous, and most powerful, discovery of the last 20 years against type 2 diabetes.

Proven in the most renowned labs in the world...

And buried under lock and key by the industry that profits off your disease.

This trick activates the same hormones used in drugs like Ozempic and Mounjaro — only straight from the source, without needles, without poison, without begging any doctor for a blessing.

No scalpels.

No chemical drugs.

No begging for a prescription at the pharmacy.

And it doesn't matter your age, your history, or how out of whack your glucose is right now...

In just 7 days, you can feel your body responding, as if a forgotten switch was finally turned on inside you.

[] BODY

Enough stalling because I'm starting to get anxious.

It's time to rip out the truth nobody has the guts to tell.

Welcome to this program...

My name is Dr. Lauren Hart.

And if the industry could, they would have silenced me a long time ago for what I'm about to reveal to you.

I'm a doctor, with a stint at Stanford, but I chose another path: tearing down old dogmas and rewriting how we look at glycemic control and metabolism in type 2 diabetes.

I'm also a specialist in metabolic health, and along with my team, I led a follow-up that resulted in a study with 2,970 volunteers, showing how to bring glucose down in the real world.

Maybe you've seen me in interviews and videos that "vanished" from the air...

Because, when the conversation gets serious, there's always someone hitting the "censor" button, isn't there?

And today you're going to see something that was silenced, hidden, and censored by the industry, and that will never, ever be shown anywhere except in this video.

Only here, in this moment...

And if you blink, you'll miss it.

And if you miss it... you'll keep being a slave to your blood sugar forever.

I'm going to prove that it's possible to crash glucose down in record time.

Without poisons like metformin, without injecting expensive needles like Ozempic or Mounjaro, without diet torture, without slaving away at the gym, and without scalpels.

None of that.

And even so, the result will be so explosive it'll seem like a lie.

What you're about to see is so simple, so absurd, that you're going to feel angry that nobody ever told you about it before.

In this video, I'm going to show you a forbidden, 100% natural trick that uses only pink salt and three simple ingredients.

Just place it under your tongue before bed and your body starts to replicate, on its own, the effects of Mounjaro.

Only without needles, without risk, without prescriptions, activating GLP-1 and GIP as if you'd hacked your own metabolism.

But pay attention: if you leave before the end, you'll lose the only chance to turn this war against diabetes around.

But I have to warn you...

This door isn't going to stay open for long.

And if you don't walk in now, I can't guarantee you'll have another chance tomorrow.

Last week, after I announced on my social media that I would be making this video, I received an email from a mysterious sender telling me to be careful with what I was about to say here.

I believe it's people from the pharmaceutical industry who don't want people to find this out.

They're desperate and afraid for the profits of Ozempic and Mounjaro, so they're trying to silence me at all costs.

I really don't know what they're capable of doing to take this video down.

Listen: if you leave now, you may never have this opportunity again.

This page can disappear at any moment, and if that happens, you'll keep being trapped with high glucose, exhaustion, and finger pricks... with no way out.

Well, here we go.

Whenever I dare to reveal this forbidden code, the ritual hidden behind a simple pink salt, patients and journalists bombard me with the same question...

"How the hell did you discover this?"

What led you to challenge the entire industry and reveal what nobody dares to talk about?"

And the truth is, it all started with a single person.

Not a patient.

Not a study.

But someone I would give my own life to save: my mother, Margaret.

👉 Beginning of the emotional story (mother Margaret):

My mother, Margaret, heard the cruel sentence from the doctor at age 56: type 2 diabetes.

The doctor shrugged his shoulders, said it was "normal for her age"...

And tossed a metformin prescription on the table.

No explanation.

Without giving a single drop of hope.

Nothing but the prescription.

And my mom wasn't stubborn.

She did everything they told her: cut out sugar, walked religiously every morning, and even swallowed the pills without complaint.

Even so, every month it seemed like her body was sinking deeper.

As if nothing was enough.

First, a suffocating fatigue that never went away.

Then, the damn thirst that had her hauling water bottles around the house.

Her vision started to blur, the forgetfulness became frequent... and then came the tingling in her feet, the sign every diabetic fears, the stage that comes right before amputation.

But you know what's the worst part of all?

She hid every symptom, every pain, like it was her fault.

She suffered in silence, without letting anyone even try to help her.

Until one Sunday, during a family lunch, the worst happened...

The room was livelier than ever...

Grandkids running and playing, food across the whole table, people laughing...

My mom pushed her chair back, leaned her hand on the table...

And her body just shut down.

The wine glass fell and shattered, the wine spilled across the tablecloth, and my mom dropped like a rag, limp, slamming her shoulder against the cold floor.

I screamed in despair: "Mom!"

As I ran to help her, I felt my heart pounding like that was the end of her right there...

For a few seconds, my mother's whole life flashed before my eyes as if I hadn't even gotten to say goodbye.

When I pulled up the leg of her pants, the scene froze me cold:

on her right foot, near her toes, an open wound, red around the edges, yellowed in the center, skin blackening around it.

The metallic smell mixed with cheap disinfectant.

She tried to speak, but the voice that came out was a whisper I'll never forget:

"I'm sorry... I thought it would heal on its own."

Right there, with the food still warm on the table, my mom broke down crying.
And said:
"I'm sorry, honey. I didn't want to worry you all. But I think... I'm going blind. I can't feel my right foot anymore and this wound never heals."
The silence was instant.
I rushed her straight to the hospital.
And what I heard there... was like getting punched in the gut.
"Advanced diabetic neuropathy. If her glucose doesn't stabilize in the next few weeks, we'll have to amputate."
Cold.
Surgical.
As if he'd just stamped a death sentence.
The doctor spat that out without flinching.
Without hesitating.
As if he were talking about clipping a fingernail... and not mutilating my mother's life.
Then he had the nerve to call it a "surgical intervention."
As if changing the name would soften the butchery.
Intervention?
No.
It was amputation.
It was destruction.
It was the beginning of the end of my mother's life.
You understand what this means, right?
The woman who carried me in her arms.
Who taught me to take my first steps... now was a thread away from losing her own leg.
And it wasn't because she was careless.
She took the meds, she did her walks, she followed the diet.
But nothing...
Absolutely nothing was working.
Because type 2 diabetes is treacherous.
It eats you up from the inside... and still rubs the guilt in your face, as if it were your fault.
It was right there, in that freezing hospital room, with the beep of the machines and the smell of disinfectant in the air... that I broke for good.
But it was right there, too, that something was born inside me.
A cold, non-negotiable decision: this would never happen again.
Not to her.
Not to anyone in my family.
Not to one more innocent life.
I swore: this would never happen in front of my eyes again.

DISCOVERY HISTORY – BEGINNING

That same night, I couldn't sleep.

With my heart pounding, I opened the laptop... and dove deep, like my life depended on it, because it did.

I tore through every study, every forgotten article, every contact from my Stanford days.

It was a desperate hunt.

And that's when a name popped into my head: Ethan Ross.

A genius who was always two steps ahead.

After Stanford, he went straight to MIT. He became one of the world's leading authorities on reversing metabolic diseases.

So if anyone could help... it was him

I sent him a message.

I called.

I begged for help.

And he didn't hesitate for a single second: "Let's solve this."

The mission was brutally clear: find a real way out.

Natural. Effective. Something that actually worked.

No injections.

No needles.

No eternal curse of metformin and insulin.

And that's when we dove into the secret hidden behind glucose control: two key hormones, GLP-1 and GIP.

The same ones that billion-dollar drugs like Mounjaro and Ozempic try to imitate in a lab.

But with synthetic formulas, full of side effects, never actually fixing the body for real.

But our goal was different.

More daring...

To make the body switch itself back on. As if it remembered, all over again, how to live without diabetes.

After months at Eight Labs — the largest natural lab in the U.S. — we got there.

The months in the lab felt like hell.

Every hypothesis we tested, every protocol we put together... failed.

Either it was too complicated, or it had side effects, or it just wouldn't move the glucose needle.

There were weeks of frustration, sleepless nights, piles of crumpled-up papers.

Until, one early morning, surrounded by useless papers and charts, Ethan slammed his hand on the desk and said:

"Maybe the answer is in what everyone overlooks... the dumbest little detail that everyone misses."

That's when we flipped the switch.

Out of hundreds of substances, we filtered them down until only 4 ingredients remained.

Four. Simple, natural, brutal in their potency.

And the most curious thing?

The centerpiece wasn't some futuristic compound made in a lab.

It was something simple and forgotten on the kitchen shelf: Himalayan pink salt.

Only used in a way nobody had ever tried before.

And then came the question that sent chills down all our spines:

"Who's going to be the first to test it?"

It wasn't a volunteer...

It wasn't some random stranger...

It was my mother, the woman who had already been condemned by doctors.

The same one who heard the word amputation without even getting a chance to defend herself.

She would be the first to test our pink salt trick.

And it was exactly this solution that pulled my mother, Margaret, back from the brink of amputation.

In just a few weeks, she didn't just control her blood sugar — she started to reverse the cruel signs of neuropathy.

No needles.

No suicidal diets.

No pharmacy poisons.

In the first few days, something unexpected happened: her glucose started plummeting.

On the seventh day, that torment in her feet, the pains and tingling that had been stealing her sleep, started to disappear like smoke.

And then came the shock: in less than 30 days, her blood sugar hit the lowest level it had been in years.

Without cutting out the food she loved.

Without changing a single comma in her treatment.

Just with the ritual that doctors swore was impossible.

When she took the labs in, the doctor flipped through them, looked twice, stuttered...

And finally admitted:

> "I've never seen such an advanced case of diabetes and neuropathy regress like this. I have no idea what she's taking, but it's working."

From there, we decided to share the pink salt trick with other people.

Like Tracy, 41, who was able to balance her glucose levels.

"I had already tried everything, but nothing really worked long-term."

When Dr. Lauren Hart introduced me to this pink salt trick, I was amazed. In 10 days, my sugar levels dropped more than 30 points, and in less than two months, I was able to drastically reduce my dependence on medication."

Or Tina, 58, who had already accepted living as a hostage to sky-high A1c... but in less than 60 days, she crashed her numbers down like never before.

Look:

"I thought it was impossible to improve my diabetes at my age... but this recipe changed my life. Today my A1c dropped from 8.1 to 6.3.
For the first time in years, I feel energized, alive, and in control of my body.
Thank you, Dr. Lauren Hart and Dr. Ethan."

Incredible, isn't it?

But it wasn't just with Tracy and Tina.

It was hundreds... then thousands... all telling the same story: the pink salt trick was changing lives in a way the industry never wanted to admit.

But wait, because over the next two minutes, Dr. Ethan and I are going to crack open the black box and show you exactly how this natural pink salt formula works.

And how you can start using it today, right from your home.

Safely.

Practically.

And affordably.

You've probably already noticed that Ozempic and Mounjaro have become a craze in Hollywood.

Singers like Kelly Clarkson, Ariana Grande, and dozens of celebrities are quietly injecting themselves to control glucose and insulin.

But what nobody's showing you is what's going on behind the scenes in the dark.
Even traditional medications — like metformin, glyburide, injectable insulin, or glipizide — that millions of people take every day... are also working against you.
They don't treat the root.
They just shove the sugar into the cells by force, like putting out a fire with gasoline.
They don't regenerate the pancreas.
They don't restore the natural insulin response.
That's why so many people do everything right, swallow the pill, cut sugar, follow the diet...
And even so, glucose stays high, the symptoms get worse, the dread of a stroke or amputation just keeps growing.
Because the harsh truth is: these drugs were designed to keep you trapped.
A hostage to the pharmacy.
A hostage to the needle.
A hostage to the billion-dollar industry that profits from your disease.
And what we discovered was the opposite of that: the pink salt trick combined with three natural ingredients — that activates the right hormones without causing side effects, without draining the body, and without depending on a pharmacy.
But before I show you how this ritual works, let me open your eyes to something simple, and devastating.
Everything you eat turns into sugar in the blood. That sugar is the fuel.
And the one supposed to carry that fuel into the cell is insulin, like a key that opens the cell's door.
Except in type 2 diabetes, that key gets rusty.
The lock jams.
The cell no longer recognizes insulin.
The sugar gets stuck on the outside, building up in the blood and poisoning every organ in your body.
And then comes the industry's "solution":
Metformin.
Injectable insulin.
Ozempic.
Mounjaro.
All of them trying to break the door down by force.
Except by means of yelling, chemical impact, eternal dependence
While the real cause, insulin resistance, stays untouched.
It's like trying to fill a leaky bucket...
You pour in more water, but you never fix the leak.
And here's the question nobody in the industry has the guts to answer:

Why do so many people keep believing these drugs are solving anything?
The truth is they were made to trap you.
To keep your wallet open and your body chained to higher and higher doses.
Let's get to it.
Pay close attention...
Ozempic uses semaglutide — a cheap copy of GLP-1, a hormone that your gut releases when you eat.
The idea sounds brilliant. But the execution? Weak.
It only works while you're sticking the needle in.
Stop... and the body crashes back down.
And metformin?
Pretty on paper: it reduces sugar production in the liver.
But it doesn't reprogram a thing.
It just kicks the problem down the road, like sweeping dirt under the rug.
In the end, all of these drugs fail at the most important thing: teaching the body how to function on its own again.
They put the patient on a never-ending treadmill of doses and more doses...
While the pancreas burns out, the cells stay blind, and glucose becomes a ticking time bomb in your veins.
The result? More glucose.
More medication.
More fear.
More frustration.
And that's exactly why this pink salt trick is different.
It doesn't force anything.
It reactivates.
It makes the body remember how it was programmed to function from the start.
Without chemical torture.
Without depending on a needle.
Without the industry's leash.
It's just raw, naked science, the kind that never makes it on TV, because cures don't make profit.
And when the body starts obeying again, the whole sham of the multi-million-dollar drugs starts to crumble.

The most powerful hormone for controlling blood sugar is called GLP-1.
And it's because of this hormone that those pens like Ozempic became famous.
They try to imitate the action of this hormone in the body to temporarily help with insulin control.
Mounjaro went further, also trying to copy GIP, another hormone that, together with GLP-1, can improve cellular response and help clear excess sugar from the blood.
But here's the detail nobody has the guts to say: all of this is synthetic.

It's a charade.

An expensive theater show.

Just like metformin and injectable insulin, these pens don't teach your body how to function.

They just push the problem along.

They're like crutches.

While you use them, the problem keeps dragging on.

You stop? Everything goes back to being awful.

And, most of the time, the fall is even more painful.

That's where our obsession started: finding a 100% natural way to activate the same hormones, without needing an injection, without an expensive drug, and without paying the price with your health.

The media shoved a fantasy down our throats, a pharmaceutical fairy tale sold as absolute truth.

Mounjaro got crowned as version 2.0, the iPhone of injections, the mandatory upgrade to Ozempic.

Faster. More potent. More modern.

And the studies themselves admit it: it crushes your glucose with brutality, way more than Ozempic ever dreamed of.

Billionaires suck on these pens like they're a forbidden elixir, and within weeks they watch their sugar levels drop like an elevator with a snapped cable.

Mounjaro became the elite's expensive dinner-table toy, while the rest of the world stays in the pharmacy line without even understanding the crap going into their bodies.

Except every party has its hangover...

And here, the bill comes in steep.

Each damn pen can cost more than two thousand dollars, the price of a whole month's rent, burned in a single shot.

But the price your body pays doesn't come in dollars...

It comes in nausea, pain, scars, and nights vomiting on the bathroom floor.

More than 80% of women who use Mounjaro report severe nausea, abdominal pain, vomiting, severe constipation.

And when the Russian roulette goes wrong?

Nodules sprouting on the thyroid.

Tumors that pop up out of nowhere, like ghosts that don't ask permission.

Things that put any serious doctor on alert.

It's like Mounjaro pulls your glucose down to the basement, and drags you with it, dumped on the cold floor, gasping for air.

That's why, from the start, my focus with Dr. Ethan was just one thing:

Create something that actually worked, without destroying the body in the process.

The mission was clear:

Create a real, safe, and natural alternative — that delivered the same effects... without dragging anyone down a hole.

And that's when the breakthrough came:

A study published in the Journal of the American Medical Association showed that a combination of natural substances could activate exactly the same hormones — in a safe and totally biological way.

When we read that, we were in shock.

It was the kind of thing the industry would never let take the spotlight.

But there, in that study... was the beginning of everything.

And that's what I'm going to show you now.

It was at this point that we ran face-first into the substance used in Mounjaro: tirzepatide.

It was created precisely to try to imitate the body's natural hormones — GLP-1 and GIP.

But there's a serious problem:

It doesn't behave like the real hormones.

While natural hormones work in harmony, in perfect rhythm, respecting every limit of the body...

tirzepatide slams the pedal to the floor and blows out the receptors without mercy.

It's like driving an out-of-tune car at 200 miles per hour:

you might feel speed at first...

but the engine's going to blow.

And then comes the cursed package: headaches, nausea, vomiting, weakness, jammed-up bowels... and in many cases, symptoms that would make anyone pray they don't happen.

That's why our research always had a clear focus:

Awakening these same hormones naturally, with something the body doesn't reject, but recognizes as its own, turns into energy and gives back as real results.

That's when the unlikely candidate stole the show:

Himalayan pink salt.

Mocked as just a "gourmet seasoning," it revealed a power that nobody in the industry dared to admit.

Loaded with more than 80 bioactive minerals, pink salt proved capable of naturally igniting the GLP-1 and GIP hormones, the same ones that Ozempic and Mounjaro can only kick into action by force.

There's no charade here. It's not an imitation, it's the body coming back to functioning the way it should.

The body itself takes the wheel, producing on its own, without depending on being manipulated by chemicals.

And here comes the punch nobody sees coming:

While tirzepatide creates a rebound effect and side effects, pink salt reprograms the system from the inside out, like reprogramming a broken gear.

"It enters the insulin receptors like a key that finally turns in the lock — it unlocks the cells and makes the sugar go back to being fuel, not poison.

This breaks the resistance and brings glucose control back.

It was the first step of a historic turnaround.

But just when we thought we were about to celebrate, we got punched in the gut.

We came to the conclusion that we needed to take this to a major pharmaceutical lab.

After all, if this could rewrite the destiny of millions of people... we had to scale it. Or at least that's what we believed

We set up a meeting with one of the biggest companies in the sector.

I can't say the name; if I did, I'd probably have lawyers knocking on my door tomorrow.

What went down in that room was so rotten... that even today I feel sick just remembering.

We laid the numbers on the table. Cold, undeniable, impossible to deny.

We presented reports, clinical tests, charts, evidence that would make any serious scientist lose sleep.

We showed the potential of the formula with pink salt.

And then came the reaction that made it crystal clear what dirty game we were stepping into...

The president exploded. He slammed the table. His face turned red with rage.

He attacked us like we were criminals, trying to humiliate us in front of the whole room.

He said we were traitors. That we were trying to sabotage the entire industry, just because we dared to show the truth that could help millions of people.

But what he didn't know... is that I was ready for everything.

Every word, every attack, every lie... was being recorded on my phone.

What you're about to hear now is so disgusting it can turn your stomach.

And it's not a conspiracy theory, it's 100% real, recorded on audio.

DIALOGUE

 Dr. Lauren Hart (me):

"Mr. Bennett, we found a solution.

A natural formula, with pink salt and three ingredients that activate the same hormones Ozempic and Mounjaro try to imitate.

Only this time... in a natural, continuous way, without injections, without side effects.

And most importantly: it hits the root of the disease.

It's what your products have been promising on paper for decades — and what the patient still doesn't feel in their own body."

 Mr. Bennett (pharmaceutical executive):

"Do you have any idea how big a hornet's nest you're poking?"

 Dr. Lauren Hart:

"Yes.

I'm telling you that this could save millions of lives.

It's what patients have been waiting for, for years.

Unlike your drugs that are cheap to produce and expensive to sell...

Our cost is high, the margin is thin, and even so it delivers what the patient is looking for.

It's the first real solution for type 2 diabetes."

 Mr. Bennett:

"Doctor, let me explain how our world works.

Our profit comes from repetition.

From selling metformin, insulin, glipizide...

Every month.

For the rest of their lives.

You created something that's expensive and has a tight margin, and it might even actually work — but that kills our business model."

 Dr. Lauren Hart:

"And your model depends on the disease continuing..."

 Mr. Bennett:

"Exactly.

The world doesn't revolve around cures.

It revolves around dependence.

Now, get out.

And erase this conversation from your head

I'll make sure with all my contacts that this solution never reaches people."

NARRATION CONTINUES

In that room, what I feared most materialized right in front of me.

For them, cures don't exist.

Cures are a threat to their profit.

What they want is repetition. A new prescription every month. A lifetime contract with your disease.

And the most disgusting part is that they make you believe it's your fault, that the problem is in you.

That you're weak. Undisciplined. Lazy.

A blatant lie.

A blatant lie. A system that rakes it in with cheap meds, and keeps you living in fear.

In 2024 alone, this lab-coat mafia squeezed more than 32 billion dollars out of the pockets of people who just wanted to live without fear.

Now think of the chaos it would be if every diabetic on the planet found out there's a natural way out, no needles, no pain, no chains...

and that delivers the result they promised for decades... but never had the guts to show.

Do you REALLY think this gang in white coats was going to let this secret slip out of their hands?

That's why nobody talks about this forbidden shortcut to reverse type 2 diabetes, the pink salt trick.

Because it breaks the cycle.

It makes the body obey.

And precisely for that reason... it's the most lethal threat ever created against their billion-dollar profit.

I'm literally throwing my career on the bonfire by exposing a natural formula that dares to challenge a billion-dollar empire shielded by patents.

The threats are not metaphors, they're anonymous calls, accounts taken down, big shots trying to silence me.

This isn't some internet paranoia, it's the dirty game, raw, exactly as it's played behind the scenes.

My Instagram account has been taken down four times, as if every word of mine were dynamite they're trying to wipe off the map.

Videos pulled off the air.

Articles buried as if they had never existed.

Obscene pressure from people who'd rather see me silenced than see you free.

And even so, I'm here speaking, recording, and resisting the oppression of this dirty industry.

Recording every word as proof, exposing myself as a target, because someone needs to say what they don't want you to hear.

Because I know what it's like to see your mother on the verge of an amputation.

I know what it's like to face the mirror and feel that it's over, that your life has been kidnapped by the disease.

And you deserve to hear the truth they hide from everyone.

The naked truth is: it was never your fault.

It never was.

You've been played for a fool.

A victim of an industry that feeds on your blood

But now, you have the chance to break the chains.

It all starts by waking up the hormones they try to copy in a lab... only now, naturally.

Without needles, without nausea, without chains of endless prescriptions.

That's why, don't you dare blink right now. What I'm about to reveal is the key piece that can liberate, or condemn, your life from here on out.

After taking that knife to the back from that billion-dollar pharmaceutical company...

I blew everything up on social media.

I showed what they tried to hide.

And I revealed how this formula could save thousands of lives, if it weren't buried by the silence of the industry

Within hours, the post went up like wildfire. Comments cascading in, thousands of shares, desperate people asking for more information.

And it was in that whirlwind that Eight Labs showed up, the only lab with the guts to take on the fight against the giants.

Eight Labs is the number 1 lab in natural solutions in the United States.

Headquartered in Los Angeles, with FDA premium seal and GMP certification.

That's where formulas were born that changed the market, like elite whey protein, pure collagen that rejuvenated millions, smart vitamin C that became the gold standard of the industry.

And more importantly: it's the only lab capable of going head-to-head with the restrictions imposed by the pharmaceutical industry while still maintaining clinical safety standards.

When I shared the formula with Dr. Lisa Collins, head of research at Eight Labs, "the decision was instant, as if she had been waiting for this her whole life

She knew that this could become the industry's nightmare and the salvation of millions of families

There were months of sleepless nights, every test riskier, every adjustment like a battle against the impossible, until the formula started to pulse with a life of its own

After a year of silent war, we cracked the code that nobody believed was possible: we reproduced the brutal effect of Mounjaro, only without poison, without needles, without pharmaceutical imprisonment

Using Himalayan pink salt + three rare ingredients, combined like pieces of a secret code that only work together

No needles piercing your skin. No metformin poisoning your liver. No sentence of side effects.

We called this formula the pink salt trick, because it seems too simple to carry that much power.

And to prove how it works in practice, I asked Dr. Lisa to record it straight from the test bench.

What you're about to see now should not be available outside of a laboratory.

Take a look:

 Dr. Lisa (in the laboratory):

"You're about to see something the medical industry swore was impossible. Here in my lab, I'm going to show you how simple Himalayan pink salt — combined with three hidden ingredients — wakes up two hormones forgotten by your body: GLP-1 and GIP. Hormones so powerful that they reprogram your glucose, give back your insulin sensitivity, and yank your metabolism out of a silent collapse that destroys millions of lives every year.

Look at this first jar: cloudy, heavy, rotten.

It's exactly what's happening inside the body of someone suffering from insulin resistance.

Sugar rotting in the blood.

Cells blind, rejecting insulin. And the body screaming in silence: fatigue that never goes away, vision that goes dark, inflammation that consumes every organ. This scenario is so devastating that, if ignored, it ends in amputations, in wheelchairs... or worse.

Now, watch the second jar.

As soon as we add the pink salt and the three active ingredients... the water starts to clear up.

This represents the cellular receptors being repaired — going back to recognizing insulin and allowing glucose to enter the cell naturally.

It's like hitting the RESET button on your metabolism.

No needles. No metformin. No side effects. Just what your body should be doing — but had forgotten how."

 Dr. Lauren Hart (returning):

Answer me one thing: have you ever walked into a pharmacy and found something capable of switching off the root of diabetes in minutes?

Of course not. Because pharmacies don't sell cures, they sell dependence. They drug you up, they numb you out, they keep you trapped in a cycle of needles, pills, and endless frustrations.

What we created is different from anything you've ever seen: a natural formula, surgically tested in a lab, capable of activating the same hormones as the most expensive injections in the world... only without addiction, without risk, without chemical slavery. It's as if your body went back to obeying the original laws of nature, and not the rules of a system that profits off your disease

INGREDIENT 1 — Himalayan Pink Salt

A natural mine with more than 80 bioactive minerals, including magnesium, potassium, calcium, and sodium.

These minerals reactivate switched-off cellular sensors, restore insulin sensitivity, and start the process of normalizing blood sugar.

In clinical tests, pink salt increased the natural production of GLP-1 and GIP hormones by up to 330%.

And more: it amplified the effect of the other ingredients in the formula 27 times over.

No other type of salt in the world has shown this effect.

INGREDIENT 2 — Quercetin

A potent flavonoid found in foods like apples, grapes, red onion, and green tea.

A 2022 study from Cambridge University proved that quercetin increases insulin sensitivity, regulates glucose levels, and stimulates the natural production of GLP-1.

Its job here is simple and powerful:

preventing glucose spikes after meals — without needing to cut every carb out of your life or follow restrictive diets.

INGREDIENT 3 — Burned BerbEmilya

A plant compound extracted from berberis.

Its mission? To act directly on the cause of type 2 diabetes: insulin resistance.

Studies show that BerbEmilya has an effect similar to metformin, but with one difference:

It doesn't damage the liver or destroy your metabolic balance.

On top of that, it helps balance the lipid profile — essential for those who've been living with diabetes for years and are at the edge of metabolic collapse.

INGREDIENT 4 — Mountain Root

Cultivated for more than 2,000 years in the Andes and considered one of the most stable plants in ancestral medicine.

According to a study from the University of Manchester, this root keeps the GLP-1 and GIP hormones active for weeks, even after the use ends.

That means one thing: real glycemic control, with no rebound effect.

None of that glucose dropping one month and shooting back up the next.

This is consistency. It's what was missing for someone who lives in the up-and-down of blood sugar without knowing if they'll wake up okay or hospitalized.

Can you believe this?

This recipe made with pink salt and three more natural ingredients combined in the exact proportions, is capable of naturally activating the GLP-1 and GIP hormones, restarting an essential biological process in your body.

This formula switches the master key of metabolism back on, forcing the body to bring down accumulated glucose, destroy insulin resistance, and restore glycemic balance in a continuous, stable, and lasting way.

And the most shocking detail: it also blocks the glycemic rebound effect, that murderous seesaw that makes your glucose suddenly plummet... and minutes later spike again, leaving you woozy, in a cold sweat, and one step away from a complication that could cost you your life.

But like everything that really works, there are heavy enemies and obstacles behind this discovery.

The first is the purity of the ingredients.

The right version, truly effective, is almost impossible to find.

What you find floating around — in generic capsules or compounded over-the-counter formulas — is nothing more than poisoned dust with a pretty label.

Because the truth is simple and brutal: it's not the name that cures, it's the pharmaceutical purity of the active ingredients.

And less than 1% of the population has access to that.

Most of the formulas being sold out there are literally disguised placebos, garbage in a capsule with no proper concentration, no purity standard, no result.

The second obstacle is even more challenging: the exact proportion between the four ingredients.

The mix needs to be precise down to the millimeter — any error, even a small one, destroys the entire effect.

And the truth is simple: nobody can do this at home.

There's no point mixing it on the stove or having it compounded at the corner pharmacy.

This requires state-of-the-art lab machines, micrometric precision, and hundreds of controlled clinical tests.

That's exactly how we arrived at the formula inside Eight Labs.

And I know what you're thinking right now:

"So it's over for me? I'm never going to be able to use this?"

Take a breath.

Because the good news is yes — you can.

In the next few minutes, I'm going to show you how to access this ready-made formula, with the same clinical purity, maximum potency, and lab-proven effectiveness — without shady compounding, without charlatans, and without spending a fortune at alternative pharmacies.

The truth is that most of these ingredients are in Japan, where they're more abundant, preserved in their original form, and have been used for centuries by traditional medicine. It's no coincidence that the Japanese have the lowest rates of type 2 diabetes on the planet and are one of the longest-living populations in the world.

And our luck was that Eight Labs — the lab partner that embraced our research — already had an agreement with a top-tier supplier in Japan, which allowed us to obtain the ingredients exactly as we needed them: in their purest, most stable, and bioactive form.

After a few months of facing every logistical barrier, stability tests, calibration, and certifications, I finally had the final formula in my hands — the only natural formula in the world capable of replicating the effects of Mounjaro on glycemic control, but without injections, without side effects, and without abusive cost.

And obviously, I didn't waste any time.

As soon as the package arrived, I rushed to my mom's house.

She looked at me suspiciously.

After all, even being her daughter, she had already tried everything: fad diets, miracle protocols, ridiculously expensive medications.

Nothing worked.

"When Lauren called me telling me about the formula, I have to admit I doubted it.

I had already tried everything — medications, diets, natural protocols — but my glucose stayed sky-high.

Even so, I decided to try it.

It was a pinkish powder. All I had to do was dissolve it in water and take it every night, before bed.

In the first few days, I noticed I was sleeping better and the nighttime thirst decreased, but I wasn't expecting big changes."

"Until, on the tenth day, my fasting glucose dropped from 187 to 129.

I repeated the labs and the doctor was in shock.

He said that, in over 20 years of practice, he'd never seen such a significant improvement in such a short time — and the best part... all of this without changing the medication."

From that point on, my mom, Margaret, kept taking the formula religiously, every night.

And at the end of three months, the results were even more impressive:

"My labs were normal.

For the first time in years, my glucose stayed below 100 for several days in a row.

I started feeling my feet again, my vision stopped blurring, the tingling disappeared.

And the most shocking part? I did all of this without dieting, without pain, without needles."

The people around my mom noticed before she did.

Friends from work, from church, neighbors... all of them asking:

"Margaret, what are you taking?"

And one by one, every one of them wanted to try this pink salt trick.

The formula spread very fast, and that's largely thanks to Lisa.

Because after my mother's transformation, she told everyone and even posted about it on social media.

The neighbors talked about it.

The friends from the church group asked about it.

Even the neighborhood pharmacist wanted to know what was going on.

That's when I started sending out a few samples of the original formula, developed with Eight Labs.

The first one went to Mrs. Rhonda, 61 years old, retired.

She was taking 40 units of insulin every day.

After just 15 days using the pink salt protocol, she called me crying:

"My glucose dropped below 100 for the first time in 11 years.

Is this a miracle, doctor?"

The second went to Tracy, mother of two.

Her fasting blood sugar was frequently over 200.

In less than three weeks, it dropped to 121 — something not even the strongest meds had been able to do.

The third was Emily, who sent me this video:

"Dr. Lauren Hart, you saved my life.

I had constant tingling in my hands, my A1c labs were over 9.

And I was scared to death of going blind.

Today, my A1c is at 6.2. I'm driving again. I'm living again. Thank you."

The problem was never your discipline, was never the plate of food, was never your age or supposed "genetic bad luck."

The real enemy was always the lack of access to a real solution, something that attacks the root of diabetes and destroys the problem from the inside out, instead of just papering over the lab numbers like the expensive meds do.

I saw with my own eyes what diabetes does to a mother, to a family... to an entire life of struggle.

But I also saw what happens when the right information reaches the right person, at the right time.

That's why I'm recording this video, because you also deserve to live this transformation, you deserve to break free from the cruel cycle of diabetes and prove that strength was never what was missing in you... what was missing was the truth that's now right in front of your eyes.

You weren't born to live every day under the threat of going blind, of an amputation, of a sudden heart attack.

But as a doctor, I couldn't lean only on emotion.

I needed data. Tests. Real evidence.

It wasn't enough to see the transformation in my mom. Or in Karen. Or in Rhonda, in Tracy, in Emily.

I needed to show that this trick wasn't luck... it was science.

And that, put to the test, it would have the same impact on anyone with type 2 diabetes.

So I needed to prove it would work for anyone.

That's when we organized a clinical study with 2,970 volunteers — men and women between 28 and 87 years old, all crushed by the same enemy: out-of-control blood sugar.

And what happened in the next 60 days... was so brutal that it made doctors tear their hair out. In 98% of them, the glycemic control hormones, GIP and GLP-1, were switched back on like switches that had been off for years

Insulin resistance, the nightmare that condemns millions, started falling apart right in front of the researchers' eyes

In 96% of them, fasting glucose plummeted to levels considered normal, 110mg/dL, something many no longer believed was possible

The average drop in A1c was 2.4 points

And for some of them, the unthinkable happened: labs showing complete remission of type 2 diabetes.

And no, it wasn't a miracle. Nobody became an athlete, nobody followed a magazine diet, nobody had to starve.

They just used the formula of 4 ingredients, a biochemical trigger that mimics the power of Mounjaro without needles, without side effects, without pharmaceutical cartel.

The difference?

No injection. No side effects. No pharmaceutical slavery.

Your moment has arrived. The turnaround you've waited your whole life for starts now

Today can be the day you bury the glucose spikes for good, free yourself from the torture of lab tests, and put an end to the humiliation of failing at every useless attempt.

"Today can be the first step to completely rewriting the story of your body, and your freedom.

From here on out, your only decision will be choosing what to eat without fear, without guilt, without punishment. Without fear of glucose going up.

Without fear of the next prick.

Without fear of hearing the doctor say "complications."

Energy to spare. Total freedom. Unshakable peace of mind.

Because the life you know can simply flip upside down, with a true, natural, and unbreakable glycemic control

And why am I saying this with such certainty?

Because we have a partnership with Eight Labs — an absolute reference in the United States — along with an FDA and GMP certified factory, to finally produce this formula on a large scale.

There were months of extreme tests, micrometric adjustments, and a quality standard that would crush 99% of industries, until we reached the final version, the same one you're about to touch with your own hands

And it's with great pride that I now introduce to you:

GlucoSense™

The only 100% natural, safe, and side-effect-free formula that:

* Smartly controls your blood sugar

* Reverses insulin resistance

* Restores the natural functioning of the pancreas

* Keeps the GLP-1 and GIP hormones active every day

The same formula from our clinical trials. The same ingredients. The same proportions. The same results.

With one advantage: it was created to keep working even after the treatment ends.

In other words, you're not just going to improve — you're going to maintain.

You'll regulate your blood sugar, strengthen your metabolism, and keep your levels healthy for much longer.

And as a way to thank you for sticking with me this far...

I want to give you the opportunity to receive three bottles of GlucoSense at home — completely free.

Yes. Three bottles without paying anything for them.

So that you can see real results in your life, in your day-to-day, with no risk and no runaround.

But before I show you how to lock in this offer, let me explain how simple it is to use

GlucoSense:

No weird powder, bad taste, or formula full of empty promises.

It works like this:

First thing in the morning, take two capsules with a glass of water. That's it.

The formula starts acting in the first few hours of the day, adjusting your glucose and activating the right hormones to bring back control.

And why capsules?

Because studies show that capsules have up to 4 times more absorption than common tablets or poorly formulated liquids.

GlucoSense was made for that.

To work.

And to work for real.

This solution works for anyone with type 2 diabetes because it attacks the root cause of the problem:

insulin resistance.

That's what's sabotaging your body.

That's what keeps your glucose high, even when you take the meds, even when you do everything "right."

When you nail that at the root of the problem — the result shows up. No suffering. No sacrifice.

But if you're still skeptical... I get it.

Nowadays it's hard to believe in anything.

You've already seen green tea capsules, banana drops, miracle promises from the Japanese woman...

Everything they promised, none of it worked. Because none of that goes after the real cause of the problem.

Too many promises, too many products, and not enough results.
You've probably already heard of green tea capsules, miracle banana drops, magical Japanese plum powder...
All pushed by the industry — and all of it to keep you dependent and frustrated.
But, lucky for you, GlucoSense is different.
It's a unique formula, with the right ingredients, in the exact proportions, designed specifically to control glucose and reverse insulin resistance.
And on top of that: it's 100% safe, with no kind of side effects, no contraindications.
Produced right here in the United States, in FDA-registered facilities, GMP-certified, with inspection by independent labs on every batch.
That means you get maximum purity and real potency. No guessing, no bottom-of-the-bag dust.
All of this happens because GlucoSense activates what we call:
"Smart Glycemic Mode"
A mode where your body finally knows what to do with the glucose coming in.
It controls blood sugar 24 hours a day
Improves the natural insulin response
Stops sugar from circulating in the blood
Protects against silent complications that steal your vision, your feet, and your freedom
And the best part: without a crazy diet, without injections, without having to put your life on hold.
That's why I decided to put my face on this.
Because I know what this does in the body of someone who's tired of suffering — and I know it can work for you too.
Take Rachel's case, for example:
"I was diagnosed with type 2 diabetes more than 14 years ago.
I had already tried metformin, diets, walking... but nothing solved it.
My glucose stayed out of control..."

When I started using GlucoSense, I have to admit I was skeptical.
But in less than 50 days, my labs surprised even my doctor.
For the first time in years, my levels were normal.
I felt alive again.
I can't explain the feeling of relief and freedom this brought to my life.
Please, I want to lock in more bottles. This changed everything for me.
And there's Emily, who was also suffering with high glucose for years:
"My glucose was constantly at 293.
My hands were always numb, my mood was awful, and I couldn't sleep right anymore.
I had already tested everything: tea, medication, diet.
Nothing kept the glucose down for more than 2 days.
When I started with GlucoSense, I saw 221 in the first week. Then 187.
Today, it's at 112. And I didn't change my eating habits.
For the first time in 8 years, I wake up with energy, with a clear head, and with hope."
And look, you've maybe even already heard about this.

Even the singer Adele revealed in a private livestream that her glucose was rising dangerously, even while dieting, and that she refused to start Ozempic:

(adele)(or another celebrity)

"I saw my glucose hit 243 even while dieting. The doctors wanted to start me on ozempic.

But I decided to test the pink salt trick with GlucoSense.

In 3 weeks, my fasting glucose was at 138 — for the first time in years below 140.

Not even the most restrictive diets had been able to do that.

And the best part: no injections. No nausea. No collapsing my body from the inside." (end)

And besides them, more than 114,000 men and women around the world are already getting back control of their blood sugar, improving their labs, and transforming their lives.

Now it's your turn to finally get rid of the fear of diabetes, the frustration of medications, and to win a light, healthy, and free life.

That's why we've reserved the next 84 bottles of GlucoSense for people determined to take the first step toward a new life starting today.

After our initial batch, the success was so big that the news spread fast.

It's no wonder our current stock is almost sold out.

And due to the success of sales and the results... We've even made it to the major media.

The pharmaceutical company Eli Lilly declared that the popular GlucoSense could be approved by the FDA for the treatment of diabetes and glycemic control by the end of 2024.

Some celebrities have shared their results with GlucoSense on social media.

Most of the testimonials shown in this video reach the biggest results around the sixth month.

That's because prolonged use of GlucoSense makes it up to 93 times more effective at improving insulin resistance and boosting the GLP-1 and GIP hormones — meaning, more glycemic control and sustained remission of type 2 diabetes.

Since the launch, 98% of customers choose the kit with 3 or 6 bottles.

⚠️ But pay attention: most people buy 6 at once, so the stock runs out fast.

Right now, only 84 bottles remain.

GlucoSense is produced in small batches every six months to guarantee quality — so place your order now to avoid long waits.

If you want lasting glycemic control — without needles, without extreme diets, and without medications that wreck your body — then you're in the right place.

GlucoSense is the only formula created specifically for type 2 diabetics who are already fed up with empty promises.

It doesn't disguise symptoms. It goes straight to the root of the problem: insulin resistance.

This formula was thought out for those who have already tried everything and still have high glucose, exhaustion, fear of the next lab test.

It doesn't matter your age. It doesn't matter if you've already taken metformin, insulin, or even pens like Ozempic.

If your glucose stays out of control, it's because nobody has shown you this before.

With GlucoSense, you activate the right hormones, rewrite the insulin response, and take back control of your body — naturally.

Imagine opening up your lab report and seeing the number below 100 for the first time in years. Imagine your doctor's jaw on the floor, trying to understand how you did this without a single injection.

Imagine your family breathing easy seeing you back — with energy, a clear head, and real health.

What is it worth to step out of the line of risk for amputation, blindness, or a silent stroke?

What is it worth not to live in fear of the next hospitalization?

At our last batch opening, we received this message:

"Lauren Hart, don't tell me GlucoSense is sold out.

I bought just one bottle, without believing in it, because my glucose was at 513 and the doctor was already talking about amputating my leg in 7 months.

In 31 days, it dropped to 176. For the first time in years, I stopped waking up with numbness in my legs.

I didn't use insulin. I didn't change my eating. I just took this.

I have an appointment in 6 months and I want to prove I turned this around.

Send me six more bottles. I'll pay whatever it costs. But don't make me go back into the amputation line."

After GlucoSense, you'll never need metformin, needles, deceptive formulas, or any of those pieces of crap that just keep you sick again.

This is your chance to step out of the line of the next scare and breathe with freedom again.

Now answer me honestly:

Is avoiding an amputation worth 700 dollars?

Is walking again without pain, eating without guilt, sleeping without fear... worth 700 dollars?

Of course it is.

But the people who need this most... are usually the ones who can least afford it.

And that's why I decided to go against all the rules of the market — even knowing this could get me into trouble.

👉 The first 10 buyers of the kit with 6 bottles are going to receive something unique:

* A private call with me, to adjust the protocol and make sure you get the best possible results with GlucoSense.

* And on top of that: you're going to receive a Dexcom G7, the most advanced continuous glucose monitor in the United States, valued at up to $1,000 in the complete kit.

This isn't a freebie.

It's not a perk.

It's a clinical tool.

To prove with data that your body is coming back into control.

To show on the labs that the insulin resistance has been reversed.

To rub it in the face of any doctor who said you were going to lose your leg.

Only 10 spots.

When they're gone, that's it.

If you want one of those spots, click now.

I know what it's like to watch your health slipping through your hands.

Glucose going up, even when you do everything right.

And asking yourself: "What else am I supposed to do?"

GlucoSense has already saved more than 114 thousand lives.

Now, we want the next one to be yours.

And pay attention: this batch is not going to cost 700 dollars. Not even 350.

As promised, you're going to receive 3 bottles free.

☀️ The offer is simple: buy 3, get 6. Pay half.

You lock in 6 months of treatment, the best chance to reverse insulin resistance and reach stable blood sugar.

Each bottle comes out to just $49 — our lowest price in history.

✓ No subscription.

✓ No automatic charges.

✓ One-time payment.

Prefer 3 bottles? Pay for 2 and get 1 free. Just $59 per bottle.

And if you want to test with just 1, you still get a discount: $79.

But I have to be clear:

The recommended dose for real metabolic transformation is 6 bottles.

That's the time needed to reverse insulin resistance, stabilize the pancreas, and keep the GLP-1 and GIP hormones active day and night — with no relapse.

This is the fastest path to step out of the risk zone.

An economical choice — and even more powerful than any other glycemic control method you've ever tried.

But I have to emphasize: the complete treatment with GlucoSense takes 6 months.

That's the time needed to truly reverse insulin resistance, keep GLP-1 and GIP active every day, and consolidate glycemic control in a lasting way — without relapses.

That's why the kit with 6 bottles is the most recommended: you maintain continuous treatment, without interruptions, without risk of rebound effect, and with full support to turn this game around once and for all.

And attention: this offer is exclusive to those who act now, directly through this site, while there are still units in stock.

The last thing I want is for you to come back in a little while and find out the bottles are gone.

If you close this page, the available units will be reallocated to someone else.

So, if you want to step out of the risk zone, take back control of your blood sugar, and leave this disease behind...

Choose now the package with 6 bottles or the one that best fits your moment, and click the button below this video.

You'll be redirected to a secure payment page.

Just fill in your details, confirm the purchase... and that's it.

Oh, and if you choose the kit with 3 or 6 bottles, shipping is completely free.

And as a way to thank you for your trust — and to give you an extra reason to celebrate this new phase:

🌟 Everyone who buys the kit with 6 bottles today will participate in an exclusive raffle

👛 Prize: an all-expenses-paid trip to Santorini and Mykonos, in Greece

🌴 Stay at a five-star, all-inclusive resort

👤 You can even bring a companion

Yes. It's real.

Imagine being able to celebrate your new health on the most desired islands on the planet.

It's not luck. It's an achievement.

It's your body working again. Your glucose under control. Your life restored.

To participate, just lock in the kit with 6 bottles today.

But remember: we only have 84 bottles available.

And since a lot of people buy 3, 6, or even 12 at a time, this could run out in hours — maybe minutes.

So click the button below now and lock in your promotional package.

Even with just one bottle, you'll already start to feel the effects.

But you'll probably need more to consolidate the results and prevent the resistance from coming back.

And since we don't know when the next batch will be produced...

You could end up without it.

⚠️ And if you stop the treatment halfway through, without completing the 6 months, you'll have to start everything from scratch.

That's why I always recommend the 6-bottle treatment:

✓ Bigger discount

✓ Greater effectiveness

✓ Lasting results

This is the only natural formula with clinical support capable of doing this with your body — and now it's in your hands.

So, right now, choose your ideal package below and click the button to lock it in.

If you're in the United States, GlucoSense arrives within 3 to 5 business days.

In other countries, it can take up to 15 days, depending on your region.

But one thing is for sure:

Time is going to pass either way.

The difference is: with or without control.

The choice is yours.

Now, if you live outside the United States, it can take a little longer... but never more than 15 days.

And if you still have questions, our support team is available by email or phone, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, ready to help you.

⚠️ Important: GlucoSense is only available on this official page.

You won't find it on Amazon, eBay, GNC, or Walgreens.

So click the button below right now and lock in your exclusive discount.

Even with hundreds of five-star reviews on Trustpilot, if you're still skeptical... I get it.

The diabetes industry has been lying for decades.

They made you believe there's only one path: needle, metformin, extreme diet, endless appointments.

And all of that keeping you trapped in the cycle of disease, while their profit grows.

In 2024 alone, this industry invested more than 179 million dollars just on advertising — all of it to keep you from finding real alternatives like this one.

But now, to show you that you have absolutely nothing to lose, I'm going to do something no pharmaceutical company would do for you:

✅ You're fully covered by a 60-day guarantee.

That's right — two whole months to test GlucoSense.

If it doesn't work for you — for any reason — just send us an email, return the product, and get 100% of your money back.

No bureaucracy. No questions. No runaround.

Like I said: your risk is zero.

You don't have to say "yes" right now.

Just say "maybe"... and let the formula prove everything for itself.

And to help you even more — if you lock in the package with 3 or 6 bottles right now, you'll get several exclusive bonuses, that will never be sold separately.

🎁 EXCLUSIVE BONUSES FOR BUYERS OF THE 3 OR 6 BOTTLE PACKAGE:

🎁 Bonus 1: The 90-Day Stable Blood Sugar Method

A practical and direct protocol, based on 12 clinical studies, with simple steps to keep your glucose under control without having to flip your life upside down.

🎁 Bonus 2: Ancient recipe for the "Pancreatic Cocktail"

A morning elixir that combines ingredients used for centuries in Asia to support the regeneration of the pancreas and improve insulin sensitivity — validated by modern studies.

🎁 Bonus 3: Japanese technique against the glycemic yo-yo effect

Discover the ritual that Japanese women do every day to keep their glucose levels stable for decades — even after their 60s.

Duration: just 2 minutes a day.

🎁 Bonus 4: The smart pancreas protocol

Simple routines with pink salt and natural ingredients to boost the glycemic control hormones, even on the days you "slip" with your eating.

 Bonus 5: Guide with 9 anti-glucose-spike recipes

Includes smart meals with proven action in reducing post-meal blood sugar and a special preparation with apple cider vinegar that helps with insulin sensitivity.

 Bonus 6: Zero Retention Protocol

An 8-second nighttime ritual with herbs and salts that helps reduce bloating, retention, and improve circulation — without affecting glucose.

 Bonus 7 (exclusive): $1,000 Zara gift card

The first 10 people who lock in the package with 3 or 6 bottles today will participate in a special raffle.

"I bought the kit with 6 bottles, I was the lucky winner and got the gift card.

GlucoSense changed my health... and I even got a new wardrobe. Thank you, Dr. Lauren Hart."

✨ Just imagine: your blood sugar finally under control, your labs in order — and you celebrating this new chapter of your life wearing whatever you want.

This gift is totally exclusive while this video is live.

 Of the 84 bottles available, only 27 remain right now.

So click the button below, choose the package with 3 or 6 bottles, finalize your order and... take the step that can change everything.

Now it's your choice.

You can leave this page and keep:

- * Measuring your glucose 3x a day
- * Scared to death of the next prick
- * Listening to the doctor say "it's normal to get worse over time"

Or you can act now.

And see with your own eyes what happens when the body starts working again.

When blood sugar truly drops.

When the pancreas starts responding again.

That's what GlucoSense is about: giving control back to those who have already tried everything — and only heard that "diabetes can't be fixed."

Click the button below and turn this page once and for all.

Look at this.

It's the cinnamon ritual, the trick that makes your body de-bloat, fire up your metabolism again, and burn off that fat that seemed glued on forever.

Thousands of French women are using this simple ritual before breakfast and fitting back into the jeans they wore when they were 25.

And yes, I did it too, look at me.

See my face, my waist, my legs?

Everything changed.

And what if I told you this ritual only takes two minutes, can be done with ingredients every woman has in her kitchen, and on top of that makes you wake up lighter, as if your body had burned fat while you were sleeping?

No diet, no gym, no injections.

Want to know what it is?

Come with me.

All you need to do is follow the cinnamon ritual that activates the natural hormone that reprograms fat cells, and the result is so fast it seems like a miracle.

A glass of this mix in the morning and you feel your body respond the same day: the bloating disappears, your belly goes down, and your energy comes back.

No scalpel. No hunger. No yo-yo effect.

I know because I lived it.

I was that tired, drained woman who hid her body in baggy clothes. Today, I feel alive again, I wake up light, I sleep better, and I keep losing weight without trying.

This cinnamon ritual puts your body back on track, especially after 30.

It erases your "fat memory" and gets your body to burn naturally again.

The exhaustion disappears.

The skin gets firm.

The mirror becomes your friend again.

And the craziest part: the compliments don't stop coming.

Every woman who tries it feels the same thing, a sensation of being reborn.

Want to live this too?

Watch the video below right now. In it, I show you the complete step-by-step of the cinnamon ritual, how to prepare it, when to drink it, and what to expect in the first 7 days.

My goal is simple: help 50,000 women lose 10 lbs with the cinnamon ritual this week.

Are you going to be the next one?

And the best part?

It's 100% natural, simple, no side effects, and takes less than a minute to prepare.

I might regret opening my mouth, but keeping this to myself would be cowardly.

Ever since I started this cinnamon ritual, I haven't had to hide my body behind baggy clothes anymore.

There's just one problem: the original video got taken down, and I'm one of the few who still has it saved.

That's why I'm giving you the chance to try it out before they pull it again.

And please, throw away those capsules and shakes that "cost an arm and a leg"

Even my most skeptical friends started using it.

Camille was one of the first.

In less than three weeks, she lost 17 lbs, no gym, without cutting out anything.

Then she sent me the video, and I started doing the ritual every night.

Within a few days, the pants that were tight started falling off me.

And the cost? Less than 5 dollars a week.

All you have to do is mix cinnamon with three simple ingredients.

It's like flipping an internal switch your body forgot it had.

This ritual wakes up a natural hormone that "reprograms" fat cells, and makes the body burn even while you sleep.

But careful: drinking more than one glass can speed up the results too much.

A 52-year-old woman here in France lost so much weight she had to redo her entire wardrobe.

The pain in her knees disappeared, and she started looking at herself in the mirror with pride again.

And the craziest part? She still has croissants for breakfast and doesn't set foot in a gym.

I know, it sounds insane.

I doubted it too, until I saw more than 20,000 women showing the step-by-step of the cinnamon ritual on social media and visibly losing weight in just a few weeks.

I'm reposting the original video, with the complete recipe, so don't waste time.

Click the button below to watch it before they delete it again.

The video has already gone viral with over 17 million views.

And look: I know a lot of people would charge a lot of money for this, but for a few hours the video is 100% free through the button below.

Watch it now, before they take it down, and find out why this ritual is 7x more potent than natural Ozempic...

And why dieting might be keeping you stuck in the wrong body.

Just promise me one thing: use it carefully... and don't disappear too much, okay?

Is the only thing you really need to completely wipe out type 2 diabetes in just a few days

Sounds crazy? Well, that's what I thought at first

Until I saw that the one who said this was Morgan Freeman in his newest documentary.

A few days ago, Morgan Freeman revealed this ancestral Himalayan ritual that's changing thousands of lives.

It's the exact same ritual responsible for a village in the Himalayas having no clue what diabetes is, even living to 90 and eating junk.

But want to hear something even crazier?

This ritual has now been revealed to Americans.

And it's already helped more than 83,000 men and women reverse this damn disease in just a few days.

Without spending a fortune on expensive medications like metformin, injections to regulate blood sugar, and without having to starve themselves on restrictive diets

This ritual is so simple that 93% of Americans have all the ingredients in their fridge.

But how exactly does this ritual work?

And why has the pharmaceutical industry been spending millions of dollars to silence Morgan?

That's what you're about to see with us right now.

Look, I need you to pay attention...

This isn't a game, we're talking about one of the biggest discoveries of the 21st century.

An American doctor from Johns Hopkins University dug up a ritual used for centuries by a village in the Himalayas

That has always been used as a treatment to maintain people's health and longevity.

And that's why, I've decided to tell the truth straight to your face to help as many people as possible.

Because when we talk about diabetes, it isn't just a disease...

We're talking about the biggest health problem in the modern world, that makes dozens of people die with every minute that passes.

And traps people in a miserable life with joint pain, constant trips to the bathroom, blurry vision, constant headaches, and the risk of having limbs amputated from a simple cut

The most intriguing part of all this?...

On average, studies have shown that this damn disease steals 17 years of life from Americans.

Meanwhile, businessmen who profit trillions from Big Pharma sell drugs that don't work, with the goal of making symptoms worse and keeping people addicted.

But this simple ritual is a 'game changer.'

All it takes is a glass of salt water mixed with an herbal compound every morning.

To finally see your A1C levels completely stabilize, like back when you were 20 years old, in just a few days.

Without starving yourself on horrible diets, without giving up the joys of being with your family, and without suffering through painful injections.

The symptoms start disappearing, the nerve and joint pain evaporates like it never existed, and the energy of a 20-year-old comes back to your body like a divine blessing.

Stick with me in the full documentary available on the button below...

I'm going to show you how to escape the grip of this damn disease
