Add bits to magnify the image below (a small letter “C”) by a factor of 2. The image should look the same, but twice as big! The bits are provided and a screen capture of the resulting image is shown.

What was challenging about magnifying the image? How did you interpret the instruction to “double the size” of the image?

How many more bits did you need to double the size?