

THE FACADE OF SAFETY

There is no question if politicians are honest or even have our best interest at heart. There is no question because everyone already knows that they don't, not even in the slightest. It brings me to a great question about why people with such knowledge still believe the government is necessary for providing safety. It also brings me to an even greater question of why the same people believe the government does keep them safe, and or, is even effective at doing so. Now we are confronted with the greatest threat that our country, and the world has ever seen.

Upon hearing the previous statement, the most likely thing to come to most people's minds is covid-19. Unfortunately that is not the case. Considering that the virus is little more than a slightly more deadly cold, the greatest threat to our country and the world today, is our own government. Governments have always given the people the illusion of freedom and safety. While implementing freedom crushing regulations, or conditioning the populace into a state of trust, or weak, passive, submissiveness. Now more than ever, we see the very quintessence of conditioning, we may as well be in a field during 100 degree weather doing push ups, and running until we vomit.

Upon hearing all of this, it is important to ask and answer the question, what are we being conditioned for. Over time, we have seen a slow but steady growth in government regulation, but now such growth has been noticed, and has seemingly been stopped, at least for the most part. The reasoning for this is that if the government were to tyrannize now, it would surely spark a civil war that the government would lose quite miserably. So they must be patient, they must wait until the time's right to tyrannize. Before they tyrannize, they need to “stress test” their systems, methods of conditioning. It is self-evident that the covid-19 shutdowns are just a “stress test” as I am calling them. This is self-evident throughout the true nature of covid-19, and through the ways in which the government has exploited it for their own gain.

With this in mind, what is the true nature of covid-19. The true nature of covid-19 is that it is not nearly as deadly as the mainstream mainstream media, and more specifically as the government would have you believe. Out of the total number of people who are infected with the virus, only 3% of the carriers die from it. Along with that, 94% of the 3% of people that die from covid, have an underlying health condition that contributed to their death. At the time of which I am writing this, How much these underlying health conditions contributed is unknown. But considering the fact that only 3% percent of the people who are infected with covid die from it, I would say that it is safe to assume that these underlying health conditions contributed immensely.

Sadly that is not all, the total number of covid deaths is also inflated. One case of this can be seen in the state of Washington. The washington state department of health, (DOH) told the freedom foundation that gunshot victims are being counted as dying from covid-19. For the sake of this being a short brochure/pamphlet, I will not go into further depth, But all of this information can be found at freedomfoundation.com. Why would the government deceive us, make a virus that is barely more deadly than the common cold, seem far more deadly than it is.

They would do so because they want to take control of you, to put on the facade of safety. The lockdowns are nothing but one big scheme, the only purpose of which is to win your trust, and to make you dependent. Here is how it works, rather a random problem emerges, or the government blatantly produces a problem, regardless of how the problem emerges, the government still exploits it. When the government exploits an issue, naturally occurring or artificial, they don't only concentrate efforts when the problem emerges. Instead, they push propaganda and lie to us throughout our whole lives. They do so through, children's cartoons, through the schools, and as everyone knows, the mainstream media.

They do this so when the problem does emerge. They have been ready even before the problem came about. All throughout our lives we have been taught that only the government can solve certain issues, that some issues are beyond the individual's control. As a result of this propaganda pushing, we believe the lies that they have told us, one we believe that individuals are weak, and the government is the only one who solves certain issues, and now we are dependent on them. Once the government is done morphing us, and shaping our minds, to be dependent on the government. They start taking our right away.

When they start doing so, we are helpless to do anything about it, sense we are depnet on the government to provide for us, to protect us, ect, we will obey the government out of fear of having our livelihood cut off, more often than not, they just murder decenters.

To conclude this writing, What kind of situation are we in as of right now. WE are in a situation where we have been lied to, propagandized, morphed, and shaped into a more controllable populace. All so we are easier to be controlled by a few high ranking elites, who are overcome by an animalistic, and primalistic impulse to control other people for their own gain. A major part of taking control is the widespread acceptance of collectivism, and in the midst of their indoctrination, and propagandization, they need to see if their methods of said indoctrination and propagandization have been working effectively, a “stress test” if you will.

The lockdowns in response to covid-19, are little more than one of these said stress tests. It is not hard to judge the effectiveness of their methods of indoctrination and propagandization, all one needs to do is look around them, everywhere you go, people are wearing face masks. Not only that, but they are also waiting in the government to cough up a vaccine, instead of actually doing research and discovering what is going on right in front of them. At the time that I write this, we are in immense danger, unlike anything else we have ever seen. The government has put on the facade of safety, and it's indoctrination and propaganda is working. The people are now begging for the government to fix their problems, and their dependency on the government grows. The monster is taking shape, it is slowly rising, soon enough, if this monster is not stopped, we shall be chained to the ground beneath us, and enslaved. Share what you have read in this book, for it is of the utmost importance.
