On Tuesday Kim was officially missing in the jungle. A search and rescue team was sent to search for him. The search was successful, lasting two weeks. He was found alive, surviving by using his pocket knife, clothes and a rifle. His food source came from the two monkeys he shot with his gun. Kim put his boy scouts skills into good use, rubbing two sticks together to make fire to keep him warm and to cook his food. The pocket knife was very useful to gut and prepare the monkey to cook. The knife was also used to cut fern and branches to create a shelter.

Me and john made stories, jokes and games

Tim and Jamie were on holiday on the outskirts of the Sahara Desert . They were flying over the desert when the helicopter hit a sudden drop. As it went down the co-pilot shouted back to Tim and Jamie that the pilot had died from a bird going through the window screen and into his neck but before he could finish saying it they hit the ground, the wings shredded off and the roof crumbled. Tim jumped up and ran to Jamie. A chunk of metal lay across Jamie's leg. Tim thought that Jamie looked alright so he ran to the co-pilot, who had a wheel on his head. Tim took the wheel off the co-pilot's head and was shocked the co-pilot's face was peeled off completely. he looked at the pilot who had a eagle in his neck he ran back to jamie and saw he had only one leg tim quickly got some tissues and stuffed them on his bleeding legs. Tim got some metal poles and a seat belt to make some crutches and they survived for three days and saw the chopper coming in and got saved.
