Bio

Rabbi Amy Weiss is Founder and Executive Director of Undies for Everyone. As a social entrepreneur working to “repair the world” Amy incorporates 25 years of community work, advertising, and marketing experience to fill an unmet need for impoverished children. Amy’s wide experience in teaching, writing, counseling, speaking, and volunteering in the community and the US brings a deep network of connections that continues as a crucial part of UFE’s growth. Ordained by Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion, Amy also received master’s degrees in Jewish Education and Hebrew Letters and earned a degree in Advertising from the University of Texas at Austin. Most recently Amy was named a 2022 CNN Hero.
