Creating School Based Change through Future Ready Planning Workshop

#FutureReady | futureready.org/connect

The Creating School Based Change through Future Ready Planning Workshop is designed for school-based leaders (Principals, Librarians, and Instructional Coaches) to explore effective school-based leaderships strategies that assist with the transformation and modernization of student learning through the support from the FRS Framework. Grounded in leadership and school culture, participants will create a plan for building strong instructional partnerships, develop an understanding of change management, and explore effective strategies and tools that support the development of a Future Ready school, while building the capacity of like-minded educators in their region.
