

Tempers Flare

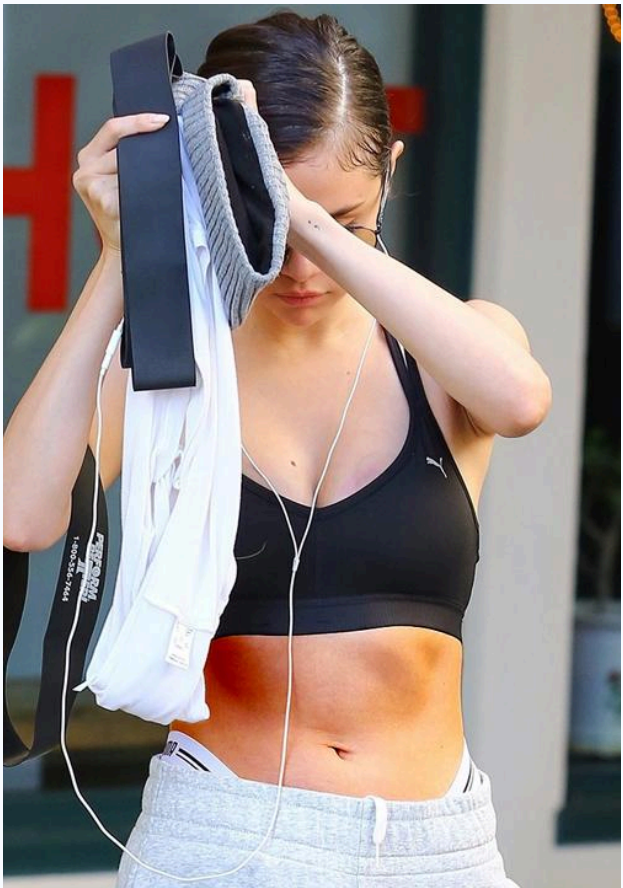

The alliance between The Badass Barbies and Strikeforce was in jeopardy. For over 6 months, the two Stables were training together and the results were beneficial as both Stables claimed success in the form of Divisional and Tournament titles.

While some of the training sessions were spirited, for the most part they went without incident. That all came to a halt when Amber Heard took issue with a submission loss to Selena Gomez at UCC VII in Paris. The controversial ending came when Selena locked on a tight armbar and continued to wrench the hold while Amber tapped out on the mat. Selena claimed that she never saw her former friend tap and blames the referee for letting it go on as long as it did. Amber claims that she not only tapped the mat but also tapped out on Selena's left thigh and felt that she could have been seriously injured by Selena's careless move.

The showdown occurred in the Barbie locker room where a fully charged Amber demanded an explanation. When Selena's excuse was not accepted a brawl ensued with Selena getting the upper hand bloodying up Amber until she quit. Amber refused to give up and kept demanding a rematch until Selena simply had enough and dragged a beaten Amber into the shower and held her head under ice cold water until Amber finally quit for good. Amber ended the confrontation by drop kicking Selena into a locker as she stormed out vowing revenge.

The revenge came at a Grammy afterparty. Amber and Selena met for the first time since the shower incident and both agreed that it was a mistake for friends to fight and hugged it out putting the fight behind them. The event went without incident until the end where Amber showed her true colors and another confrontation saw the two Welterweights go at it again. This time, Amber got her revenge brutally beating Selena's belly until she was writhing in agony and her once firm ab muscles were a bruised and battered mess. Amber then stripped Selena and threw her naked body out into the crowded after party.

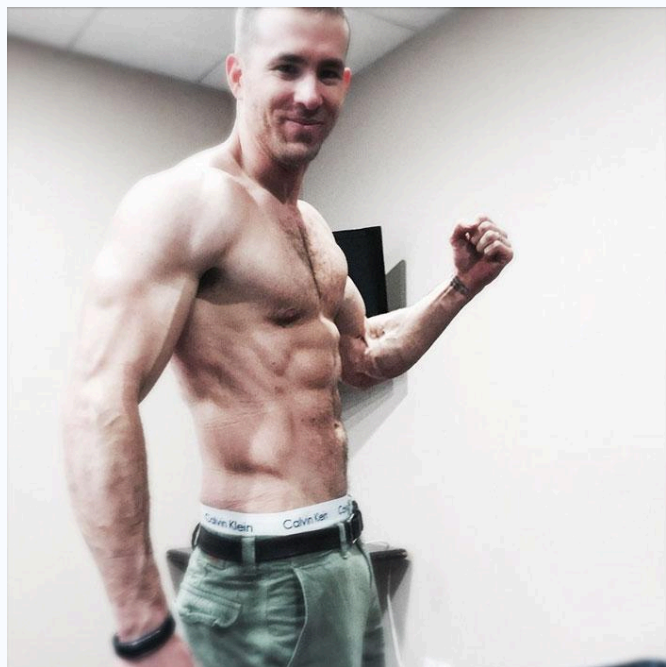

Both former friends kept silent but the word in the locker room was that both were up to settling the feud once and for all. The situation worsened when Taylor Swift and Nina Dobrev confronted Rita Ora and Iggy Azalea when they were about to go down on the Strikeforce Boss. Taylor blamed the two Strikeforce stars of seeing Selena get beat up and doing nothing to stop it. A brawl took place with Nina easily handling Rita while Taylor looked to get the early upperhand only to see Iggy take over and go to work on Taylor's famous legs. When the fight was finally broken up Iggy had Taylor locked in a painful figure 4 leg lock and was seconds away from causing some serious damage to the $40 million limbs. Taylor survived the torturous hold but didn't take it well and was looking to even the score.

The Meeting

Kylie Jenner was at a crossroads. She enjoyed working with Strikeforce and the benefits were there but with 6 of their fighters at each other's throats she was afraid that the cross training would soon get out of hand and called a meeting between her and the Strikeforce Boss.

The meeting took place in Kylie's conference room during a cross training session. The Boss took Kylie by surprise when he arrived shirtless but she got over her initial shock and invited him in.

Kylie: Good to see you. Come on in and can you please put on a shirt.

The Boss: I just oiled up. Give me a couple of minutes

Kylie: Have a seat, please.

The Boss: Nice . . . ummmm. Are those furry seats?

Kylie: Yeah, there extras from Kylie Cosmetics. They're comfortable. Sit, we have a lot to discuss.

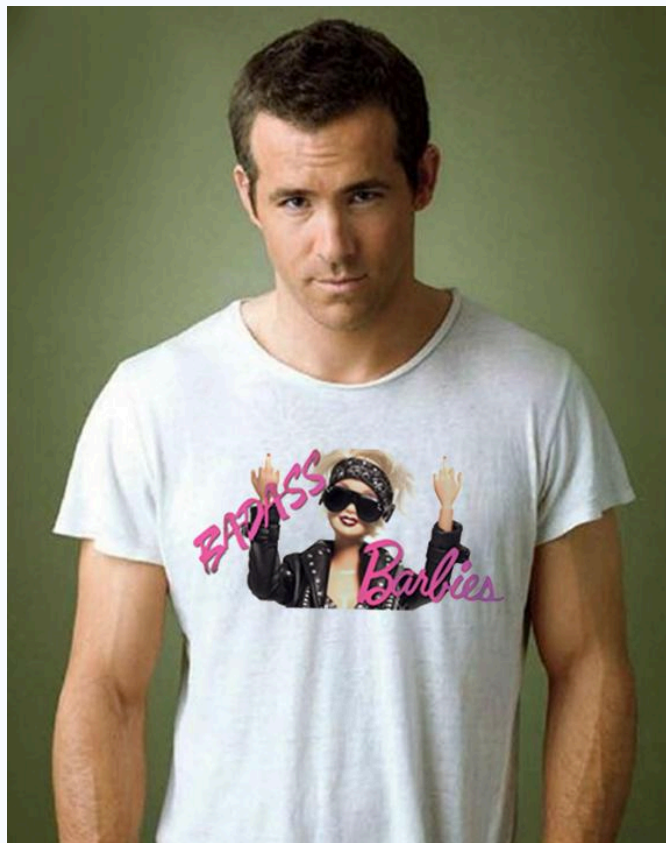

The Boss: So . . . I see you have a list on the screen. Hmmmmm.

Kylie: I thought we would discuss a few issues before they got out of control.

The Boss: Well. I think we're already past that.

Kylie reached into a duffel back and threw him a Badass Barbie T-Shirt.

Kylie: Please put this on. Your ruining my furry seats.

The Boss: There, is that better.

Kylie: Better. My hope is that we can stop this from getting any worse. The last thing I want is to see anyone get injured. From what I heard Taylor got lucky that Iggy didn't break her leg.

The Boss: I'm sorry about that. Iggy can get carried away but you know that Taylor totally had that coming. She interrupted us when we were about to . . . Well let's just say that Taylor has bad timing and Iggy made her pay.

Kylie: Taylor was only defending her teammate. And by the way, aren't you married to Blake Lively?

The Boss: And. . . ?

Kylie: Well, Nina Dobrev told me that you, Iggy and Rita were about to have a threesome when she interrupted you and that they wanted her to join you. Is Blake OK with this?

The Boss: Let's just say that we have an “understanding”.

Kylie: I love Blake. How come she's not on Strikeforce?

The Boss: We decided that it would be too complicated if we worked together. You know, business and pleasure.

Kylie: Well it seems like you've been getting a lot of “pleasure” lately. Let's get back to the list. What Amber did was totally uncalled for. She could have ruined Selena's career. Luckily her teammates gathered all the phones and deleted the pics.

The Boss: Can you blame Amber. Selena didn't have to hold her under a cold shower like that.

Kylie: Shailene Woodley told me that Amber wouldn't stop and Selena had no choice. It's not like anyone else saw it. It was between the two of them. Stripping Selena and throwing her into the party was uncalled for.

The Boss: So where do we go from here?

Kylie: Our girls like training together and you can't argue with their success. We both benefit and for the most part they get along.

The Boss: I've seen them in the gym. They push each other but that's a good thing. Lots of smack talking but they seem to love that.

Kylie: But there is still some bad blood. Let's go over the list.

The Boss: OK, number 1. I think that Selena and Amber are done. They've each had a win.

Kylie: That's very unfortunate seeing they were good friends. I feel Selena is the better fighter though,

The Boss: I'm not sure I'd be so confident after seeing Selena's abs after Amber pounded them. It is 1 fight a piece.

Kylie: Actually, it's 3 to 1. Selena has beaten her twice in the UCC. Amber may be new to your stable but I was her teammate for a couple of years. Trust me, Amber won't stop until she one ups Selena.

The Boss: Do you suggest another fight? Winner takes all?

Kylie: I'm sure they would love that but it would only make it worse especially if Selena wins again. We need to get them together and work it out.

The Boss: What about number 2. Taylor started it and she got what was coming. Iggy did nothing wrong.

Kylie: Taylor is in a bad place right now. The last thing she needed was to get her ass kicked by Iggy. I don't think she'll be causing any more problems. As for Nina and Rita, I think that it was just a fight.

The Boss: You listed the Awesome Aries and Lost Wildcats. Have you come up with another event? My girls loved getting into the ring with them.

Kylie: That really brought them close. We need another team building event like that but the Aries/Wildcats have been in hiding since the Sin City Slugfest.

The Boss: I think we put them in their place once and for all. And by the way. Knocking Harumi out like that was amazing. Getting KO'd with her own tit to the chin was a thing of beauty. To end an event like that was classic. Congrats.

Kylie: I've been looking forward to beating her when it counts. She is one tough lady. In fact all of them are.

The Boss: Proud Legs Corporation. I've seen them in the cage and they look like they can fight.

Kylie: I've been trying to get a hold of them but they haven't been answering my calls. Hopefully we can work something out. Vanessa Hudgens keeps bothering me about setting up a boxing match against Vivian Geppart. She wants to get her in the ring. I think she's foolish seeing that Vivian is twice her size.

The Boss: I also read that Taylor Swift got embarrassed by Taylor Hill. From what my girls told me it was painful to watch and now Taylor Hill has the sexiest legs and is the Top Taylor. She does have amazing legs. Will there be a rematch?

Kylie: They were supposed to have a mat wrestling match. You know, Olympic rules with points and pins.

The Boss: I used to wrestle in College. I'd love to help train Taylor.

Kylie: No need to help, I got her out of it. I heard that Taylor Hill wrestled in High School and was able to beat most of the boys. I didn't want to put Taylor through another humiliation again. She underestimated Taylor Hill's legs and paid dearly for it.

The Boss: Come on, Kylie. Let me work with her for a week or two and I'll have her ready. She might not win the Best Legs Title back but at least she won't get run over.

Kylie: I'm not sure I can put her through that. If Taylor Hill beats her again it might be too much. Taylor Swift is very fragile now. We'll take you up on that if the event happens.

The Boss looked up at the board.

The Boss: Why is the next event number 6. Are our fighters facing off against each other?

Kylie: There's always that possibility especially with Selena and Amber and Bella. They've already met in the previous 2 tournaments. The competition is a lot stiffer this time.

The Boss: That's the UCC. I think we should just let them go all out and the better woman wins and the loser has to live with it.

Kylie: I totally agree but all of this started at the last Tournament. Let's hope that they keep it in the cage.

The Boss: The only way they are going to listen to us is if there are consequences for their actions.

Kylie: What are you suggesting? Do we suspend them for fighting?

The Boss: I say we drop the hammer. If they get caught fighting each other then they are kicked off the roster.

Kylie: Whoa! Kicked off the roster. Isn't that a little harsh?

The Boss: If we want to stop this then they'll have to know we are serious.

Kylie: So if you think that will work I'll go along with it. I love that they like to fight but the last thing I want is to see anyone miss an event.

The Boss: OK then, let go tell them.

Kylie and the Boss were on their way to the gym when an out of breath Zara Larsson came running up to them.

Zara: Come! Hurry up. . . deep breaths. . .

Kylie: What's going on?

Zara: They're fighting and we can't stop them!

The Boss: Who's fighting?

Zara: Hurry! Follow me. They're killing each other!

Zara started running towards the gym.

Kylie: I hope we're not too late. Let's go.

Kylie and the Boss ran towards the gym. When they got there the cage was surrounded by all of the members of Strikeforce and The Barbies each cheering loudly for their teammate.

Inside the cage were Hailey Baldwin and Selena Gomez. Both were swinging haymakers landing occasional shots. Selena had a bloody nose while Hailey's lip was busted open. Kylie went to open the cage door but it was locked shut. Kelli Berglund tapped Kylie on the shoulder.

Kelli: We tried to get in but Hailey has the key in her trunks.

Kylie: Who started this?

Kelli: They both wanted this. I guess Hailey was blaming Selena for dissing her and Justin on her new album and they got into a shoving match. Jennifer Lopez broke them apart and suggested they put on some gloves and settle in the ring. They've been beating the crap out of each other for over 10 minutes non stop.

Kylie and the Boss started yelling at their fighters through the cage but the two rivals kept slugging away. Hailey was clearly getting the upper hand as she landed solid punches and knees to Selena's body, Hailey grabbed her by the shoulders and pinned Selena pinned against the cage and unloaded crushing blows to the stomach until Selena was slowly sinking down the cage.

Amber: Keep at it Hailey. I told everyone her abs weren't shit!

The Boss: That's enough out of you, Amber.

The Boss turned his attention back to the cage where Hailey was teeing off on Selena's midriff.

The Boss: Hailey! Stop! She's had enough now!

Hailey: Not till I knock her ass out, Boss! I'm almost there!!

As Selena was slipping down the cage she wrapped her arm around Hailey's neck and dragged her to the mat locking on a tight guillotine. Hailey started flailing about as Selena rolled on the mat and tightened the hold. Hailey's head was starting to turn bright red as the oxygen was being cut off.

Kylie: Let her go Selena! Stop this right now!

Selena looked up at Kylie.

Selena: Not till I put this bitch to sleep!

Kelli Berglund got between Kylie and the cage.

Kelli: You know, Kylie. Hailey married Selena's ex Justin Beiber and they don't like . . .

Kylie: Oh shut the fuck up, Kelli! Go to my office and get the key to the cage. It's in the top drawer on the left.

Kelli: Where's your office?

Paris Berelc grabbed Kelli's hand and the two took off to Kylie's office. Inside the cage Hailey managed to slip her head out and was on top of Selena as the two rolled on the ground both doing their best to get on top. Hailey powered her way until Selena was pinned up against the cage and started kneeling her in the ribs and chest.

All of Hailey's teammates started screaming and slapping the cage as her knees were crunching into Selena's ribs. Selena managed to roll on her back and took a few knees until she was able to grab Hailey and pull her into guard. She locked her up tight and took both hands and latched them onto Hailey's breast and started squeezing them. The Boss could hardly watch as Selena twisted and mauled the firm tits. She then locked Hailey in a body scissors while locking on on another guillotine. Now it was the Barbies who were cheering as Selena's thighs poured on the pressure but Hailey refused to give in.

Selena: Tap Hailey! Tap and I'll let you go or I swear you're going to sleep.

Selena was trying her best but Hailey held on and managed to roll Selena on her back pulling her head out. The two got to their feet and went back at it with Hailey going right back to Selena's tender abs while Selena started kneeling Hailey in the thighs.

Kelli and Paris came back with the key. Kylie and the Boss quickly ran over and separated the two and got them to their feet.

Kylie: What has gotten into you?

Selena: She started it.

Hailey gave Selena a shove in the tits knocking her back.

Hailey: That's a bunch of crap, Selena. You started it when you dissed Justin and I on your album. I can't help it if we ended up together so get over it!

Selena broke free and tucked her foot behind Hailey's ankle and pushed her shoulders, knocking her on her ass.

Selena: Oh I could give a shit about either of you. I'm so over him.

A red faced Hailey jumped back to her feet.

Hailey: So that's why you wrote a whole album about us? 4 years after you broke up. Sound to me like you're not over it.

The Boss: Stop it you two! Kylie and I have had enough of this in fighting!

Kylie: We don't mind some friendly competition but locking the cage and duking it out is unacceptable and won't happen again.

Hailey rolled her eyes and wound up and punched Selena in the belly driving the air out of her lungs and folding her in two. She quickly followed it up with a knee to the chest lifting Selena off her feet.

The Boss: Hailey! Did you hear what we just said! No more fighting!

The scene quickly escalated as members of The Barbies and Stikeforce started pairing off. Miranda Kerr got in Dove Cameron's face.

Miranda: What you say love. We can be next. Want to go another round with me?

Dove: I'm not going to fight you, Miranda.

Miranda: I understand. You didn't put up much of a fight the first time.

Dove poked Miranda in the chest.

Dove: You better watch your mouth before I shut it.

Mirada: You poke me in the chest again and you'll be on your back looking up at the lights,

Dove: You want to go, bitch?

The two squared up and started throwing out jabs but were separated by teammates,

Selena managed to straighten up but her hands were still covering her midsection. She moved closer to Hailey and twisted her body around landing a spinning backfist square on Hailey's jaw dropping her to the ground.

Kylie: SELENA! Stop it. The next person to get into a fight will immediately be released!

Silence quickly took over and you could hear the A/C unit buzzing in the background.

The Boss: We're dead serious! The next person who breaks the rules will be looking for another stable. It doesn't matter if it's Gigi, Bella, Rhianna, Megan, Jennifer, Pia, Rita, or any other of you. If you get in a fight with any of the Barbies then your days as a member of Strikeforce is OVER!

Kylie: We have way more pressing issues than fighting each other.

Vanessa Hudgens raised her hand.

Vanessa: What about fighting other stables like those losers over at Proud Legs?

Both stables started rumbling. Megan Fox chimed in.

Megan: Yeah! I still owe those that bitch Kristen Bell over at the Awesome Aries. I was winning the fight and let her back in. I'm not about to let her do that again.

Kendall Jenner: And that ass clown Sophia Bush hasn't seen the last of me.

The Boss: Kylie is working on it and we'll let you know. Until then let's get ready for the next event and focus on our opponents instead of each other.

Kylie: We all know how grueling the Tournaments can be. We need to get focused. Now let's get back to work.

The Boss walked over to Amber Heard.

The Boss: Are we clear on this Amber?

Amber: Why in the fuck are you picking on me?

The Boss: No more fighting! Got it.

Amber reluctantly nodded her head.

Kylie: The same goes to you Selena.

Selena: But they started it!

Kylie: I don't care who started it. You got into three fights with our allies and the next one will be your last. GOT IT!

Selena nodded and headed for the locker room to get cleaned up.

The Boss: Starting tomorrow there will be referee's to monitor the sparring and grappling sessions. You are to follow their instructions. Are we clear on this?

After some grumbling peace was restored and both stables agreed as they went back to their training.
