

Week #4- 5/6

During this unprecedented disruptive time in our lives, it's extra important that we remember to take care of our "whole" selves and stay connected

Updates: Here's what's happening...

May is National Physical Fitness and Sports Month.

There are countless ways to get moving, and many of them can be done while you are social distancing or at home.

...Look for more on the Move Your Way Campaign and other resources in the next newsletter.

As of May 1st, a HOTLINE is available at NO COST for all HIDOE students and families to address student-related health questions and telehealth visits.

Read more here

Record your school's experience during these historic times!

A class, a club, or an entire school can create their own book:

The Stay-At-Home Chronicles evolved during the period of school closures stemming from the Covid-19 pandemic. The book's sections are aligned with the Power 9°, nine simple, life-changing principles from Blue Zones Project shared by the world's longest-living people.

Read more information here, and contact Megan. Yarberry@sharecare.com for the book template and technical support.

Comprehensive Self-Care for Educators Webinar Series

- Navigating Uncertainty: Stress Management for Educators (Recording)
- How Families Can Partner With Schools During Distance Learning (Recording)
- How Schools Can Partner With Families During Distance Learning (Recording)
- Comprehensive Self-Care for Educators (Recording)
- Finding Balance in Disorienting Times (Recording)
- Supporting Student Success Through School Health Policy (Recording)

HAWAI'I ISLAND HEROES

The County of Hawai'i and the stations of New West Broadcasting (KWXX B97,B93 and KPUA), are recognizing outstanding individuals, businesses, community groups and non-profit entities that are going above and beyond the call of duty to help our families, friends and neighbors through these challenging times.

Nominate your hero today!

School Garden Talk Story is a Facebook group connecting garden teachers , assessing needs for school gardens, providing resources for each other and taking bold next steps to highlight the integral role of school gardens Sign up for one of their upcoming webinars here

- Fri., May 8th
 - o Best Practices for Harvesting and Food Sharing.
- Wed. May 13th-
 - School Garden Access, Care and Management.
- Wed. May 20th-
 - Supporting Home Gardening for Students

More info here

Mahalo - to the 273 students and 207 adults who participated in Virtual Volunteer Week, ending this Saturday, 5/2.

Resources to Support Health and Wellness:

Published by the Greater Good Science Center (GGSC) the magazine provides articles, videos, quizzes, and podcasts, to bridge the gap between scientific journals and people's daily lives, particularly for parents, educators, business leaders, and health care professionals.

https://greatergood.berkeley.edu/

May	2020	ılendar	This month, Keep up with the	This month, protect your relationships and build optimism. Keep up with the latest on the science of connection, compassion, and happiness by subscribbles to our researchaters.
SUNDAY	MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY	SATURDAY
Greater Good Sig Science Center ggschedulogeds gestingsofterkelegeds		R.	-		Our coronavirus resource page may be helpful these days.	Here's how to help your kids focus on the good.
This pandemic has upended many of our social rituals. Here are some ways to cope.	Build some optimism with a gnatitude journal.	Here's how to help young people who are missing graduations and other rites of passage.	Taking photos can help you find meaning in life.	You can find awe and beauty indoors, too.	Mindfulness is a great practice to develop. Here's why.	Believing you've bucky might make you more happy.
1) Listen to this pedcast to find out how one doctor keeps himself calm and centered.	Check out these three tips from a therapist for calming your coronavirus arcdety.	Try this practice to find silver linings.	Kids need love and compassion— not the pressure to succeed no matter what.	Join us tomorrow for Bridging Differences, a virtual summit for dialogue and understanding.	15 Here's some advice on protecting your well-being at work during a crisis.	In a short video GGSC founder Dacher Keltner shares some tips or practicing gratitud
Try giving people the benefit of the doubt. It might make you happier.	18 Your conversations can help the teen in your life find purpose.	10 Take this quiz to find out if you take the good things in your life for granted.	20 Low on gratitude? Here's how you can grow more.	Check out gratitude researcher Robert Emmons' list of 10 ways to become more grateful.	22. Are you a manager? Boost your team's well- being by taking our online class series.	26 Here's how our online course helped one woman deal with negative emetions.
24 Does home- schooling have you down? Here are tips from a school psychologist.	Here's how to help your marriage survive quarantine.	26 Having trouble sleeping? Here's how to protect your sleep from coronavirus analety.	27 Research suggests some ways to find a sense of central when you're feeling helpless.	26 Here's how to think about conflict differently to improve your relationship.	29 Be kinder to yourself.	3.0 Find connection across differences with this identify- ing common goals practice.
31 Let's end the month on a high note: Compassion.	failed to find the words:	- Apry Santos	what was happening aroun	d me."	1

Greater Good Monthly Calendars

The monthly Greater Good Calendars offer you tips and tools to build resilience in these uncertain times.

This month, protect your relationships and build optimism.

Get the May 2020 Calendar HERE

Even when Stay at Home orders are eased and the number of people who can gather slowly increases, we know that wearing face masks in public places will be a practice that can continue to keep us safe. Make sure you have your supply...

- CDC Guidance-DIY Masks
- No Sew Face Mask

Although the CDC recommends that we wear a cloth face mask in public because it slows the spread of the coronavirus, masks alone will not be the answer. We don't want it to create a false sense of security. The efficacy of face masks by specific percentages is still unknown, despite some info. spreading through social media. Snopes

We need to continue to practice comprehensive prevention:

- Wear cloth face masks in public settings.
- Keep our distance.
- Wash our hands w/soap.
- Cough or sneeze into our elbows.
- Avoid touching our faces.

How to Create Your Own Personal Space -

Here are some suggestions of things to do that are FREE in your ZEN DEN.....

Read a book-

 Digital Lending Library -All you need is your Hawaii Public Library card to access this free collection.

Listen to music-

- Spotify
- Pandora

Practice Mindfulness-

- Calm
- Headspace
- Insight Timer

Planting Herbs in Containers for Beginners

Paradise Plants- Home and Garden Center

Cooking with Fresh Herbs

Don't forget to take some time to Smile and laugh!

It's good for you!!

 Having Trouble Dealing With the Pandemic? It's OK to Laugh

Try some of these on for size:

- Dog Sings About the Pandemic
- Sportscasters Narrating Every Day Life- Missing sports?
- Silly Zone- Try this in your neighborhood!

Bright Spots: What's happening in our schools to support wellness?...

Kea'au Middle School held its 2nd Virtual Wellness Wednesday with the addition of a cooking demo and hydroponics.

Interested in learning more? Contact Brandon Tanabe, VP at brandon.tanabe@kl2.hi.us

Mt. View Elementary School celebrated appreciation for their teachers at their HA/Lokahi meeting.

Interested in learning more? Contact Debbie Collins, VP

debbie.collins@k12.hi.us

Waimea Elementary School held an online face-mask fashion show! See some of the entries on their Facebook page

*Our schools are finding creative and fun ways to stay connected and promote wellness. Please share your great ideas, activities, and events (with social distancing, of course) with us here

'Ulu Curry Corn Chowder

This tropical twist on corn chowder uses breadfruit ('ulu) with its mild flavor and the consistency of potatoes or taro, but higher in protein, fiber, and nutrients. As a staple food in Hawaii, the Caribbean, South Asia, and Polynesia it has become a versatile and easy to use ingredient in many different cuisines.

Bonus Recipe! See how to make Roasted Carrot & Hummus with Fresh Fennel in this KTA video

Ongoing Support and Resources

Covid-19 Updates From the County of Hawaii

A Guide for Our Community

(Programs and available resources)

From the HSTA Member Matters Newsletter:

Credit Unions Offer Emergency Relief Loans

Interested in learning more?.....

HawaiiUSA Federal Credit Union
The Hawaii State Federal Credit Union

Hawaii Island Food Basket COVID-19 Pandemic Emergency Food Response

Keaau | Keaau High School: 1st Tuesday @ 10:00am
Hilo | Hilo Civic Center: 2nd Wednesday @10:00am
Pahoa | Pahoa Community Center: 3rd Friday @10:00am
Papaaloa | Papaaloa Gym: 4th Friday @ 10:00am
Honokaa | Honokaa Gym: 4th Friday @12:00pm
Pahala | Kau District Gym: 4th Tuesday @10:00am
Mt. View | Mt. View Elementary: Last Wednesday @10:00am
Volcano | Volcano Cooper Center: Last Wednesday @1:00pm

Learn More here

Has your family recently experienced job loss due to COVID-19 that affects your ability to pay rent and/or utilities?

Neighborhood Place of Puna is now providing utility and rent assistance through the Aloha United Way CRUA program.

Learn more here

What We're Reading/Listening to This Week

- School Counselor Gives Life Lessons On YouTube From Her Kitchen
- 14-year-old Big Island boy starts program to help local farmers during COVID-19 pandemic
- Is Hot Sauce Healthy? Because the Hot Sauce Trend is Still Hot.
- How Friendships Influence Your Health

Read for an escape...

- The Murmur of Bees by Sofia Segovia A mysterious child with the power to change a family's history in a country on the verge of revolution.
- Funny in Farsi by Firoozeh Dumas A charming chronicle of a family's first encounters with American culture