

There was no sign of Billy as I searched the back alley of this lizard people's gentlemen's club and I didn't know if I would ever be able to find him, for this vision was fully created in Billy's mind and I was just a mere guide slightly nudging him in the right direction though I had no known map to show me the way. Our auras and chakra's were connected enough to allow me to do this. And maybe it was risky to take on a vision quest when it had been years since I last guided someone through one as Beard and Judas were the last ones. Maybe I was rusty, maybe that is why I didn't see the Lizard people kidnapping coming to fruition. I didn't see the handcuffing happening either. Yet I really had no choice in the matter, I knew that if something didn't change with Billy, his affection for the Lizard King's bait would come back to be our unraveling in the end. I mean the kid has a golden ticket to take the Lizard Kingdom's greatest prize. Yet we all knew he wasn't going to be ready to face the green bastard's top champion, I knew it, Waylon knew it, James knew it, and William knew it. And from what I gathered William was wanting Waylon to use the golden ticket. Waylon has been damn near unstoppable since stepping foot in the Lizard Kingdom. He has become quite the lizard slayer leaving a trail of purple blood everywhere. And Billy well Billy continues to be blinded by his own delusions of grandeur. His confidence was teetering on making him an egomaniac, one of the most despicable species of Lizard People. And really while William could just have taken the trios contract and gave it to Waylon. We couldn't afford any resentment or ill feelings of one another to surface. The Lizard King and the Anunnaki would surely focus on using that to tear apart this strong and solid front that was the Fall of Man. We had to show Billy the true enemy and hope he realizes he isn't ready....yet.

So while I wanted Billy to see the Lizard people's true form, I wasn't betting on his pseudo lizard people to capture him and take him away. I wasn't banking on losing the kid in this vision quest. I am lost in a place that was conjured up in Billy's mind. I walked out of the back alley and into this bustling metropolis. I looked around as it was filled with gaudy and nauseating signs of materialism. Billy decked in Gucci, Billy driving Lamborghinis. Billy showing off Rolex. But then again am I really surprised? After all the kid was fed the lizard king's poison straight out of the womb. It is a damn shame that William waged war against the scaly reptilian tyrant but, he was allowing his own son to be exposed to the reptilian core values. Then again money begets power and rots the core. Unfortunately for Billy, the Heaven's have generational wealth. But hopefully this vision quest can break the vicious cycle. The next generation may not be poisoned by the Lizard ways and Anunnaki manipulation. Mainly because once the Lizard Kingdom is nothing more than ash, we can instill core values that don't revolve around superficial things. People will not be prodded by shiny little trinkets or gaudy looking golden accessories.

Cause right now this next generation is under the reptilian spell. I look around Billy's city and all I see is self gratification. I see billboards plastered with images of himself labeled such as the Rizz King and other egomaniac claims. I just shake my head as I continued down the busy area of the city. I saw that the majority of the people were females actually all of them have been females. And all of them had a similar look. They were fit, toned, and covered in superficial war paint. They were dressed in name brand clothing as I figured I might as well see if they would know where Billy was. I stopped a lady.

Giovanni Aries: Excuse me.

She stared blankly at me. I was a bit uneasy with the emptiness that seemingly persisted behind her eyes. She just stared at me blankly as she twirled her hair a bit.

Giovanni Aries: Can you help me?

Again the lady just stared at me. I mean I was confused what the hell was going on with this vision Billy had conjured up. She just stood there as I decided that her non response and the fact she just stood there meant yes.

Giovanni Aries: Have you seen Billy?

And suddenly with the mention of Billy's name, I saw her eyes light up. This gave me a bit of hope.

Random Lady In Billy's Town: Billy Heaven, the king of rizz, I love him. He is so sexy.

Um that didn't help at all. I mean what was going on?

Giovanni Aries: Um okay, but have you seen Billy?

Random Lady In Billy's Town: Billy Heaven, the king of rizz, I love him. He is so sexy.

Again nothing but I am starting to figure out what was going on here. Billy is so self centered that he doesn't recognize other people's thoughts. He doesn't really know or care what other people think. While this is a good practice in theory, it is more you don't need to depend on others opinion of you, Billy was too caught up in himself to actually realize other people have thoughts and opinions. Again being self absorbed is just another thing the green scaly bastard and Anunnaki could use to weaken the Fall of Man. But this doesn't help me right now either as none of these people can help me find out where Billy was taken. They are just filler and slow down my path to find him as these women are packed on the sidewalk. I sighed as I walked past the lady and continued to look around the town to see if I could figure out where they could have taken him.

Giovanni Aries: Where the hell are you Billy?.

This damn kid had conjured up a sprawling city that I could never have time to search. I mean this vision for me only has a finite time for me to help. If I don't find Billy soon and guide him back, I don't exactly know how this will work. I have never seen a person stuck in a vision quest. I have never seen a person trapped in their own vision. I then began to try searching buildings but all the doors didn't work. They were just exteriors of buildings. These skyscrapers were just part of the picture. This right here also proved Billy only took things at face values. He never looked beyond the surface. This is another trait that the Lizard King and Anunnaki look to exploit. They like followers that take everything at face value. They are easily controlled with shiny objects. Poor Billy would be easily corrupted if the Lizard King was given the chance. Billy can't continue down the path he has been on. He will certainly become a puppet for the Lizard King. I continued to search buildings as every single one were just cut outs that didn't have an interior. There had to be a door that opened that the pseudo lizard people took him to. But the kid had made this city too huge. Just then I heard the noise of the bar coming through. This wasn't good.

Giovanni Aries: BILLY!!!!!!!

I screamed out as I hoped maybe he would hear me. I then saw the gaudy billboards start to disappear. I saw the skyscrapers start to evaporate into thin air. My time in this vision quest was rapidly coming to end. I now had to figure out how I would break the news to William Heaven that his son was lost in a vision quest. I would have to tell him that I failed him and his son. Yet did I really fail him though now thinking about it. The kid was on a one way track to becoming the Lizard King's new puppet. Maybe him being held captive will finally give him the perspective he needs. Maybe being trapped by Lizard People will open his eyes and ears to my advice. We all had to be on the same page for the Fall of Man to put the final nail in the coffin of the Lizard Kingdom. I just didn't know how Billy would be in the real world while held captive in the vision quest. I guess I was going to find out really soon. The whole city that Billy had conjured up was wiped away in my eyes as I was back in the bar with Billy who sat in the bar zoned out of his mind. I looked around as I saw William and James talking, Waylon was sitting in his own thoughts it seemed. I looked at Billy as I didn't know exactly how to approach this.

Giovanni Aries: Billy, Billy can you here me.

Billy continue to sit there for a moment as he then started to look around.

Billy Heaven Jr.: Giovanni, where are you?

Shit, his body was in the real world but his vision and brain was still stuck in the vision quest. I didn't know exactly how this was going to go.

Giovanni Aries: There is a slight problem.

That might have been one greatest understatement I had ever made.

Billy Heaven Jr.: What? What do you mean problem?

Giovanni Aries: I lost you and now I am not in the vision quest with you.

Billy Heaven Jr.: Dawg that is some straight wack shit. I mean how you goin' lose me?

Giovanni Aries: I am sorry, I just didn't expect you to get kidnapped. And right now you are stuck.

Billy Heaven Jr.: Aw naw, aw hell naw. Dawg I can't be stuck here. These lizard broads are going to make me a stud for them.

Giovanni Aries: No they aren't.

Billy Heaven Jr.: Dude they want to finest specimen to breed with. Billy Bands will make the ultimate lizard thing.

I mean yeah his complete ego and self indulgent nature would make quite the Lizard person.

Giovanni Aries: I don't think that is what a they want.

Billy Heaven Jr.: Dawg they been eyeing me like a prime rib. They want some of the Billy Bands.

Maybe I could use this to my advantage though. Maybe I could use the threat of lizard people sex to help Billy see the error of his ways.

Giovanni Aries: Maybe you are right.

Billy Heaven Jr.: I know I am dawg...wait you mean they want to breed me?

Giovanni Aries: I mean it make sense now. You are continuing to promote ego and self indulgence. You are all about the bands, the praise, the money. That is an aphrodisiac to them.

Billy Heaven Jr.: A what?

Giovanni Aries: I turns them on.

Billy Heaven Jr.: How do stop this from happening?

He was finally listening. Maybe him getting stuck in his own vision quest wasn't the worst thing. Maybe finally I could help mold him into an asset to the Fall of Man instead of an liability.

Giovanni Aries: You need to be selfless. You need to check your ego. You need to do thing for the greater good.

Billy Heaven Jr.: Dawg I ain't going to be a beta.

The self center superficial tendencies remained strong in Billy Heaven.

Giovanni Aries: Fine have fun with the Lizard Strippers.

I heard him sigh as he was coming around to finally buying into what I was telling him.

Billy Heaven Jr.: Fine how do I do that?

Here was my chance to kill two birds with one stone. I could help Billy and help put William's plan into motion.

Giovanni Aries: Give away the golden ticket.

Billy Heaven Jr.: Dawg I ain't Willy Wonka. What the hell are you talking about.

Giovanni Aries: The trios contract. Give it up.

Billy Heaven Jr.: Dawg you trying to play a player? You want me to hand you the trios contract. You think I'm going to let you punk me out? Dawg I'm the leader. I get shit done.

His delusions of grandeur knew no bounds. He was convinced he was this great captain leading us to victory.

Giovanni Aries: No give it to Waylon.

Billy Heaven Jr.: The unabomber?

That was a quite a call back. But I could tell this wasn't going to take a little more effort to get him to relinquish the contract.

Giovanni Aries: The contract is what drew the lizard people to you. They see that as sexy and want you even more.

Billy Heaven Jr.: Dawg you fucking with me.

Giovanni Aries: What is more of an alpha then a main with the golden ticket that led his team to victory.

Billy Heaven Jr.: Dawg that is true.

Giovanni Aries: Giving it away turns them off.

This was quite the negotiation I was having with Billy ,but it had to be down for everyone's good.

Billy Heaven Jr.: You sure it will give them the ick? These lizard bitches look ready to milk me dry.

I didn't need the mental image. I was just glad I couldn't see what Billy was seeing to be truthful with you.

Giovanni Aries: Yes I promise it will.

Billy Heaven Jr.: You sure?

Giovanni Aries: Yes.

Billy Heaven Jr.: Hey ugly ass lizard bitches, I am giving my trios contract away. How do like that hoes?

This was fantastic. He was giving the trios contract to Waylon. We could finally deliver a massive blow to the lizard kingdom by taking down their might champion, the executioner.

Billy Heaven Jr.: Hey dude I think it is working. They look at bit turned off by it. I mean I think they are. It's hard to get a read on these lizard bitches. Also I never turned off a woman before so an uncharted water on both accounts.

Giovanni Aries: Uh good deal.

I really didn't know how to respond to that.

Billy Heaven Jr.: Yeah go find Waylon Creek. I'm sure he would love to breed with you. The guy looks like he has fuck with some weird things.

Giovanni Aries: Dude what the hell?

Why put a target on your ally's back? Then again good thing these lizard bitches are all in Billy's mind and can't actually come after Waylon. Billy still has a lot to learn.

Billy Heaven Jr.: What?

Giovanni Aries: Why throw Waylon under the bus? We are a team.

Billy Heaven Jr.: Yeah I know he can take one for the team.

Funny thing is I thought that Billy giving up the trios contract would awaken him from his quest. He still has achieved what is need in this quest.

Giovanni Aries: Hmm...

Billy Heaven Jr.: What?

Giovanni Aries: I just thought this would finish your vision quest.

Billy Heaven Jr.: So I gave up my contract for nothing?

Giovanni Aries: I mean you aren't breeding with Lizard People right now.

Billy Heaven Jr.: True dat dawg. True dat. But what does this mean now though.

Giovanni Aries: You might have to find the true Billy. You have put up so many superficial layers that you have not found the real you.

Billy Heaven Jr.: Shit I'm the realest at there dawg.

Giovanni Aries: You need to be Billy that doesn't rely on superficial things to validate him. Don't worry though, I will help you get there.

Billy Heaven Jr.: Now right?

Giovanni Aries: It will be a journey but hopefully soon.

I didn't know how long it would take or how he would operate while stuck in a vision ,but I would do everything in my power to make it work. I was brought in by William to be catalyst not only physically but spiritually. I patted Billy on the shoulder as I stood up.

Giovanni Aries: I will be right back and we can start that journey.

Billy Heaven Jr.: Wait you are leaving me with these lizard bitches? Not cool dawg. Not cool at all.

I mean I had to figure out my next move to help him. The good thing he was open to change sure it was by fear but he should be fearful of what the lizard king is capable of. He needs to feel the urgency in doing that. I just needed a moment to figure out the next step.

Giovanni Aries: I promise I will be right back and we can start a way to finding the key in your vision quest.

I stood up and walked over to the smoking section as I pull out a Wonderland cigarette to use as an inspiration to figure my next move. While I was doing that, William Heaven approached me.

William Heaven: So how did it go with Billy?

I didn't want to tell him I left him in spiritual limbo. I didn't want to tell him I lost him. I knew I could save him. I knew I could strengthen our weakest link. So instead of putting a damper on our victory tonight in Tactical Warfare, I chose to keep the good news coming.

Giovanni Aries: He is willing to give Waylon the trios contract for the betterment of the group.

William grin widen at the news.

William Heaven: How did you manage that.

I didn't want to tell him that the threat of Lizard sex was the key factor.

Giovanni Aries: He is starting to see the light.

I just hoped that light would lead him out of the vision quest. For his sake and mine. I took a drag of the cigarette and hoped to figure out my next move with Billy.

William Heaven: Good deal.

William patted me on the back as he walked over to Waylon as I saw James approaching me. I didn't know what he wanted but I just hoped that I didn't fuck up Billy. James already had trust issues with me and my methods.

+++[We open up with the close up shot of the SCW World Tag Team title that Giovanni has defaced of its gold name plate. Just the smoke creeps in the shot as the smoke thickens as the shot pulls back to the unsightly title resting on Giovanni Aries shoulder. Giovanni Aries takes a deep drag from his Wonderland cigarette as he looks at the leather strap and cackles out.]+++

Giovanni Aries: You know the Green Scaly Bastards really hate when I get ahold of their shiny little trinkets. They hate when I reduce their shiny little things to nothing more than an unsightly piece of dead cow hide. They hate that I destroy such an item that has such history, prestige, and respect. I'm sure teams like Dark Fantasy, Frozen Hell, The Jackass and Big Ass Connection, and Light In the Darkness are disgusted by the utter disdain I show toward their little title. The key words being "their title". This dried out skin of a cow's carcass has many claims to it. I mean it has to Dark Fantasy's title after all they held it the longest. Well that was until they decided to go after more personalized gaudy golden fashion accessories. I don't think Syren or Raven could care any less about this hunk of leather now. So I guess this title is Frozen Hell's title as it surely belongs to two of the most decorated women in the lizard Kingdom and bitter rivals that were brought together by this disfigured shiny trinket, It showed how much this title really mean. That was until Reagan broke her neck from the result of some lizard kingdom core values rearing its ugly head. I don't think she is going to chase after this dried out leather ever again. So I guess it belongs to the Jackass and Big Ass Connection cause they finally returned and made it known they are going for their titles. The same titles that were quickly disregarded like yesterday's garbage once Kandis had a chance at the bigger and ever shinier trinket. Well damn I guess this means it is indeed the Light In the Darkness's title as they were the last ones to hold the titles. But do they want this or does one of them want a different trinket? You see this isn't any of "their titles". It isn't any of the hundred teams that have laid claim to the worthless trinket either. Cause this is and has always been the scaly green bastard's.

+++[Giovanni grabs the disfigured tag title off his shoulder and holds it in both hands as he looks down at it in repulsion at the very sight of it.]+++

Giovanni Aries: This has been made into a false idol for the masses and has had hundreds of teams worship at the feet of it. They put this gaudy golden idol on a lofty pedestal as this hideous thing feeds their delusions of grandeur and egos. And that is what exactly what the Lizard King and Anunnaki want you to do. They want you to worship it, need it, desire it. Cause that gives your reptilian overlords power cause at the end of the day, they decide who challenges for this false idol. They decide who is "worthy" to fight for their sick and twisted delight. They use your need for validation, your need to feed your egos, your need to prove your are the greatest, to control you like puppets. They pull the strings and your pain and suffering is displayed to the masses. Yet the previous ninety-nine previous "champions" have been too in awe of the false idol to realize this. You have been too consumed by the brief moment of validation. And every single team will continue to chase after this false idol for that off chance you get to bask in the presence of this disgusting false idol.

+++[Giovanni sneers at the defaced tag title before a Cheshire Cat type grin washes over his face.]+++

Giovanni Aries: But now that idol isn't going to get that worship. That idol isn't going to be used as it was intended by the reptilian ilk. No, you see this idol will help bring upon the reptilian genocide. You see I didn't want this worthless leather strap cause I wanted to be a "champion". I didn't want it for some superficial validation of some urge to be called the best. No I wanted it cause I knew this could help destroy the Lizard Kingdom. You see taking away an idol from the peasants of the Lizard Kingdom takes away a chance for control from the Lizard King and Anunnaki. It is one less thing they can pump their propaganda. You see this hunk of junk will be wielded with devastation. Cause the longer you all are without an idol to worship, the more it eats away at the Lizard Kingdom's core values. The longer you can't worship at the feet of this reptilian abomination, the longer your egos can't be fed. The longer you go without the idol, the longer you go without any validation from others. The longer this unsightly blight stays away from the reach of the kingdom, the more doubt begins to take up residence. And when doubt takes root in the lizard kingdom, the lizard core values are easy prey. Doubt kills ego, doubt erases validation, doubt kills the drive to worship the false idols and doubt breeds complacency. And then the poor sheep quit chasing that carrot.

[Giovanni Aries cackles out at his previous statement.]

Giovanni Aries: But until then, the sheep will continue to chase after the carrot. They will continue to worship at the feet of this false idol. And thus the Dangerous Minds that carrot dangles in front of you this week. You will seek the validation that has eluded them so far in this kingdom. You will seek revenge for the past transgressions did upon you by Waylon or I. For they want it all at Breakdown. They want the gold and comeuppance, They want the praise and the righteousness. Yet funny didn't these same desires cost you before; when you lost your shot to worship at the shrine of the false idol a couple months ago? You were so set on revenge and glory that you lost your chance? But it was the righteous thing to do, right? Join forces with your future opponents to take down a greater evil seemed like a no brainer. But I question were we indeed the greater evil? I mean Light In The Darkness played you two Dangerous Minds like a fiddle. They got you to fight with them and risk your shot to gaze upon the false idol in a match where either of their opponents were put through hell. But what's done is done right? You were used a cannon fodder for them, but what matters now is Breakdown. I mean who needs self respect? Who needs dignity when you have the abhorred thing wrapped around your waist? Man you two have taken the lizard core values to heart.

[Giovanni pounds his heart with his fist.]

Giovanni Aries: And that right calls into question your Dangerous Minds. For you may think you are a threat, that you are an unique combination with skills that make you stand out from the Lizard Kingdom crowd. And sure you two have traits that can be challenging. You have characteristics that may be perceived as a threat, at the end of the day you aren't dangerous. You are just like every single sucker in the lizard kingdom. You inflate your ego and reputation but at the end of the day you bend the knee to this insignificant false idol. You jump through hoops, you bite your tongue, you go from dangerous to docile just for a shot at this thing. I mean look at the stipulation you followed like good little lizard king pawns. You didn't lay a finger on us. Now sure that could be perceived as patience but deep down you and I both know it is obedience to this false idol. Dangerous Minds you are desperate to be chosen by the false idol. You are desperate for vengeance to feed your ego ,but desperation makes men do foolish things. Desperation leaves openings. Desperation often leads to the fall of man. And Breakdown, Dangerous Minds, the false idols will not look favorably on you. And thus the doubt starts at Breakdown....the Reptilian Genocide gets put into motion. Fall Of Man is here...

Giovanni Aries: Is inevitable...
