learners the scoring in Rosenberg Self-Esteem Scale.
Scoring:
Items 2, 5, 6, 8, 9 are reverse scored.
 Give “Strongly Disagree” 1 point, “Disagree” 2 points, “Agree” 3 points, and “Strongly Agree” 4 points. Sum scores for all ten items. Keep scores on a continuous scale. Higher scores indicate higher self-esteem.
 Teacher will make an interactive and collaborative discussion using PowerPoint presentation.

C. Engagement

Activity: Road Map
 Now that you have a better grasp of yourself, you are to do this activity. Recall the most important event/s of your life which you believe to have helped you discover yourself more. Complete the road map

Activity 1 – FIXED ME
 Directions: The learners will be divided into four groups. Each group will be given strips of paper where definitions of the given terms are written. The first group who can fixed the jumbled words will be the winner and will receive 25 points, other groups will receive points

Activity: Some “One” Dear
 You learned from the previous text that Self is a “Reflective Project”. We do reflective assessment, and we keep on trying to change ourselves for what we think is the best. Big part of the reflecting process are considerations like how you think people

Activity: Sharing-Is-Caring
 This time, you will have an idea of how well your family members know you by letting each them write what they think your strengths and weaknesses are, as well as, what they think makes you angry and happy. After the given time, look for the below. Consider the instructions given. Select learners will present their output in the class and ask the feedback of other students.

Title of the Road Map _____

Name three traits/values you will constantly and consistently share with others so that they will also overcome the challenges of their lives.

Justify why you would still choose the road you have chosen to take.

State one good reason why you won't choose to change yourself or your present thoughts.

Describe how your traits which you have gained through your experiences, have helped you surpass your life's challenges.

Name the changes you have noticed in yourself after encountering challenges you have indicated in part 5 "Bridge."

List down things/activities you do that make/s you strong whenever you feel so down...

State things you have realized after overcoming problem/s when no one was there to help you.

List down the positive things that happened to you after learning the lessons you have in Gas Station 1.

Name the first problem you have encountered that has given you a good lessons in life.

Describe yourself before you have encountered the problem.
