

This picture shows search results for “laptops shops near me”. This is an example for getting active attention, because when someone wants to purchase a laptop he/she will usually look for places or sites from which to buy from. This is also an example for increasing trust, because the reviews of the businesses are very positive (mostly about 4.5/5) and from about 125 reviews to over 250 total number of reviews.

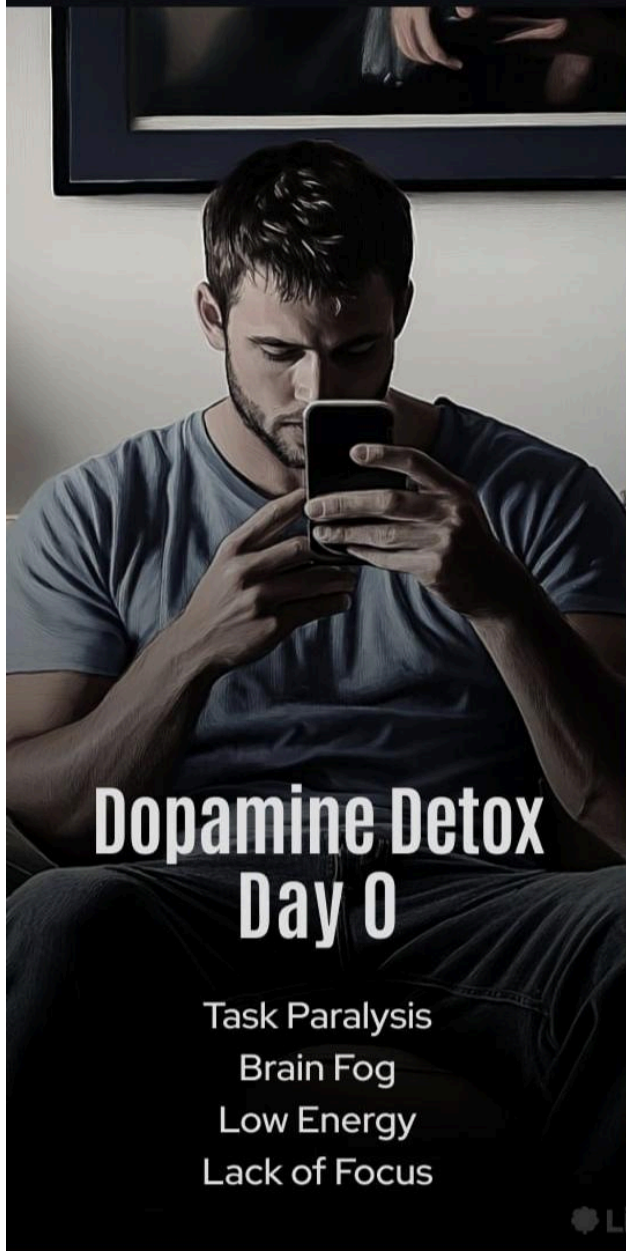

(Translation of the white text: NVIDIA powers the world of AI. Also yours.)

This is an example for increasing desire because of the modernity of the term “AI” and also increasing the belief in an idea - it comes from the fact that this “modern” technology can be in the buyer’s own computer if they buy the product.
