

End of Course Testing and AP Practice Testing

After Spring Break, we will begin Spring End of Course Testing. During these days we will be giving state-required End of Course Exams to students enrolled in English 10, Algebra, Geometry, Biology, US History, AP US History and second semester Government classes. Many students will also take practice AP Tests during this time.

Students in CVCC or CCP classes that need to take an End of Course Exam, must report for testing during the testing window. Please make arrangements with your instructor or professor to be available for EOC testing. If due to the change in bell schedule, a CVCC or CCP student has a conflict between classes that cannot be resolved, they will be considered excused from their NRHS class and be allowed to make up the missed work.

Students who are testing should be ready to begin at 7:20am and should arrive to testing with a fully charged and recently restarted school ChromeBook. Students should also bring headphones/earbuds. Students should check the posters hanging in the hallways for their testing room location.

Students will also be notified if they need to make up or retake other End of Course Exams in order to achieve their state mandated graduation requirements. The date, time and location of these makeup/retakes will be given to the students individually.

On testing days, all students who wish to eat lunch at school should report at 10:20am to make sure they get lunch before classes begin at 11am.

Buses will run their normal routes at their normal times. Any student reporting to school before 10:20am who is not testing will be provided a quiet study hall.
