

Hi [manager's name],

I'd love to expense my subscription to Link in Bio! It's an industry newsletter all about working in social media and features insightful interviews, helpful tips, and important social media news. Here are two examples (here and here) of the type of topics the newsletter covers. The paid subscription will also give me access to a private Discord community with social media professionals from lots of other industries.

Because the newsletter is an educational resource, I was hoping that it's something that can be expensed to [insert company name]. It is $150 for the whole year, which is a steal considering all the insights and learnings I will get from it.

Thank you so much for considering!
