TA Trainer & Training Organisation Directory

This directory is a paid-for directory. TA Trainers and training organisations pay to be listed in this directory.

We operate this directory on a trust basis, as such we cannot accept any liability for our trainer's or training organisations' actions.

Additionally, because we are not a professional body, we do not set training standards. As such we do not accept or deal with training standards complaints.

Any professional training standards issues should be directed by you to the trainer's professional body. It is your sole responsibility to raise and direct any issues to the trainer's professional body.

Organisation Name: Red Kite Training – Ecological Training in Contemporary Psychotherapy

Trainer Name: Carol Wain

Location: South Liverpool

Online or F2F Training Provided: Face to Face

TA Training Offered:

- Red Kite offers an Ecological, Co-creative and Relational approach to training in contemporary psychotherapy and counselling.
- We present a movement in psychotherapy, including in Transactional Analysis, which is oriented toward an ecological understanding of the individual embedded in relationship with others and the wider natural world.
- We encourage the emergence and expanding of new perspectives and possibilities in the theory and practice of psychotherapy within an eco-systemic frame of reference.
- We take particular account of the ecological spaces in which we live and learn, including working throughout the training in accessible natural settings. We incorporate ecological thinking and practices in an embodied way in all our learning to relate practice to theory to support the work we do as psychotherapists.
- Our training/qualifications are suitable for those with no previous training/experience in Psychotherapy and Counselling and those who are already qualified and want to develop an ecological practice.
- We are living in urgent times with the ecological crisis threatening all of life on Earth and the rising complexity of the existential, social, political, economic and cultural realities in our wider world. This has awakened us to ask searching questions about the role of psychotherapy in meeting these challenges.
