Hmm let me try. Maternity Benefit computation for Clarisse Benabese:

Expected due date oct. 29 2013 belongs to the 4th quarter (Oct, Nov, Dec).

Exclude semester of contingency: July 2013 to Dec. 2013.

So 1 year before that is: July 2012 to June 2013.

Next step is to identify the 6 highest monthly contribution from July 2012 to June 2013.

2012:

jul-1560=H

aug-1560=H

sep -364

oct-1248

nov -1560=H

dec-1560=H

2013:

jan-1560=H

feb-1560=H

mar-1508

Answer: You can get the maximum Maternity Benefit of 30,000 for Normal Delivery. 39,000 for CS.

This is my computation. I could also be wrong. :)

Hi aries, were you locally employed before? And did your employer register and paid for you? Because if not, and you have zero contributions, you need to register as self-employed using RS1 form and presenting your IDs and proof of source of income. Then when approved, pay for April to June and then later, July to Aug. It's important that you get approved/registered (RS1 form stamped by SSS) before you pay. If all these are done, you can qualify.

Hi aries, self-employed dapat ang aplayan mo kasi you were not able to pay your contributions when you were an OFW. Ang Voluntary ay yon lang dating active Employed member or OFW. Puedeng non-working wife ang aplayan mo kung SSS member ang husband mo.

Hi xnudlsx, ang sure ako na ibinabawas ang loan balance ay sa retirement benefits at sa permanent disability benefits.

Hi xnudlsx, were you able to pay at least 3 monthly contributions within Jan to Dec 2012? If yes, eligible ka for maternity benefit kahit meron kang existing loan.

Wala akong makitang circular na ibinabawas ang loan balance sa maternity benefit.

Hi Rafael, email mo na lang SSS -- member_relations@sss.gov.ph -- kasi laging busy raw ang SSS phone. Enrolled ka ba sa My.SSS? Click Online Inquiry, then Benefit then Maternity Benefit. Kung Settled na, wait for about 2 weeks for delivery via registered mail from date of settlement.

June 7, 2013 at 5:26 PM

Kaydee said...

Hi andrei, your quarter of delivery is July to Sep, so your semester of delivery is April to Sep. Your prior 12-month period is Apr 2012 to Mar 2013. Your 6 highest are:

June 1456 = 14k

Jul 1404 = 13.5k

Sep 1456 = 14k

Oct 1404 = 13.5k

Nov 1560 = 15k

March 1560 = 15k

Total = 85k

$85k / 180 \text{ days} = 472.22 \text{ per day}$

Normal = $472.22 \times 60 = 28,333.20$

CS = $472.22 \times 78 = 36,833.16$

Please check my computation, kasi inapura ko lang, wala nang checking....

Hi Rubie, it's maternity benefit, kasi benefit siya, hindi loan. You have a 10-year period within which to file MAT2. Pero dapat yong MAT1 notification form ay dapat napa-stamp BEFORE you delivered your baby.

Hi Arlene, you can file online sa online SSS account mo (Click Transactions), sa Internet cafe para merong printer kung walang printer sa inyo, and then print yong acknowledgment after you click Submit, then keep this print-out -- for your MAT2 filing.

June 18, 2013 at 5:30 PM

Kaydee said...

Hi Gerald, I don't know her month of delivery...and... Will she file MAT2 while Employed or as Voluntary na? If as Voluntary, if the date of her resignation and date of delivery are within a 6-month period, or kahit more than 6 months, pero less than a year (kasi minsan merong SSS branch na sigurista), before she resigns, she must get a Certification of Separation with date of separation and statement that the company did not advance any maternity benefit to her, plus Specimen Signature (L501 form).

About your address, if she files as Voluntary, her check will be delivered to your home address/address written on her application. Make sure if she files as Voluntary, dapat nakita nio muna na Changed from Employed to Voluntary ang coverage status niya online, para exact match ang personal data, and make sure na posted na ang contributions niya as Employed (yong contributions na significant for benefit computation)

Hello !

I am so confused if I can avail the maternity benefit

Please help .

I worked in FREEMONT FOODS CORP with 6 monthly contributions on April 2009–September 2009

then continued by JOLY-CYBERGATE CORPORATION with 2 monthly contributions June 2011–July 2011 and then in FAR EAST NOBLE HOUSE INC (Gaisano)4 monthly contributions June 2012–September 2012 and Present I had 5 monthly contributions November 2012–MAy 2013

Ngayon, Nanganak ako sa 1st child ko noong Feb.14,2011 so bali dinala ko siya ng 9months start ng may 2010 - feb.2011 at yong pangalawa ko din ay feb.14,2012.So, pareho lang.

Hindi ko kasi maintindihan kong paano titingnan kung pwede ba ako maka benefit sa maternity.Talagang naguguluhan ako.

Please naman oh , help me with this.

Thank you,

Hi Chriselle, pay for April May June asap, para makahabol ka ng 1/2 of your maternity benefit. File your maternity notification asap. After paying using RS5 form (check Voluntary), enroll in My.SSS so you can check if you have a Date of Coverage.

Hi Leianne, dahil OFW ka, puede mo pang mabayaran ang Jan Feb March. Pay asap para mahabol mo ang 1/2 of your maternity benefit. File your maternity notification asap. Enroll in My.SSS so you can check your Date of Coverage. You can also file your MAT1 via your online account.

June 21, 2013 at 3:18 PM

Kaydee said...

Hi Angel, with your first child, sorry hindi ka eligible:

month of delivery = Feb 2011

quarter of delivery = Jan-Feb-Mar 2011

semester of delivery = Oct 2010 to Mar 2011

12-month period na titingnan ng SSS kung meron kang 3 contributions = Oct 2009 to Sep 2010

With your 2nd child, hindi rin eligible, kasi 2 contributions lang ang makita, dapat 3 contributions:

month of delivery = Feb 2012

quarter of delivery = Jan Feb Mar 2012

semester of delivery = Oct 2011 to Mar 2012

12-month period to be checked by SSS = Oct 2010 to Sep 2011

Please check my counting.

May 3rd child ba? Sundan mo na lang itong pag-count and pag-check. And file your MAT1 form BEFORE manganak.

Additionally, dapat napa-stamp sa SSS ang MAT1 form o na-file online BEFORE nanganak, so puedeng ma-reject ang claim kasi kulang ng isang required document.

Hi,

I'm due to give birth this Sept 20, 2013 and I would like to know if I am eligible to get my maternity benefit.

I was employed from sept 2012 until my resignation date of Mar 22, 2013. I then changed my status from employed to voluntary member and paid contributions from April to Sept 2013 only to find out now that my previous employer did not post any contributions for Mar 2013 since I was on leave w/o pay (this was around the time i had pregnancy-spotting related concerns and was on bedrest). Now im worried if this would affect my eligibility to get maternity benefits since there were no contributions for March 2013.

Please help!

Hi ai, hindi naman required yong hospital bill. Ang required yong operating room record. Enroll in My.SSS sa sss.gov.ph so you can check your maternity benefit. Use your active email address

July 2, 2013 at 11:10 PM

Kaydee said...

Hi yshie, yes, you qualify, but you get only half of your maternity benefit, kasi 3 months lang ang maco-consider:

Due -- Sep 2013

Semester of Delivery -- Apr to Sep 2013

Prior 12-month period kung saan titingnan ng SSS ang 3 at 6 contributions mo -- Apr 2012 to Mar 2013

Meron kang 3 months -- qualified ka

Average for 6 months ang ico-compute for benefit, kaya lang 3 lang ang meron ka, so half lang.

File your MAT1 asap

July 2, 2013 at 11:16 PM

Kaydee said...

Hi Dianne, yes, you're eligible. File your MAT1 asap.

Semester of delivery -- Apr to Sep 2013

Prior 12-year period na dapat meron kang 3 at 6 contributions -- Apr 2012 to Mar 2013. Meron kang 3 at 6 (Sep to Feb), so you're qualified.

Kaydee said...

Hi michelle, pay asap 2nd quarter sa SSS branch na; puede pa before the 10th (or later depending on the last digit of your SSS no.). Kung ma-post itong 2nd quarter properly, you will qualify, kahit half lang.

About 3 days after paying, enroll in My.SSS, so you can check your status, if you have a Date of Coverage, etc. How to Enroll in My.SSS

Hi melody,

semester of delivery -- Apr to Sep 2013

prior 12-month period kung saan titingnan ang 3 at 6 months -- Apr 2012 to Mar 2013

dec 2012 -- 416 = salary credit is 4k

jan 2013 -- 416 = 4k

feb 2013 -- 416 = 4k

mar 2013 -- 416 = 4k

4k x 4 months = 16k

16k divided by 180 days = 88.89

88.89 x 78 days for CS = 6933.42

your estimated benefit = 6,933.42

Please check my counting and computation, kasi wala nang checking uli

July 2, 2013 at 11:40 PM

Kaydee said...

Hi Glenn, your semester of delivery is July to Dec 2013. Your prior 12-month period is July 2012 to June 2013. Your 6 highest salary credits within this 12-month period are in Jan to June 2013.

Salary credit for 1,092 is 10,500

10,500 x 6 months = 63,000

63,000 / 180 days = 350

350 x 60 days for normal delivery = 21,000

350 x 78 days for CS = 27,300

Your maternity benefit = 21k if normal, or 27,300 if CS

Please check my computation...

makaka avail po ba ako sa SSS?

may epekto po ba ung status ko? alin po ang mas malaki ang nakukuha? OFW po ba or Voluntary?

Hi kath, it's good that you were able to submit your MAT1. Do you have your SSS-stamped MAT1?

You delivered May 2010, so your semester of delivery was Jan to June 2010. Ang titingnan kung meron kang 3 at 6 months na nabayaran ay Jan to Dec 2009. Meron ka, so eligible ka for maternity benefit.

Because you delivered within 6 months of your date of separation from SM, kelangan ng certificate of separation from SM (merong date of separation at merong statement na SM did not advance you any maternity benefit) plus SSS L501 form Submit also birth certificate from NSO and MAT2 form.

Hello, I just have a few questions. Nagwork kasi ako sa isang call center last Sept. 2012. tapos nagleave ako ng dec 2012 din since dinudugo ako. inadvice ng doctor ko magpahinga. bumalik ako ng work Jan 2013 then pinagresign nako ng doctor ko by end of Feb 2013. After nun, nag voluntary nako sa SSS. Nakapagbayad nako for the month of April, May and June. Hindi ko kasi alam kung need nila 6 months na walang pagitan sa buwan ang isasama ng SSS for the computation or ung latest lang sa taon na un.

Eto ung mga nacontribute ko:

Sept 2012 - 686
Oct 2012 - 1590

Nov 2012 - 1590
Dec 2012 - 1518

Jan 2013 - 0
Feb 2013 - 1590
Mar 2013 - 0
Apr 2013 - 1560
May 2013 - 1560
Jun 2013 - 1560
Jul 2013 - 1560

Kung maarin po sanang malaman kung magkano ang makukuha ko at kung masasama ung nahulog last year para maging 6mos ang masasama sa computation. Pakisagot naman po. Nalilito kasi ako. Maraming salamat po.

Hi Mitch, your semester of delivery is July to Dec 2013, so the 12-month period evaluated is July 2012 to June 2013.

6 highest salary credits within the 12-month period:

Meron kang 6 na 1144 within this period,

so meron kang 6 na 11k salary credits,

so $6 \times 11k = 66k$

$66k / 180 \text{ days} = 366.67$

$366.67 \times 60 \text{ days for normal delivery} = 22k$

$366.67 \times 78 \text{ days if CS} = 28,600$

Your benefit is either 22k or 28,600

Please check my Math

Take care

Hi Fats, your sem of delivery is Oct 2013 to Mar 2014, so the 12-month period to be evaluated is Oct 2012 to Sep 2013. You're eligible because you have 3 contributions within the 12-month period. Sabi mo "almost 6 months", so pay 1 contribution more before sem of delivery para complete na 6 contributions ang ma-compute for benefit.

Kaydee said...

Hi Gian, yes, if you pay contributions for July to Sep 2013. Try if you can still pay for Apr to June (this depends on the last digit of your wife's SSS no.), so that SSS can see and count 6 contributions for benefit computation.

Kaydee said...

Hi nayana, your sem of delivery is Apr to Sep 2013, so your 12-month period for evaluation is Apr 2012 to Mar 2013.

5 months lang yong ma-consider:

Sep 2012 - 686 = 6,500

Oct 2012 - 1590 = 15k

Nov 2012 - 1590 = 15k

Dec 2012 - 1518 = 14,500

Feb 2013 - 1590 = 15k

Total salary credits for 5 months = 66k

66k / 180 days = 366.67

366.67 x 60 days if normal delivery = your benefit is 22k

366.67 x 78 days if CS = your benefit is 28,600

Please check my counting and computation

From Kaydee: What's your question ba? About 1st check na ayaw pang ibigay ng employer? Ang alam ko, ibinibigay ang 1st check kapag mag-leave ka na for giving birth. Itong early leave mo ay dahil sa difficult pregnancy -- baka yon ang reason nila. Tanungin mo na lang kung napa-stamp na nila sa SSS yong MAT1 mo, para sure

July 11, 2013 at 5:05 PM

Kaydee said...

Hi Mary, i-follow-up mo na lang nicely sa HR nio kung napa-stamp na ang MAT1 mo. Usually kasi merong sked for HR to go to the SSS, specially if they don't have a messenger. What's important is they submit it BEFORE your delivery.

Jan 2014 ang due mo, so Oct 2013 to Mar 2014 ang semester of delivery mo, and Oct 2012 to Sep 2013 ang titingnan ng SSS kung meron kang 3 contributions at dito rin titingnan yong 6 highest salary credits mo for benefit computation -- see my response to Fats.

Hi anne, Okay lang naman na napaaga -- the requirements are still the same. Kung palaging 364 ang contribution mo, then your salary credit is always 3,500, so
 $3,500 \times 6 \text{ months} = 21,000$
 $21,000 / 180 \text{ days} = 116.67$
 $116.67 \times 60 \text{ days for normal delivery} = 7\text{k pesos}$
 $116.67 \times 78 \text{ for CS} = 9100$

Maternity Documents required

July 15, 2013 at 9:15 AM

Kaydee said...

Hi Chris, the 12-month period SSS will consider for your benefit is July 2012 to June 2013. You said you contributed the maximum, then your 6 highest salary credits are all maximum (15k). Your maternity benefit then is the maximum benefit which is 30k for normal delivery, and 39k if CS.

July 15, 2013 at 9:22 AM

Kaydee said...

Hi Angel, kung 160 ang deduction mo for SSS (166.70 ang exact amount), at ang employer share ay 353.30, then your salary credit is 5k.

$5\text{k} \times 3 \text{ months} = 15\text{k}$

$15\text{k} / 180 \text{ days} = 83.33$

Benefit:

$83.33 \times 60 \text{ days for normal delivery} = 5\text{k}$

$83.33 \times 78 \text{ days for CS} = 6,500$

By the way, it's maternity benefit; it's not a loan.

July 15, 2013 at 9:33 AM

Kaydee said...

Hi Bong, you can file MAT2 near where you live or work. You can check your online SSS account (click Online Inquiry, and then Maternity Notification) if they have a record of your maternity notification. Print the page, and ask the SSS officer if you can use it as MAT1, since you can no longer ask SM about your MAT1.

Hi sweetTOOTHforAYNAT, surely you can pay for July to September. For April to June, it depends on the last digit of your SSS no. See payment deadlines. Pay up to Sep so you'll have 6 contributions for benefit computation.

July 16, 2013 at 5:12 AM

Kaydee said...

Hi Jenn, yes, your maternity benefit is 10k if normal delivery, and 13k if CS. Hindi maka-count ang Apr to June because it's part of your semester of delivery.

July 16, 2013 at 6:01 AM

Kaydee said...

Hi Trixia, your sem of delivery is Apr to Sep.

Your 6 highest are

July 988 = 9500

Sep 1144 = 11k

Nov 1560 = 15k

Dec 1040 = 10k

Jan 988 = 9500

Feb 1040 = 10k

Total salary credits = 65000

$65000 / 180 \text{ days} = 361.11$

If normal delivery, benefit is $361.11 \times 60 = 21,667$ pesos

If CS, $361.11 \times 78 = 28,167$ pesos

About posting: If employed, usually posting of contributions takes time.

Please check my computation, hindi ko na na-check uli.

Ms.kaydee, thanks for answering my question. My deadline of payment for apr-jun will be on the 31st of July. I have another concern, I am getting married this august 2013. I don't have my own philhealth, that is why I need to be my Hubby's dependent. How will I be filing my mat-1, using my maiden name? Won't it give me complications as when I submit the hospital documents needed for sss, I will be using my married name with the documents. What do you think is the best thing to do? I have read that sss needs marriage certificate from nso for status update. And M.Certificate is only available at nso after 3 months.

Hi jhoi, the best thing to do is to visit SSS and verify your SSS no. and contributions. Bring your valid IDs and your NSO (orig and xerox). Depend kung kelan ang due mo, baka puede mo pang bayaran ang Apr to June to qualify for maternity benefit. But verify first your membership

July 18, 2013 at 11:38 PM

Kaydee said...

Hi sweetTOOTHforAYNAT, your due is Feb 2014 so I think you will have time to change your civil status in SSS and Philhealth. As soon as you have your marriage cert, you change your SSS status (this takes about a month, based on comments online). For ID, you have the option to apply for a new ID under your married name or you can still use your maiden-name ID with marriage cert. Yong new ID, siguradong matagal i-issue yon, but you can use your SSS acknowledgment stub as ID together with 2 valid photo IDs. Ikaw na lang ang mag-choose which is better for your case. Yong sa marriage cert, puedeng kausapin ang magkakasal sa inyo na paki-file agad ang cert sa local registrar para ma-process and ma-forward sa NSO in less time.

Kaydee said...

Hi Liezl, yes, okay lang na under maiden name mo ang MAT1, lalo na kung pabayaang mo munang as is ang personal data mo sa SSS. Kung change SSS data naman, meron namang marriage certificate to justify the difference in MAT1 and MAT2's names. Just weigh na lang your options if you change your SSS status and name now or after you get your maternity check na lang. According to those commenting here, it takes a month for a change in status and surname to effect online. About IDs din, what's your surname in your IDs? You use IDs to encash a check. Or your name in your bank account -- if you deposit a check, name of check payee should be the same as account name. Surname of baby will be the father's surname, so wala ring problem with it. So tingnan mo na lang kung ano ang mas convenient sa iyo, kung maiden na lang muna, or change status na sa SSS.

Hi raine03, the next time you pay, you should check Voluntary because you were formerly Employed. But okay lang yong mga previous mong Self-employed contributions. Your 12-month period for evaluation is July 2012 to June 2013, so what will be counted are Apr 2013 to June 2013.

salary credit for 416 is 4k

$4k \times 3 \text{ months} = 12,000$

$12,000 / 180 \text{ days} = 66.67$

Maternity benefit:

$66.67 \times 60 = 4k$ if normal delivery

Hi lailani, kunin mo yong 6 highest salary credits mo last 2012. Hindi na kasali ang 2013 kasi semester of contingency mo is Jan to June 2013. Kung puro 216.70, magiging $6,500 \times 6 = 39k$. $39k / 180 \text{ days} = 216.67$

Benefit:

$216.67 \times 60 \text{ days} = 13k$ if normal delivery

$216.67 \times 78 = 16,900$ if CS

Hi Juvie, kung meron nang tseke, malamang sa postal system ang problem. Or puede rin sa pagdala from SSS to post office. Mag-enroll ka sa My.SSS para makita mo kung nagawa na nga ba talaga yong check. By the way, this blog is not affiliated with SSS; it only shares info about SSS.

Im here again, I have another concern... if a resign this coming aug. or 1st week of sept. need ko pa ba magpasa ng MAT2 sa agency ko or derestso na ako sa SSS???? and kanino ko po makukuha ang benefits ko??? May OB told me na need ko na mag totally bed rest before my due.,dahil may mga nararamdaman pa ako na di dapat..may due is last week of sept. or 1st week of october. Waiting for your reply... Thanks!

Hi Dawn, basta ma-file mo ang MAT1 mo through your employer BEFORE delivery, eligible ka. Kelan ka ba due? At ano ang mga previous months mo nang nabayaran? Or puede mong tingnan ito: Maternity Benefit Eligibility

July 29, 2013 at 11:47 PM

Kaydee said...

Hi Liezl, if resigned/unemployed ka na at the time of delivery, mag-file ka na as Separated (kung hindi ka pa naghulog ng contribution as Voluntary; File as Voluntary kung may na-post nang Voluntary contribution). Ask for Certification of Separation with date of separation and statement that employer did not give you any maternity benefit plus L501 signature card. Enroll in My.SSS so you can see your status; dapat matched ang status mo online at status mo sa MAT2 papers.

Nalaman ko lang na buntis aq june 30, 2013 tapos sinabihan aq na threatened abortion daw so advised na bedrest... tapos ff up check sakin July 7, sabi no fetal heart beat na daw so wait na mag natural miscarry..kaso netong july 26, 2013 rush aq sa hosp for d&c kc clogged ung cervix ko..

Hindi ako nakpag notify ng MAT1 agad.. pwede pa ba ako mag claim ng benefit for miscarriage? advised kc aq ng bedrest..

sb kc missed abortion siya ng 7weeks- twin pregnancy; delivery date dpat is feb 15,2014.

thanks!

July 30, 2013 at 12:39 AM

Kaydee said...

Hi Arianne, yes, you can file your claim. Include a letter addressed to SSS explaining why you were not able to file your MAT1. Include pregnancy test or ultrasound before D&C, D&C report or operative report, medical certificate. If your branch does not accept your claim because you have no stamped MAT1, file at the Diliman branch.

Hope you can comment later on if you got your claim

You're already late for Apr to June kasi 10th ang deadline mo; pero if you like, you can try paying at the SSS cashier for Apr to Sep if they accept. Then check later on sa online SSS mo if these were posted for Apr to Sep.

July 22, 2013 at 1:37 AM"

Thanks Kaydee for answering my query. Isa pa po pala. How much po kaya will I get if hulugan ko ung July to Sept ng maximum contribution?

August 1, 2013 at 8:50 AM

Kaydee said...

Hi Kheizy, how much were your last contributions in 2009? Were they around 1560? If much much lower, declare your income in the RS5 form when you pay 1560 each for July to Sep. Ask others too about paying maximum if your 2009 contributions were much much lower.

Computation:

$15k \times 3 = 45k$

$45k / 180 \text{ days} = 250$

Your benefit:

normal delivery: $250 \times 60 = 15k$

CS: $250 \times 78 = 19,500$

Am i still going to have my mat.ben. if sa midwife ako manganganak then ipapasign na lang ung form sa doctor na pinagpapacheck up-an ko? pls help me.

Hi Alex, puede kang Voluntary kasi dati kang Employed. Puede ring maximum ang contribution. Pero ang alam ko kapag biglang taas, dapat sulatan yong Declaration of Earnings sa lower portion ng RS5 form ng salary na katumbas ng contribution. Pero magtanong rin po sa iba para sure.

August 5, 2013 at 6:44 AM

Kaydee said...

Hi melanie, doon naman sa Obstetrical History form, ang nakalagay sa signature portion ay Attending Ob-Gyne/Midwife. Hindi naman na required ang Operating Room Record or Surgical Record kapag Normal delivery.

August 5, 2013 at 7:01 AM

Kaydee said...

Hi melanie, your 12-month period for evaluation is July 2012 to June 2013.

$14k + 14.5k + 14k + 14.5 + 15k + \text{your Jan salary credit} = \text{Total salary credit}$

You divide the total salary credit by 180. Yong result nito ay you multiply by 60 days (for normal delivery), yan ang benefit mo.

Hi Liezl, thanks for appreciating my blog. Yes, your husband can avail of 7 days paid leave, usually after delivery. But he should file for paternity leave in advance (he should ask his company when to file). Yes, he should change his status -- the paternity leave law says that this leave should be spent in support for his legal wife. God bless din

Hi Kaydee, ask ko lang po kung may makukuha akong maternity benefit/allowance in my situation. I gave birth June 2012 I got my allowance with no problem kasi I was working during that time. I never expected that I'd be pregnant right away. I left work July of last year I went back however I decided to stop because of my pregnancy. I don't know if may makukuha nga ako. I gave birth last July. My contribution is magulo and broken but then on my online profile meron namang nakafile dahil nagfile ako. May I request for a computation if meron mang dapat i compute. And may I know what the process is in claiming it. I have the mat 1 stamped and mat 2 unstamped. Here are the months with contribution:

Dec 2012 - 1560

May 2012 - 1560

April 2012 - 1560

I have no contributions between June-November of 2012.

I know Jan- March contributions are no longer included but here they are anyways:

March 2012 - 1560

Feb 2012 - 1560

Jan 2012 - 1560

Thanks a lot for any enlightenment that you may share.

Hi Siren2013, your delivery was in July 2013, so your sem of contingency was Apr to Sep. Your prior 12-month period was Apr 2012 to Mar 2013. Within that period, you should have paid at least 3 months. Meron ka, so you're qualified.

6 highest salary credits: (3 lang ang meron ka)

Dec 2012 - 1560 - 15k
May 2012 - 1560 - 15k
Apr 2012 - 1560 - 15k

$15k + 15k + 15k = 45k$
 $45k / 180 = 250$
 250×60 (your benefit for Normal delivery) = 15k

Hi Judycyl, parang nasagot ko na ito... sa ibang post?

Anyway, your 12-month period in which they will check kung meron kang 3 contributions at 6 highest contributions ay Oct 2012 to Sep2013. So eligible ka for maternity claim. If you like to contribute for July to Sep, puede pa.

Check your 6 highest salary credits within the 12-month period.

Hi amber1418, kahit hindi ka na-confine pero nag-leave ka, I think you can claim your maternity benefit. Get a medical certificate from your OB that she advised you to have a bed rest due to threatened abortion and that you miscarried on Aug 16, 2013. Submit your MAT1 even if it was submitted late. Ask the SSS officer if you need to submit a letter or affidavit that you filed your MAT1 with your employer on Aug 16. For the other documents: check here: SSS maternity benefit claim documents

Hi Ernesto, when is your wife giving birth? March 2014? Yes, your wife is eligible for maternity benefit. Pay July to Sep 204 so she can avail of the full benefit, so SSS can compute 6 months of contributions.

By the way, wala namang 500 na monthly contribution; baka 520?

For July to Sep, pay 624 each month (1872) so she can get a higher benefit. You can contribute a higher amount, but you need to declare a higher income in the RS5 form (and be ready with income proof if SSS asks for it later on).

September 15, 2013 at 6:29 PM

Kaydee said...

Hi Ernesto, about proof of income, kelangan lang yon kapag hindi siya naregister ng agency. Dahil meron naman kayong nakitang contributions from agency, ibig sabihin naregister siya ng agency, so you no longer need proof of income. Check Voluntary in the RS5 form when you pay for July to Sep. Sori, you can no longer pay for April to June, part the deadline na. After paying, enroll in Online SSS so you can check her records. Check if she has a Date of Coverage; dapat meron ito.

Kumuha na rin kayo from the agency ng cert of separation with date of separation and statement that the company did not advance any maternity benefit to your wife. Plus 2 copies of Ganito: SSS L501 signature specimen card form

Hi Mary Joy, ano kaya ang dahilan na ayaw nilang magbigay ng L501? Kasi kahit tanggapin ng SSS Bacoor, baka naman ma-reject sa final evaluator kung hindi nagfa-final evaluation o hindi nagfa-final encoding ang SSS Bacoor. Magtanong ka uli sa Sta Cruz branch kung anong say nila.

Hi dae, your semester of contingency is Apr2013 to Sep2013. The 12-month period na titingnan kung meron kang 3 at 6 contributions ay Apr2012 to Mar2013. Meron ka, so you're eligible. Were you able to file your MAT1 before the D&C? If yes, I hope nag-leave ka kasi payment ng maternity leave yong benefit if currently Employed. On the MAT2 form, the start of maternity leave is written. If not on leave, talk to your HR about what to do. Ask also your HR if you're on leave and you did not file your MAT1 before your D&C.

Kaydee said...

Hi Sheen, are you contributing as Employed? So your employer-employee monthly contribution is 572 and your monthly salary credit is 5500? If your July to Sep contribution is also 572, your maternity benefit will be 11k (normal delivery). Enroll in online SSS so you can check your maternity eligibility and track your maternity benefit.

I have not filed my MAT1 yet Hindi muna ko nag report to work to have some rest and to recuperate. I hope my chance pa na mawork out benefits ko even I have not filed the mat 1 and mat 2 yet. By the way anu nga pala ilalagay ko sa mat 1 sa may part ng my expected date of delivery? Two weeks before the d/c kasi I already knew that this was coming since we found out that it was a blighted ovum pregnancy. It was supposed to be April 2014.

Hi, My Due date is on Nov 2013. I became a member of SSS since June 2012, but my previous employer was not able to remit my contribution. I was employed by another company this January 2013, base on my pay slip my SSS contribution is already deducted since January. Am I qualified for the Maternity benefits under SSS?. And what if my employer failed to remit my contribution, can I still avail my benefits? Thank you.

According to sss they need it to verify the signature of the person who sign in my Certificate of Employment, which is the personnel manager of my previous company. By the way i'm already resign in my employer last dec. 1, 2012 and paying my contribution as voluntary member. So i went to my employer to request a L501 but they say that can't issue a L501 because the Personnel Manager who's sign in my certificate of employment is not authorised..Please help me what to do to on how to process my maternity claim..is there a possibility that i can't claim i wasn't able to provide a L501? thanks

And nag voluntary contribution kami start july to september 2013. Buntis ang magiging misis ko and due date nia is last week ng october2013. Nag file kami ng mat1 august2013 using maiden name nia. Balak naming magpakasal ng first week ng october2013. Tatanong ko lang po kung ano ang the best way para di kami ma- deny s pag claim ng benefit, kc ang inaalala namin ay kung magpakasal kami ng 1st week october at ang ginamit niang name s mat1 nia yung maiden name, pwede bang yung ilalagay n name s mat2 is yung maiden name pa rin? Paano rin po ba yun kc diba nagreflect s birth certificate ng baby ay kasal ang parents nia. May discrepancy po b yun kung maiden name ng misis ko ang ilalagay s mat2? Maraming salamat po.

Hi Dae, you have a valid excuse why you weren't able to file MAT1 before your D&C because you did not expect your D&C and there's a SSS rule that you file your MAT1 after your 60th day and before your delivery.

If you like, you can file your MAT1 online through your employer's SSS online account. You can ask your HR how to do it. You can write your EDD as written by your OB (April 2014), since that was really your expected date. Filing MAT2 has a 10-year deadline, but of course you file it as soon as you're able.

Hi betchay, SSS needs 2 copies of L501 and certificate of separation with date of separation and statement that they did not advance your maternity benefit. If the personnel manager who gave you a certificate was not authorized, then request for the documents from the one who is authorized. Makiusap ka; sabihin mo na hindi ibibigay ng SSS ang benefit mo kung wala yong mga documents na yan.

Hi Dennis, okay lang na maiden name sa MAT2, kasi makikita naman nila that your child's surname is the same as yours and your child's middle name is the same as your wife's maiden surname. Meron kasing option ang wife to retain her maiden name.

If she files her MAT2 using her married name, okay din, basta before she files MAT2, make sure that her civil status on her SSS record has been changed to Married and her surname changed. Enroll her in sss.gov.ph so you can track her record. After getting your marriage certificate, file E4 immediately -- some people commenting here say that it takes about a month for the status to get changed. Dapat ding meron na siyang 2 valid IDs in her married name.

Get from her former employer: L501 (2 copies) and certificate of separation with date of separation and statement that they did not advance any maternity benefit. The signatures on the docs should be the same. These are needed because her date of separation and date of delivery are within a year.

Hi lea, your semester of delivery is from Apr to Sep 2013 and your 12-month period is Apr 2012 to Mar 2013.

6 highest credits within 12-month period:

apr 780 = 7500

june 728 = 7000

july 728 = 7000

dec 676 = 6500
feb 676 = 6500
Mar 780 = 7500
Total = 42k
42k / 180 days = 233.33
233.33 x 60 days (normal) = 14k
233.33 x 78 (CS) = 18200
Your benefit if normal is 14k
If CS, it's 18,200

Hi Sherry, SSS will check your 6 highest salary credit within July 2012 to June 2013:

Sep 312 = 3k

Oct 832 = 8k

Nov 832 = 8k

Apr 1092 = 10,500

May 1144 = 11k

June 1040 = 10k

Total salary credits = 50,500

$50,500 / 180 \text{ days} = 280.56$

Your benefit:

If normal -- $280.56 \times 60 \text{ days} = 16,833.60$

If CS -- $280.56 \times 78 \text{ days} = 21,883.68$

hello there...i would like to thank you for the information shared to us it is just sad to know that there is really a maximum amount for the maternity benefit - 30k for NSD and 39k for CS i was just confused because per our employee handbook...it is stated there that "the employee shall receive her full month's salary during the maternity leave" any chance i can battle with this?

November 12, 2013 at 11:04 PM

Kaydee said...

Hi Lizette, ask your HR about that provision in your employee handbook. Why does your handbook have that provision? Does your company have a separate maternity benefit, in addition to the SSS maternity benefit? Or if none, is your company going to pay the difference between the SSS benefit and your current monthly salary?

Most companies though don't have a separate maternity benefit, and they all depend on the SSS maternity benefit to pay for their employee's maternity leave.

Good Afternoon po, just want to ask po if i can still claim sss maternity if i had 4 children already. my 3rd delivery po ay TWINS. my friend told me that twins are considered 2 deliveries so it means daw po i had 4 deliveries already. Is that right po ba?

December 3, 2013 at 11:11 PM

Kaydee said...

Hi Renee Rose, you'll get the maximum maternity benefit, which is 30k (normal delivery).

If you have not yet paid your contribution for Oct or for Nov 2013 to SSS as Voluntary, check Separated in your claim form. If you have already paid as Voluntary, and your online account already shows your member category as Voluntary, check Voluntary in your claim form. Dapat the same member category in your online account and your MAT2; so if you checked Separated in your MAT2, ask them when you submit your MAT2 kung okay lang na Employed ang category mo sa online account, pero meron kang cert of separation.

In addition to the usual documents required, submit also certificate of separation from employer, cert of non-advancement of maternity benefit, and 2 copies of L501 form.

Hi Vanessa Mae, your 6 highest salary credits: $3000 \times 6 = 18k$

$18k / 180 \text{ days} = 100 \text{ pesos}$

$100 \text{ pesos} \times 78 \text{ days for CS} = 7,800$

Your benefit is 7,800

Hi Bethel, sorry I can't find yet any info about twins in relation to the 4-delivery limit of the SSS maternity benefit. Kung sa akin lang, the counting of the benefit for twins should be 1 because you will get only 1 benefit whether you have a single baby or twins.

But your friend may be correct because the birth cert of your younger twin shows "4th" (Check Birth order of child, in the lower right portion of the birth cert), so if you give birth to your 5th baby, the Birth order will be "5th", and this is what SSS will see. We can call SSS but their phone is always busy, so please ask SSS or others with the same situation at Hi Jerome, palagi ka bang nag-follow-up ng refund? Bakit lumipas ang 8 months? Baka ayaw magpahalata yong accountant concerned na nagkamali siya, kaya hindi niya alam kung paano siya magrefund. Xerox your payslips and then talk again nicely with your former HR/accounting dept. Kung malabo ang mga sagot nila. Tanungin mo (nicely pa rin pero with firmness) kung kelangan mo bang magpunta sa management to make a complaint bago nila irefund. Or kelangan mo bang magpunta sa DOLE o sa PAO para makuha mo ang refund.

Hi Jibeth, pay Jan to Mar 2014 so you can avail. Every month, pay 2 brackets higher than your last contribution so you can have more benefits. Check this: SSS maternity eligibility File your MAT1 asap.

Hi fruity, only your 2013 contributions will be computed for your benefit.

SSS maternity eligibility Your total benefit is 5k (normal delivery).

Add salary credits Oct to Nov = 5k + 5k + 5k = 15k

$15k / 180 \text{ days} = 83.33$

$83.33 \times 60 \text{ days} = 5k$

$83.33 \times 78 \text{ days (CS)} = 6500$

And yes, your maternity benefit will be used to pay part of your unpaid salary loan. But ask others too.

January 10, 2014 at 4:40 PM

Hi laureleine, wala ka bang 2012 contributions? If none, itong 3 months lang ang considered:

Jan = 10,500

Feb = 10,500

Mar = 10k

total = 31k

$31k / 180 \text{ days} = 172.22$

$172.22 \times 60 \text{ days (normal)} = 10,333.20$

$172.22 \times 78 \text{ days (CS)} = 13,433$

Ask SSS how they came up with 12,500

Or baka meron ka pang contributions within Apr to Dec 2012

Mar= 8k

Apr= 7500

total= 53k

$53k / 180 = 294.44$

Hi Mary Ann, puedeng mag-file ng MAT2 claim kung nag-file ka ng MAT1 before delivery. Kung nanganak ka Oct 2013, dapat meron kang at least 3 contributions within July 2012 to June 2013. Puedeng mag-file kahit hindi naka-file ng MAT1 before delivery, pero malaki ang chance na hindi ma-approve. Hindi ko alam kung anong reason for not filing MAT1 before delivery ang valid sa kanila.

Hi Coraline, yes, SSS will choose your 6 highest salary credits sa 12 months before your semester of delivery, kahit saang company na-remit.

January 30, 2014 at 7:36 PM

Kaydee said...

Hi Phengtots, SSS will consider your 6 salary credits in 2013:

Your total salary credits = 32500

$32500 / 180 \text{ days} = 180.56$

Benefit normal delivery = $180.56 \times 60 = 10,833$

CS = $180.56 \times 78 = 14,084$

Please check my computation

January 30, 2014 at 7:45 PM

Kaydee said...

Hi Almyrh, yes, you can file your claim. Include in your claim documents a letter to SSS that you were about to file your MAT1 when you had your miscarriage.

January 30, 2014 at 8:03 PM

Kaydee said...

Hi Almyrh, dahil D&C claim ito, at hindi mo na-file ang MAT1 mo on time, hindi sure ang employer mo na ma-approve ang claim mo, so you have to wait for SSS to give your benefit check.

For your benefit, 6 salary credits will be considered.

$6 \times 12500 = 75k$

$75k / 180 \text{ days} = 416.67$

$416.67 \times 60 \text{ days} = 25k \text{ (your benefit)}$

January 30, 2014 at 8:13 PM

Kaydee said...

Hi maezy, SSS will choose 6 highest salary credits within Oct 2012 to Sep2013:

Dec 832 - 8k

Jan 572 - 5500

Jun 1144 - 11k

tatlo na 312 - $3 \times 3k = 9k$

Total salary credits = 33500
33500 / 180 days = 186.11
186.11 x 60 days = (your benefit, if normal) = 11,167
186.11 x 78 = (if CS) = 14,517
Paki-check na lang ang computation ko

January 30, 2014 at 8:21 PM

Kaydee said...

Hi ruby, qualified siya, pero 4 months lang ang ma-consider sa computation (Apr 2013 to Mar 2014) instead na 6 months. Puede siyang magcontribute this Feb and Mar 2014 para maging 6. Use RS5 form. Voluntary. Dapat mag-file na siya asap ng MAT1 (should be before delivery).

Gud evning, sa november 2014 ang EDD ko. Pero almost 9 years na akong hindi nakahulog. Pero pwede pa daw akong humabol magbayad ng april to june 2014. Kong magbabayad ako ng 1,040 per month for 3 months, magkano po ang makukuha ko sa maternity benefit.

Hi Ms. kaydee,

Itatanong ko lang po kasi worried ako dahil sa nangyari sa kakilala ko na hindi nakapag claim ng maternity benefits nya dahil lang hindi daw po nag tally yung nai-file nya sa sss na due date nya at yung date na mismong nanganak sya. Like ang nai-file nya po na due date nya us 2nd week of feb pero nanganak sya ng 1st week of March. Wala po ba sila talaga makukuha sa ganung case?

Hi Shie, yes, you're eligible. File your MAT1 asap. Yong Dec 2013 to Mar 2014 contributions mo ang ma-consider.

$3k \text{ salary credit} \times 4 \text{ months} = 12k$

$12k / 180 \text{ days} = 66.67$

$66.67 \times 60 \text{ days for normal delivery} = 4k$

your benefit is 4k

Hi Joan, ang semester of contingency mo ay Apr to Sep 2014, so Jan to Mar 2014 contributions lang ang ma-compute. Sana kung meron ka pang 2013 contributions.

$3k \text{ salary credit} \times 3 \text{ months} = 9k$

$9k / 180 \text{ days} = 50 \text{ pesos}$

$50 \text{ pesos} \times 60 \text{ days for normal delivery} = 3k$

Your benefit is 3k

Pls ask others too

Hi marivic, yes, pay Apr to June 2014 asap. File MAT1.

Ang salary credit ng 1,045 is 9,500, so $9500 \times 3 \text{ months} = 28,500$

$28,500 / 180 \text{ days} = 158.33$

$158.33 \times 60 \text{ days for normal delivery} = 9,500$

Your benefit is 9,500

May 6, 2014 at 9:37 PM

JK said...

Hi marivic, kung sobrang malayo ang 1,045 sa dating contributions mo 9 years ago, basahin mo yong Declaration of Earnings sa lower portion of RS5 form.

Hi chay2013, yon daw ba ang reason na nakasulat sa record niya? It's my first time to know of that reason. The difference in the dates is just about 2 weeks. Di ba meron pa ngang pre-term na 7 or 8 months lang ang baby? Palagay ko merong ibang dahilan kung bakit na-reject ang claim niya. Karamihan naman ng estimated date of delivery at actual delivery date ay hindi nagtutugma.

my sss contribution last january- december 2013 was not remitted to my employer. i resign my job last march and get hired to another job this april 2014.. so my sss contribution will start this april 2014. and i am a 3mos. pregnant now, and will give birth by november 2014. how much benefit will i get or the month being covered? please i need your help

May 8, 2014 at 1:02 AM

JK said...

Hi Janette, make sure that your current employer remits your Apr to June 2014 contributions, so you can avail. To be eligible, you need to have paid at least 3 contributions within July 2013 to June 2014.

Hi Mj, if you give birth in Nov or Dec, you can pay Apr to Jun 2014 asap so you can be eligible. Register first asap using RS1 form; bring proof of source of income. God bless din. SSS maternity eligibility

Hi Kaydee.. need help po pls. Nag work po ako sa call center last June 2011 to January 2012 and after that i worked in one of the pharmacies June 2012 to June 2013. Tanong ko lang po f qualified po ba ako for maternity benefits sa SSS im pregnant po ngayon and due ko is this coming June 2014.

Thank you

JK said...

Hi Kim, if your pharmacy employer remitted at least 3 contributions in 2013, yes, you're qualified. File your MAT1 asap -- must be before delivery. You can pay 1 contribution as Voluntary so you can enroll online at sss.gov.ph, so you can track your SSS records.

Thank you po sa helpful response.. may concern pa po ako can i file MAT-1 online? And i just got married lang po so my surname got changed, upon filing MAT1 pwde ko parin po ba gamitin yung dating family name ko nung single pa po ako kasi po if hanapan po nla ako ng mga valid ID lahat pa ng ID ko hindi pa na change/update ang surname ko. Thanks a lot po.

May 19, 2014 at 9:07 AM

JK said...

Hi Kim, yes, you can file your MAT1 online. If you cannot yet get a new valid photo ID with your married name after giving birth, then file your MAT1 and MAT2 with your maiden name. You need IDs when filing your MAT2 and when encashing your check.

Hi Ma'am. I have a question. If i take maternity benifit does it affect my pension benifit in the future or is the maternity benifits a grant from the government? Thank you so much and I'm looking forward your answer.

Hi Kim, you need to register to get your own SSS online account, so you can file your MAT1 online. And your status should be Voluntary so you can file through your own account. So you need to pay 1 contribution as Voluntary. You can ask someone to pay at Bayad Center or Business Center (Check Voluntary in the payment form). After your payment is posted (3 to 7 days), register at sss.gov.ph. Use 6 digits from your receipt's no.

Hi rennce, yes, you can file your MAT2 next year. You have 10 years to file, pero siempre file as soon as you can.

Hi Nady, if you give birth this June 2014, SSS will look for your 6 highest salary credits within Jan 2013 to Dec 2013.

SSS eligibility Among year itong mga credits na sinulat mo?

May 27, 2014 at 7:54 AM

JK said...

Hi Rona, your availment of your SSS maternity benefit will not affect your pension amount. Your pension amount will be based on your average monthly salary credit and your no. of credited years.

SSS maternity benefit is a benefit offered to eligible female SSS members.

good day! I have a questions.

hindi ko po kasi alam kung what month ko iistart ung computation ko kasi ang nakafile po sa MAT1 e OCT 4, 2014 pero sabi ng doctor e last Week of SEPT or 1st week ng OCT. Paano po yun ? Ano po talaga yung icoconsider? Thanks po

May 28, 2014 at 1:14 AM

JK said...

Hi Rowena, SSS will consider your actual date of delivery. If you deliver in Sep, your semester of contingency is Apr to Sep 2014. SSS will consider your 6 highest salary credits within Apr 2013 to Mar 2014. If you deliver in Oct, your sem of contingency is July to Dec 2014. SSS will consider your 6 highest within Jul 2013 to June 2014.

June 1, 2014 at 9:45 AM

JK said...

Hi michelle, were you eligible when you gave birth to your 4 kids? Did you have 3 contributions within the 12-month period before your semester of delivery? If yes, you can try filing your claim, as the period for filing is 10 years. The only problem is that you did not file your MAT1 notification form BEFORE each of your deliveries. The rule is you must file your MAT1 BEFORE delivery. Include a letter explaining why you did not file your MAT1 before delivery. Try first filing for your youngest child.
