SL: Where everything fell apart, at moment's notice...

Left with 2 options, to run and hide... or to take my bravery, will, and sheer indefatigability and FIGHT

My business just launched, and it had been successful so far, I had a client in the last 4 weeks, paying High-Ticket commissions, and who was in love with my work!

It felt as if the trust and value exchange between each other was so beneficially huge! I felt unstoppable.

Monday had been the planned payday, the time to launch the brand-new campaign I had been working on!

After planning the entire weekend on the new Project I planned out, I got a phone call...

It all collapsed at once...

The first words I heard left me thrilled in my seat

My client had failed to keep his business in life and fell into debt, losing all of his clients,

This meant I lost all of my client's clients and the thousands of euros he owed me from other halves of big paid commissions...

I had 2 options, to take the rest of my remaining money and go find an ordinary job, live an ordinary life, and ultimately give up on my dreams, or I'd collect my hope, keep working as hard as possible and not give up

9 Months later, I was driving my newly bought Porsche 911, I had 13 strong-minded salesmen working for me, and money? I was making so much I didn't know what to do with it.

And I have my dear friend Jeng Poon to thank for that!
