

Say Their Names

Janet Wood, inspired by words from Mina Smallman, Dawn Butler MP and Charlton McIlwain, and dedicated to Nicole Smallman and Bibaa Henry.

"All people matter"
That's what they tell us
Of course that's right but it's not true
Our nation's victims
Are colour-coded
And black and female back the queue

Say their names Bibaa, Nicole

Remember them

Say their names

Remember them

Say their names

Remember them

Their lives matter

Where was the outcry?
Where was the outrage?
How come it hardly made the news?
Where were the marches,
Demands for justice?
It's time to call out this abuse

Chorus

What gives me purpose
What keeps me going
Is that their lives might make a change
Two women dancing
In light and freedom
A world that won't forget their names

Chorus
