

Unearthlore's digital art terms of service

Version 1.0, last updated 29 June 2025

1. By default, all my artwork is for personal use.
 - a. My art may not be used, in any form including WIPs, in any project related to blockchains, cryptocurrency, or NFTs.
 - b. My art, in any form including WIPs, may not be used to train AI. AI programs may not "finish" my incomplete pieces of art.
 - c. My art, in any form including WIPs, may not be used for profit (such as for product printing, use in for-profit video games, etc.) without prior discussion and agreement which may include royalty agreements.
2. Always credit me as the artist of my original work.
 - a. Credit me even if an image has been edited, traced, etc.

I will not draw:

- Aroused genitals — sexual fluids — explicit porn
- Sexualized minors
- Hate imagery — anything that constitutes the misuse of cultures
- Unsure about your idea / theme? Ask!

By commissioning Uearthlore for non-commercial use art, you agree to the following:

1. Uearthlore has the right to post your commission on any art site, including privately owned sites that receive revenue from ads, unless you request that the commission remains private.
2. Uearthlore has the right to edit or 'remix' your commission unless you request that the commission remains private; these alternate versions of your art won't be posted online without your permission. Examples could include alternate anatomy, colors, or outfits.
3. Uearthlore has the right to use your commission in advertisements for their own work unless you request that the commission remains private.
4. Commissions are a digital product, and no physical product will be mailed to you.
5. No refunds are available after the commission is completed.
6. The art delivered may not be used, in any form including WIPs, in any project related to blockchains, cryptocurrency, or NFTs.
7. The art delivered, in any form including WIPs, may not be used to train AI. AI programs may not "finish" incomplete pieces of art by the artist.
8. The art delivered, in any form including WIPs, may not be used for profit (such as for product printing, use in for-profit video games, etc.) without prior discussion and agreement which may include royalty agreements.
9. The inclusion of any character not owned by the commissioner may only be done so with express written permission from the character's owners. This permission must be delivered directly to the artist via private communication such as e-mail, Tumblr DM, etc.
10. Uearthlore has the right to decline a commission project without disclosing the reasons.

Payment: Uearthlore will send you a PayPal invoice after you've filled in your details into their commission form; work will begin after payment is received.