

MAIN CHARACTERS:

ABELARDO (17–20) – The Host

The core. Shy, deeply insecure, and overwhelmed by social anxiety. His inner world is a storm of conflicting thoughts and emotions, reflected in an almost complete isolation. He lives with constant fear and the despair of not being able to control his own mind. A broken character desperately searching for a moment of peace and a sense of control.

GEORGE (20–25) – The Hostile Protector

One of Abelardo's personalities. Cynical, cold, and carrying an air of intellectual superiority. He protects Abelardo, but does so with contempt and aggression—toward the outside world or even Abelardo himself. His goal is to keep everyone at arm's length, and he won't hesitate to intimidate when he feels threatened. He wears glasses, has a mustache, always looks exhausted, speaks with a raspy, tired voice, curses a lot, and smokes heavily. (Actors must be comfortable with props such as cigarettes.)

STUART (18–20) – The Social Charmer

Another personality of Abelardo. Unlike George and Abelardo, Stuart is spontaneous, charismatic, and dangerously flirtatious. He is Abelardo's perfect social mask. He seeks connection and interaction, leaving emotional chaos and confusion in his wake—especially with Jessica and Miriam.

STELLA (20–25) – The Vulnerable Melancholy

The most vulnerable and feminine of Abelardo's personalities. She obsessively worries about Abelardo's appearance and physical well-being, but does so with deep sadness and melancholy. She embodies silent despair and concern for the Host's mental state. She is flirtatious, sweet, and her dream is to become a model.

SUPPORTING CHARACTERS

MARA (18–20)

Abelardo's friend. A key part of his life. Warm and loyal, yet playful and teasing. She keeps Abelardo grounded, but also carries her own burden due to her brother's addiction.

MIRIAM & JESSICA (18–20)

Two girls who interact with Abelardo but unknowingly only connect with—and are attracted to—Stuart (the flirty personality). They experience the confusion of liking someone one day, only to be ignored the next, fueling Abelardo's spiral of chaos.

EMMA (18–20)

Kind-hearted, empathetic, and deeply understanding. Despite being short in stature, she carries a quiet strength that makes others feel safe around her. For Abelardo, she represents hope and a calm shelter—someone who offers compassion without judgment, even when his behavior becomes chaotic or unpredictable.

JASON (18–20)

Serious, observant, and equally understanding. Jason acts as an informal investigator, trying to figure out what's truly happening to Abelardo. He cares about Abelardo's well-being, but also evaluates whether his dissociative behavior poses a danger to others.

ADDITIONAL CHARACTERS

ALEX (19–21) – The Mocking Ex

Miriam's ex-boyfriend. A bully who targets Abelardo. Aggressive and sarcastic, he enjoys humiliating Abelardo, especially when he senses confusion or weakness. We're looking for someone who can embody subtle menace and cold disdain.

TONY (20) & RICO (19) – The Intimidators

Gang members who represent the physical threat in Abelardo's environment.

Tony (20) is cold and calculated; Rico (19) is more impulsive, acting as Tony's shadow. Both are intimidating, with a strong presence that communicates danger and toughness.

(Actors must be comfortable with props such as cigarettes, etc.)

MARA'S BROTHER (20–25) – The Inner Rage

Mara's older brother. A character consumed by addiction, trapped in constant anger and frustration. He is extremely aggressive and cruel to Mara, taking out his problems on her. He represents a major source of stress and chaos in her life. We're looking for an actor capable of portraying emotional volatility, hostility, and the darkness rooted in addiction and rage.

WHAT WE'RE LOOKING FOR

A self-tape or demo reel showcasing your range.

If you have a monologue or scene that reflects psychological complexity, vulnerability, or a threatening presence—feel free to send it.
