

FOOD (compiled by member Julie Porter)

In order to coordinate food needs, I have reached out to the emergency departments at NYU (NYU Tisch Emergency Department Manhattan, NYU Bellevue Hospital Manhattan and NYU Brooklyn).

Currently, they have been working directly with vendors or donors by coordinating food deliveries to our different ED clinical sites. They are open to all types of food/beverage donations, but have been finding a slightly greater need for BREAKFAST donations or INDIVIDUALLY WRAPPED SNACKS.

Manhattan: NYU Tisch Emergency Department and NYU Bellevue Hospital

A member of the ED has graciously agreed to have non-perishable food donations sent to his house. He has been driving donations daily into the city and placing in the EDs.

Bulk orders of individually wrapped snacks can be sent to:

Suwing Ben
220 East 6th Street
Clifton, NJ 07011

As for bagel shops/delis near our Manhattan Emergency Departments, Ess-a-Bagel located on 1st Avenue and 19th Street works great for both the Perelman ED and Bellevue ED (they are within 5 blocks of each other).

<https://essabagel.com/>

Perelman ED location: 570 First Avenue, New York, NY 10016 (at 33rd Street)

Bellevue ED location: 462 First Avenue, New York, NY 10016 (at 28th Street)

They Eds are looking into fundraising campaigns – will send an update when as I have more information.

People can reach out directly to Danielle Clarke at Perelman, NYU School of Medicine (danielle.clarke@nyulangone.org) who is willing to help with coordinating onsite logistics for all the ED clinical sites.

Attached is a food donation quick guide they've put together to help organize food deliveries and common questions they're receiving.

Brooklyn: NYU Brooklyn Emergency Department

Address: 150 55th Street, Brooklyn NY 11220, but please deliver to the ED entrance located on 2nd avenue b/w 55th & 56th Streets.

The nearest bagel store is Bagel Boy (3rd Avenue): <https://bagelboyonline.com/>

If you plan to send food directly to the NYU Brooklyn Emergency Department, please make sure that it is prearranged with Trish Abruzzino: Patricia.Abruzzino@nyulangone.org. She is working hard to space out and organize delivery donations so that every donation of food doesn't end up arriving on the same day.
