Disclaimer Form

In order for your piece to be submitted to the Journal, you must fill out this form.

Is this piece your own work?
If this is a joint piece, do you have consent from your co-author?
If this was an assessed piece of work by the University, what mark did this get?
Have you made any revisions from the assessed feedback?
Please state who gave you this feedback, and how you have used this feedback.
Any revisions made must be attributed in the footnotes of this piece of work. Have you done this?

By submitting this form, you are consenting to your work potentially being published in the Journal. You have the right at any time to withdraw from the Journal, but you must inform the Editors (Madelaine Watson and Jasmine Kelly).

By submitting a manuscript to the Southampton Journal of History, authors acknowledge and agree that, if accepted, their article may be included in an open-access collection published by University of Southampton Press as part of its pilot project. Authors will retain copyright to their work but grant the Southampton Journal of History, and the University of Southampton Press, the non-exclusive, irrevocable, worldwide licence to publish, reproduce, distribute, and communicate the article (including any adapted or translated versions). The work will be licenced under the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International (CC BY 4.0) licence. Authors also confirm they hold all necessary rights to license the work under CC BY 4.0, and have secured permissions for any third-party material contained within.

By submitting this form, you are also confirming that this article does not breach any copyright laws and it conforms to the Academic Integrity Policy of the University of Southampton.

Please submit this form to sotonhistoryjournal@gmail.com attached with your article.