

The /r/PrettyLittleLiars Unofficial Info/Theory Guide

ABOUT and RULES

This document serves as a catalogue of information to keep track of our information of each character and suspects as well as our theories, and general helpful knowledge of the show etc.

RULES:

- I love shitposting, but this document is not the place for that. Let's keep things on task here y'all, and take the jokes to reddit!
- Do Not be that asshole who deletes the whole file, or deleting passages just because you disagree that X is AD. The goal of this document is to store objective information and to start piecing motives and theories for potential AD's.
- Also please do not be that asshole who deletes the outline. It took me an hour to format this shit. Just don't touch the outline other than to navigate this document.
- That being said, if you are posting in here, keep your writing backed up elsewhere in case something does happen. I'm going to try and manually back it up occasionally but that's not 100% counteractive against disaster obviously.
- Please try and credit work if you are pasting in information, I'd like to keep this fair to everyone. It's ok to share others theories so long as they receive credit. If you want to add someone's theory to a character, paste a link to their tumblr/reddit post and add a brief description!
- This document as of right now, 6/6/17, is still in its Infancy. I'm sure there's still some sections to be added possibly in terms of events, specific important plot points (for example, i made Archturus its own section) etc, but please first add it to the general section and use the suggestion function to suggest making it its own section (by that I mean it's own section in the outline).
- Each character has two different sections: clues/evidence and theory. Please add information to its proper section accordingly.

For example:

"Melissa lied about where she was on the night of Charlotte's murder" would belong in clues/evidence.

"Melissa is AD because of all the characters her motive to impregnate Ali for revenge is strongest" would belong in Theory.

PLEASE try and follow the structure and keep things as neat as possible. We are dealing with a LOT of information so for this doc to be of any use, it has to be I will try and clean up once in a while and organize, but I have a job, classes, and a life y'all so if you do your part it will help me and in turn everyone!

PSA: The outline is in outline mode, which means sometimes if you bold/underline/use a colon/literally any character function/ it might make a new section in the outline. If that happens, just hover over the accidentally newly made section and press the X.

If you would like to join in helping us add information, request whomisAD@gmail.com for doc editing access

So...Who is AD?
