Short Conversation:

“Hi [Teacher’s Name], I’m interested in starting a chapter of Minorities in STEM at our school. It’s an organization that has already impacted over 70,000 students and provides opportunities like research collaboration, leadership programs, podcast interviews, and an international advisory council. I was wondering if you’d be open to sponsoring a chapter here.”

Email or Longer conversation

Hi [Teacher's Name],

I hope you're doing well. I’m interested in starting a chapter of Minorities in STEM at our school and was wondering if you might be interested in serving as the faculty sponsor.

Minorities in STEM is a student-led organization that has impacted over 70,000 students and provides opportunities such as research collaborations, leadership programs, an international advisory council, podcast interviews, and volunteer initiatives.

Our chapter would host meetings where students can explore STEM topics, use provided resources to teach lessons to the school or local community, and participate in outreach and leadership opportunities through the organization.

Most of the planning is handled by student leaders, and the organization provides slides, resources, and support to make meetings easy to run. The faculty sponsor mainly helps with registering the club and providing general guidance.

I’d love to talk more about the possibility of starting a chapter here if you’re open to it.

Thank you for your time!

Best,
[Your Name]