Writing: Keep working on your Moments to Remember paper/project. Click here for the step-by-step overview of the project. You should be almost ready to share your paper with your grandparent.

Science: Instead of a final science test, you will be answering a final science question about Soils, Rocks, and Landforms on Google Classroom. Click on "Soils, Rocks, and Landforms assessment" to answer the question! (Notice that there is an extra credit opportunity!)

Day 39 - Tues, May 19

Math: Log into your connectED account (your password and login information are in your homework folder-remember your username starts with "acs" on this website!)

Click on this and log in to find your test called "Ch 12 Test" under the assessment tab. If you get a pop up, click "Allow pop-ups and redirects from McGrawHill connectEd" (Please email your teacher if you have problems with this!)

Reading: Finish reading your biography book and work on your project - due this Friday, May 22! Here are the directions and requirements.

Writing: Keep working on your Moments to Remember paper/project. Click here for the step-by-step overview of the project. You should keep editing and revising your paper. This would also be a great time to add pictures (if you have any)!

Social Studies: Watch this video about the West Region of the USA. Review this powerpoint for the West region test that will be this Thursday, May 21.

Optional Game: Click here for a game on matching the states. You can change what region you are tested on in "options."

Spanish: Culture: This short video (YouTube link) will teach you about the continent of South America. This video (National Geographic Kids) will teach you about a village in Ecuador and where we get chocolate! Stay curious and continue to explore God's world!

Day 38 - Mon, May 18

Art: This week we will create art inspired by the late artist Keith Haring and this week's video has all the information you will need about him. Please watch this video for your art lesson and project. The materials you will need are the 11" x 14" white sheet of paper, pencil, eraser, black marker, color tools and creativity.

Math: Complete your practice test (paper copy in your packet). Your teacher will email your parents the answers.

Reading: Finish reading your biography book and start your project - due this Friday, May 22! Here are the directions and requirements.

Writing: Keep working on your Moments to Remember paper. Click here for the step-by-step overview of the project. You should be editing and revising your paper. This would also be a great time to add pictures (if you have any)!

Science: Today you will see how God used weathering and erosion to create a beautiful world!

1. Click here to log into the Foss website. Type in the username and password your teacher gave you.
2. Click on "Soils, Rocks, and Landforms."
3. Look at "Online Activities." Click on "Tutorials."
4. Click on "Stream Table"
5. Answer the questions at the end of the tutorial. (There is nothing to write in your science journal!)
6. Go to the ebook and read pages 15-22. You can see how God used weathering and erosion to create beautiful landscapes!
