

Reddit delivers Kaitlyn's new TARDIS, Oklahoma City to Little Axe, Oklahoma, July 9th, 2011
In June 2011 I ran across a story about a girl's TARDIS shaped bus stop being stolen from her rural Oklahoma home. On July 9th, a month later, a group of redditors delivered Kaitlyn her new and improved TARDIS to her front yard in Little Axe, Oklahoma. These are the photographs various individuals took of the event, the most notable taken by redditor StruggleBunny.

there was a turkey.

a few touchups were necessary.

her mother took her for a drive so we could unload and surprise her.

She arrives.

blindfolded.

we christened the TARDIS "Ol' Girl".

Kaitly was given a sonic screwdriver from redditor Birdee.
And a letter from the Doctor.

KOCO was there, as was KFOR.

she checks out her new bus stop shelter.

there were goats
the goats pooped.
Tom and Lyn, Kaitlyn's parents, fed us delicious food.

Little Axe, Oklahoma.

Tom is very handy with building pens and various structures. He and Kaitlyn built the first version.

loading in Okc.

On I-35 headed south to Little Axe, Ok.

IF YOU HAVE PHOTOS OF THE EVENT, POST THEM TO /r/PoliceBox!

Links:

The sub-reddit where all the donations and updates were made as the TARDIS took shape:
<http://www.reddit.com/r/policebox>

KOCO (channel 5, Okc) story on the delivery -
<http://www.koco.com/video/28504531/detail.html>

KFOR (channel 4, Okc) story on the delivery -
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=xRGS9ojgXIY>

Original KFOR story about the original stolen TARDIS - <http://www.kfor.com/news/local/kfor-giant-300pound-structure-stolen-from-yard-20110610,0,5837246.story>