Abstract

Abstract is written in English and Indonesian. Times New Roman (11pt) is preferably between 150-250 words. The abstract should be clear, concise, and descriptive. This abstract should provide a brief introduction to the problem, objective of paper, followed by a statement regarding the methodology if the manuscript is taken from research report and a brief summary of results.

Keywords: word (phrase), word (phrase), word (phrase). Max 3 – 5 words

For example:

This article examines the duality of ministerial regulations in Indonesian regulation system based on their making authority sources according to Law No. 12 Year 2011 concerning Regulation Making Rules (UU P3). The approach methods used in this research are conceptual approach and statute approach. This article concludes there are two ministerial regulations which recognized as regulations by UU P3 that should be distinguished. Ministerial regulation which was made by higher regulations order (delegated legislation) could be categorized as an implementing rule (verordnung). Whereas, ministerial regulation which was made based on ministery position authority (inherent aat het bestuur) could be categorized as a beleidsregel, standing as policy rules. Though, the two of them were recognized as regulations, however, they have different design, background and character, thus, their substance, binding power, hierarchy position and review mechanism, were not the same. Therefore, ministerial regulation which was beleidsregel could not be applied as the same as implementing regulation (verordnung).

Keywords: ministry regulation; policy rule; implementing rule.

INTRODUCTION

The introduction should be clear and provide for the issue to be discussed in the manuscript. Before the objective, authors should provide an adequate background, and very short literature survey in order to record the existing conditions, to show which is the best of previous researches, to show the main limitation of the previous researches, to show what you want to achieve (to solve the limitation), and to show the scientific merit or novelties of the paper. At the end of the paragraph, the author/s should end with a comment on the significance concerning identification of the issue and objective of the research (Jambunanda, 2026).

The manuscript written by the author whose English is the second language needs to be proofread. Ignore to this requirement results in the rejection of the manuscript (Arina, 2025).

RESEARCH METHODS

The method is optional for original research articles. This method is written in descriptive and should provide a statement regarding the methodology of the research (Siregar, 2024). This method is as much as possible give an idea to the reader.

ANALYSIS AND DISCUSSION

This section is the most important section of your article. The analysis or results of the research should clear and concise. The results should summarize (scientific) findings rather than providing data in great detail. Please highlight differences between your results or findings and the previous publications by other researchers. For tables you need to sound the table.

Table 1: Table's title

No	Detail 1	Detail 2	Etc.

Source: Author, Title of the book, year of publication, page(s).; or if the data taken from the analisis then you should write as :Analysed from the primary source.

For direct citation when it is more than four lines you need to write it in 10 pt with single space:

Following main heading it should be provided for the manuscript (Bobi, 2026). The separation between main headings, sub-headings and sub-sub headings should be numbered in the manuscript with following example:

HEADING

Sub-Heading

Sub-Sub Heading

1. Number 1
2. Number 2
3. Number 3

CONCLUSION

Conclusion contains a description that should answer the problem(s) raised and answer the objectives of research. Provide a clear and concise conclusion. Do not repeat the Abstract or simply describe the results of the research. Give a clear explanation regarding the possible application and/or suggestions related to the research findings.

REFERENCES

References and footnote at the end of the manuscript should be written in APA 7th edition style. They could be cited from books, journal articles, laws, and other references. Cite only items that you have read and written on footnotes. Please use Reference Manager Applications like EndNote, Mendeley, Zotero, etc. (Mendeley is preferred).
