

SPEAKING OUT ABOUT RECENT EVENTS

Hello there, I'm known as Vic Treasureson or alfayezq8, and I am an active member of the Crash Bandicoot community especially known for being a Ripper Roo fan/enjoyer, along with other things gaming and non-gaming. In light of recent events, I wanted to address the accusations against me and clear up anything that has already been addressed on my end. I will start by explaining my relationship with the people involved in this.

PART 1 - JAY

To start off, let me explain my relationship with Jay. I had met them on Twitter years ago in around 2020 or 2021, while I was calling out and dunking zoophiles and pedophiles who were trying to promote their disgusting interests as something normal. They were also involved in said callouts against them, and that's how we hit it off. I am, in their words, the only man they've met online who hasn't groomed them whatsoever. All our interactions at the time were cordial and respectful, but unfortunately due to Elon's takeover of Twitter leading me to delete said Twitter account, said interactions have been lost to the sands of time. I can confirm however, that even Jay had acknowledged that I treated them respectfully and fair. Years go by with me making new friends as well, and they resurface wanting to reconnect with me. We were on and off, mainly because I've become busy with work post-graduation and I've had to take on greater IRL responsibilities of which I will not disclose due to personal reasons. It was never in bad faith, as I tried to respond the best I can to them and even invited them to a Discord server I run with other friends of mine, which contrary to popular belief, isn't exclusively Crash and Spyro focused. I did it because I felt maybe Jay could do with some new friends as there was barely anybody in their own server, and I felt they might have been lonely.

The initial interactions were pleasant enough, and it seemed like everyone got on well. Which leads us to what has been discussed in the document against me. Sometime earlier this year, Jay had told me I was their FP due to my actions toward them when I had first met them. I had no proper idea what an FP was, nor did I understand the gravity of how they were attached to me in that manner as they explained it in a very poor manner. I simply said "thank you" as I just saw it as nothing more than a sweet compliment or kind gesture.

Figure 1. Jay telling me that I'm an FP of theirs and that I had treated them well in the past when we first met

Jay  SDV 10/04/2026, 9:54 PM

Okay you're my FP, since you voted to know

alfayezq80 10/04/2026, 10:00 PM

That's so sweet of you

Jay  SDV 10/04/2026, 10:12 PM

Jay  SDV 08/07/2026, 5:34 PM

I think I found why you're my FP

alfayezq80 08/07/2026, 5:47 PM

Why

Jay  SDV 08/07/2026, 5:47 PM

Back then was a rough time and you were like.. the only one who treated me well so I guess I instantly attached to you. It makes sense.

Jay 🍌 SDV 21/05/2026, 10:35 AM

Okay you voted soooo why not

Basically, at least in my experience, having an FP is like the emotional aspect of a crush

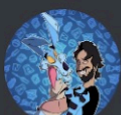

Their every word or move can make or break your day if you have an FP

So like.. if I think an FP is being negative with me, my world collapses temporarily (I'm usually okay after a few minutes of realizing I'm overreacting). But if my FP says something positive, I'm basically having the best day I could.

Lots of emotion in it and I have zero control over who my brain chooses as an FP

But yeah, like a crush but nothing romantic or sexual (tho in my experiences, it's possible to have a crush on an FP. That's what happened with me and Symphony.) just a clinginess

And in my experience, revealing to an FP that they're an FP is like confessing to a crush. It makes me nervous, shy, assume and expect the worst, and temporarily leave the situation cuz the anxiety gets too much.

alfayezq80 21/05/2026, 10:39 AM

I see

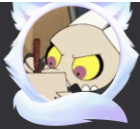

There were several incidents in said server where they had reacted poorly to people cracking light-hearted jokes to which I had to step in and tell them to cut it out, in the most polite and respectful way possible.

The first involved a discussion of Hatsune Miku/Vocaloid back in May 28th, 2026, of which Jay and one of my closest friends Alo (who was also a moderator of said server) were fans of. Jay had asked people in the server if they liked Vocaloid, to which my friend indeed chimed in. Another friend of mine, Ecto (yet another moderator) posted some Vocaloid lyrics in Japanese, which Jay tried asking what they meant. Mind you, Google Translate has been in operation for 20 years and it serves well in translating foreign text.

Jay stated in frustration that they didn't understand, when Alo explained to them that said Japanese text was a reference to what Jay had stated they liked. Jay then began to react in an unbelievable tantrum inappropriate for an adult in their 20s, in which me and several other mods had to step in to tell them "Log off and take a break if you're not feeling well. Genuine advice." They stated that they were feeling better right after, before doubling down not too long after and saying that they weren't.

I then had to tell them to take a break if they weren't in the best headspace, and that I would sort everything out in DMs after they had gotten timed out by another mod. They fessed up, apologized that they were in the wrong about what had happened and said that they hoped I wasn't too disappointed in them. I then responded that they should learn from it. I additionally explained to them since I've known Alo for a while, that she doesn't mean any harm and tends to joke around.

It was from your outburst

Jay SDV 28/05/2026, 7:30 PM

Oh, I thought I'd get that last night when it happened. Not complaining. I've never gotten a server punishment (except the one ban I got from a server for switching accounts) so this is new to me. Again, sorry

alfayezq80 28/05/2026, 7:31 PM

Just be sure to remember next time

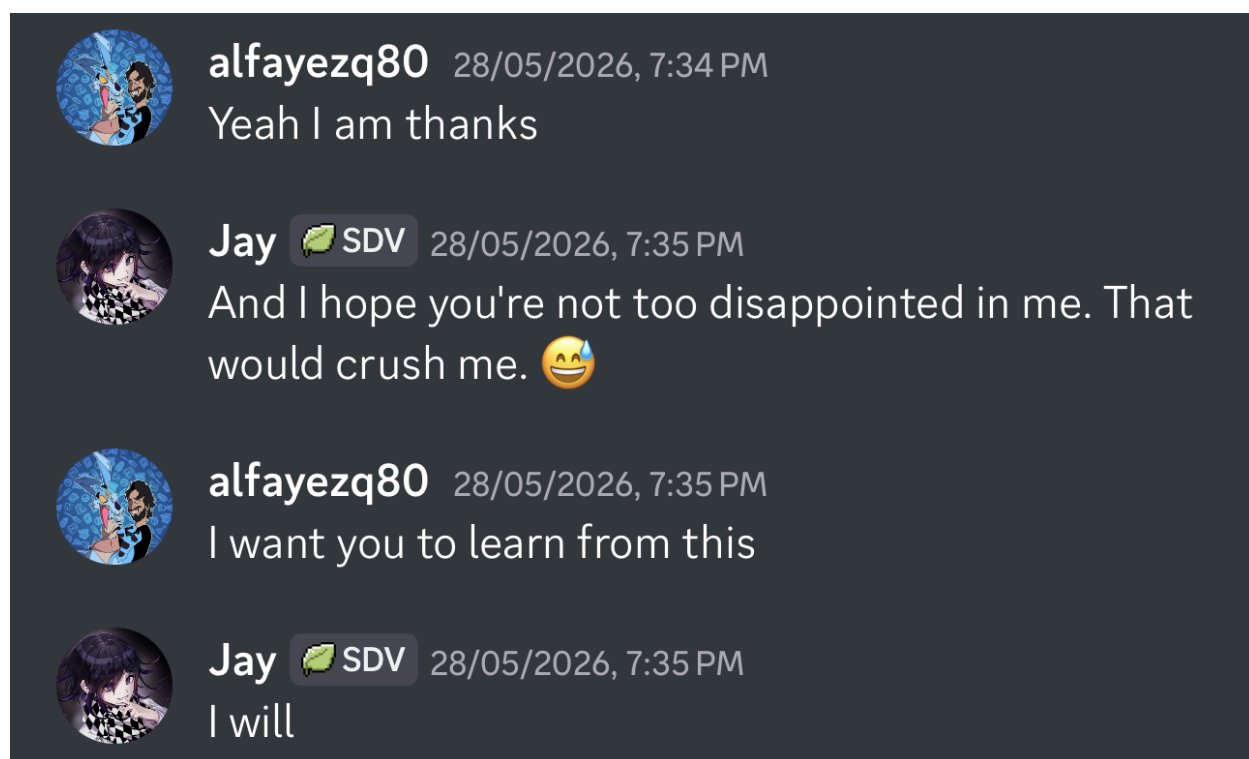

Alo doesn't mean any harm, she tends to joke around

Jay SDV 28/05/2026, 7:32 PM

I know, it just kinda really hurt last night that I was dealing with a translation confusion and she didn't do anything but make a joke. I get too fucking sensitive, I'm rllly sorry.

Wait, the timeout lasts the full day? Just noticed. (Again, no complaints, just noticing)

Anytime they had tried to vent about their family I had offered my sympathies and tried to help them by explaining that they should consider finding ways to gain independence, via education or even volunteer work. I had even advised them what to do when it seemed like there was a group on YouTube (named the UTTP) attempting to impersonate, stalk and dox them, stating that they should report, block, mute and keep a cool head as doing the opposite wouldn't help in such a situation.

The UTPP aka YouTube Troll Police is a group of weirdos who doxx and harass their victims, usually anyone they see as an easy target or massive channels. They have a discord server where CP is very active (so no one clicks links they provide on their channels).

I know they've gone after YouTubers I like and considering this impersonator has uttp in their name, I'm skeptical

I saw this on the faker's channel

Jay SDV The UTPP aka YouTube Troll Police is a group of weirdos who doxx and harass their victims, ...

alfayezq80 04/01/2026, 9:32 PM

Why aren't they reported to YouTube?

And how do you know they're after you?

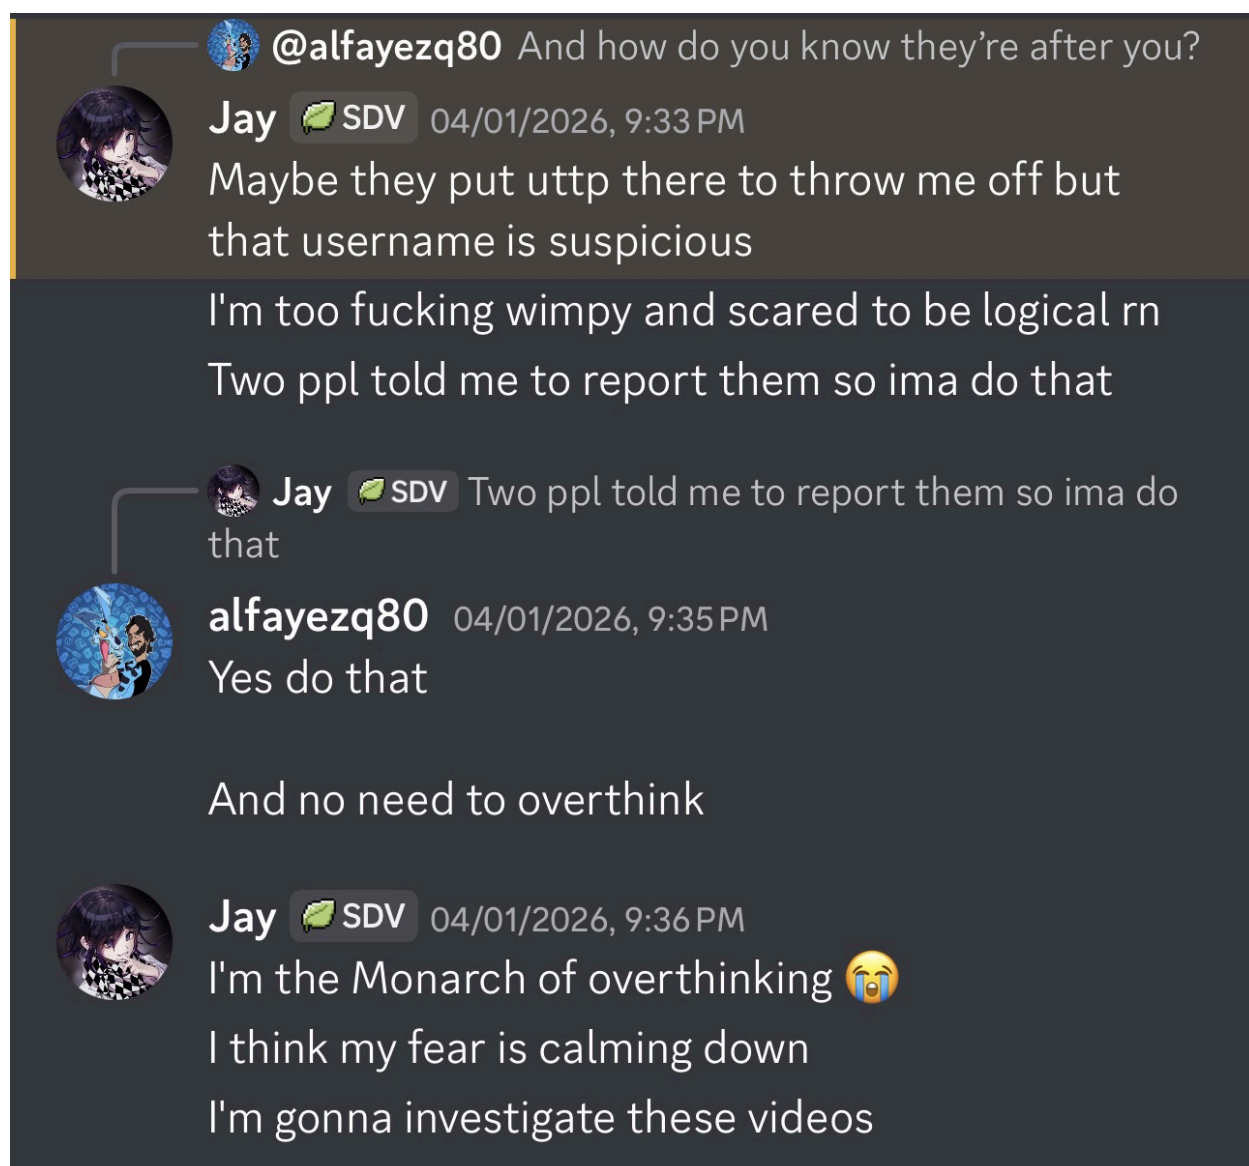

@alfayezq80 And how do you know they're after you?

Jay SDV 04/01/2026, 9:33 PM

Maybe they put uttp there to throw me off but that username is suspicious

All of it was well-intentioned with the goal of helping as a friend should which I had done the same with Alex (whom I will get to later). I had even been supportive and positive of their achievements in a genuine manner to which they assumed was sarcasm, which I would only reserve for specific people who appreciate and understand sarcasm. They also had a frequent habit of attention seeking, such as “no one will care but” or “I know nobody likes me but” before stating what it is they wanted to share with people in said server such as a game they play or music they listen to. Behaviors which IMO, should not be encouraged to someone who is clearly in their 20s, at an age where said person could be in college; drive a car, or even working.

Figure 3. Evidence of Jay’s attention-seeking behavior, admission to lying about how they truly felt in the months leading up to the accusations, full admission that there was no grooming involved, stalking behavior, admission to not truly understanding FP feelings, assuming the worst of people, admission to not even being diagnosed with BPD, and admissions of jealousy and a fear of rejection

Jay  SDV

20/05/2026 21:55

Small vent

I hate my fear of rejection so bad 😭

Even asking for ordering pizza causes a fear of rejection and I overthink and consider not doing whatever it is

If I do it, I have total anxiety the whole time till I get an answer and even then, I'm scared they'll say no to whatever I'm asking Let's do a little lesson, Alo-dear, on trauma responses. Don't worry, Vic knows this one!

You see, I was groomed my whole teen years. 13 to 17. I met Vic when I was 16.

Vic, in the same age range of my groomers, was NOT grooming me. He was the "safe adult" so I latched on (no intention). 1/2

Jay (just advocating now) @thebigjayag... · 39m

↳ Replied to Jay (just advocating now)

I also did not know what these FP feelings were till more recently when I told Vic and later gave him more info. Proof he understood. PROOF HE THOUGHT IT WAS SWEET!! PROOF IT WAS NOT FORCED IS LITERALLY IN THE FUCKING PSYCHOLOGY, YOU DIPSHIT VICTIM SHAMER!!

There were several times where they changed their status like "I'm so shitty" or "DEAD CHANNEL REVIVE" to which I had asked why they felt the need to do that, and to tell them that doing said things gives a wrong impression of them to others. I had also told them that I understood it might have been what happened with their mom, but that it would be best if they logged off for a break.

Figure 4. Me trying to help Jay, support Jay in their art (and give constructive criticism where appropriate) and give them advice, with them clearly admitting that they understood (which later turned out to be a lie, refer back to Figure 3 for said admission)

Roblox ban update: Nothing happened but my brother says it IS possible to get unbanned past the supposed "appeal window" closing date. I figured that were likely cuz in order to keep an account banned, the data has to be there. Therefore anyone can realistically be unbanned at any point.

Aaaand also I might have to stop playing Korone cuz they got attacked (but confirmed players are safe) and unfortunately, they're not sure whether or not the site can return. So I'm trying new Roblox alternatives.

I'm just done talking today probably.. If I say anything more, I'm going to be blunt and hurt feelings.. (cuz I don't wanna disappear and have anyone asking where I went today. If anyone cares enough to ask.)

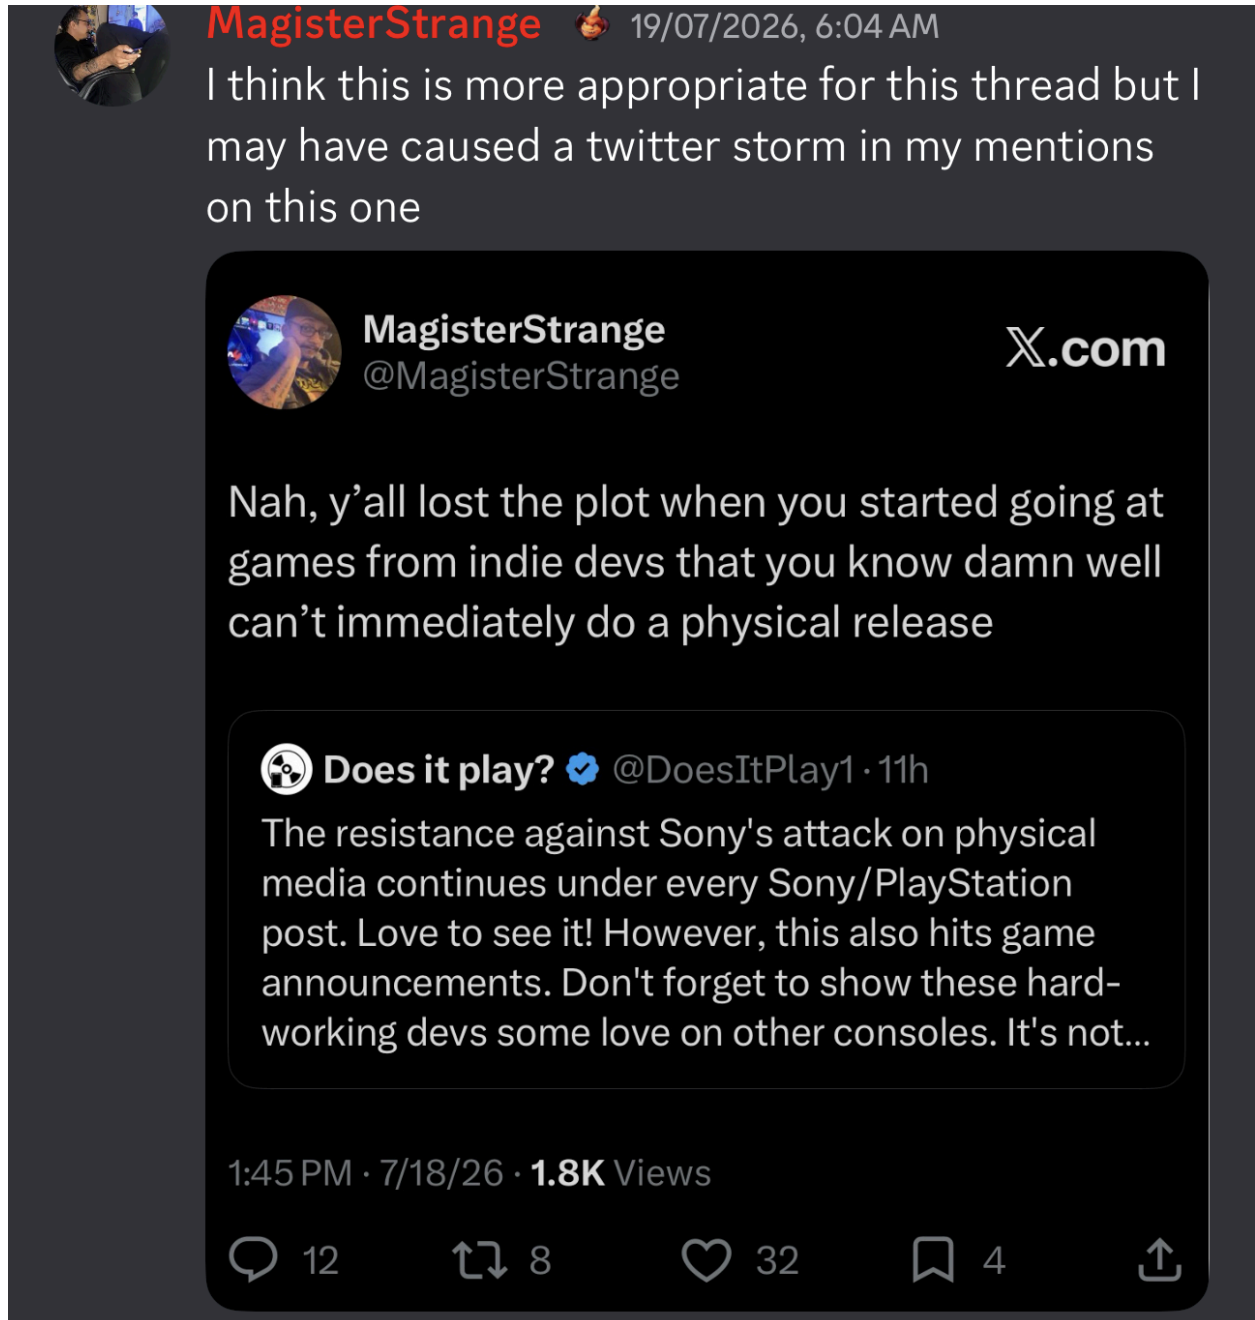

They replied with "I know, I shouldn't have reacted like that." I figured it was over and done with.

Then comes the whole Twitter argument they had in the server on the 19th of July 2026, in which Jay harassed a member of my server for using Twitter, who then promptly stated that he uses it exclusively for gaming news and that his algorithm wasn't that bad. Several others had to chime in that they don't condone Elon's actions for using it and want to promote their art or reach, to which Jay then states that they're known for starting drama.

Ecto then had to come in and set the record straight that Jay had to cut their attitude with name changing and "all i do is stir drama", and explained as well that they have the full right to protest these brands but also that many people have used Twitter long before Elon took control of it, and that it doesn't make one a bootlicker if they happen to use it. It led to an apology from Jay before they doubled down on what happened and said they will not be sarcastic and be quiet.

Ecto continued that nobody was offended and Jay got their answer right after, why that specific person used Twitter. I explained my role in deleting my Twitter account but expressed that everyone has the full right to use what they want, before giving Jay a firm warning in DMs that I would have to kick them out if something like this happened again, and that I was sick of the arguing while also clarifying that we have an anti-racist and anti-homophobia/transphobia stance in the server. They apologized and left shortly after to which I said that it would probably be best for them to indeed leave the server and parted them some advice, that they shouldn't take everyone in bad faith, and said that they always took my advice.

Figure 5. The Twitter/Social Media Crashout and warning in DMs (with Jay saying they always take my advice and that they just weren't vibing, only to later admit to lying). Note how I didn't even force them to come back and respected their wishes to leave.

Strange explained his reason for using it. I've explained my reason for using it. We are both aware of its shitty CEO. A lot of places have these shitty CEOs.

Being on said app isn't making you a bootlicker. It's not the best.

I'm speedrunning being the hated one in this server so whatever.

@Jay I'm gonna ask you to stop with the attitude. Both with the name changing and this "all I do is stir drama" shit. You've done this multiple times.

You can protest these brands and platforms, that's your full right to do so but Twitter has existed for 20 years, and many of us here, like myself, have been using the platform long before Elon took a massive shit all over it. None of us here give a shit about Elon, none of us here respect him, none of us here support anything he's been doing. I use it solely for memes, video game news, shitposts, my trash art that's going nowhere, etc.

Harry Potter was written by a shriveled up, transphobic roach of a "woman" and the fanbase who've been there from the start wholly acknowledge it but those fans still try to separate her from the product, even companies that use the Harry Potter license try to stray from Rowling nowadays.

Using Twitter doesn't automatically make one a "Right Winger" or a "Elon bootlicker" or whatever Using Twitter doesn't automatically make one a "Right Winger" or a "Elon bootlicker" or whatever the fuck, there are plenty of people on that site that are actively shitting on Elon and politics.

If you don't use it, cool, but I'm fairly certain none of us here are on Twitter because we favor Elon or any of those halfwits and if we didn't have accounts beforehand we wouldn't be on it now.

I have half in mind to delete this channel because every time I click in here there's some bullshit going on.

Jay  SDV 19/07/2026, 8:43 AM

Sorry..

Jay  SDV 19/07/2026, 8:51 AM

I hate explaining myself cuz it changes literally nothing

I have attitude cuz anytime I say my opinion, someone gets offended. If I say I hate big corps, there's someone who will get upset. If I ask a basic question, I get a snarky response. Kinda exhausting to deal with.

I changed my name so people KNOW that I'm not feeling great lately and as a result, don't expect me to be all sunshine and rainbows, kissing the clouds

And what I said was sarcasm. Because I just say my opinion and suddenly, drama starts. I said it to be sarcastic.

I'm aware not everyone using Twitter is a horrific nazi BUT I really do not see a point in using Twitter because Musk has destroyed it

I'm sorry that I show "attitude". I won't use sarcasm anymore, I'll keep quiet about opinions and not share my own. I will be a peaceful patient person for everyone. I do love this server so please don't assume the worst. I can't really say anything else.

19/07/2026, 9:01 AM

Nobody here is offended that you hate "big corps" but it gets to a point when you start grinding people down over using whatever platform they feel. I don't think Strange is some supremacist or politician. "Why do you use Twitter?" "I get my video game news and I'm not interested in downloading other apps" there was your answer. I don't like signing up for new shit either, I only just made my bsky like a year and a half ago.

Y'know Ford, the car brand, was founded by and named after an antisemite that was on Germany's side in WWII right? Does that make every Ford driver out there an antisemite? Or using Harry Potter as mentioned, if you see someone with a Ravenclaw scarf does that mean they're a transphobe?

People here have their freedom to use what they want. I deleted my account for personal reasons and because I didn't like where the site was going, although I think what CJ posted above regarding Twitter's update is going to be even more detrimental for artists who wish to stay on there.

What people in here need to understand (especially @Jay) is that you are free to disagree with people as long as you do it respectfully of one another. This is not a place where opinions get censored, and I don't ever plan on making it such. Regardless with disagreements you need to be civil and respectful of others if you wish to be respected in turn.

Finally, I am absolutely sure nobody in here is a Neo Nazi or in the KKK, and anybody who displays similar racist, bigoted views is immediately getting booted out of here. No exceptions.

I still use twitter even if my account is private, but that doesn't mean I support Elon :(that is all I'll say

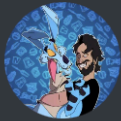

I also don't like either to sign up for new social platforms, bluesky is an exception because it actually helped me making more people reach my art, otherwise I was thinking of deleting it lol

I've seen people also moving from discord to other platforms and that is OKAY, even if I don't do it myself

I've been in discord since almost 7 years, I don't plan on moving out of it

It's fine if someone uses twitter, it doesn't make them a bad person and they HAVE reasons for it

alfayezq80 19/07/2026, 10:07 AM

Jay, one more time if you're gonna cause drama and argue in my server I'm gonna boot you out.

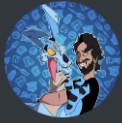

I may have deleted my Twitter but none of the people in there who choose to still use it are Nazis or fascists. I know them WELL enough to know that; we have an anti-racist and anti-homophobic stance in our server. Hell, Alo herself is trans.

Please try not to take anything personally either. I'm sick of all the goddamn arguments you guys are having. You can disagree with people, but there is a respectful way of doing it. (edited)

Jay 🍃 SDV 29/07/2026, 6:39 AM

Yeah, I get that completely. I always try taking your advice.

Or at least I thought they did; over a month later around 14th August, they hit me with all these accusations of me gaslighting them, manipulating them, taking advantage of them, doing so on and so forth simply for putting my foot down at their unsavory habits/behavior. I had apologized for any harshness on my part and stated it was absolutely never my intention to take advantage of them, which after a long back and forth they then said that they believed me and we went talking like normal for about a month.

Figure 6. Jay's sudden accusations against me before talking like normal. Then comes September 11 and yet again they come against me with the same claims we had previously talked about which I thought we had resolved, and I said that if they had a genuine problem they should have communicated that much earlier at the time it happened. They made several videos against me on their Youtube (TheJayFrames), numerous tirades on their BlueSky and were not willing to listen to what I had to say, so I had to cut contact with them. I also find out they roped in Alex in all this, who I will explain about in the next part.

PART 2 - ALEX

In this part I will explain the interactions I've had with Alex. To start off, I have known Alex for a few years (around 2023 or 2024) and we befriended one another over Crash Bandicoot. She had numerous problems with her 22-year-old pedophile stalker from Egypt, Mohamad Ahmad, who was also in the Crash community who had flirted, stalked and expressed his desire numerous times to be her boyfriend despite her having been 17 at the time (she is around 18 or 19 currently). This same individual KNOWINGLY pursued her and acknowledged he liked younger girls. I had also helped expose and call him out for his horrific advances against her, and even a document on him was made and spread around (which I will also link here) . Alex was shook for a while and this same person even attempted to raid her own personal Discord server a few times under different names, attempting to slander her online to make her in the wrong. Document was spread again, and he disappeared from most websites.

Fast forward to 2025 and early 2026, where we were decently close. Alex had a troubled upbringing with abusive family members, strict household rules and the pressures of college on her shoulders. Naturally, being the friend I was, I wanted to try and offer her my personal advice as I myself have graduated from college. She had a very low self-esteem, was frequently hard on herself and kept bashing herself for not doing well to make her family proud or do well in academics or make friends in college. I would support her and acknowledge that she was working hard doing what she could and even encouraged her to continue her studies abroad free from her troubled family life.

I know what your perspective is like. I know that Indian society and culture along with other countries in Asia puts an insurmountable amount of pressure on their children to excel academically and they'll often use draconian parenting methods to achieve that. I feel for you on that front.

This is also why I've suggested for you to do your best in this temporary stage of college, so you can find greater opportunities for a scholarship abroad. Opportunities that mind you, foster a significantly less toxic environment especially if you're studying in a Western country such as Australia or Canada. I haven't studied abroad at all

I have a great amount of faith in you that you'll be able to succeed, but you need to have more faith in yourself and be able to accept advice from those who wish to help you. You will not be able to learn or grow if you choose to be stubborn. Consider that even if my life experiences don't exactly line up with yours, that I might have some insight regardless as somebody who's graduated from university/college (not that far back, in 2022 matter of fact) (edited)

I'm in your corner and I know you will do great as long as you keep the faith in yourself and work hard

Best of luck inshallah, I hope it gets easier for you

alfayezq80 09/04/2026, 1:23 PM

One of my best friends for 10+ years I had met in college, and I still hang out with a few others

But yes, generally a lot of people you won't get to see much after college

I had put my foot down towards her in those same instances, and these instances were also witnessed and responded to by the moderators in said server. One of these instances was when she brought up the use of Google Gemini and GenAI for her college assignments, which I had gently told her that it wasn't morally right to use not just because of the sheer lack of effort in finishing your assignments by yourself, but with how GenAI has a destructive environmental impact with the vast amounts of energy expenditure from AI data centers. I had also apologized then and there for any potential harshness on my part and expressly stated that I just wanted to advise her.

btw i just googled "greenish spider eggs connected in chain" and regular google search returned:

greenish spider egg sacs connected in chain producing a chain of connected sacs.

• Other Possibilities:

- Trashline Orb Weavers (Cyclosa genus) incorporate their egg sacs into a vertical line of debris (bug remains, etc.) within their web, making the sacs look like part of a "trash line".
- Labyrinth Spiders and Basilica Spiders also bunch their sacs in a row.

You've posted 2400+ messages in this server since you joined and more than half of those were in here. You're barely in any of the main channels.

You're constantly changing your name to all caps shit like "I'M DYING INSIDE" and when you get people who are genuinely concerned and trying to help, you snap and fight them because they're not saying exactly what you want them to say.

I'm seeing you constantly fighting Vic in here who's trying to just talk to you and make things easier. Yes, things are hard, things are hard for a lot of us in this server. You're venting, that's fine. This is a venting channel, but you vent in here and other people are going to see you venting and people are going to try and help because that's the right thing to do.

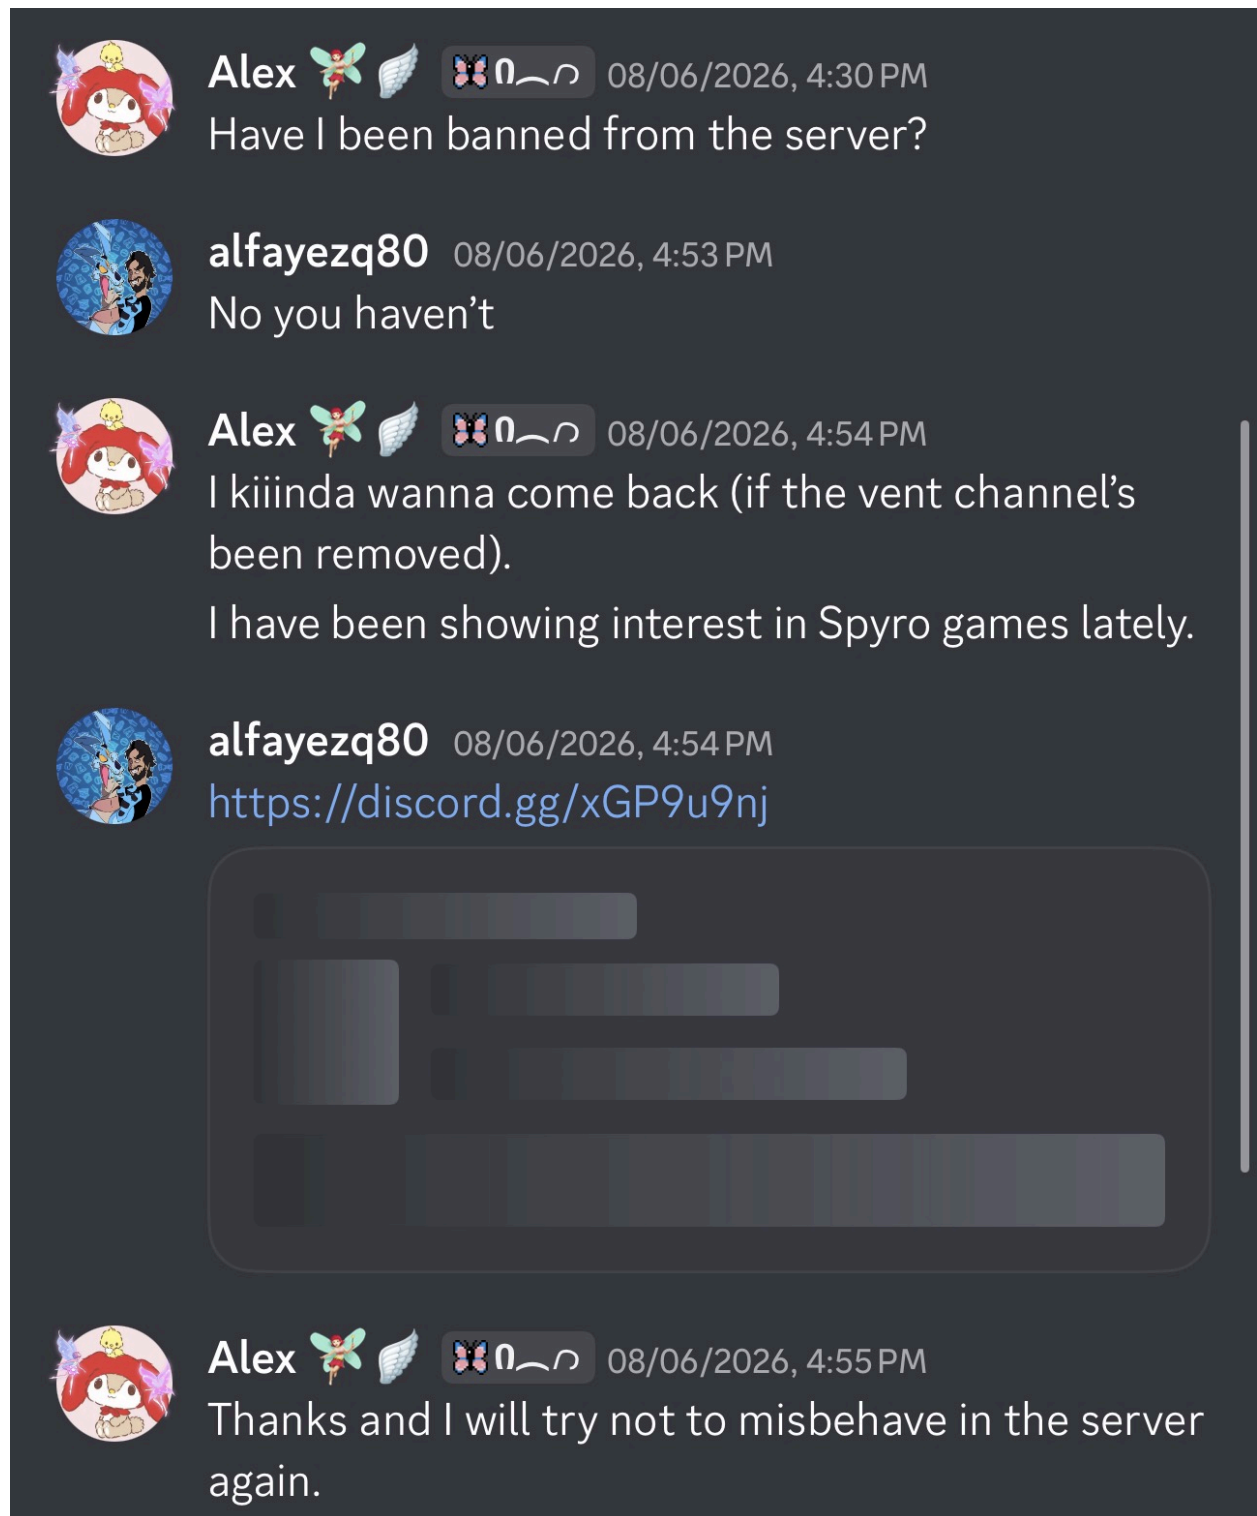

Literally what progress is to be made with this. What do you expect us to do. You're putting Vic in a stalemate here.

You can't keep biting the hand that's trying to feed you. The point of the channel is to vent out your issues to other people who are also having issues and want to empathize.

This got to the point where she said that she would stop venting completely, to which I and others told her that wasn't the problem. It was how she kept biting the hands that tried to feed her, that people gave her an inch and she took a mile, that was the issue. She even claimed that I begged her in the server when she was the one who asked to come back. I had apologized for any potential harshness in my tone regarding that conversation and others, but she kept everything bottled up and started parroting the same accusations Jay made against me for simply telling her to shape up and for attempting to help her. There were several cases in which she assumed others in the server in bad faith, including myself and that of the moderators when one of them (Ecto) had decided to give it to her straight much like I did. She would also rope in yet another person in these claims, Shanny (despite Alex also having chastised her multiple times), in which I will explain in the next part.

When she was in my server, she would frequently vent about things such as when a restaurant is out of stock of certain products or if people weren't giving her much attention on her art, art that she has asked for constructive criticism and took it as an offense.

Because of this, I would tell her to take a break from the server and even time her out so she can pursue said break, find time for her therapy and for her to take her mind off of her worries.

alfayezq80 30/04/2026, 9:48 PM

Shanny; I'm going to be completely real here. You seriously need to work on not taking everything personally and learn to read the room. I don't want to have to keep reminding you on these things. I don't want to have to kick you out either, but if this keeps repeating I will be left with no other choice.

Don't dwell on this either, just focus on what you need to do to improve

ShannythePotoroo LARA 30/04/2026, 9:49 PM

Ok and please don't kick me out

alfayezq80 06/05/2026, 8:08 AM

Shanny, we are all trying to help you

But you seriously need to be able to take the advice and act accordingly

There are times to vent importantly and issues you can resolve on your own

And you need to not take everything personally either.

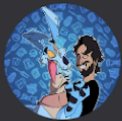

Nothing is going to change if you keep repeating the same things and repeating what you're doing now

Gonna remind you once again I am saying this to help you

ShannythePotoroo  LARA 06/05/2026, 8:09 AM

ShannythePotoroo  LARA 06/05/2026, 8:10 AM

I want to change though

alfayezq80 06/05/2026, 8:11 AM

Make a genuine effort to Keep seeing your therapist and apply what they tell you

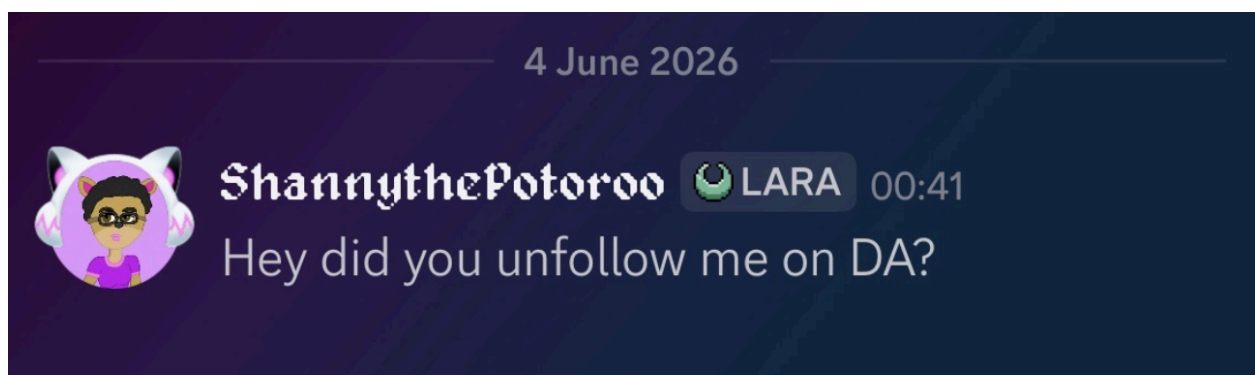

I can even confirm that Alex was for a while very much antagonistic against her and fed up with her before she started to flip the script and have Shanny with her. Shanny would also have a frequent habit of drowning other peoples' vents such as in one case where a user was dealing with a suicidal IRL friend just to draw focus on her own issues. Another user called her out for it, which led to an argument that fellow moderators had to step in and time both people out for to give the earlier user who was venting about her friend a chance to speak.

Shanny would also have a habit of frequently deleting her messages when she was caught misbehaving in the server itself, posted kink art in said server several times when my server's rules explicitly stated that kink art was off limits, and harassed another user Aso for blocking her. I gave her several chances in said server because I was of the genuine belief that she would improve, and it looked like she had for a time as she messaged me on whether a certain image she wanted to post was appropriate or not.

The last incident of harassment she was responsible for (and had something to do with something that happened outside of said server) was the straw that broke the camel's back, and one of my fellow moderators had decided to give her the boot to which we all agreed. She kept profusely apologizing to me, which I was growing tired of as she hasn't even made the bare minimum of improving herself.

I understand where you're coming from, but we deleted the vent channel for a reason, general chat isn't the place to bring up something like this

Ok

I'm going to talk to you privately

Disclosure from the mods:

Shanny is no longer in the server and she won't be coming back. A mod has had back-and-forths with her for the last several months regarding her behavior, but, sadly, to no avail. After issues with various server members, abusing the old vent channel, turning outside issues into big server issues, being timed out multiple times, and now upgrading to harassing a server member, we've removed her.

Everyone argues now and again, squabbles are normal in every day human life, but do your best to be kind to each other and everyone else, okay? Don't harass each other or turn non-issues into a big server issue.

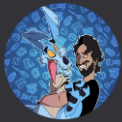

I was on and off responding to her, while she kept using her ADHD as an excuse for all of her behavior and refused to show proper accountability despite being older than me, something I have even stated point blank to her when all of these incidences were occurring.

Due to some of your recent acts with Aso and some previous complaints as well, we've unfortunately had to kick you from the server too. It's not personal, I hope you can improve and grow from it

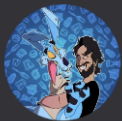

ShannythePotoroo  LARA 06/06/2026, 6:48 AM

Wow

It's ok

I'm sorry this had to happen I hope I'm not banned permanently (edited)

What is it

ShannythePotoroo LARA 04/07/2026, 2:38 AM

I'm just having fears that I won't never be forgiven I miss being friends with Aso I shouldn't have bothered her

And I also still regret causing complaints in the server

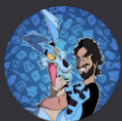

alfayezq80 04/07/2026, 10:24 PM

When is your next therapy appointment? Have you talked about any of this with them yet?

ShannythePotoroo LARA 04/07/2026, 10:40 PM

Yeah I have

alfayezq80 04/07/2026, 10:41 PM

And what did they say about it?

ShannythePotoroo LARA 04/07/2026, 10:42 PM

They said not to worry too much about it I am trying though

I never told them that I get fears that I won't be forgiven

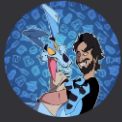

alfayezq80 04/07/2026, 10:45 PM

ShannythePotoroo  LARA 03/08/2026, 1:10 AM

I'm going to tell you what she said whenever you're available alfayezq80 03/08/2026, 7:02 AM

Sure

ShannythePotoroo  LARA 03/08/2026, 7:04 AM

I was being honest with her about what happened and my fears for being unforgiving she told me that Aso will come around I hope she's right about that and she told me that I didn't do anything wrong but it seemed like I did I behaved immaturityly I told her that's how it all started and she said I have to wait and see that she'll forgive me I am trying so hard to wait and move on and she asked me do I have other friends and I said yes (edited)

And I also told her I hope she doesn't hold any grudges against me

Testimony from Various witnesses (made anonymous with permission)

GB's Testimony

"Hi. I am GB. I have known Vic, and have been close friends with the man since pre-pandemic times.

When this incident came to my attention, I was tasked to take a look at both sides of the situation as an outsider to this whole thing, and come to my own unbiased and objective opinion on who was in the right, and who was in the wrong respectively.

After hours of sifting through multiple public and private chat logs, witness testimony, looking at the defendants evidence, and watching every video released so far by Jay, I have determined that their accusations are unfounded, harmful, and come from a place of vengeance; rather than a cry for help.

As a victim myself of very real, and very raw psychological abuse such as gaslighting, Jay's testimony, next to the other accusers, does not add up to what has been described. Vic's responses were well measured, executed carefully, and were well intended. The context that Jay refuses to show is clear; and that is that Vic was never trying to be unreasonable or abusive. He was trying to help someone, who had rose tinted glasses on for a version of Vic that wasn't present when reprimanding Jay on their behaviour.

Jay never disclosed to Vic to not give unsolicited advice.

Nor did Jay disclose just how severe their unhealthy attachment to Vic was. Vic literally just saw Jay as a close friend, like the rest of who knows him very well. He does not consent to, or has the capacity to, leverage this level of attachment that Jay exclusively had for him. Vic was completely unaware of just how deep this connection was for Jay, until it was finally spilled out in these callout videos.

This borderline obsessive, uncontrolled, and unaddressed attachment to Vic, needs to stop. And it needs to stop now.

Other defendants that have been targeted by Jay, have also been cleared of any wrongdoing. Only a staunch reminder that tone indicators exist, and that it would make life less stressful to learn how to use them to communicate things better.

My advice to both sides, is to go your separate ways, and leave each other alone. Nobody asked for this. Nobody even anticipated as something as serious as this happening, all over something that could of been resolved privately and quietly between those involved.

As for the situation regarding Alex's involvement.

Much like with Jay, I do not know Alex well. But after reading and seeing their accusations towards Vic, I also did a little bit of digging into the logs, whilst also eyeing their behavior on Bluesky, and reading witness testimonies.

And again, unfortunately, Alex here is also not telling the truth. In fact, much of what Alex is testifying, echoes the same tone as Jay. Almost as if the two are actively working together as a team, using the same inflammatory allegations, with different evidence on their behalf; in order to smear Vic further and add fuel to the fire.

From my own assumption, I believe that Jay allegedly pulled Alex into this campaign in desperation for back up. And Alex, assuming she also had some grudges to bare against Vic; decisively joined forces with Alex.

Jay then possibly told Alex to make it public alongside them, likely because it would give Jay the benefit of being seen in the algorithm faster with a collaborative effort, instead of just the part one they made prior which arguably got less views.

Private interactions and public interactions also never indicate Alex's intent to do this. The intent only happened when Jay convinced her to do so, under the guise that they both share the same grievances towards Vic, for ultimately similar reasons. All of which is unfounded, and harmful.

In conclusion, Alex also needs to be held accountable for adding to the slander. And needs to leave Vic, and the other defendants alone. Perhaps cutting her association with a prolific and harmful individual may show her eventual clarity on this situation. But for now, she is as guilty as Jay.

Finally, time to completely deconstruct Jay's ableism accusation.

For years, Vic has been a philanthropic, altruistic, and charitable person towards disabled, LGBTQIA+, POC, Disadvantaged and disenfranchised people. He has donated thousands towards people like me with chronic illnesses and even charity, has advocated for both human and animal rights and law, aided abuse victims, and has shown a pattern of unwavering, and incredible selflessness towards others. He has also supported artists, creative thinkers, and anyone with a good idea and a plan.

He, out of all people, receiving this accusation; is both fundamentally ridiculous and simply impossible to understand, coming from someone who he helped tremendously.

He is very aware of his privilege, and he uses it for the greater good, whilst also getting to enjoy a slice of a good life well deserved.

Jay is just throwing darts to try and make their argument stick, when it immediately falls flat upon immediate inspection of private interactions. The same applies with Alex.”

T's Testimony

"My relationship with Vic is positive, he's always been extremely patient with the people around him and level-headed throughout stressful situations. The way he runs the server, and the way he interacts with the people in it are generally jovial, fun, and encouraging. If you ask for advice, he'll give it. If you're just having fun, he'll laugh along with you.

If anything, sometimes people think they can wiggle away with bad behavior with Vic because he's so patient and understanding. He'll give an inch, they'll try to take a mile. But he's not a doormat and not someone you can just walk all over, despite what certain people might think.

In regards to the people making these asinine accusations towards Vic, I can confirm it's false, manipulated bogus that's been taken out of context. I was there for several of the interactions, as were many others, and we all saw the full conversations and exactly what was said. Vic gives genuine advice to whoever asks him, but these certain people never took any of it, constantly threw it in his face, and reacted very poorly to anyone and everyone who offered advice. Advice they asked for. "Please help me... NO NOT LIKE THAT!" They only got mad, because they weren't actually looking for advice and weren't being told what they wanted to hear. They wanted people to justify the bad behavior they were presenting. They especially wanted Vic to justify it, but when he wouldn't, they got mad.

Vic didn't manipulate anyone. Vic didn't abuse anyone. Vic didn't force anyone to stay, in fact he was leaning towards advising them to leave due to their own irl troubles and issues. The accusations are bogus, the "proof" shown is manipulated, and the people making the accusations are acting childishly because they were told "no" and decided to respond by throwing a tantrum."

F's Testimony

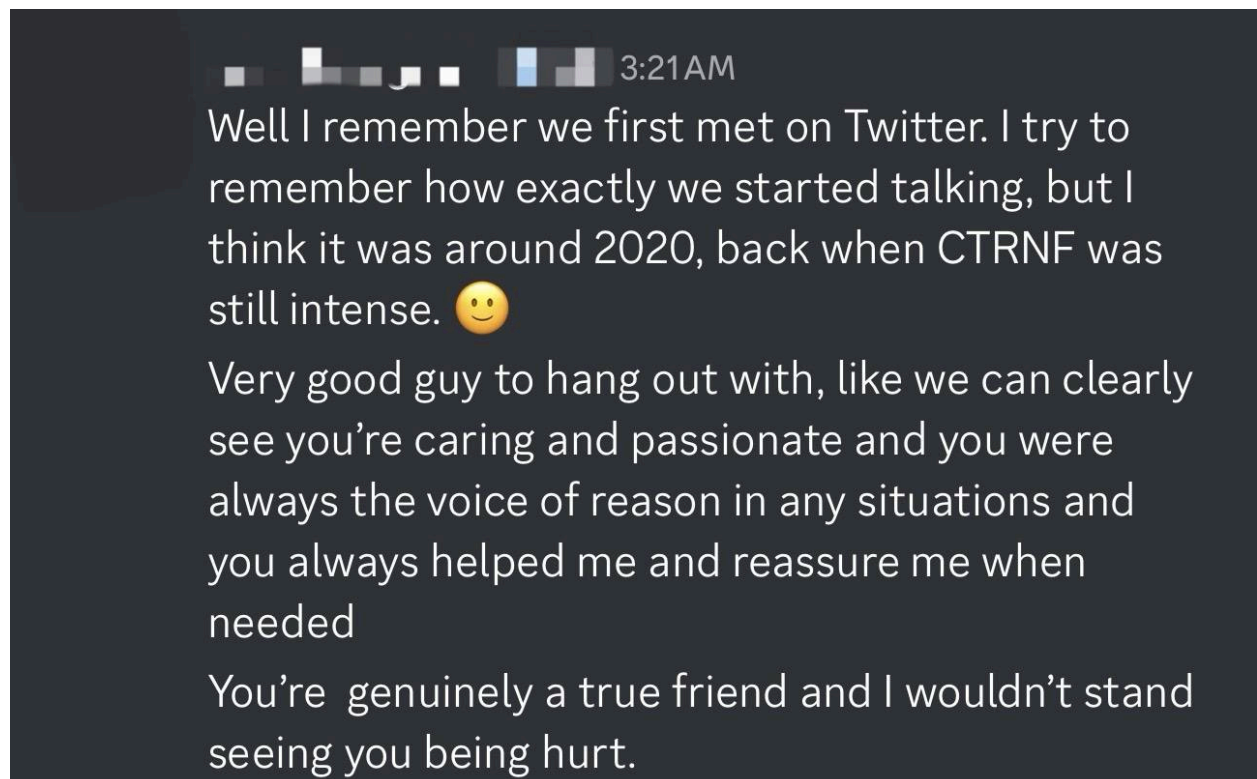

"I'll get straight to the point. Without Vic, I wouldn't have a roof over my head. I suffer from cardiac complaints and due to local hospital restrictions getting more and more unreasonable, I have to travel whenever I need help. Be it short distance or as far as London, Vic has been there to help make it possible. I would be in a much worse mental and physical state if not for him. If anything I worry I have taken advantage of HIM, yet he has continued to help anyway.

He has always been patient with my ramblings, stresses and venting that comes with a daily life of panic and unpredictability, as well as the general shortcomings surrounding my ability and intelligence. You would be hard pressed to find a more patient man. In between such times there is common ground to discuss games, animals, share a stream, suggest community events.

The very thought of this man gaslighting anyone, let alone to the extent described in these videos, is asinine and foolish, and those are my more polite choices of words. I am not in a position to discuss previous interactions with them, but I can also wholly agree with the analysis of their words. If these people continue to berate him, they will answer to me next, and my words will not be so polite as what you see here, I assure you. I expect a full apology to Vic, at the earliest convenience.”

A1's Testimony

Habaneroach's testimony

"I'm not proud of the way i spoke to Jay. but that was all me, not vic. he actually thought i shouldn't say anything to jay, i was just too pissed off about my friend getting dragged through the mud and spoke too harshly.

You know, i get some of these feelings. i get the frustration of hurting and then someone says something that's meant to help but it just feels tone deaf. i can even admit that vic has said tone deaf things at times, because friendship is about keeping it real. and i think that's all vic was trying to do in the majority of these cases that are being described as abuse.

i suppose to Jay and Alex the intent didn't change the fact that it didn't help. i can believe this really hurt for them, and i'm sorry to them for that. but abuse and manipulation and gaslighting are acts that require purpose on the aggressor's behalf. they are long, deliberate processes to meticulously chip away at someone's sense of self worth and even their sense of reality. and the way i see it, there is a massive difference between that deliberate process of breaking someone down versus, you know, things like giving them honest advice or putting one's foot down about disrespect.

when we spoke, jay discounted the "favorite person" angle of this whole thing as a "nothingburger" but after speaking to multiple people with bpd and similar illnesses i think it explains a lot about why jay took this so hard. in the screenshots in their doc they state outright that seeing vic that way inflates their view of every action he takes and the impact it has on them. frankly after speaking to others with BPD, it's clear their explanation to vic of the concept of FPs really is not adequate and makes the angle they later took multiple times of vic supposedly fully understanding the power he has over them as their FP and deliberately using it to control them as, frankly, bogus. for one thing, the FP dynamic is something both parties need to agree upon with full understanding of the ramifications or else it will become very unhealthy and skewed very quickly. explaining it as "like a crush but not romantic also whatever you say can either make or completely ruin my day" does not provide this full understanding. frankly this angle just puts the blame on Vic for things it is just not realistic to expect him to even be fully aware of. he's not a mind reader. and it is not fair to assert that anything negative he says to you — like telling you you're not behaving appropriately in a server he runs — is abusive because of the impact it has on you due to your unhealthy attachment that yes, you can't completely control, but it's something he has little to no control over as well. how are you honestly supposed to navigate such a dynamic? what can you even say, when something needs to be said for others' sake? read jay's screenshots and you tell me, tbh"
