First paragraph: He went for a run and then went to his cave to check how the cave was. Because it was old. And he went to a forest but then he was getting hunted. And then he was able to get away but they were still looking for him. But after he got hungry and went to go get some food and then he went to drink some water. And then the next day he went to the hills so he could see far away.

Second paragraph: After he ran down the mountain to do some exercise he trained so hard and for so long that he fell asleep again. But this time he went hunting. And he was hunting fish. So he went to the river, then he saw one fish and used his sharp teeth and pulled out a fish from the river then after he ate. And He went to drink water.

Third paragraph: Then he went to the hills again because of the nice wind. But he went to the hills again. Because it was nice and warm. Then he looked around and then decided to go home. But during his sleep the hunters found him.
