Weekly Course Flow Template

This document is intended to give you an idea of how a typical week in your course may “flow.” Once complete, it can serve as a blueprint for building your Canvas course modules. Feel free to use the suggested categories or modify based on the activities relevant to your own course materials.

Course Introduction

This first module in your course should provide students with an overview of how the course will run. It may include links or attachments such as:

- syllabus
- link to course text
- instructor intro (this can be a good place for a short video)
- course overview/tour (again, this can be a good place for a short video)
- course schedule (splitting this up from the syllabus can make it easier for students to use/navigate)
- technology expectations/info
