Types of cookies

We use the following types of cookies as part of our websites:

Necessary/Technical: These cookies are necessary for the proper functioning of the website. These files are installed in particular for the purpose of remembering your login session or filling out forms, and to remember whether you have been informed about the use of cookies.

Functional: They remember and customize the platform according to your choices, such as allowing you to auto-complete the email address from which you last logged into the platform.

Analytical: They allow us to check the number of visits and sources of traffic. With their help we are able to determine which pages are popular and which are not. With their help we study statistics and improve the performance of our sites. We use solutions from Google, Mailerchimp and Hotjar, among others, for our sites.

Marketing - They allow us to tailor the advertising content displayed to your interests, not only within our portal, but also outside it. They may be installed by advertising partners. Based on the information from these cookies and activity on other sites, a profile of the user's interests is built.

Social media cookies: These are cookies installed by our partners to match the displayed advertising content on social media. Based on them, a profile of the user's interests is built. This ensures that the content displayed is tailored to the individual user's needs.
