Description of Incident

Location(s): EZ Lobby, LCZ Temp CCs
Date: 11/15/24	Incident Report ‘Cain’ reported that he found a strange book in EZ Lobby and brought it down to LCZ Temporary cells. Calling NTF to come assist. Medical also arrived in temp CC and attempted to put a crate over the book. The book repelled the crate, throwing it around the CC when it was placed on top of the book. None of the medics were harmed. After this NTF arrived and the medics were cleared out of the CC. After this a HUME reading was taken of the book and was reading slightly higher than normal. A D-class and a Researcher were brought to the CC and the researcher asked if anyone had read the book title. Due to no one doing so he asked the d-class to read the book cover. There was no title so the d-class was asked to read the first page of the book, and upon doing so the book flipped open to a random page. The D-class’ suit and skin were changed to a different gray material with white dots moving across it. After this there was a brief lull in activity until a being called the creator exited the portal to the CC, and claimed the book the D-class had read was his book. After this the door to the CC automatically shut and The Creator vanished before reappearing outside the CC. Dr. Rascuto took the lead in asking questions. For the sake of brevity the answers will be listed: The Creator gave us the book for safe keeping after CI damaged it, the book is called the book of random, and when opened, will flip to a page he has no control over with a random effect, The Creator has a book on itself that lets it “See and Do whatever it pleases”, the Creator is the last of its kind, it hides the books across universes to keep them safe from something it can’t say, we are not at risk of this due to the book keeping it out, the entity mentioned will come after The Creator first, it gave Rascuto a page that, when ripped, would summon The Creator (contained with the Book of Random). After these answers a HUME reading was taken and read above average but it’s unclear if that is due to the book with it, or The Creator, as it refused to let go of the book. Dr. Rascuto named The Creator “Author” which it said it hadn’t had a name in forever, and then The Creator left. The Book of Random was transported to the HCZ Item room where it is stored on the bottom row, in the left most container. The page given to Dr. Rascuto was also placed inside.

Incident Casualties/Injuries:	Containment Effort (If Any):
No one was directly injured but a D-Class’ skin and suit was temporarily changed into an unknown gray material before being reverted by The Creator	The book is currently contained inH HCZ Item room at the bottom leftmost box. As far as we could tell it’s safe to handle directly but it’s recommended to use a Containment Specialist and their box to transport it. The creator itself isn’t contained.
